1978 TROJAN

Books provide a means of escape hours of enjoyment, sources of knowledge, and an inexpensive type of entertainment. Through THE TROJAN '78, we, the annual staff, have compiled a list of our own "best sellers." Each of these titles was chosen because it depicts a certain activity which is a part of the daily routine at North Hardin. Be it sports, activities, or classroom work, each title takes you on a journey through the pages of time.

Heather has a lot of friends at NH.

"You wouldn't dare."

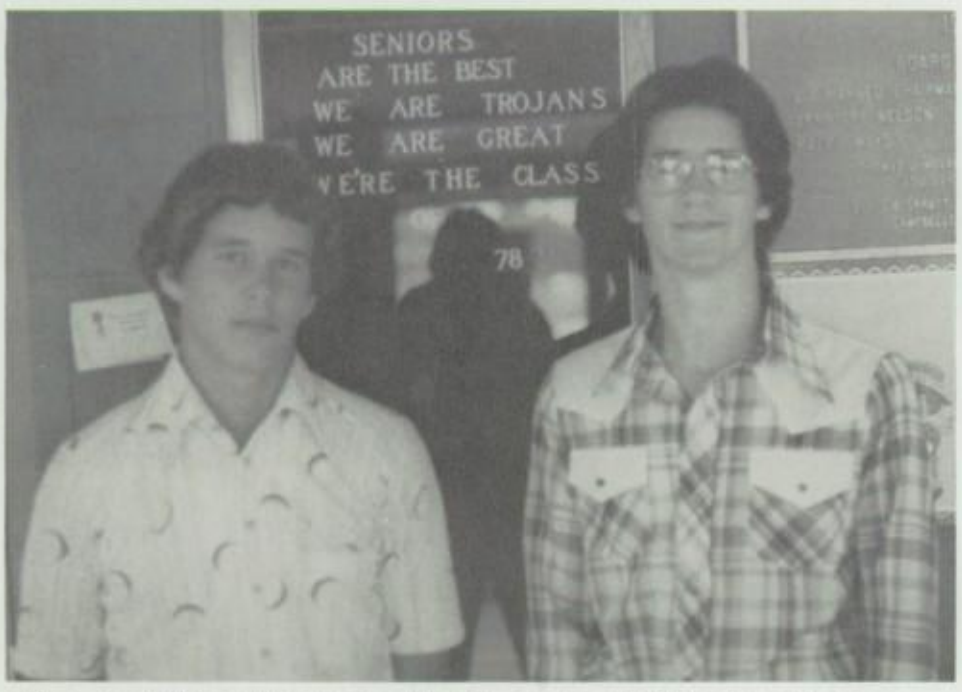
Doesn't this scene look familiar?

There's more than one way to get attention!

Rick and Joey share cameras—

and girls!

Doug is forever watching girls.

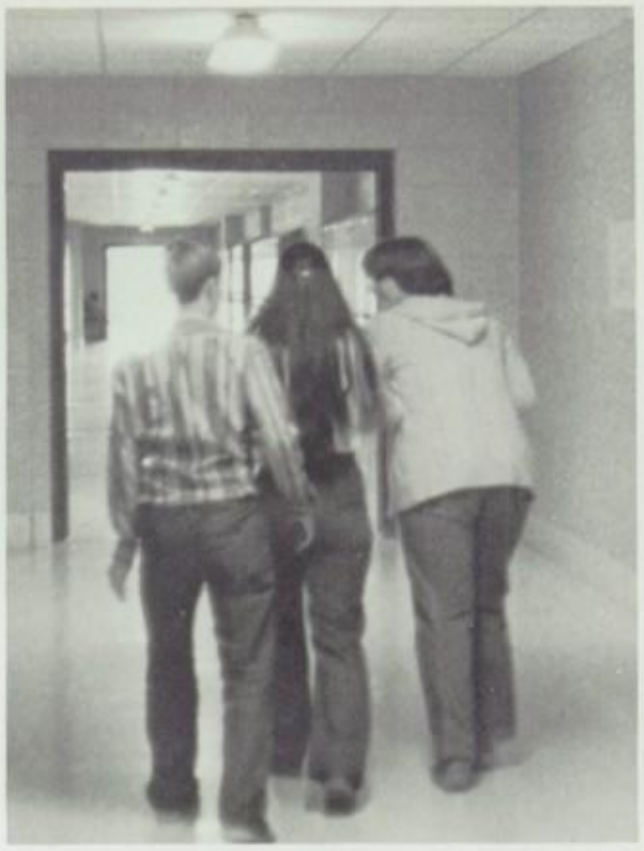


Tim and Rick leave no doubt as to which class is the best.

Debbie is not too sure about this new arrangement.

"Don't bother me, man! I'm busy."

We have all types of entertainment at NH.



The halls are rather empty after school.

"I Couldn't Help Laughing."

"Where's the rest of our gang?"

"Oh no—another mistake!"

The snow keeps EVERYONE away.

Some photographers lead a life of leisure!

A cheery smile helps brightens one's day.

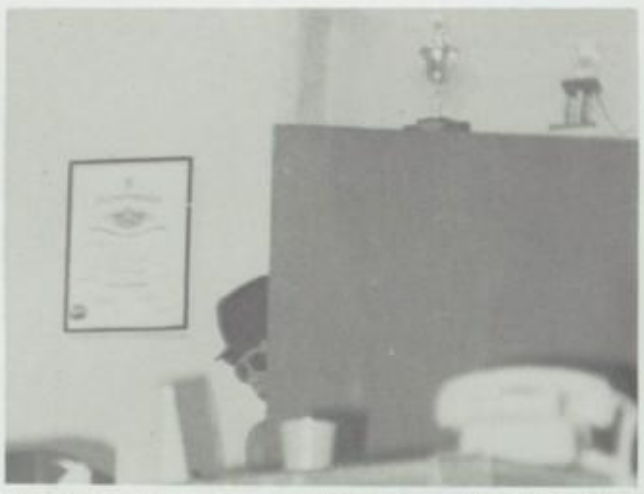
Mr. McCoy gives the cast members instructions during a practice session.

Alice Stoner gives an outline of the plot before the play begins.

When the play draws to a close, Mr. Henly and Francis are arrested.

The robber, portrayed by Doug Prather, looks at the bank he just robbed.

Lindy and Miss Hamilton discuss the exciting event—the robbery.



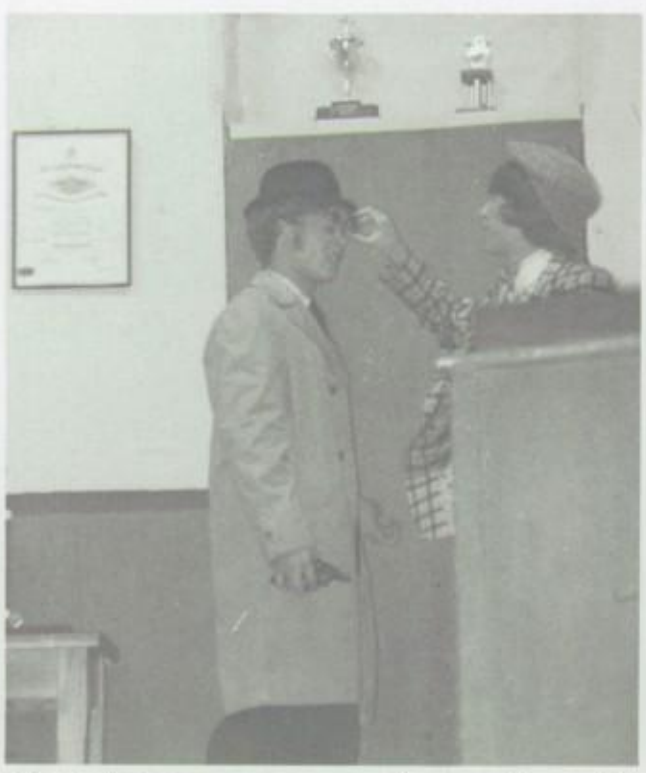
Francis, the accomplice, sneaks into Mr. Henly's office.

"Boy, I tell you, it seems like I spend most of my time in Henly's office."

Lindy and Larry take advantage of a few minutes alone.

When it is discovered that the robbers are imposters, they are promptly arrested.

Oliver Burkholder, the banker, gives elaborate details about the robbery.



"Just let me use your glasses, Francis, and I'll look just like Henly."

Lieutenant Shaw questions Larry about his opinions of the robbery.

Goody and Gerard appear to be in a deep discussion.

"Oh, my gosh! What IS that thing over there!"

The real Mr. Henly begins his day with a telephone conversation.

During the Senior Play, "I Couldn't Help Laughing."

Everyone screams as "Mr. Henly" punches Lieutenant Shaw.

"You see, Miss Hamilton, I told you there was no one in this chair.

On May 12, several members of the Senior class presented the student body with a delightful play called "Books and Crooks." Each cast member did an excellent job portraying the characters and the viewers of the presentation were heard to say, "I Couldn't Help Laughing."

Miss Hamilton, Mr. Henly's secretary, works diligently at her desk.

"Larry, what on earth made you think I was going to Prom with you?"

"Why, Mr. Henly! I never saw you come back to your office."

Everyone is happy after the "real" Mr. Henly was let out of the closet.

Miss Hamilton is perplexed about all the confusion in the office.

"Mr. Henly" confesses to Mr. Burkholder, but he doesn't believe him.

"Gee, Boss, that really IS you in that picture!"

Goody expresses her delight about prom to Lindy.

Lieutenant Shaw and Larry try to figure out who the robber is.

The cast members of "Books and Crooks" gather on stage at the end of the play.

Lindy asks Mr. Burkholder about the money that was stolen.

Mr. Henly yells at Gerard for a poem he wrote on the wall.

Lindy and Larry listen to "Mr. Henly's" phone conversation.

"Oh, yes; I think that tassels will look WONDERFUL on the uniforms."

"You see, it's all in your mind."

"Hello, Henly."

"Now, ladies."

Doug must be in agony.

"Let me lie down."

Lisa and Andy are enjoying themselves.

We Entertained You with "Books and Crooks."

"Oh, Gerard! You're my Dreamboat!"

"I THINK the uniforms cost . . ."

"You're going to do what?"

What's wrong with these guys?

Lindy wonders about Larry's accusations.

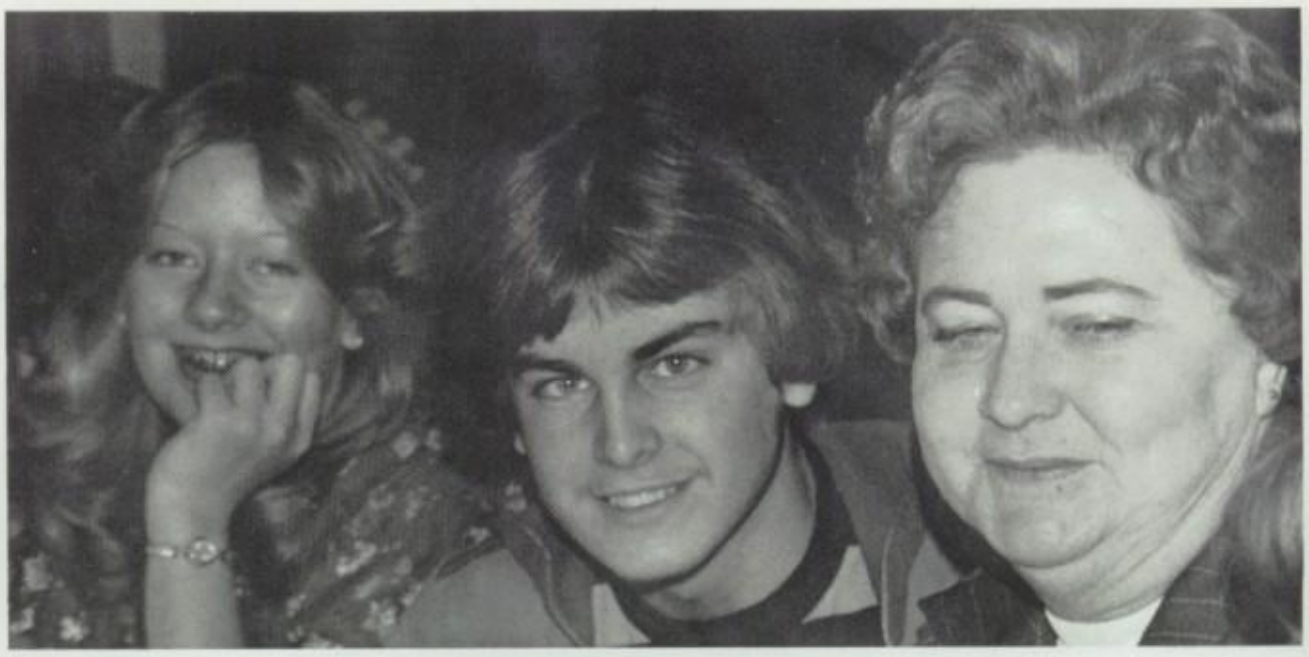
What a pair!

"I surrender! I surrender!"

Goody seems excited about something.

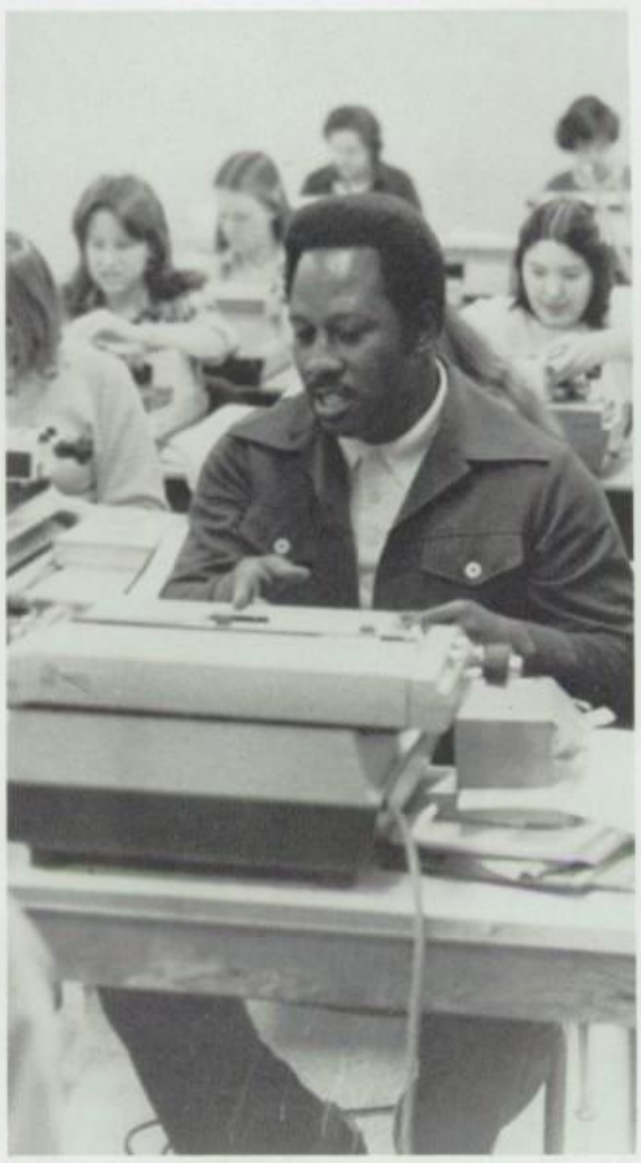
"Yes, Mr. Henly, we're the BAND mothers."

Mrs. McCamish pays close attention to the teacher.



These two students don't seem to mind Mrs. Mahanna's company.

Mrs. Baker listens intently to Mrs. McCoy's instructions.



"How on earth do you work one of these new-fangled typewriters?"

These two "students" work hard on their assignments.

Mr. Shircliff seems to be enjoying his day at school.

The parents stayed with the students all day, even in the cafeteria.

"Gee, some of the teachers these days are pretty good-looking."

"Boy, after this day, I am beat."

"Oh, my. Did you just take my picture?"

Mr. Story welcomed the parents before sending them on their way.

This mother listens intently to Mr. Story's speech.

"Hi, there! Are you going to take my picture?"

Mrs. Cooper appears to be working hard on her assignment.

"Hello! I sure am enjoying coming back to school."

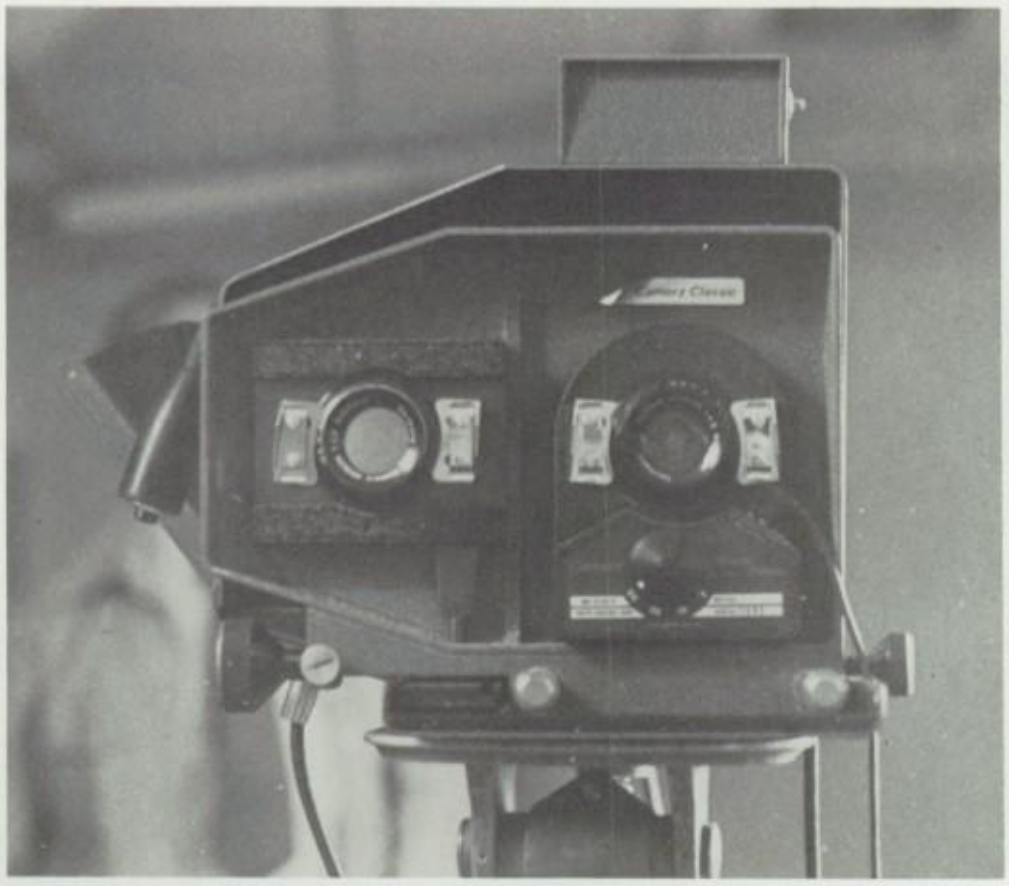
On November 18, 1977, the parents joined the students for a regular day of school. The parents took the place of a son or daughter and ran through their entire schedule. Students whose parents came were dismissed from classes for the whole day. Everyone had an enjoyable day especially the students because for "One Day In Your Life," the parents did the work.

"One Day In Your Life" the Parents Did the Work.

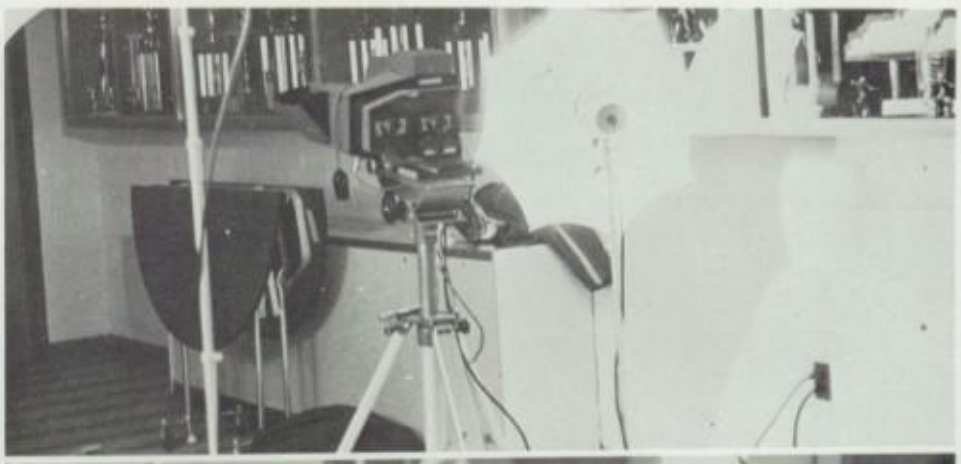
This parent is all alone in his thoughts at lunch.

Mrs. Dew seems to be enjoying Parent Day immensely.

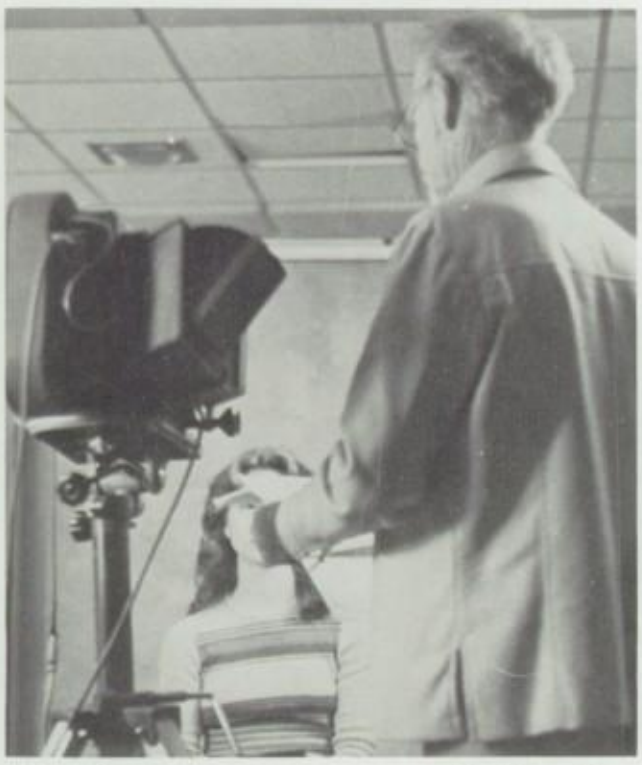
This parent prepares to eat one of our tasty school lunches.



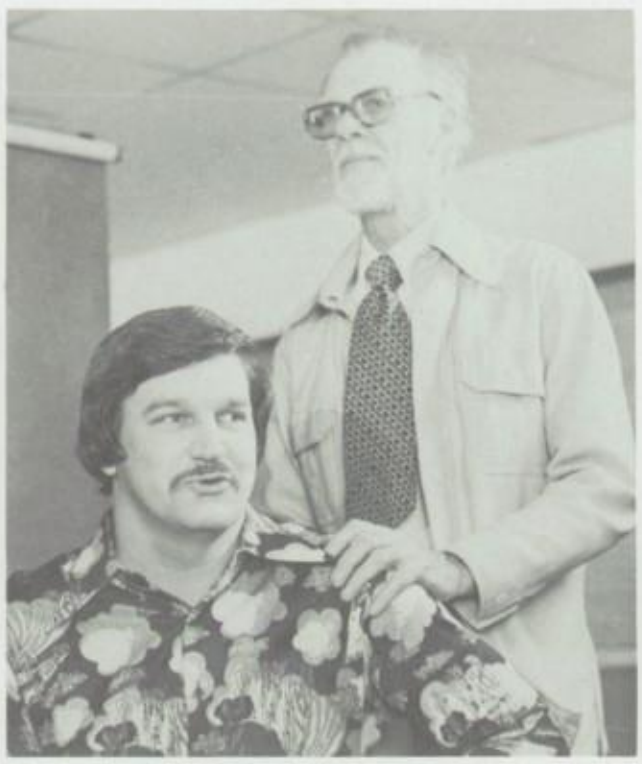
This little contraption takes all the underclassmen's pictures.



Ugh! Please don't take my . . . Snap! Too late!



Mr. Cooner was one of the fine cameramen who helped take pictures.



Now, I want you to stay the way I put you, so it'll turn out just right.

Donnie Graham was another cameramen who took the underclassmen's photographs.

"Mr. Ray, turn your head this way toward the camera."

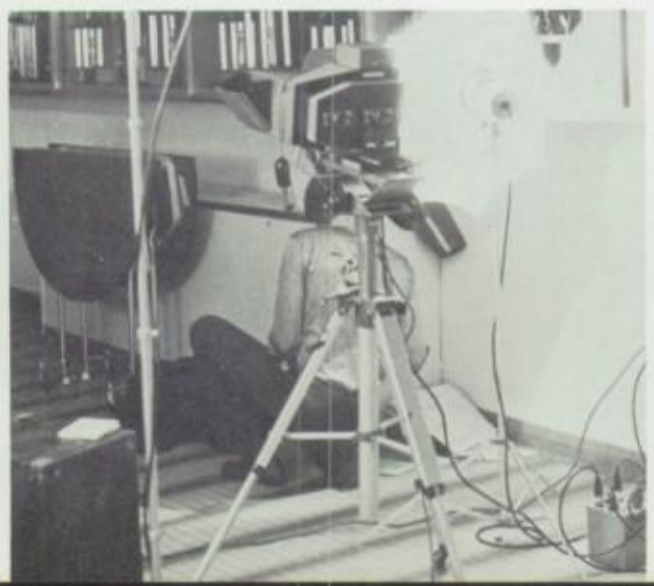
Lorraine Pickerill looks a little nervous as she waits.

Mrs. Gelinas is waiting to have her picture made.

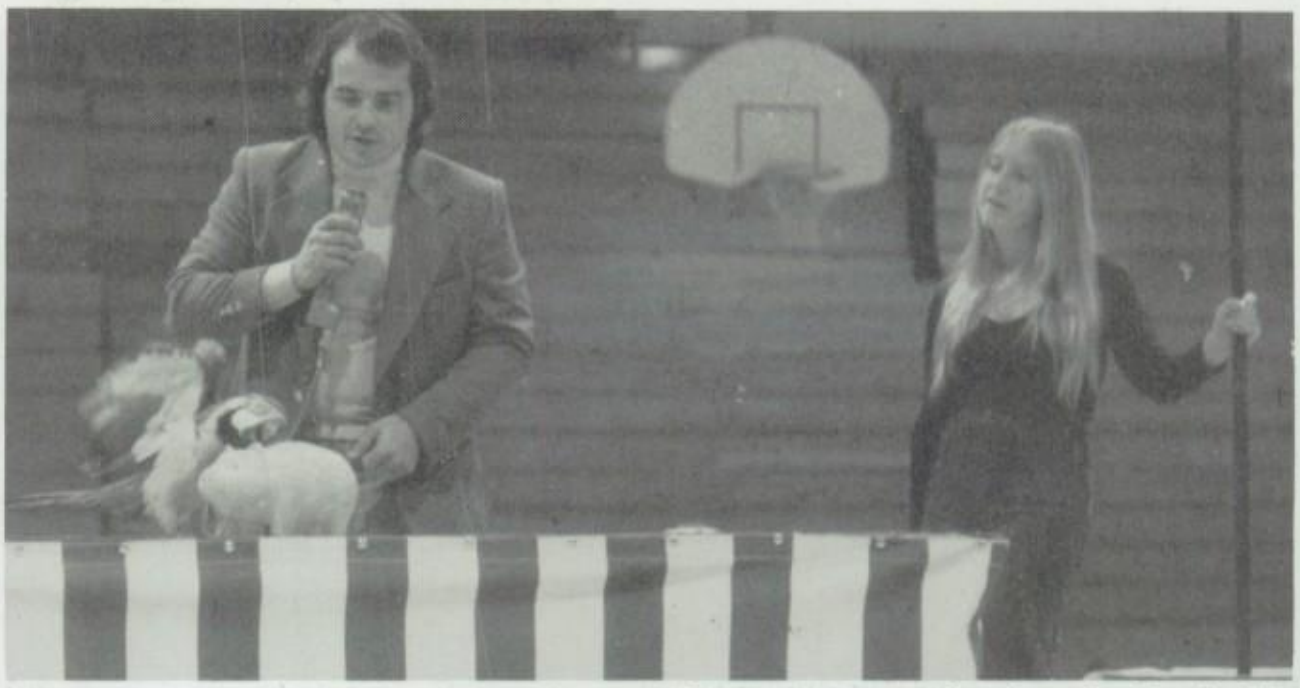
The Photographers Take It "As You Like It."

David Jones gives the photographer his fiercest look. If he gave his wrestling opponents this look, it's no wonder they were scared.

Boy, Regina sure has a nice smile.



"Come on, Paulette; don't be bashful. Just give me a little kiss."



Charlie, a wise old bird, has learned to save his money in a safe place, his bank. Who taught him that?

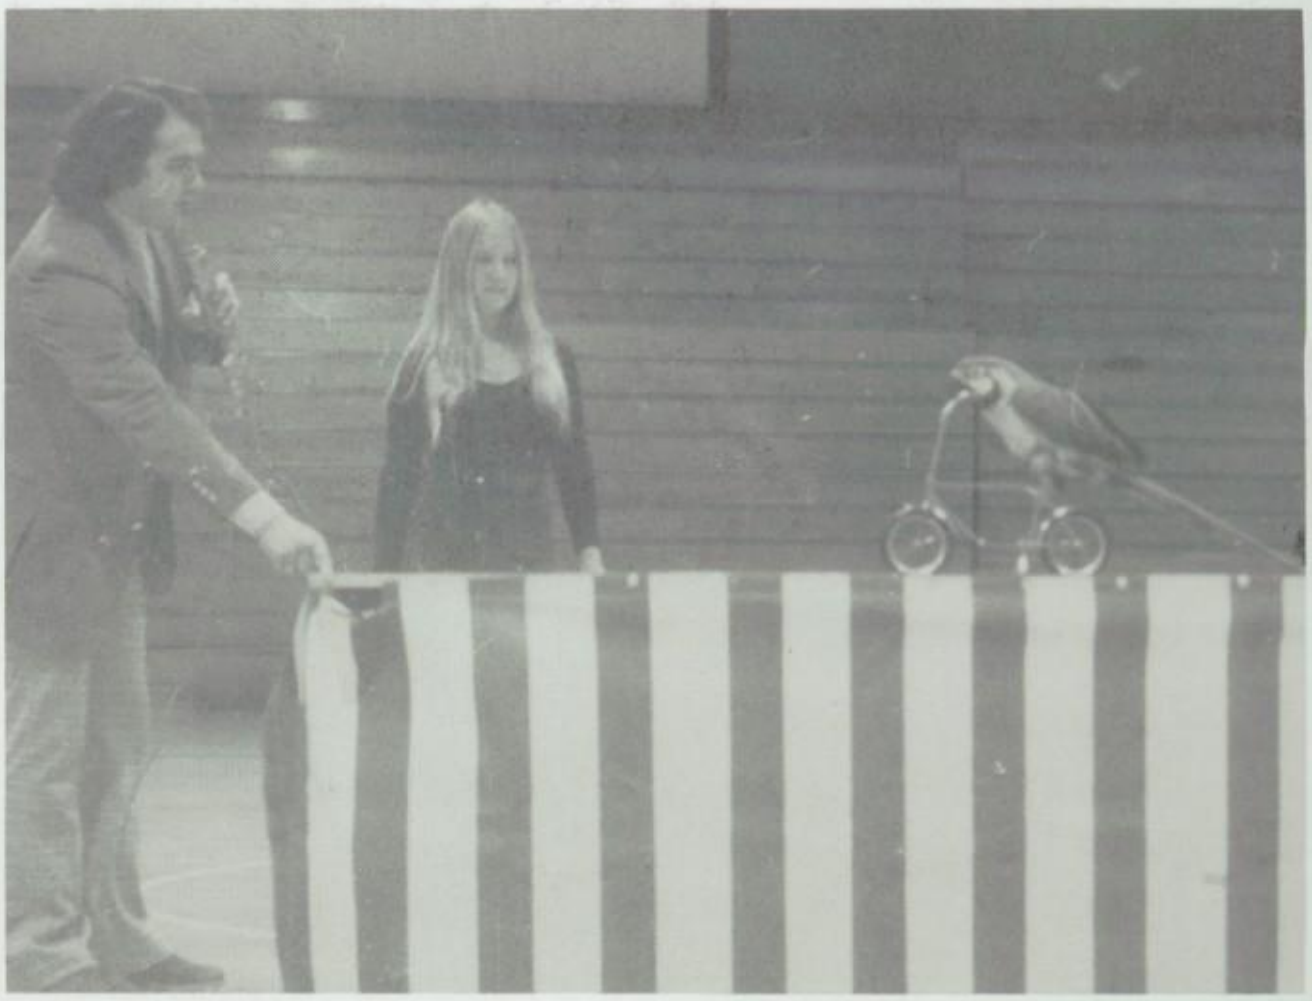
Life Goes to "The Birds."

Charlie reaches the end of his journey where his seeds await him.

Tempted by the seeds, Charlie makes his way back up the perch.

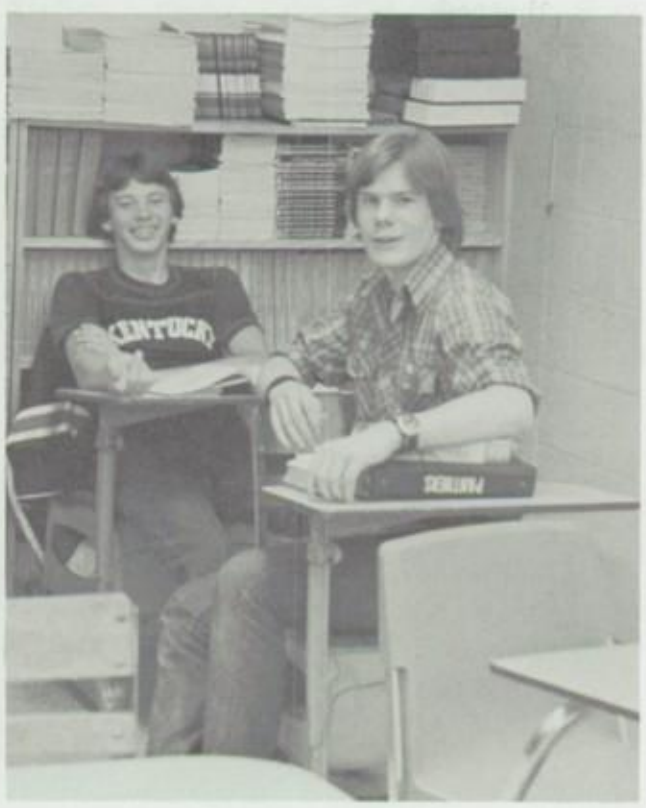
On October 26, 1977, "John and Jean" with their performing birds, "Charlie and Paulette", gave a spectacular performance before the student body. The stunts the birds performed included such activities as putting money in the bank, riding bicycles, skating, and playing basketball. The birds are a part of the world-famous Robell's Bird Circus, and it was a treat for the students to see these well-trained macaws.

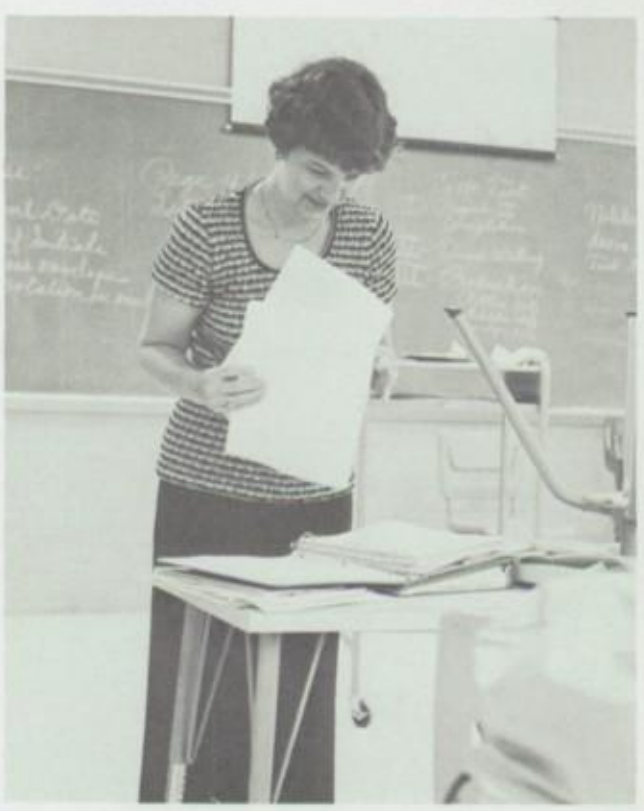
Paulette, the most intelligent of the two birds, performs well.



No hands! Paulette demonstrates her skill and coordination by riding her bicycle across the table.

THE





"Joyce, you shouldn't be daydreaming."

This is Sherry's imitation of "The Fonz."

"Would you like a piece of my cookie?"

I wonder what trick Brenda is up to?

"Are you talking to me, boy?"

"I didn't do it! Scouts honor!"

"What did you say your problem was?"

"You want to make a deal—50-50?"

"Why did Miss Carr make me sit here?"

The news can't be THAT bad!

Someone must have said something funny!

This Definitely Isn't a "One-Man Show."

"No, you can't have cuts."

"It says right here—2 cans."

"Do you have any objections?"

"Why do we have to sit up here?"

"You did WHAT last night?"

"So what's it to you?"

CHECK-OUT

Mr. Williams is always ready to help when he is called upon.

As you can see, his classroom can be referred to as a "den of iniquity."

It has some very interesting relica of Kentucky history in it.

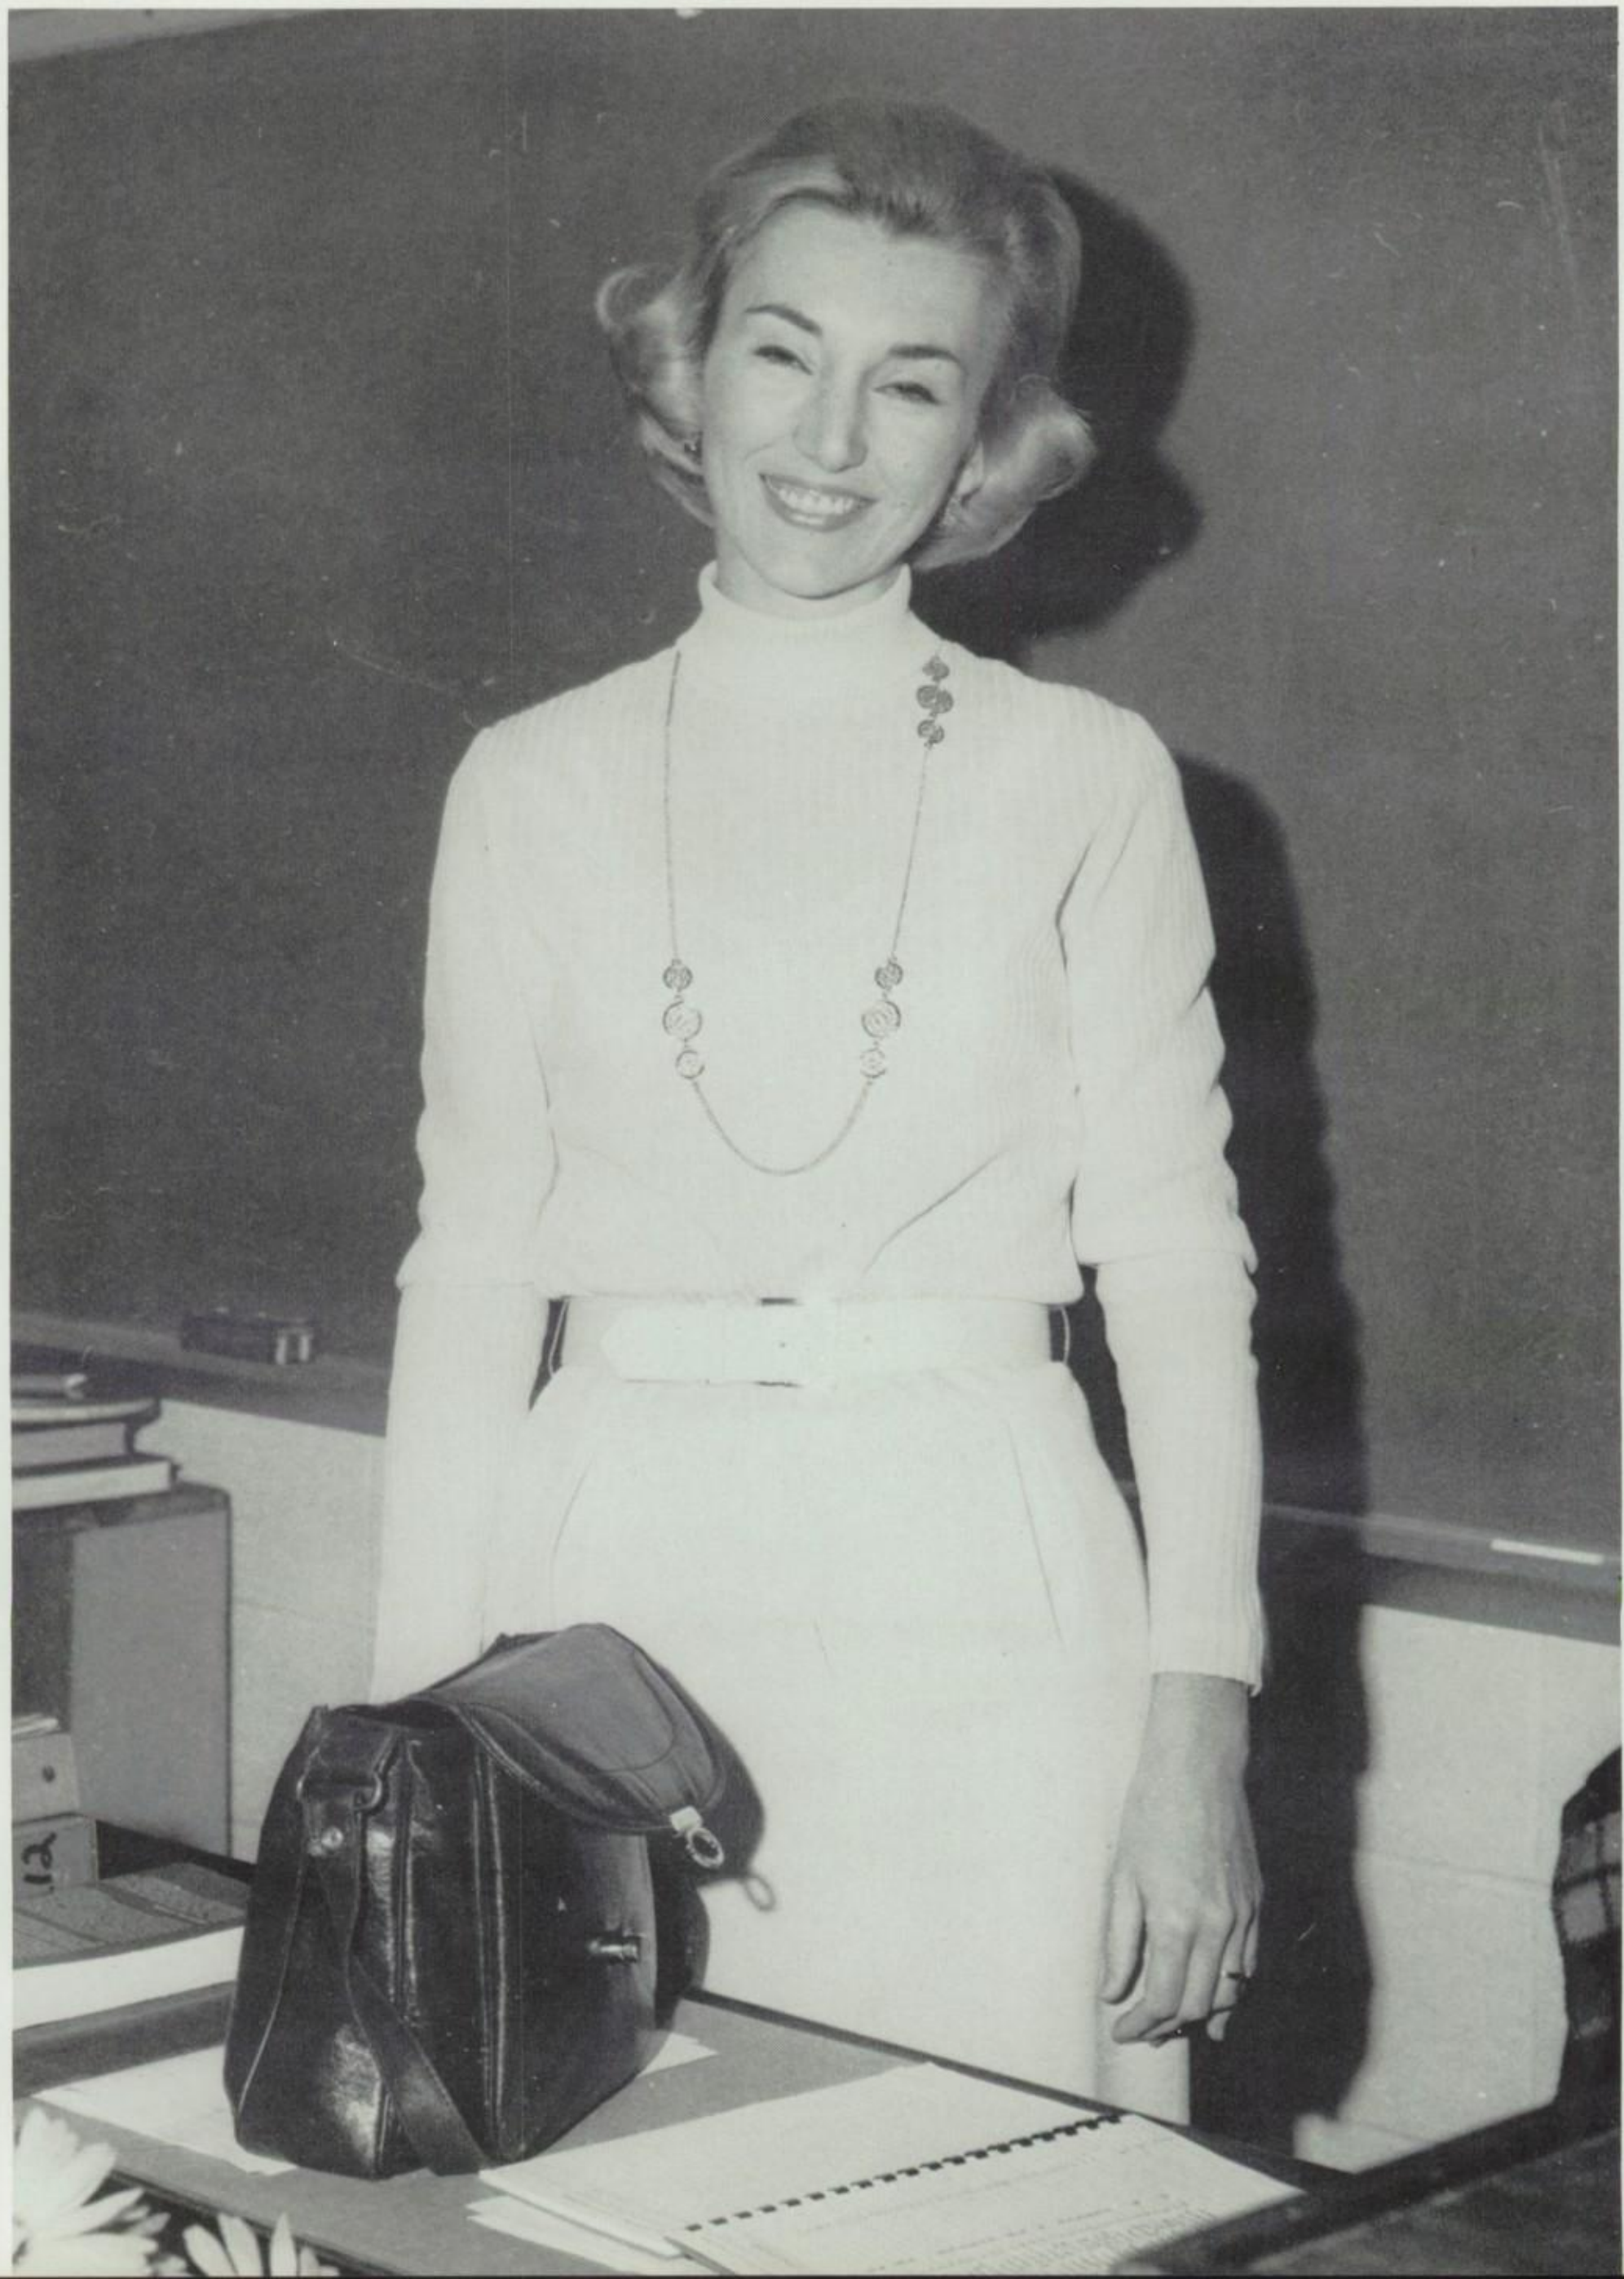
"To Sir, with Love"

"All right, partner, draw at the count of three."

At times there comes along a person whom everyone admires and respects. The annual staff has chosen to recognize one of these outstanding individuals. Mr. Sherrill Williams' unique contributions to the classroom have made him a favorite with his "Bluegrass Country" students and with his fellow teachers. How many other teachers do you know who have an outhouse in their classrooms? Mr. Williams does much research in his own time about Kentucky history so that he might pass this new knowledge on to his students.

As a senior class sponsor, he originated the "Turtle Derby," and he is in charge of the Senior Talent Show. Mr. Williams is also a member of "Phil Sickley and the Upchucks"—a group that has performed for the student body on several occasions.

All in all, this individual is quite a remarkable man, and for this reason, we dedicate the 1978 TROJAN to Mr. Sherrill Williams.



Mrs. Case started the International Club to help the foreign students.

Mrs. Ann Case Was "The Pearl" of NHHS.

Mrs. Case can be sneaky sometimes.

Mrs. Case is not at all disturbed when one of our photographers interrupts her class.

The annual staff of 1978 would like to show its appreciation to Mrs. Laura Ann Case in THE TROJAN, '78. Even though Mrs. Case has taken a year's leave of absence, we feel that her contributions are worthy of recognition. She taught such phase classes as Humanities and Literature of the Bible. We are one of the few schools who are fortunate enough to have these classes offered to us. Mrs. Case started a Junior class project entitled "Trojan Spotlight" where different students were featured every week on a bulletin board in the lobby. She was a junior class sponsor who, along with Mrs. Irma Whorley, sponsored the Junior Class Variety Show. She also started the International Club, where for 30 minutes each morning she taught foreign students English. In addition to her duties in the English department, she also provided the accompaniment for the chorus. It's hard to put down in words the thanks we give to Mrs. Case, but because she has gone above and beyond the call of duty, we would like to say, "Thank You".

North Hardin students were out of school for most of January.

Books, papers, desks, and clutter are all part of school.

Dale, aren't you going a little too far to avoid complaining teachers?

Some of the girls look at these faces more than they look at their books.

Don't you know that you should be in class instead of out in the halls?

"What do you mean I have the wrong number! I know I dialed it correctly!"

We are just waiting for the bell—which seems to be a little late!

"Don't I look just great? What FORM! What a SMILE! What MUSCLES!"

"Hey, fellow! Yeah, you! Do you want to buy a bus that is in good shape?"

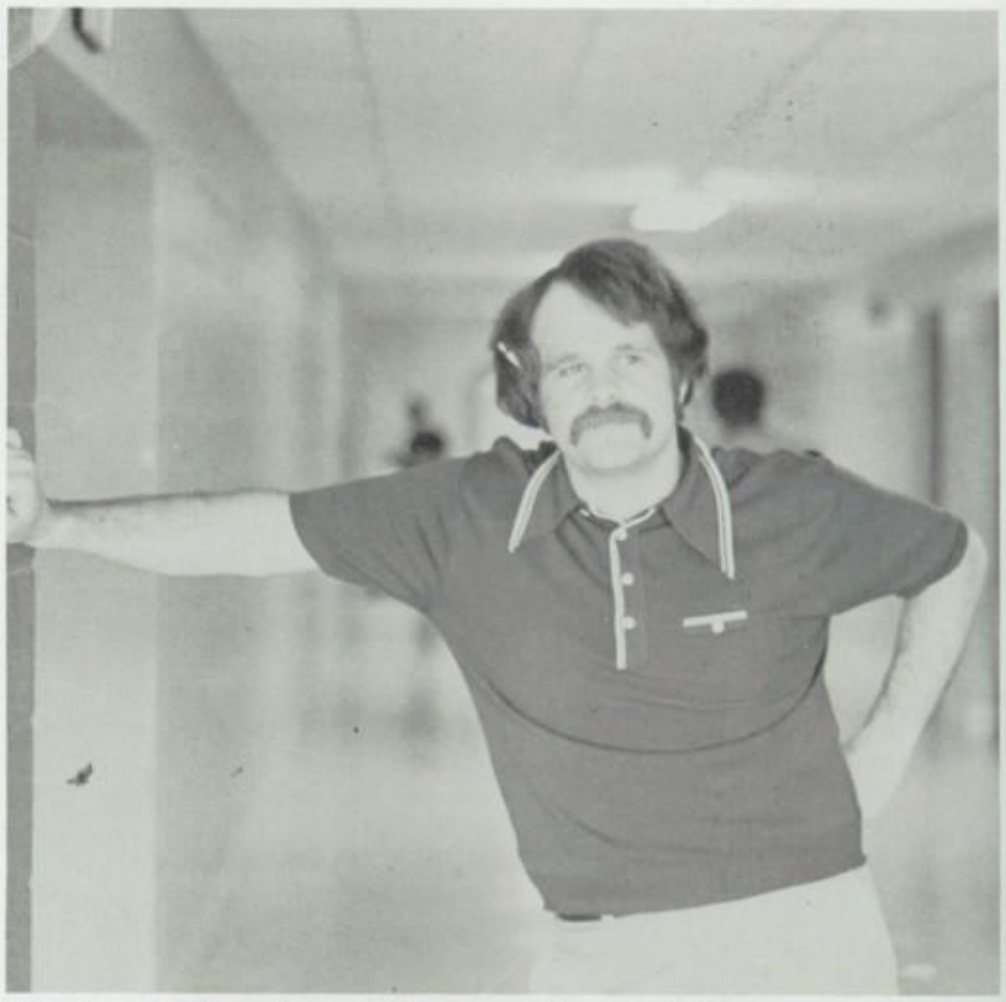
Former graduates still enjoy coming back to visit former teachers and old friends.

"I Found No Peace" in the Lunchroom.

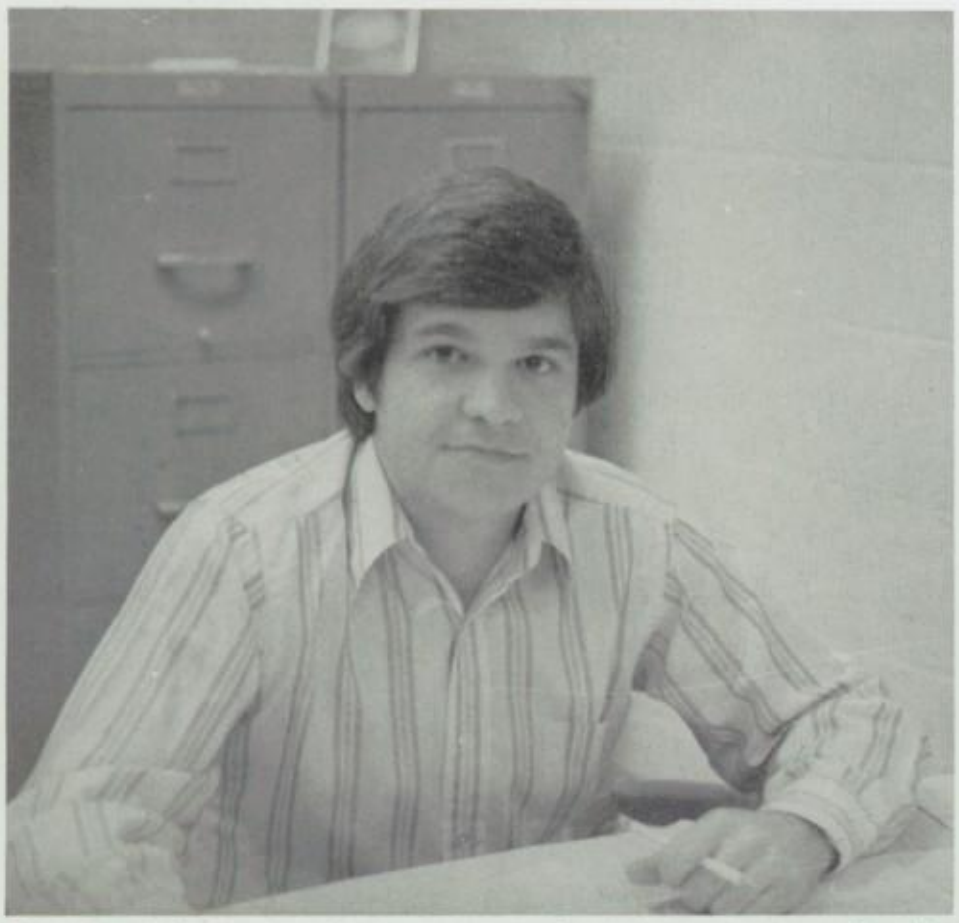
Administration

"No man is an island, entire of itself;" and that's how we think of our Administration. We usually think of our administrators as just the men and women who work in the school offices, but it's not only these persons but many more people. The lunchroom workers, janitors, counselors, superintendents, secretaries, and the members of the Board of Education all have a part in the operation of our school. Believe it or not when the bell rings and you are on your way to class, remember that it is because of the cooperation of these many people that our school functions in the efficient manner that it does.

Mrs. Phelps works hard to get all of her duties finished.



Mr. Jones takes time out to pose for a picture.



Mr. Reed helps to determine grade point averages for the Seniors.

Mrs. Phelps helps a student with his problem.

"The King of the Castle"

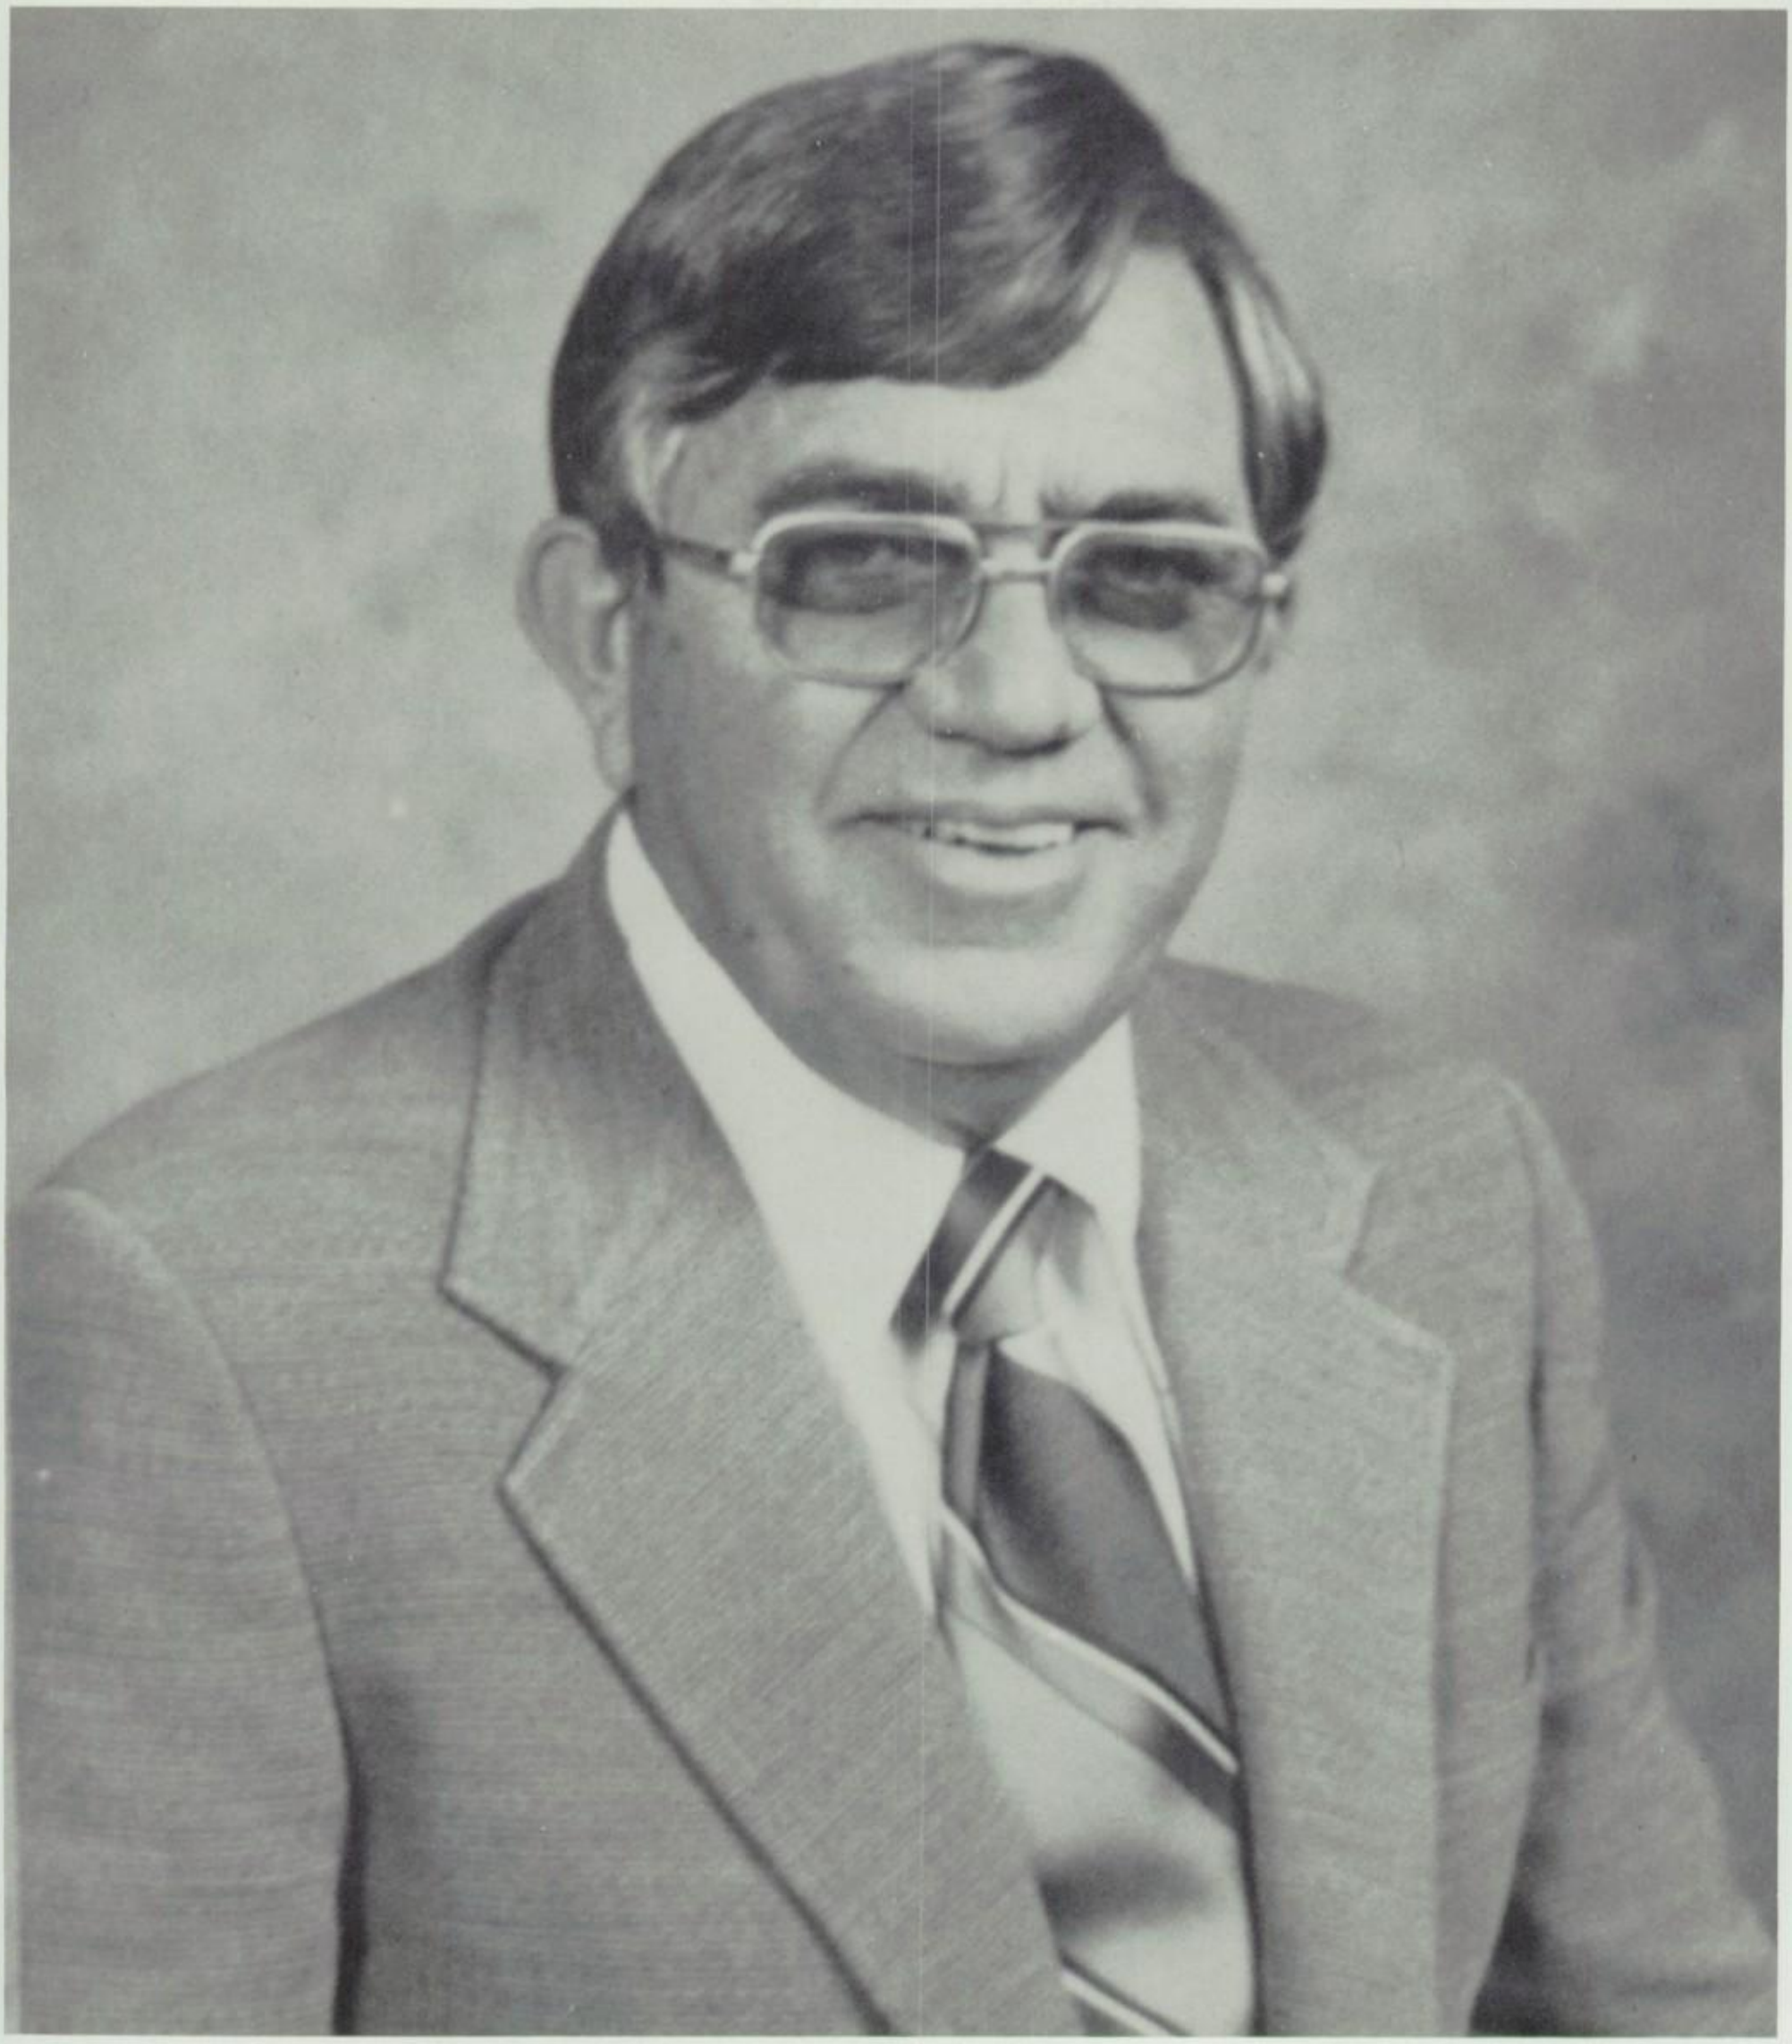
B.S., Campbellsville College
M.S., Campbellsville College
Rank 1, Western Kentucky University

For the past 11 years, Mr. Ray Story has reigned as "King of the Castle" at North Hardin. With the welfare of the student body uppermost in his mind, Mr. Story initiated the Senior Ring Ceremony, one of the highlights of the Senior year. For his work here at North Hardin, we hope he has many more years here as "king of our castle."

It's Hard "To Find A Man" with His Qualities.

B.S., Western Kentucky University
M.A., Western Kentucky University
Rank I, WKU

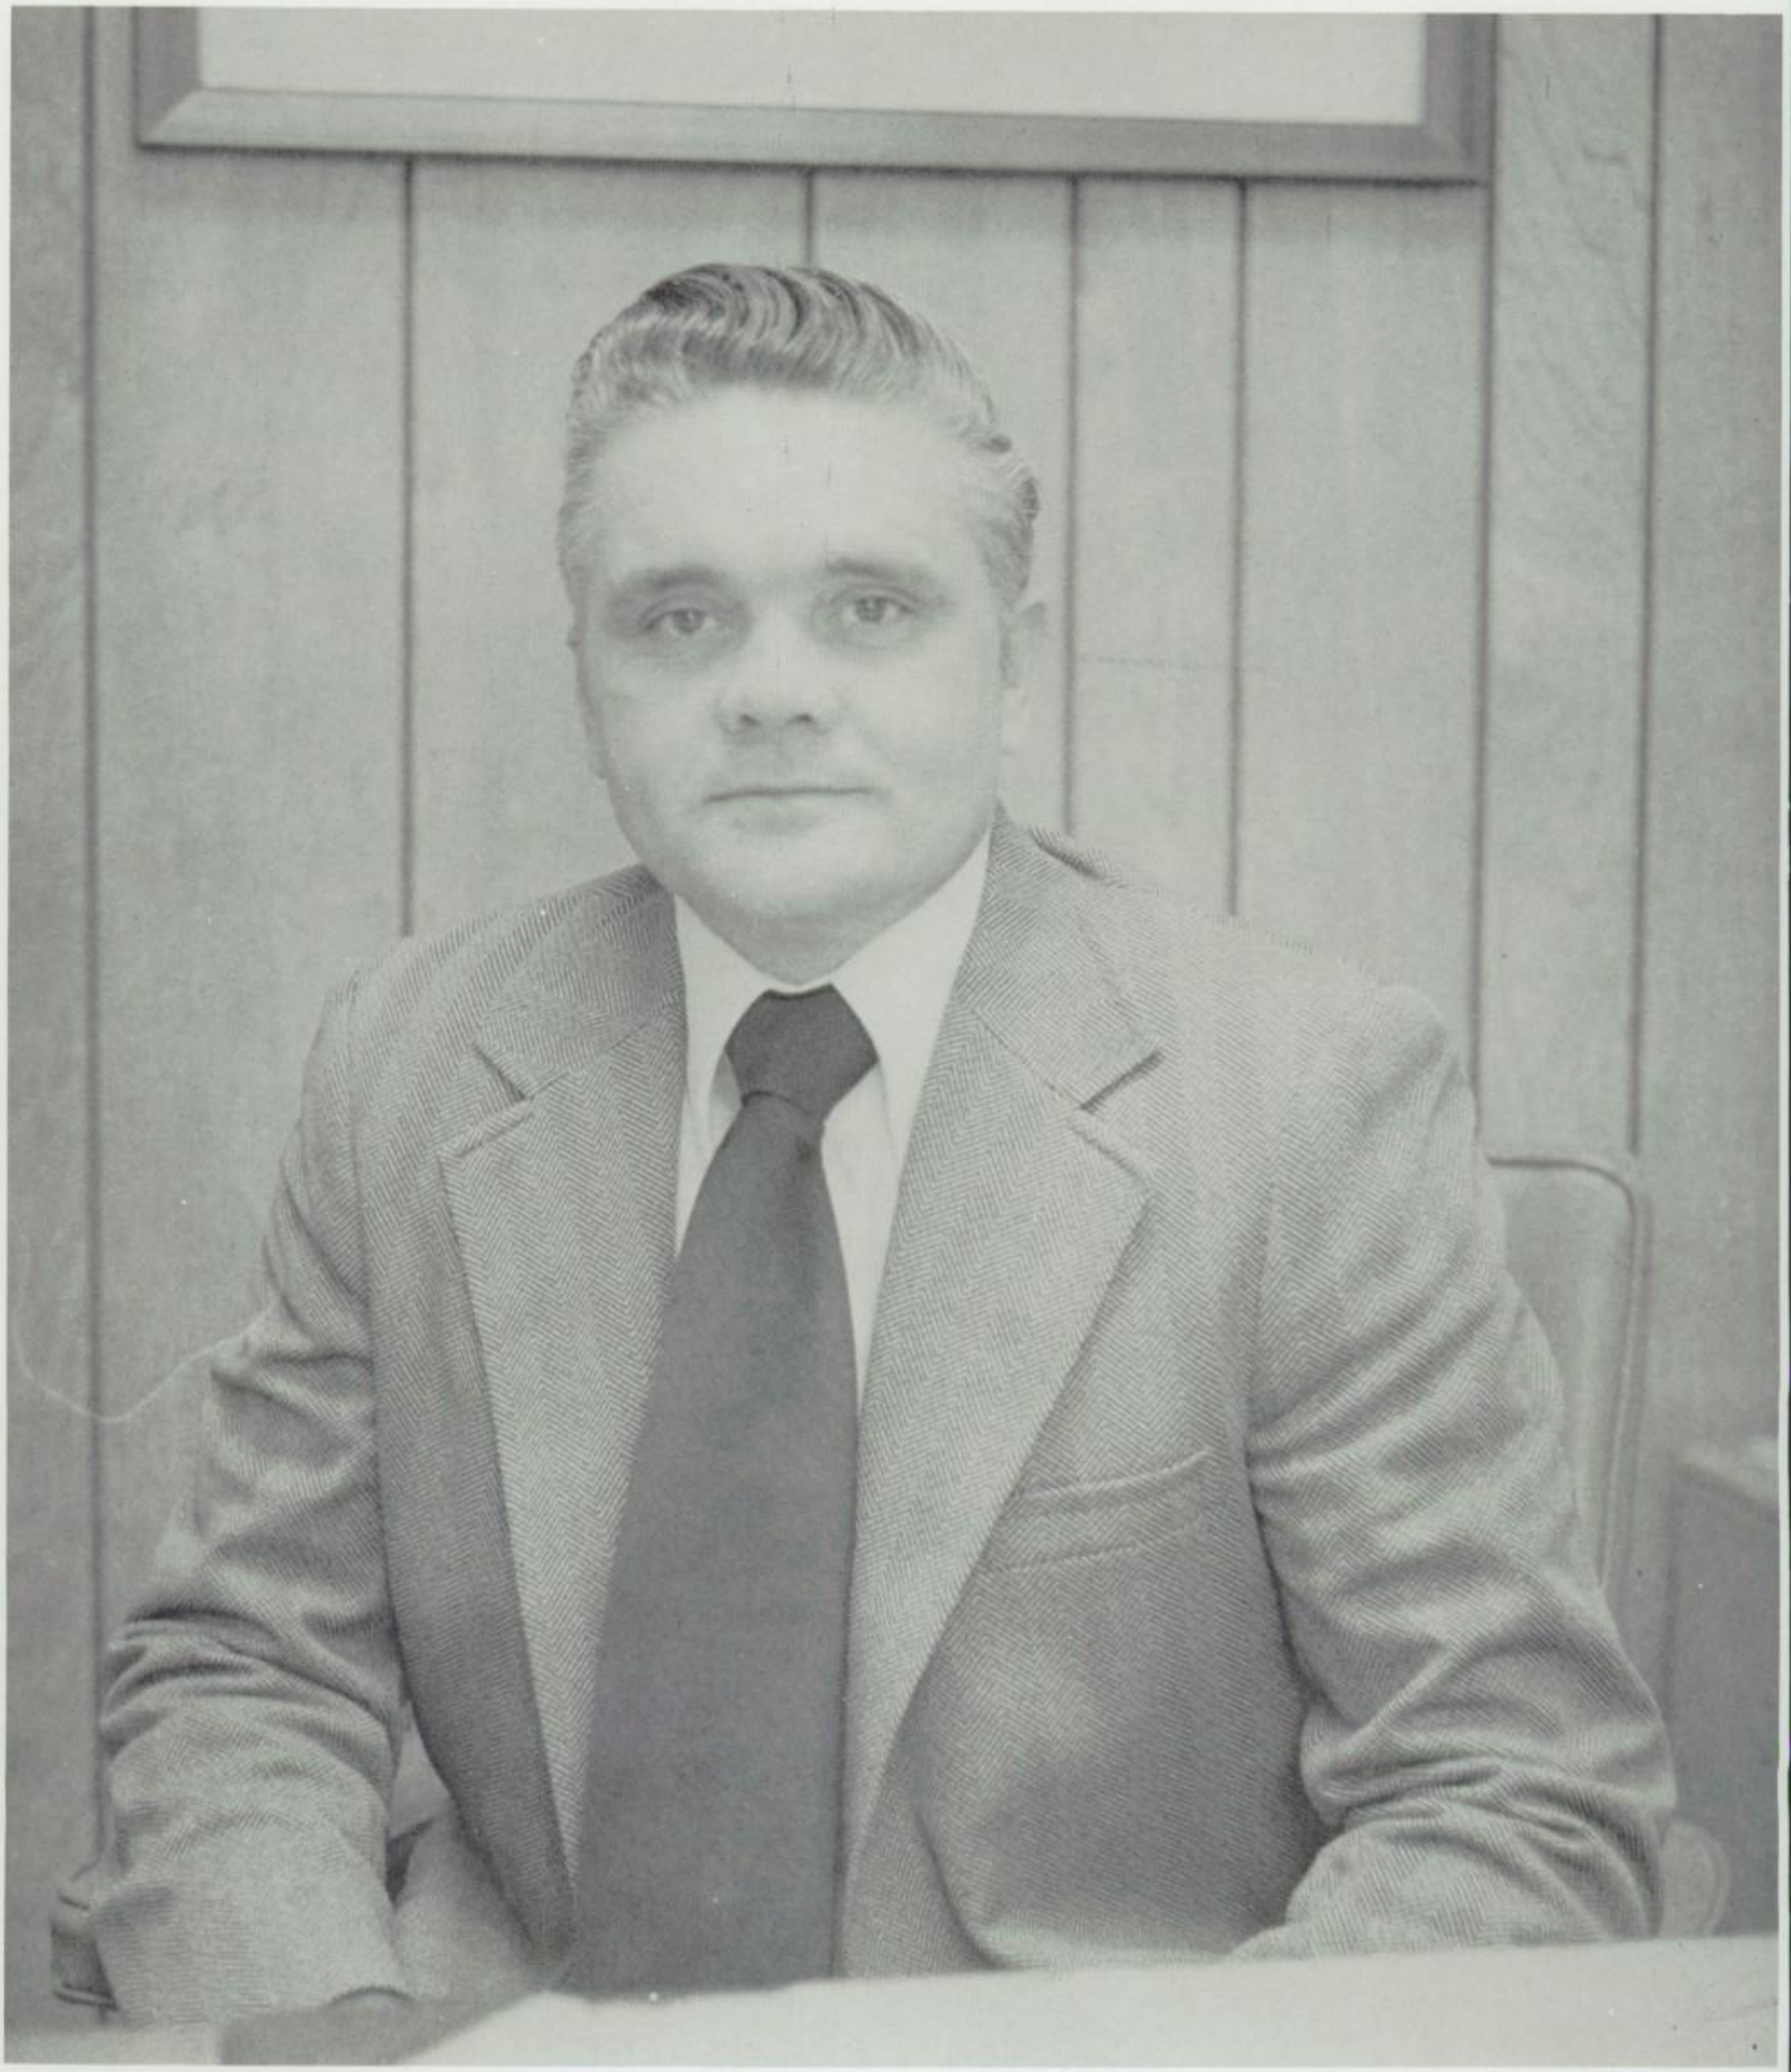
It is often difficult "To find a man" who possesses patience, and a sense of humor. When that person is also required to be a disciplinarian, it is very difficult indeed. But North Hardin has found this person in Mr. Don Martin. Even though he faces countless problems every day, he is always willing to lend a sympathetic ear. We are fortunate to have this fine administrator at North Hardin.



"The Advance Man"

B.S., Western Kentucky University
M.A., Western Kentucky University
Rank 1, Western Kentucky University

Mr. Damon Ray, who was in charge of the sophomores and juniors, was an assistant principal at North Hardin for two years. Though he was only here for a short time, this was not his first experience in working with students. Before coming to North Hardin, he was Principal at East Hardin and Glendale for many years, and has been with the Hardin county school system for 29 years. Our "Advance Man" has been transferred to the Central office as Director of Pupil Personnel, and we miss him.



"Return of the Native."

B.S., Western Kentucky University
M.A. Western Kentucky University
Ed.S., George Peabody University

Mr. Garland Cottrell, was the Assistant Principal at North Hardin for two years before he went to the Central Office as Assistant Superintendent of Personnel. This year at Christmas he returned, as all natives return to their homeland.

His primary responsibilitie are Sophomore discipline an attendance reports. But if a stu dent ever needs a helping hand Mr. Cottrell is there.

Mr. Richard Charles Jones
B.A., Western Kentucky University
M.A., Western Kentucky University
Rank I, Western Kentucky University

7 years Mr. Jones does a fantastic job as department head for the counselors.

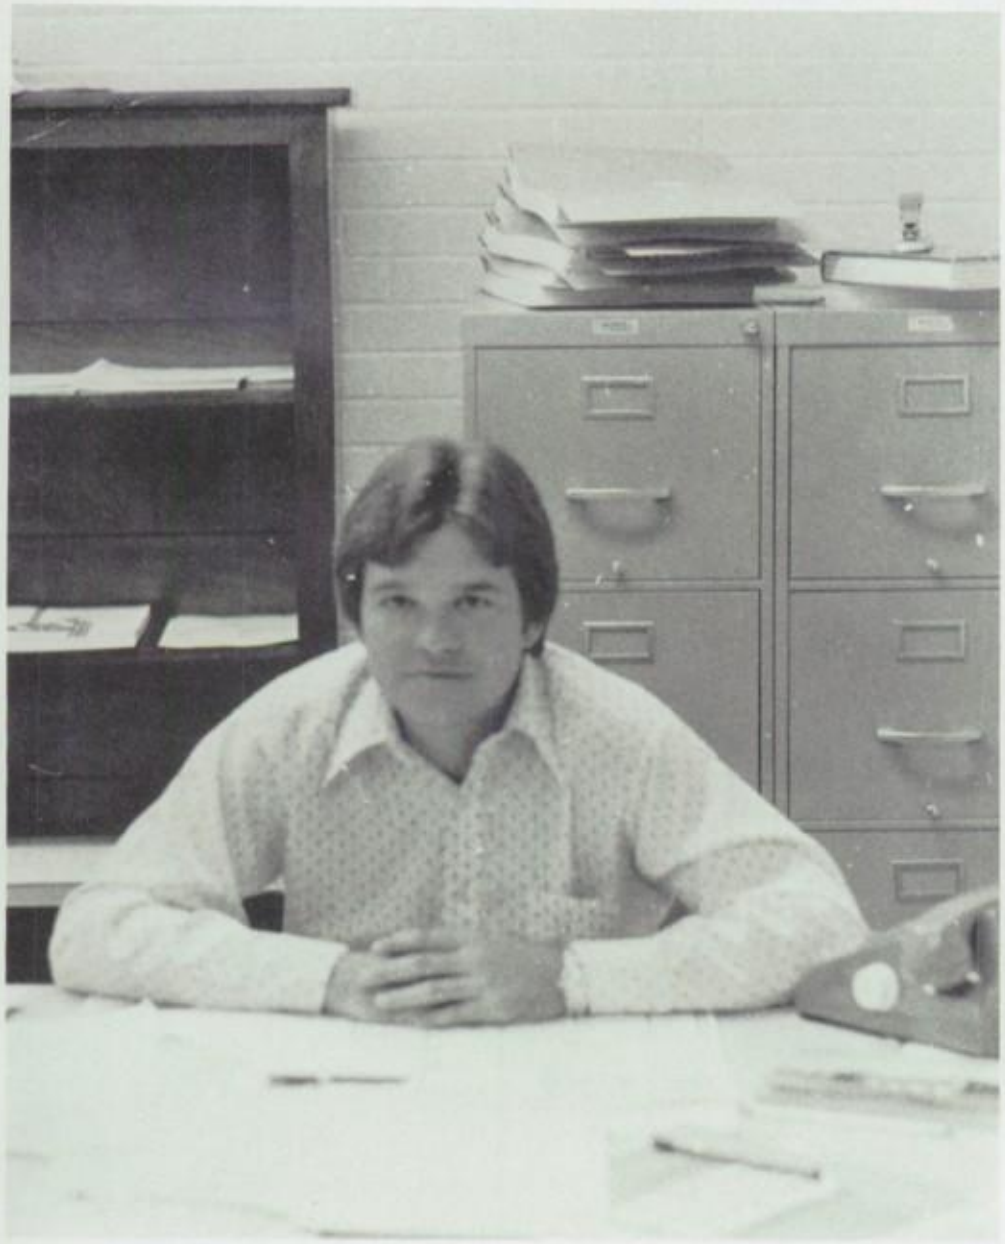
They Have "Strange Powers."

After schedule changes are complete, these industrious individuals spend their time administering standardized tests, handing out scholarship and financial aid applications, and determining grade point averages. They solve so many problems that sometimes it seems as though they possess "strange powers."



Mr. David Reed
B.S., Western Kentucky University
M.A., Western Kentucky University

4 years

Mrs. Barbara Logsdon Phelps
B.S., Western Kentucky University
M.A., Western Kentucky University

7 years

Mrs. Suzanne Vowels is a member of our efficient secretarial staff. She takes care of all transcripts and student fees.

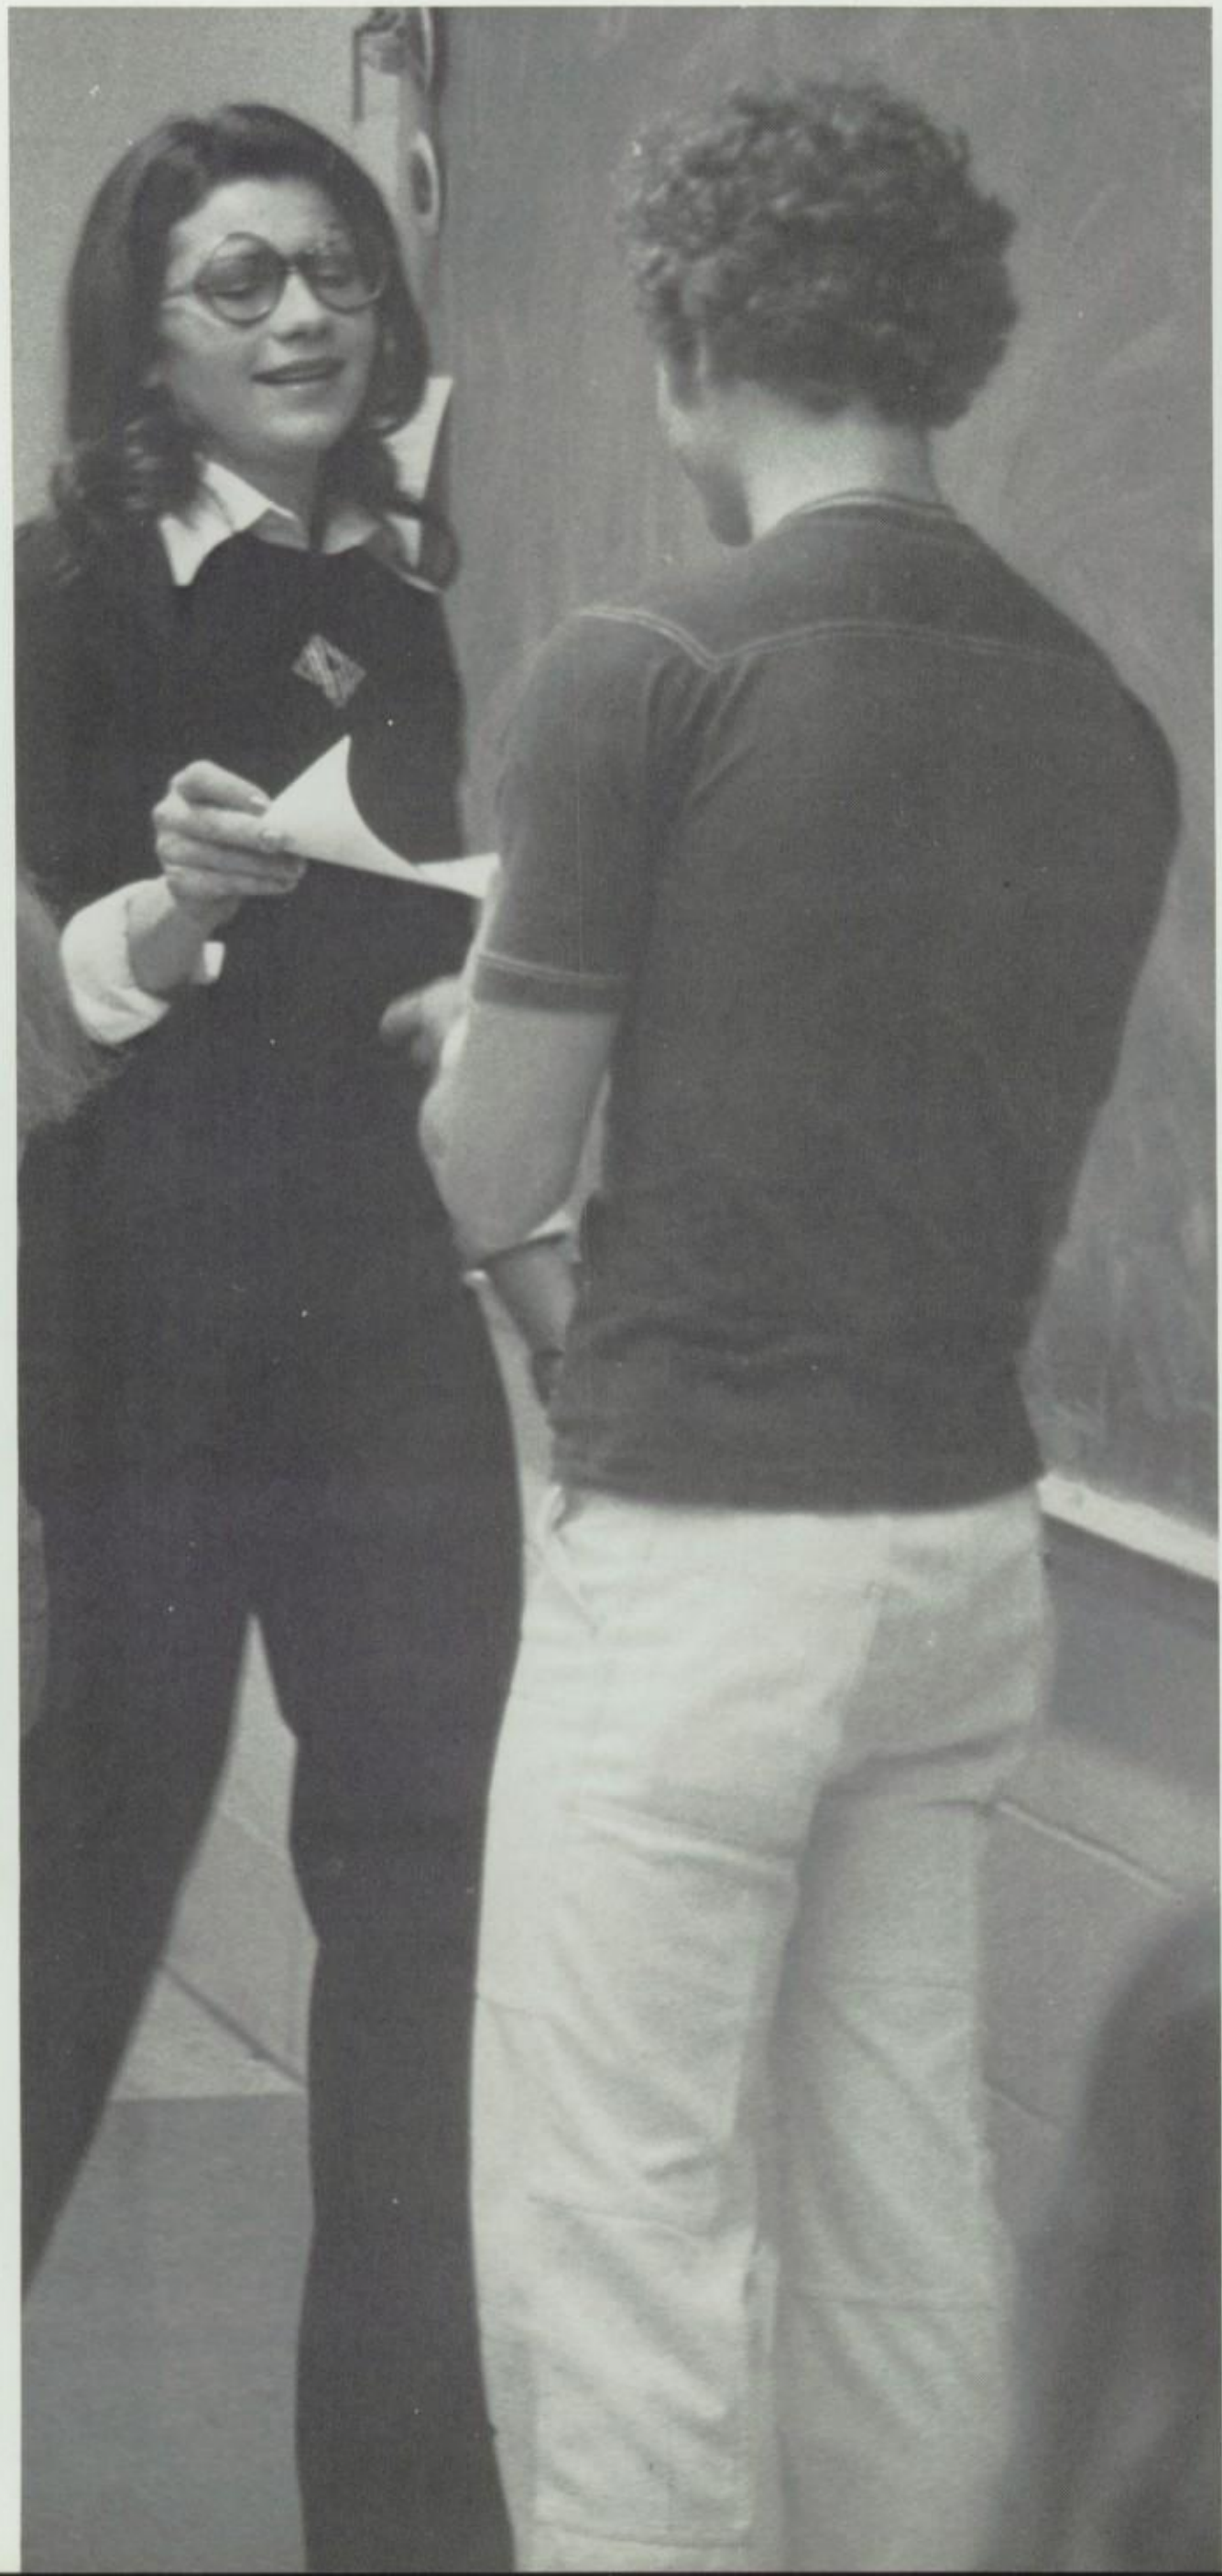
Each secretary is also responsible for greeting visitors to our school.

Mrs. Virginia Sherrard is responsible for counting the receipts from athletic events and for making deposits. She also takes care of accident reports and insurance.

Mrs. Estelle Harper is a very busy person, and she is not to be outdone by anyone. Her duties include ordering textbooks, issuing receipts, paying bills, and answering the telephone when no one else is around. Her days are certainly filled to capacity.

"Psst! You're Not Listening!"

Mrs. Dorothy Morse is given the seemingly impossible task of keeping track of absentees and checkouts. So, if you are not where you are supposed to be—watch out! Mrs. Morse will certainly find you!



Monica enjoys working for Mr. Jones.

Rita was kept very busy in the office this year, and she enjoyed her work.

The office aides worked hard this year in helping the administration, and the students at NH. "The assistants proved to be very valuable in our office.

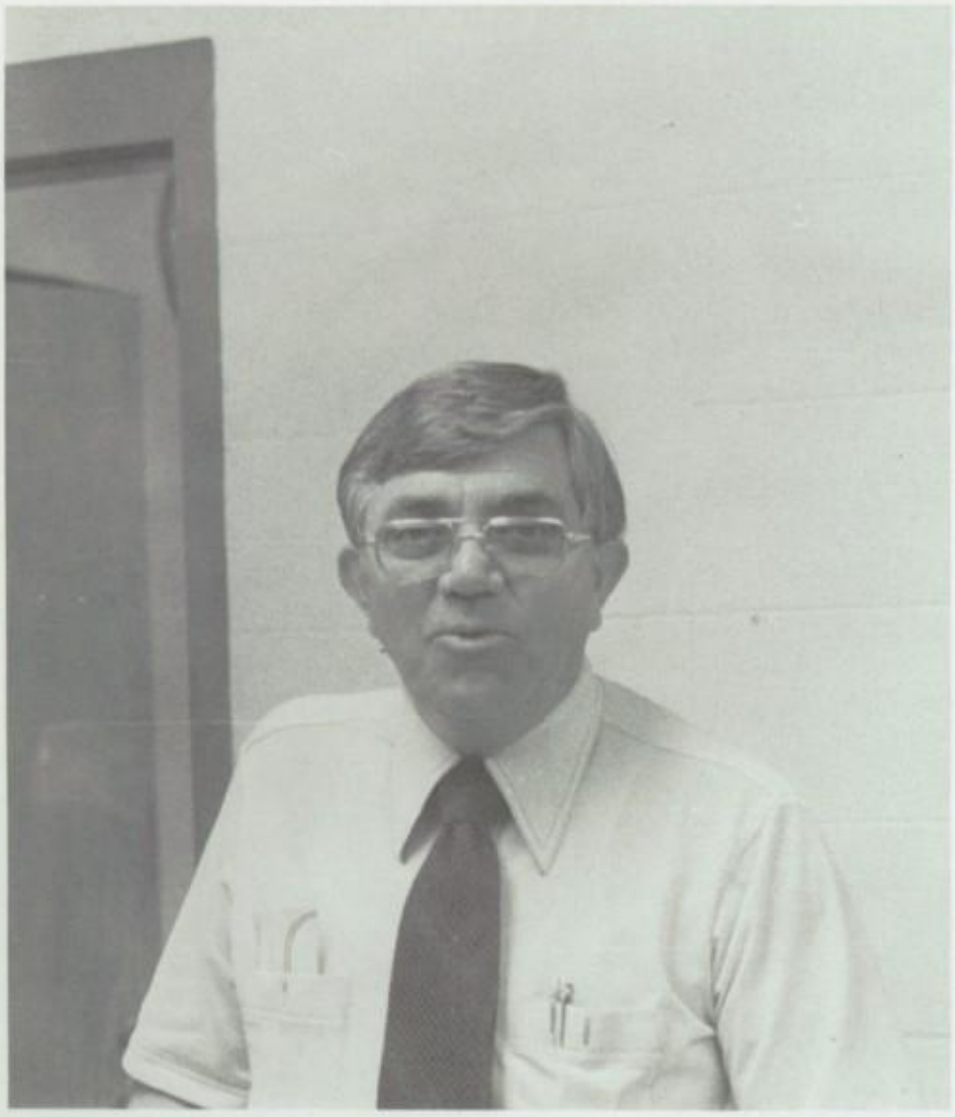
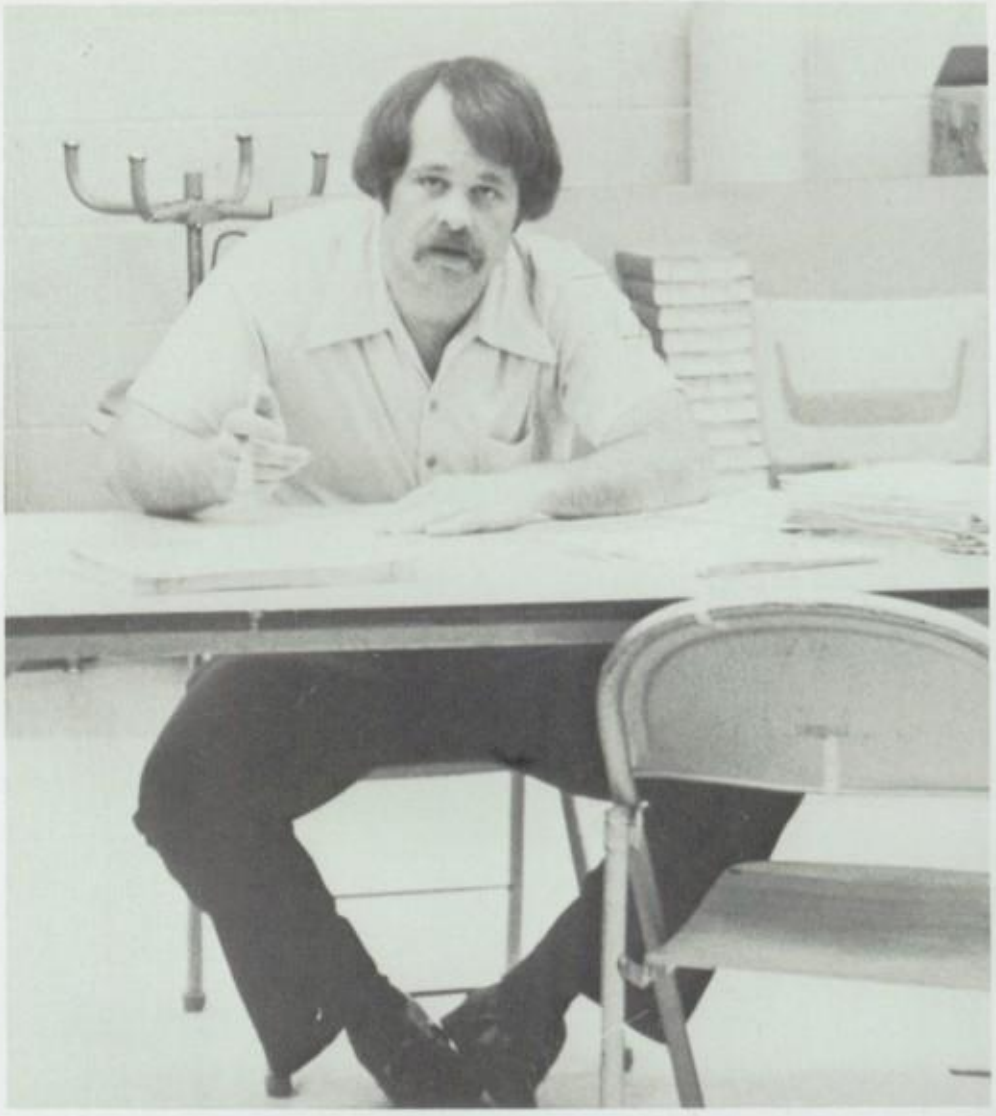
It is always a pleasure to visit the office when Brenda is there.





Mr. Charlie Akins—The Final "Authority"

Mr. Charlie Akins has served as Superintendent of Hardin County Schools for the past eight years. His role as Superintendent has left him with many responsibilities, for Mr. Akins is the final "authority" on all decisions which affect the schools in the system. He must satisfy the public, the teachers, the pupils, and the members of the Board of Education. He has been a definite asset to our county during the past eight years.

Mrs. Ruth Hughey
Aide in Materials Center

Mr. James Scifres
Drives van for Materials Center

Mrs. Peggy Akins

Mrs. Kay Sheroan
Mr. Akins' Secretary

Mrs. Judy Lay
Reading Supervisor

Mr. Carlton Warren
Printer in Central Office

Mrs. Mary Ann Buesco
Coordinator of Special Education

Mr. Mike Speck
Assistant Superintendent for Certification and Personnel

Mr. Bobby Humes
Coordinator of Federal Programs

These Men Work "In High Places."

Mr. Damon Ray
Director of Pupil Personnel

Mr. Jack Alexander
Assistant Superintendent of Finance

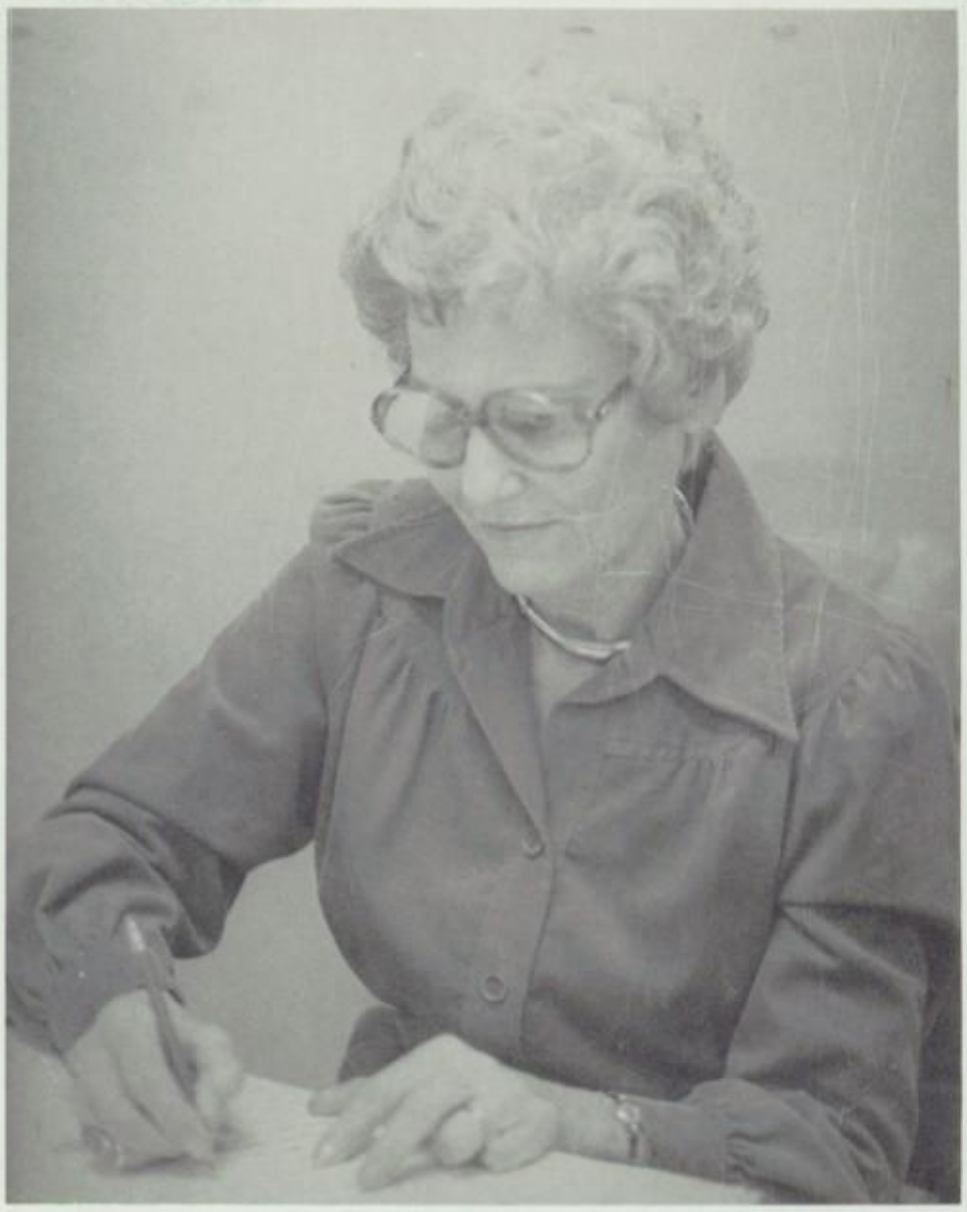
Mr. Kenneth Riddle
Vocational Coordinator

Mr. Ellis Patterson
Maintenance Supervisor

Mrs. Sheryl Luken
Coordinator of Counseling for Hardin County

Mr. Larry Brawner
Public Relations Director

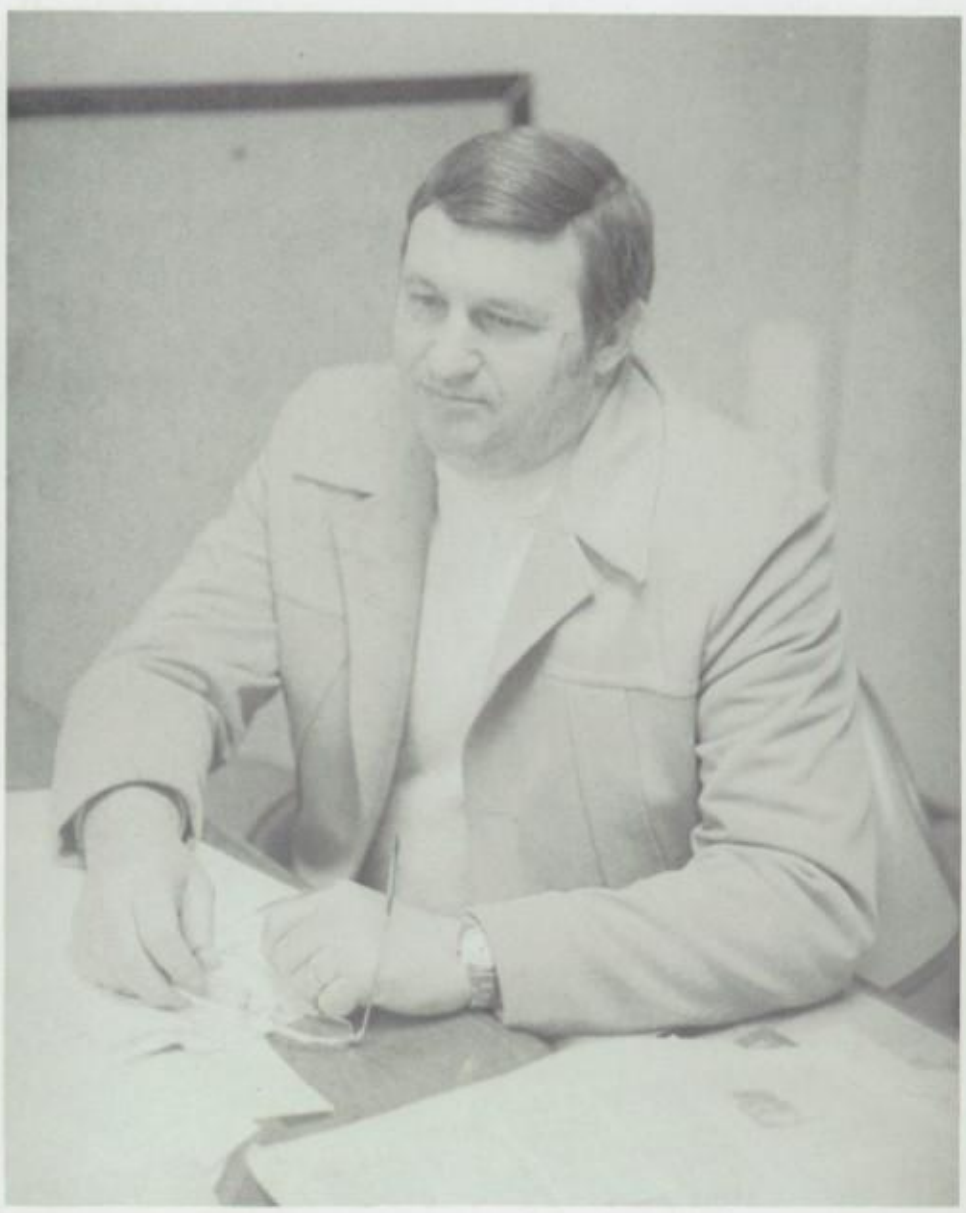
Dr. Ernest G. Thro
The Secondary Supervisor for Program Development



Mrs. Louise Meek is in charge of finding substitutes when teachers are forced to miss a day.

These People Form "The Invisible Chain."

Mrs. Evelyn Ramsey
Director of the Materials Center

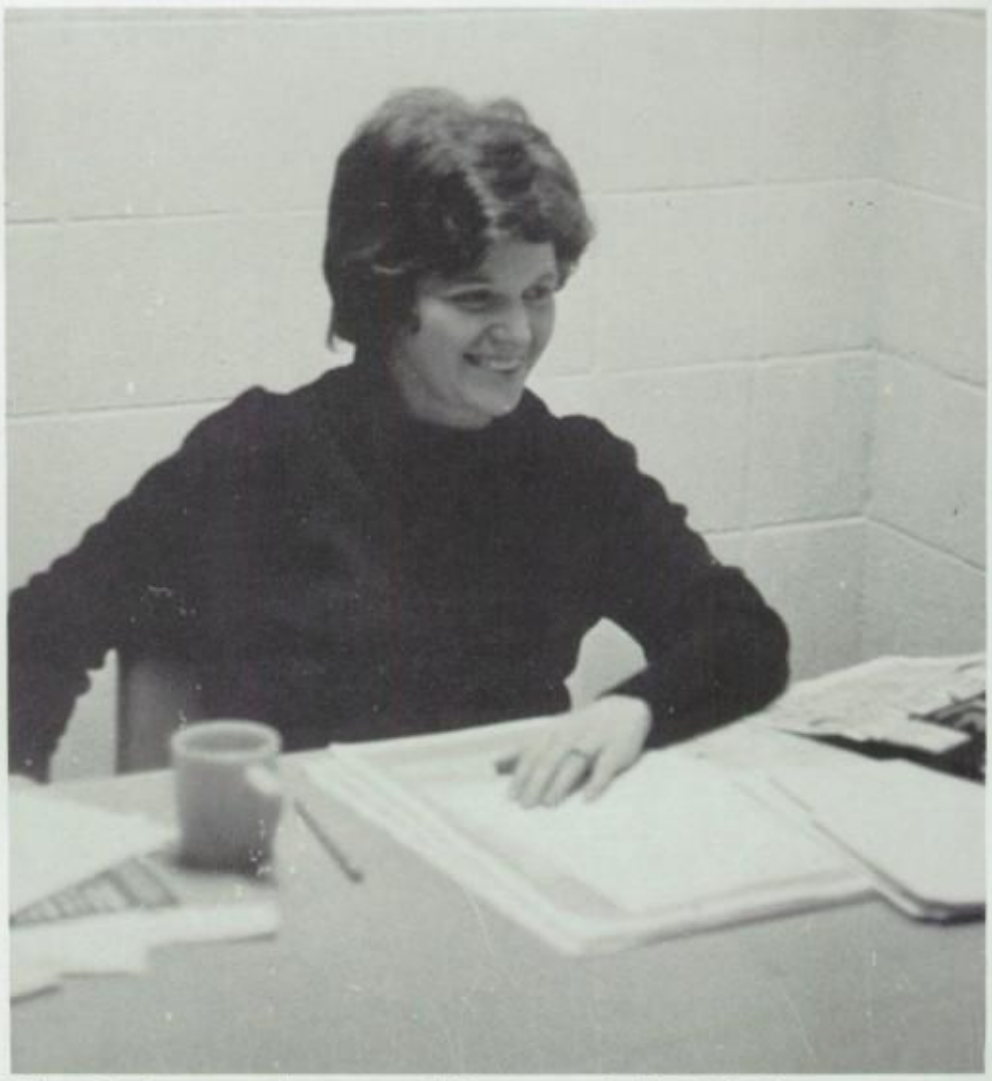


Mr. Bill Jones
Assistant Superintendent of Transportation

"Oh, my aching head!"

"Maybe the photographer will go away!"

"It is so nice to receive flowers unexpectedly."



"I'm glad to say that you did get a scholarship."

Mrs. Bennett uses a variety of techniques.

Mrs. Rose enjoys sunny days.

These Are "The Good Companions."

Miss Bishop and Miss Carr enjoy the wrestling banquet.

Mrs. Meserve samples the goodies.

D.C.

Mrs. Rosa Robinson uses her oven mitts to remove a hot dish from the oven.

Mrs. Dorothy Brown smiles for one of our photographers.

Mrs. Saltsman takes a few moments to relax during the hectic lunch period.

Mrs. Jewell Thompson really enjoys her job of serving lunches to the students.

Mrs. Foushee, the head of the lunchroom workers, enjoys her job immensely.

"As You Like It"

The women in the lunchroom are here to see that we get the lunches we need to get us through the day. They prepare them with as much love as your mother might prepare them for you. Though, you might not like what you have ALL the time they try to fix the lunch just "as you like it".

Carolyn Masden enjoys her work, so she smiles for our photographer.

The ladies in the lunchroom work hard to serve our students nutritious lunches.

Many times they do not get the credit they deserve.

The lunchroom workers take time out to eat after serving lunch.

"Betty, is it good?"

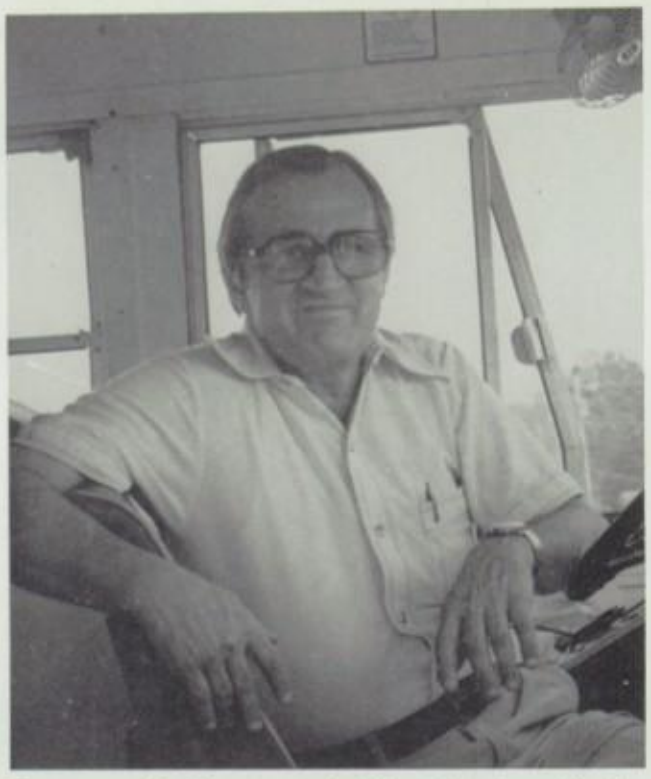
Mrs. Ormsby works very hard in the lunchroom

Mr. J.Y. Shelton has fulfilled the duty as a North Hardin bus driver.

One of the many fine bus drivers is Miss Susie Smith.



Reverand Raymond Ward should be proud of his bus driving abilities.

We Survived the "Winter of Our Discontent."

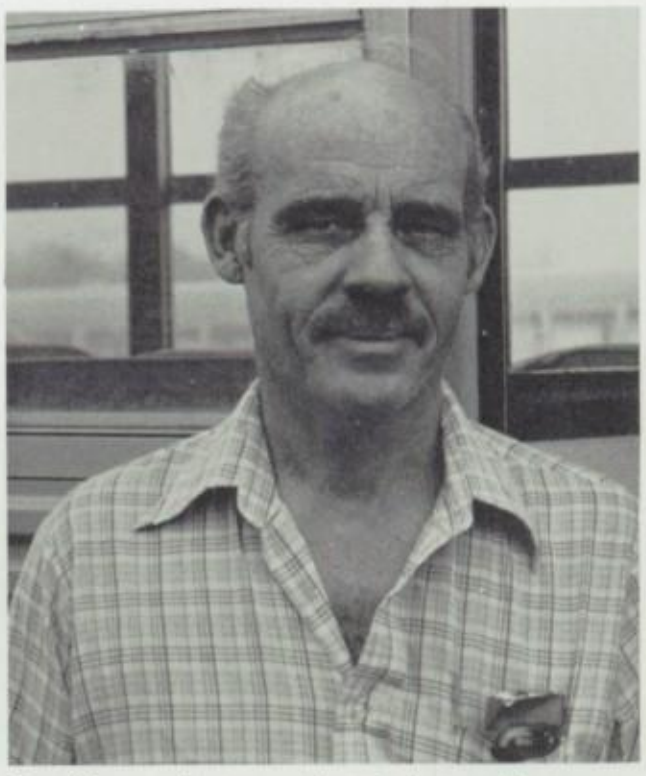
Mr. Ronnie Wise is another one of our dedicated bus drivers.

Mr. Merril Proust greets the students with a smile after a long days work.

We survived "the winter of our discontent," and a large portion of this credit goes to the dedicated, and very patient bus drivers. Even though they experienced a few problems along the way, the drivers always deposited the students safely at the door of the school. They truly are dedicated workers, and an essential part of any school program.

Mrs. Jo Smith is a very efficient and hard working bus driver.

Orbie Haire looks as if he really enjoys being a bus driver.



Joe Sweet knows that being a bus driver has many responsibilities.

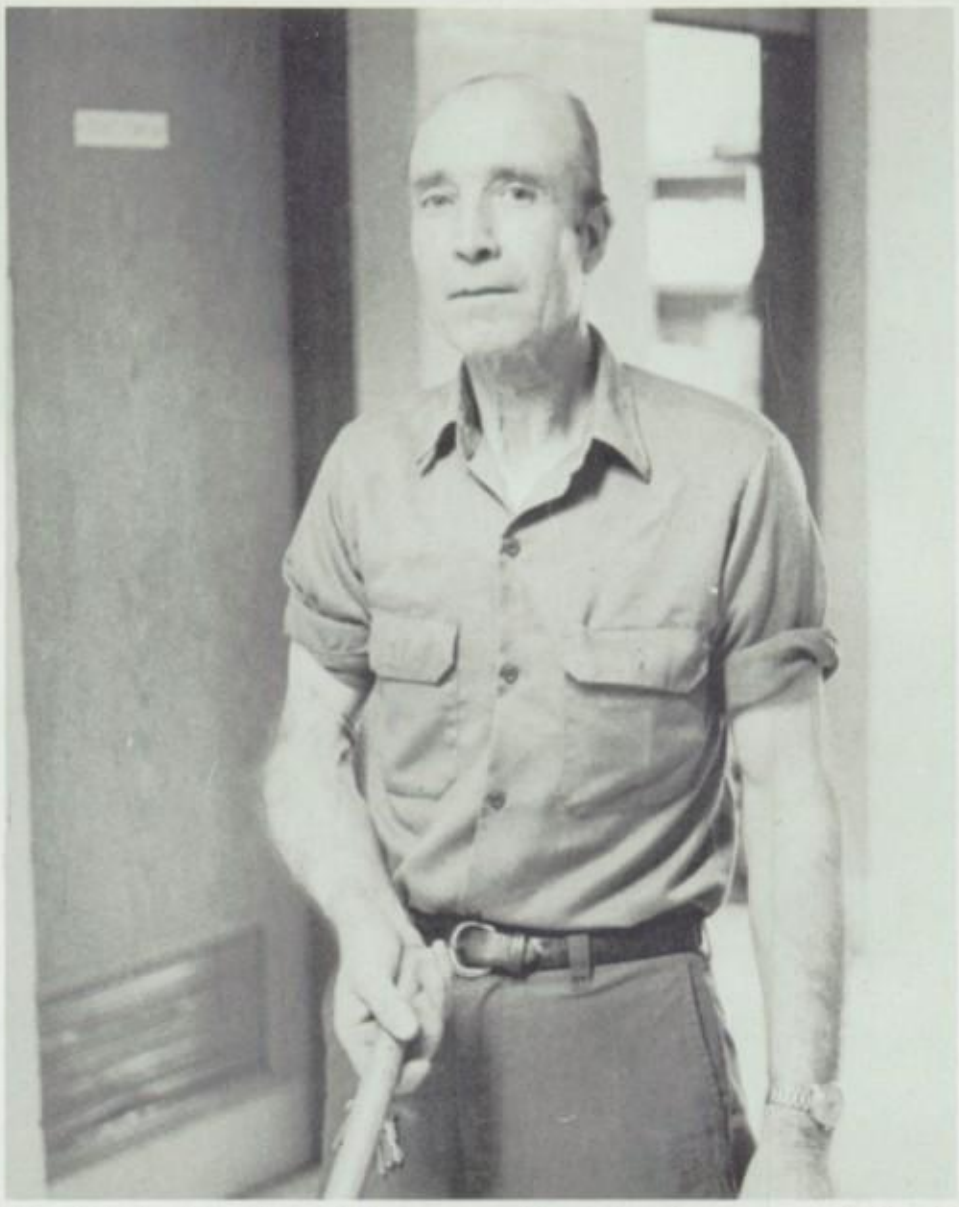
STARS

Mrs. Doris Smallwood works with her husband and the other janitors to keep the school clean.

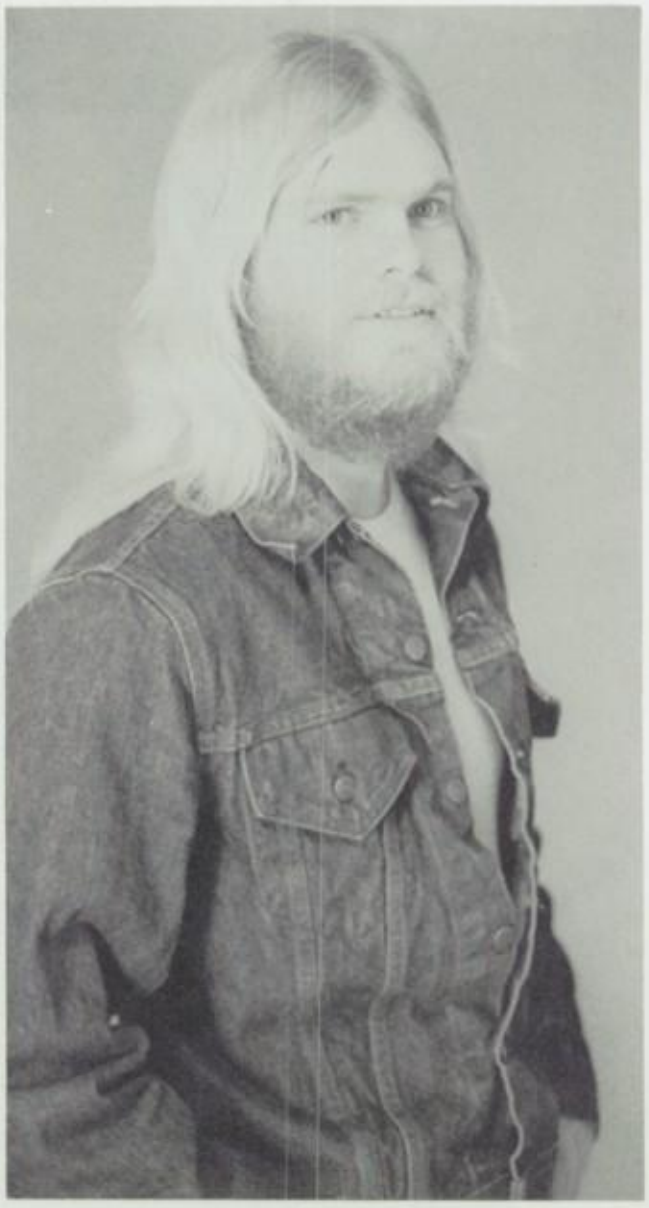


Mr. Clyde Smallwood is a very familiar face around North Hardin since he has been here eight years.

They Take a "Stairway to an Empty Room."

The janitors at the end of the day take a "stairway to an empty room." Each of our janitors works hard to keep our school clean. They also manage to keep things in working order.

Dale Saltsman doesn't have a minute to rest during the day.



Nathan Smallwood helps his parents and the others tidy up the school.

Donald Asher works after school as a janitor.

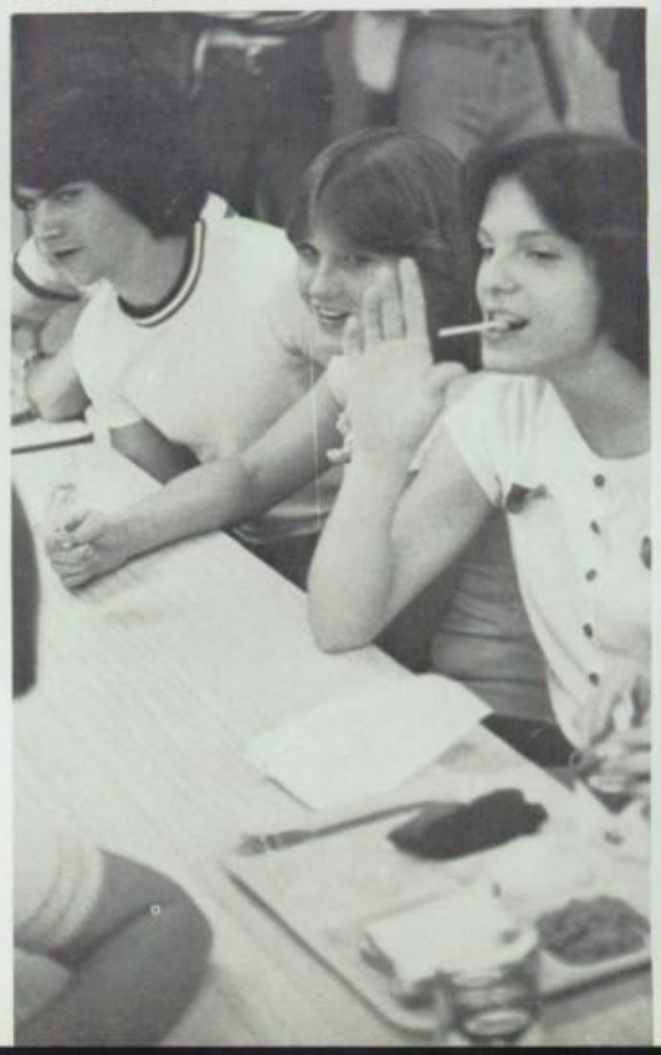
"Mrs. Hodge, what is this?"

"Are you surprised Mrs. McAnelly?"

"Keeley, are you sleepy?"

We caught Mrs. Bogue laughing.

Laura, quit making eyes at our photographer.



Mr. Jones must have fallen asleep while he was thinking.

It's been another long day, and I'll be glad to go home.

Mr. Reed is always cheerful and friendly to all he meets.

Mr. Story, what have you been doing? What's that grin for?

Mr. Martin doesn't take any chances. There may be a lip reader around.

Life in "The Jungle"

Mr. Story works very hard in his job as principal.

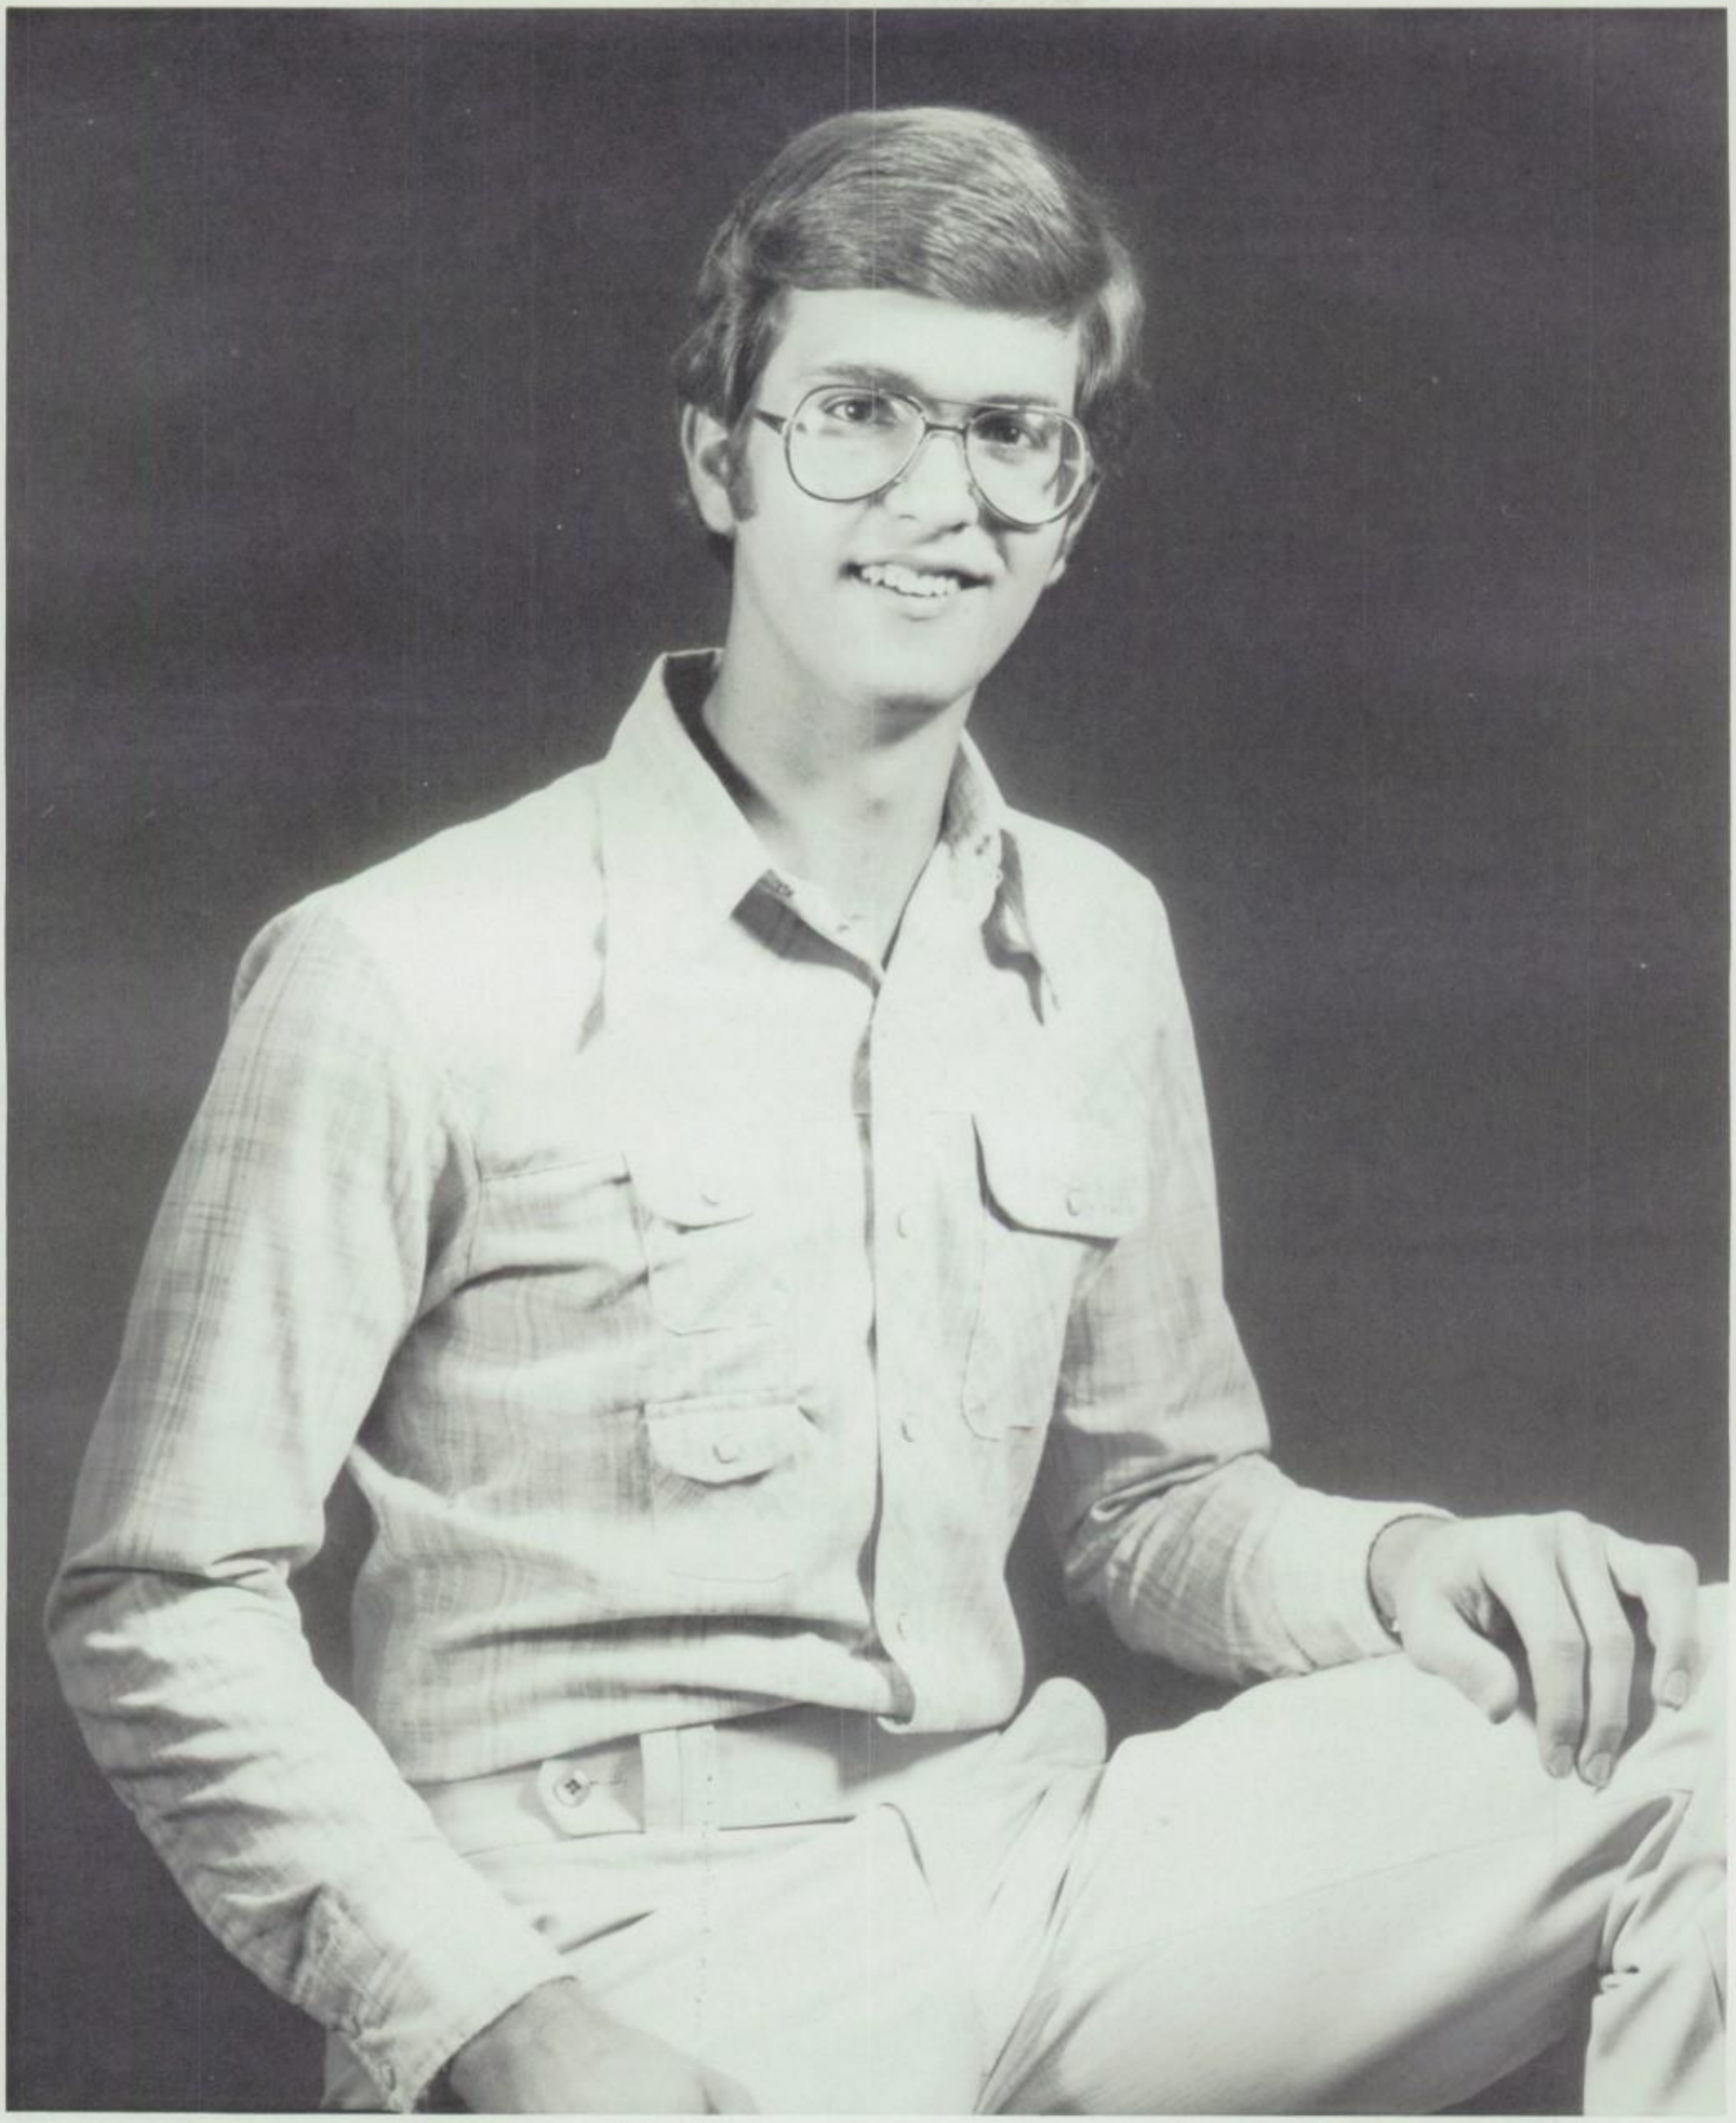
Mr. Martin is overwhelmed, all of his work has been completed.

Mr. Ray was well liked by the faculty and students.

She Answered "The Call of the Wild."

Susan Ann Cooper's conservation essay on the subject "Fish and Wildlife Management—Its Value to Me" was chosen winner of the 121 Soil Conservation Districts in Kentucky. This is the second time for Hardin County to have the winner of the Contest.

Susan answered "the call of the wild", and came out a winner.



He Is "Some Kind of a Hero."

Kentucky's Annual "Ability Counts" survey winning report on the theme "The Awakening of the New Minority", was written by Lloyd Vaughn Boggess. He attended the Annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped that was held in Washington, D.C. on May 3-5. He is "some kind of a hero".

They Know "How to Succeed in High School."

Rick Entsminger and Tim Mallard are National Merit Semi-finalists.

Rick was a Junior Scholar.

Kevin Flowers was a Junior Scholar.

Some of the North Hardin students really know "How to Succeed in High School". They are Richard Entsminger, Tim Mallard, Kevin Flowers, and Donna Deaton.

Richard Entsminger, and Tim Mallard are National Merit semi-finalists. In order to receive this award they made good scores on the PSAT test, had a good high school record, and they did well in their extra-curricular activities. There were only 225 students selected from Kentucky, out of approximately 15,000 students selected. Consequently, this is a very rewarding honor.

Richard Entsminger, and Kevin Flowers were Junior Scholars. To receive this award, they made high scores on the PSAT, had a good high school record, and participated in extra-curricular activities. They attended regular college classes at Western Kentucky University for eight weeks during the summer.

Donna Deaton followed her father's footsteps by attending Girls' State. Her father attended boys' state in 1954. The purpose of Girls' and Boys' State is to enable students to get first-hand experience in the operation of government. Girls' State was held last June 13-18 at Morehead State University and Eastern Kentucky University. The American Legion Auxiliary and the Civil League co-sponsored Girls' and Boys' State. Donna Deaton was selected to attend with students all over Kentucky who completed their Junior year in high school.

These students really succeeded in high school, and so can you!

Donna Deaton went to Girl's State.

"Only in America" Is Such Leadership Recognized.

The Daughters of the American Revolution each year recognize an outstanding student in each of the county high schools. Lynn Shipp received this award for showing service, leadership, and patriotism to her school and community. North Hardin is very proud of her accomplishments. We encourage everyone to follow the example she has set as we strive to be a good citizen. "Only in America" would this individual receive the recognition that she deserves.

These Receive "The Gift of Gold."

On May 31, 1977 some of the students at North Hardin received the "Gift of Gold". That night was the annual North Hardin Scholastic Awards Banquet. Awards was given to students who had "A" averages for all four years, to students who had a "A" in all their subjects last year, and to the outstanding students in each subject area. Awards were also given to the best girl and boy citizens, Salutatorian, Valedictorian, and students who had perfect attendance. Five students were selected by the seniors to sign the Book of Gold, and scholarships were awarded. These high achievers certainly deserve this recognition, for their awards were earned through much hard work and were not "gifts".

Debbie Haraway, field commander of North Hardin High School Marching Band was awarded with the Rotary Club's Youth Merit Award. Chaplain Col. Jack Randles, the Radcliff Club president, presented it to Debbie.

Debbie was the first youth of the Radcliff area to receive the Rotary Award. After Debbie was presented with the award, she was given a standing ovation.

At the Meade County Invitational Contest, Debbie was judged as the best field commander.

The award was given to Debbie because of her service, dependability, and leadership, and based on her performance during the past year, she was indeed a worthy recipient.

Sharon Sickler was the recipient of the Trojan award on girl's cross country team.

These Students Are "Rough Scramblers"

At the end of each season, the outstanding athletes in a particular sport are recognized. At the Football and Cross Country Awards Banquet, some of the people who were involved in "rough scrambles" were acknowledged.

In the next two pages we mention those athletes who lettered in football and cross country as well as those students who achieved special recognition. Perhaps because of this recognition, those "rough scrambles" were worth it.

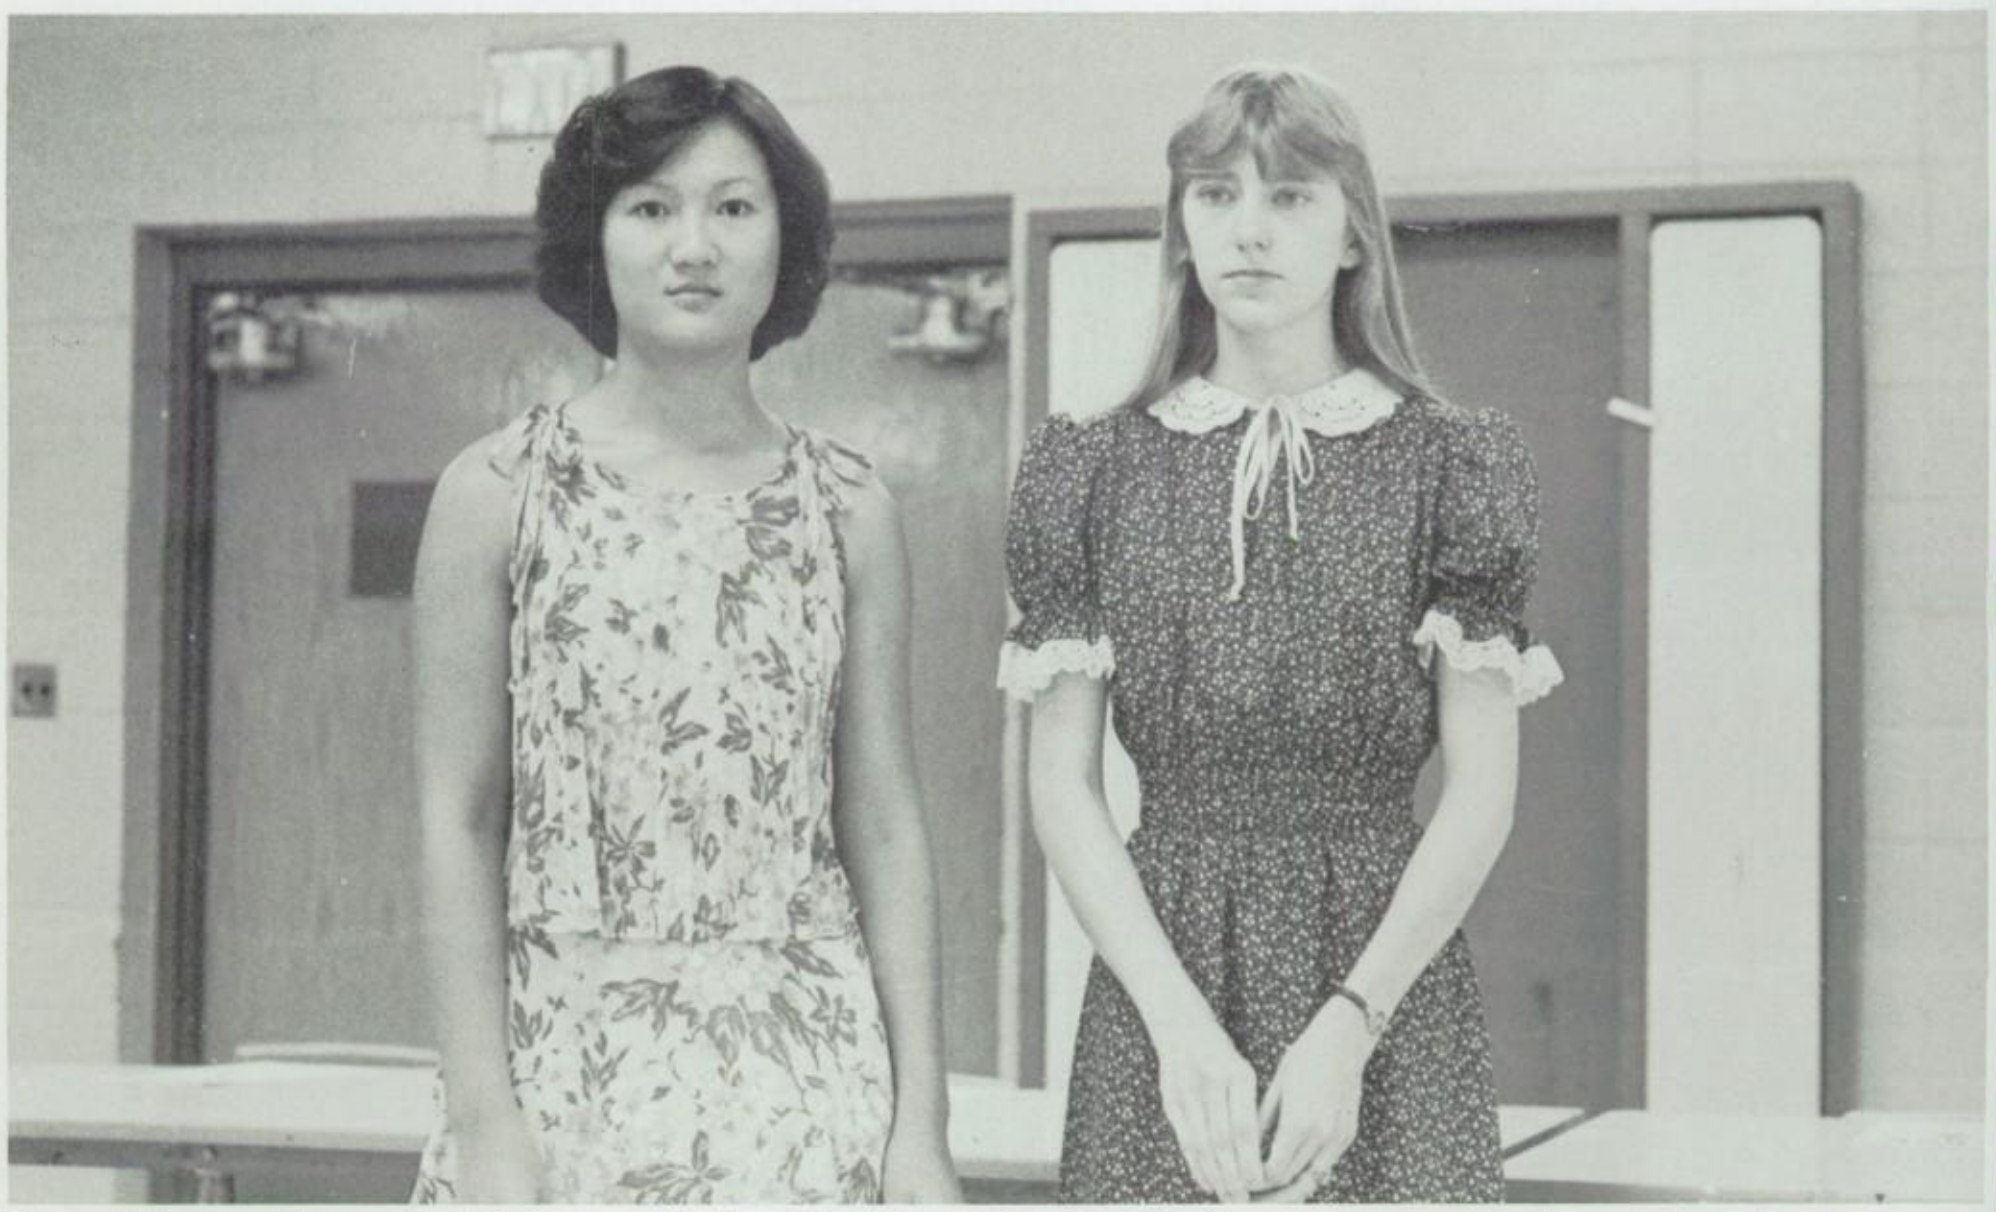
These individuals watch Eddie Bowden as he signs a basketball scholarship with Lindsey Wilson College: Mike Bowden, Mr. Bevars, Mr. Story, Coach Pike, and Mrs. Bowden.



Teresa Baker and Jacqueline Binhlam worked very hard to get these awards. Teresa was recognized as valedictorian of the Senior class, and Jackie was recognized as salutatorian of the class.

It Was "A Night to Remember."

Miss Valerie Hamm

On November 12, 1977 there was "A Night to Remember", for it was the night of the Hardin County Junior Miss Pageant. The pageant is sponsored by the Radcliff Jaycees. Three of the students at North Hardin entered the contest. They were Lynn Shipp, Lisa Logsdon, and Valerie Hamm. Lynn Shipp is the 1978 Hardin County Junior Miss. She received a $750.00 scholarship and a trophy for winning the pageant. For her talent she sang and played "Portraits In My Mind", "If", and Beethoven Sonatina (Opus 49, No. 2) and displayed portraits that she had painted.

Lisa Logsdon received the Creative and Performing Arts Award. For her talent presentation she sang and played "You Light Up My Life". She received a silver tray for her accomplishment.

Valerie Hamm was the Scholastic winner and she received a silver tray. Valerie came out on top with a grade point average of 96.65.

For these three girls the last of the Junior Miss Pageant was truly "A Night to Remember".

Miss Lisa Logsdon

Seniors

If there is any one word that describes the Seniors, it would be spirited. The class of '78 set high standards for the underclassmen to follow. These students have achieved recognition in the classroom, in athletic competition, and in national testing programs. The members of the Senior class respect their teachers as well as their fellow classmates. Their ambitions are greatness, power, and good will. "The torch is passed" to the Juniors and Sophomores who follow to match the standards set by the Seniors.

"Aw, come on; please let me finish my lunch in peace."

No girl likes to have her picture taken unless she has been told in advance. So Rhonda and Julie have solved the problem—they ignore us.

North Hardin students enjoy a beautiful day in the sun, and this definitely adds variety to class routine. However, a few students are preoccupied.

Alan Neyland promises to do his best if elected president.

Phil Wiseman gave a very convincing speech as he ran for the office of president.

Jane Goodrich was elected as president of the Senior class.

Mr. Atherton presided over the elections, announcing the candidates one by one.

Johnny Allison presents a well-prepared speech for the office of vice-president.

Teresa Lowry tries to describe the duties of the office of vice-president.

Vice-president isn't an easy job, and Johannesburg conveys it to the seniors.

Lourdes Labrillazo's vice-presidential speech left an impact on the student body.

Alice Stoner gives a very convincing speech as she won the election for vice-president.

Jeff England is prepared to meet the responsibilities of a vice president.

Lisa Logsdon gave a well-prepared speech as she ran for the office of secretary.

Trisha Correa promises to serve her best if elected to the office of secretary.

Patty Heard speaks to the members of the class as she campaigns for office.

Edmund Jordan was a successful candidate for the office of treasurer.

Patty Hohenstein is at ease as she addresses her fellow classmates.

Renee Stalbaum pauses for a few seconds before she begins her speech.

Denette Myers always has a pleasant smile for those she meets.

CLASS OFFICERS

The seniors line up to go to the gym.

Joe Boulware gives the invocation at the ring ceremony.

Alice expresses her high hopes for the seniors.

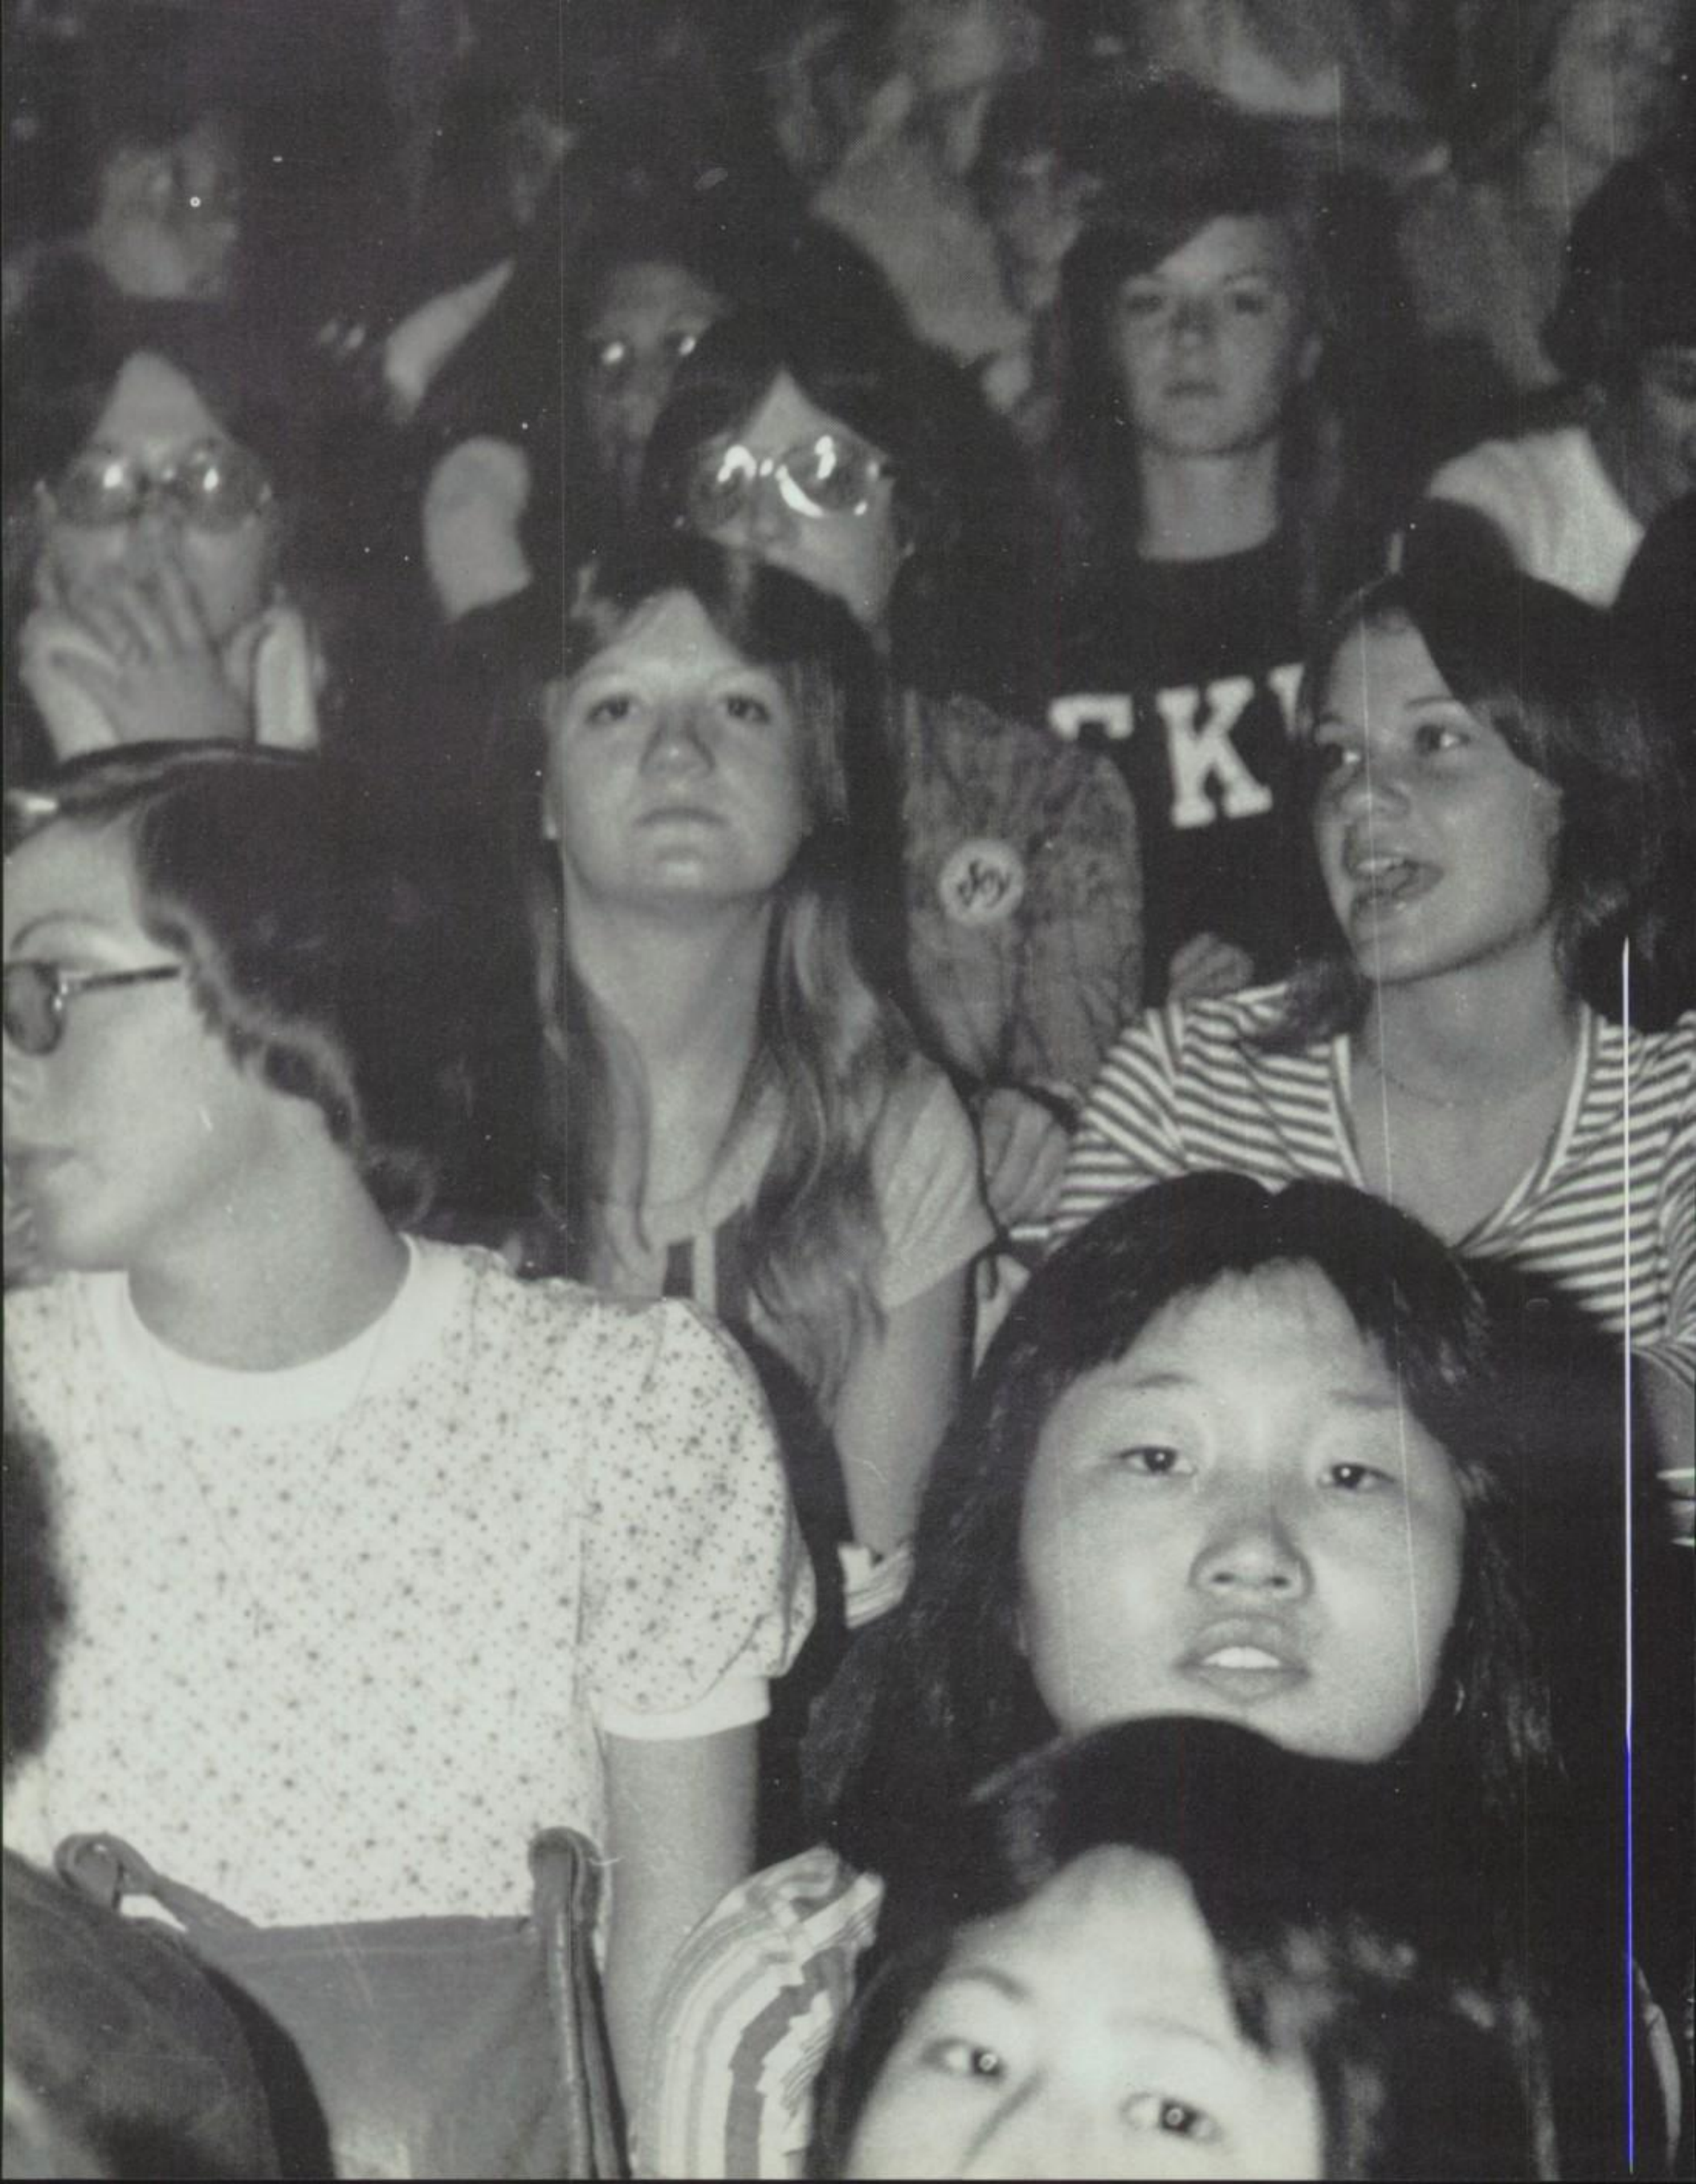
Jane Goodrich, the president of the class, addresses the seniors.

"I proclaim that each of you is officially a member of the senior class."

Allison Bowman is very happy to receive her senior ring.

"The Fellowship of the Ring."

After 12 years of anticipation, the long-awaited moment finally arrived. When Mr. Story signaled that it was time to put on the ring, the students indeed felt "the fellowship of the ring." At that time the students felt closer to their classmates than at any other time during their high school years.



Juniors

The members of the Junior class are some of the most spirited students at North Hardin. Many participate in clubs, sports, and other extra-curricular activities. They strive to make every year more memorable than the last. Float parties, ballgames, and just being out with friends are among their most cherished times. They all have a sense of pride in what they do, and each is proud to say that they are a member of the CLASS OF SEVENTY-NINE.

END

To be able to fill out the order forms correctly took much concentration.

Did You Order a "Topaz" Ring?

Mr. John Conn, our Jostens' representative.

Ron is EXCITED about ordering his ring.

On June 1, 1978, the Juniors were told that the next day they would order their senior rings. So, when June 2 came, the halls were filled with excitement as the Junior class members awaited the fateful moment. Girls first were called down to the cafeteria and about an hour later they came out all enthused about their rings. Next the guys ordered their rings. By noon, every Junior class member was beginning to feel the pride of becoming a senior next year.

When ordering rings, the girls become excited.

Autographs

Kathy Little ran for the office of Junior class secretary.

Linda led a vigorous campaign for Vice-President.

John Entsminger was a candidate for Junior vice-president.

Curt Miller's impromptu speech gained him many votes.

Wasn't It "Only Yesterday" That We Were Sophomores?

David Jones' speech gained the support of his classmates.

Alberta Labrillazo's past experience was a great asset.

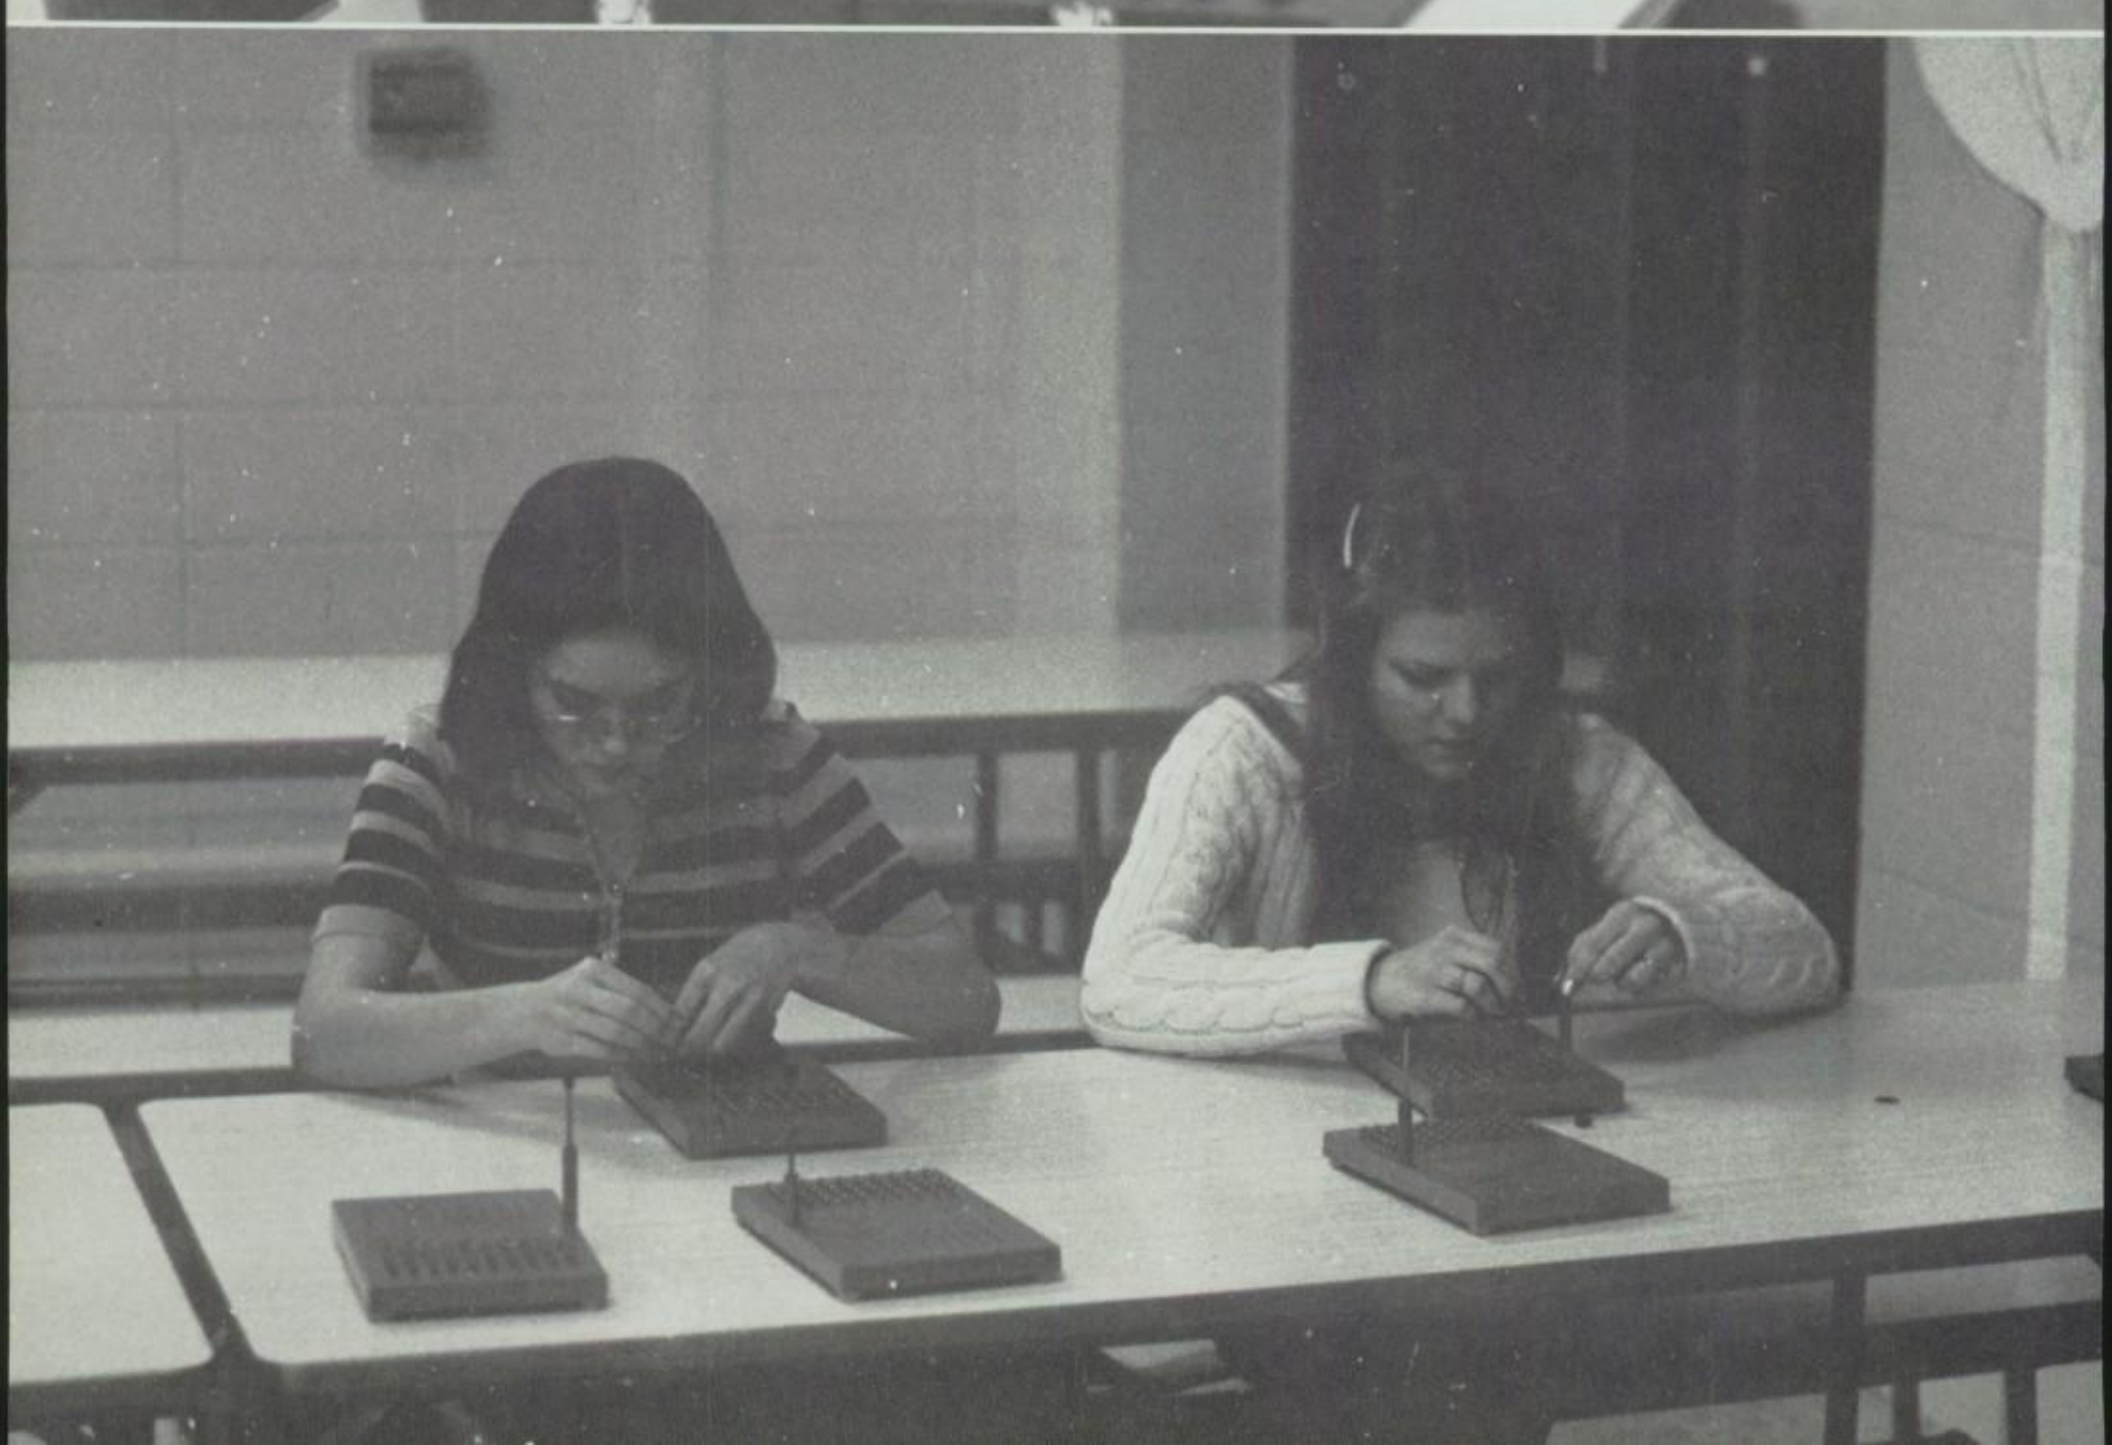
Russell Amos looks confident as he delivers his speech.

George Flores was a tough candidate for his competitors.

Brenda Reynolds quickly glances at her note cards.

Bernie McCamish promised to serve well if elected.

During second period on September 9, all the members of the class of '79 were asked to report to the gym. The Junior class elections were scheduled to be held, and the fourteen candidates anxiously awaited for the ceremony to begin. One by one, they were introduced by Junior class sponsor Mr. P. Williams. Each candidate gave a short speech in which they listed their qualifications; some even added a few campaign promises. After each spoke, ballots were passed out among the members of the class, who were asked to cast their votes for the one person in each category they felt would do the best job. The ballots were collected and tabulated, while everyone impatiently awaited the results. Within a half hour, the names of those who had won were announced. Congratulations, winners!



Sophomores

"Teens Ask Questions," and these North Hardin students are no exceptions. Because they are new to this school, their questions are limitless, but they are already making much progress. The Sophomores are gaining recognition for themselves in extra-curricular activities as well as in the classroom. Although the class of '80 is just begininng, they have had one of the most active classes this year, and they look forward to next year.

Program of Studies

Here at North Hardin we have an outstanding Program of Studies. Students have the opportunity to choose from a wide variety of courses and can enroll in everything from Agriculture to Youth and Law. We are also fortunate to have instructors who honestly care about the student's understanding and success in these classes.

In this department there are approximately 1161 students enrolled in English, 1241 in Social Studies, 694 in Science, 646 in Math, 414 in Home Economics, 132 in Art, 189 in Industrial Arts, 109 in Distributive Education, 61 in Horticulture, 51 in Agriculture, 828 in Business, 166 in Music, 125 in Driver's Education, 344 in Physical Education, and 138 in Foreign Language. With such a variety of courses offered, students should "Be Not Afraid" of taking what they need to graduate and be at the top of their class.

This library is great for studying, only some people keep bothering me—like you, for instance."

Charlie Clark seems to be avoiding the rule for being quiet in the library.

Hello. My name is "Speedy Gonzales". If you take my picture, I am going to run all over your face.

With five tough guys like this at our school, we should know where all of the trouble comes from.

Jackie Binhlam really enjoys her work as a library aide to Miss Carr, and anyway, she likes helping people.

"Don't bother asking me for help if you're not taking my picture; but if you are, get my best side.

It is always easier to study in a quiet atmosphere.

Debbie Patterson gives the cameraman the "Evil Eye".

Come on, Terri, don't be camera shy.

Miss Mary Faye Carr 7 years
B.A., MSLS., U.K.
Librarian

Mrs. Sandra Ellis 6 years
Greensburg High School
Secretary

Mrs. Patricia J. Coomer 7 years
B.A., M.A., Western Audio-Visual Librarian

Keep Your "Quiet Thoughts" to Yourself.

Everyone seems involved with their work.

"Believe me, this wasn't my idea!"

The library is an excellent research center which is available to the students and faculty here at North Hardin. It contains over 14,000 books, magazines, audio-visual equipment, and career education material. With such helpful librarians and senior library aides, it is easy to obtain the information you need. However, if your work is all done, the library is a good place to relax and put together your "Quiet Thoughts".

"How do you like my 'Pepsodent' smile?"

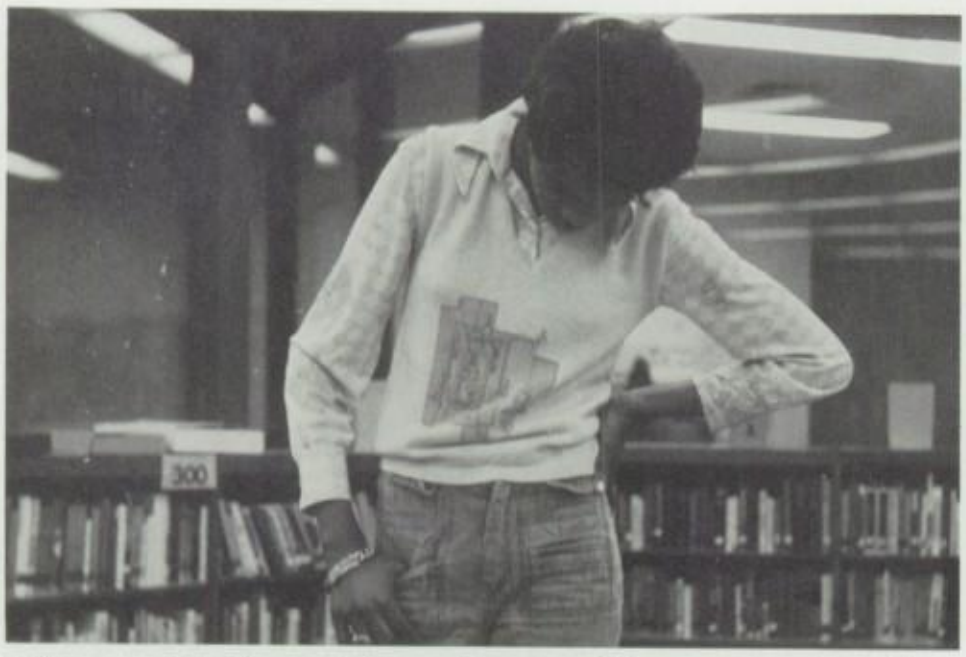
"Do you know who said hi to me today?"

Mrs. Thomas is always willing to help her students in any way she can.

"I've got the worst cold!"

Renee just laughs, but Ulla seems to think the photographers are cute. Don't you ? Get to work you guys!

Smile! You're on Candid Camera.



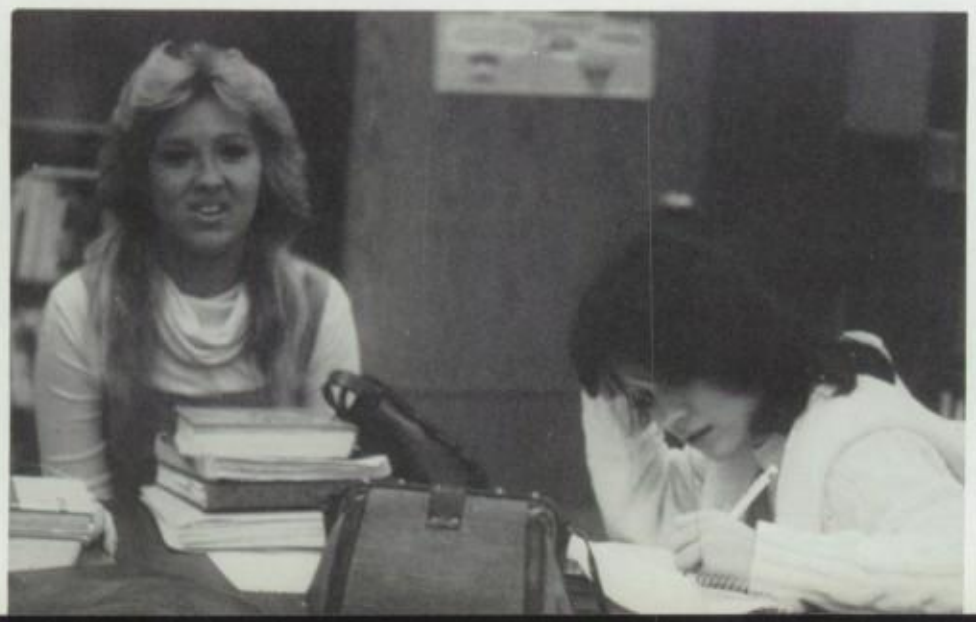
"Oh, man! I thought I saw it around here somewhere."

"I wonder why they make us look at these books."

"How can I sell books when there aren't any customers?"

"I've told you for the last time—stop that!"

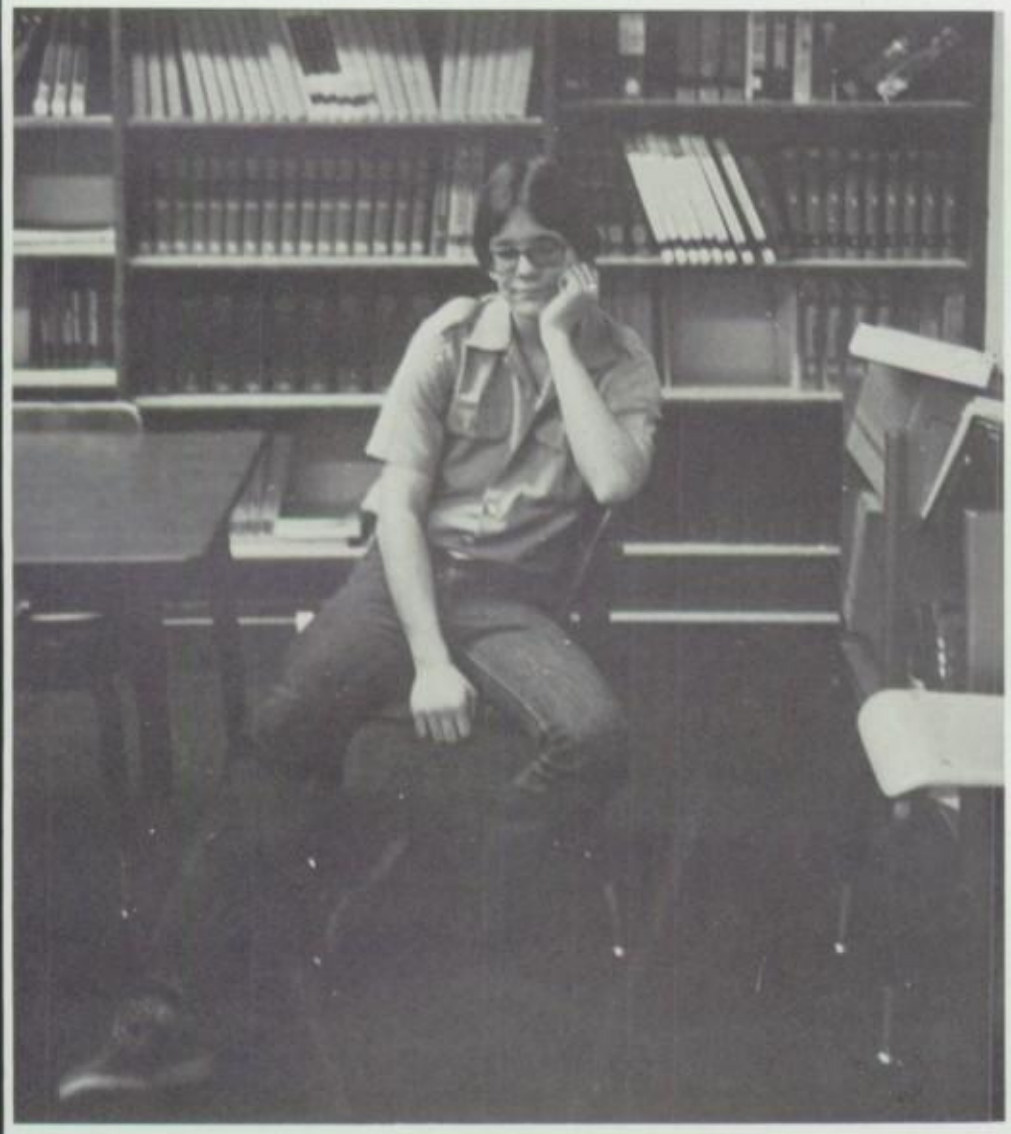
"Duh! What is this magazine talking about? I mean, really!"



"Working here isn't that hectic. It just looks that way."

"Oh! I forgot a whole sentence. Now what am I going to do?"

"The Great Escape"



What's the sad face for, Joey? Did you forget your camera?

Mrs. Coomer, one of the librarians, carefully checks the overdue book list.

Mrs. Ellis enjoys her job as a library secretary.

Wouldn't you know it takes a woman's assistance to show all these guys how to plant flowers!

Thought you'd finally caught me in the act, didn't you?

Here we have some students hard at work.

This class certainly isn't camera shy.

"What's so funny about watering flowers?"

"You've got you're nerve!"

Mr. Wayne Hayden 11 years
B.S., M.S., Western Kentucky University, UK
Agriculture

A Plant Starts with "Roots."

Mr. Lloyd A. Horne 1 year
B.S., University of Kentucky
Horticulture

Mr. Horne has a friendly chat with Mr. Downs.

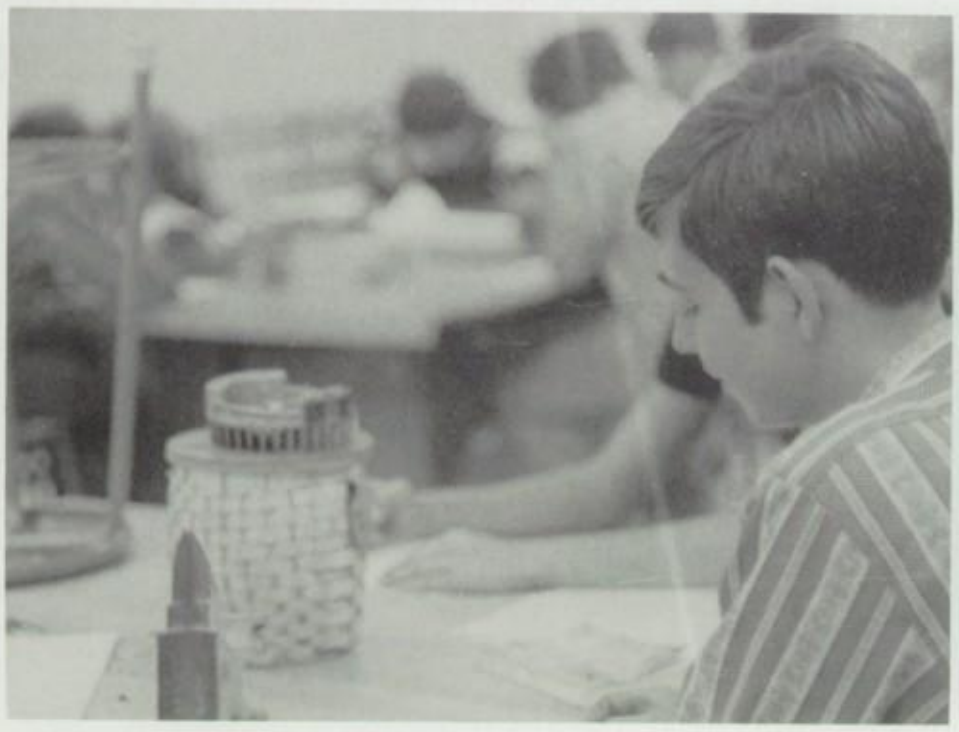
Agriculture is an important part of our society, and at North Hardin, this program is an integral part of the curriculum. By enrolling in these classes, students can learn about such topics as how to grow tobacco, how to judge livestock, and the principles involved in landscaping. By participating in FFA activities, a student becomes an expert in public speaking and parliamentary procedure.

These classes really do get into the "roots" of things.

Kelli seems to find Diane's handwriting amusing.

Mrs. Bateman keeps a sharp eye on her talented students.

"Phew! Why do we get the old stinky shoe to draw?"



I wonder what's caught Debbie's attention in the Art room.

Jeff Davenport gives the cameraman a great big grin.

Mrs. Kathy Bateman
B.S., Murray State University
Art I & II, Specialized Art I & II

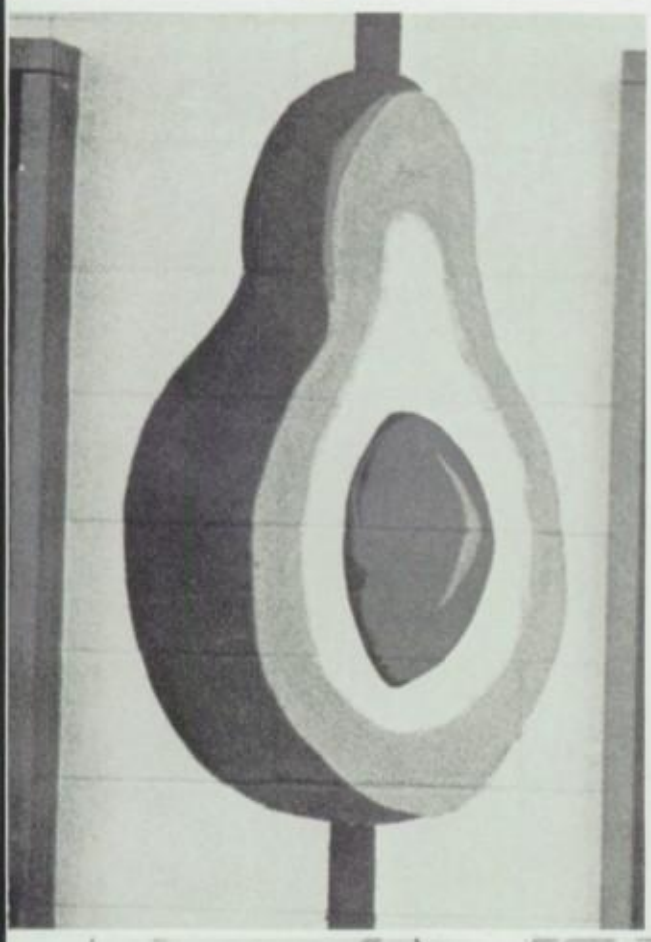
1 year

Artists Get Into the "Creative Spirit".

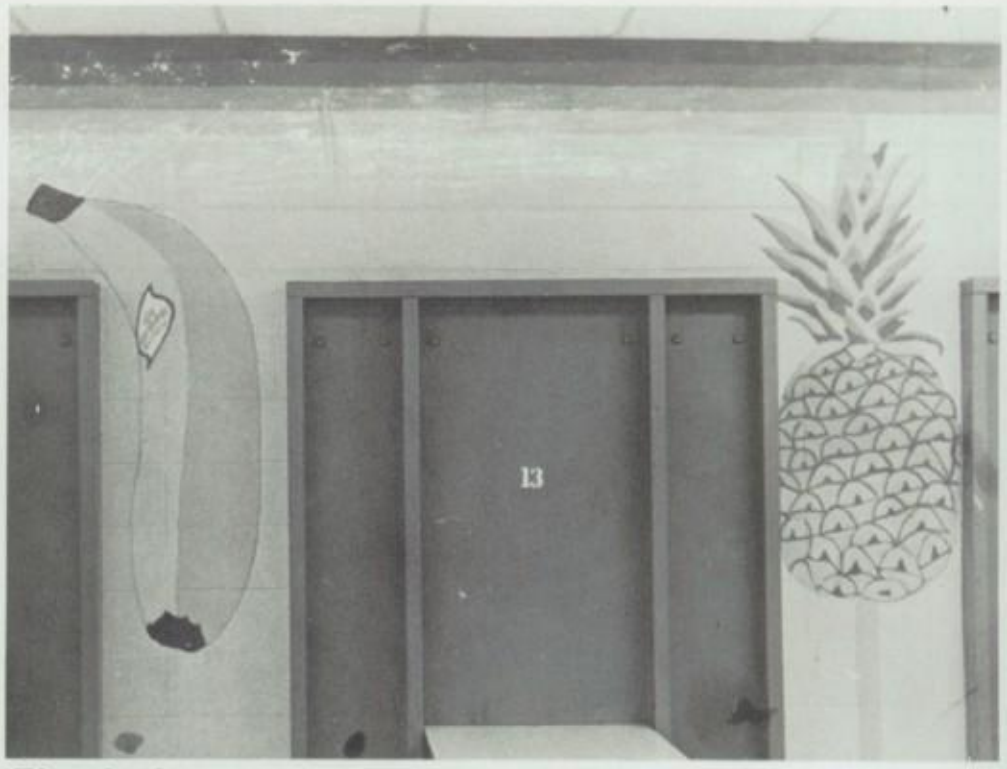
The art students can learn a great deal from the courses offered in the North Hardin art program. They get a chance to express their feelings on paper. They also learn how to make ceramics, jewelry, macrame, paintings, or sculpture.

Art I and II introduce the student to the basic principles involved. For the student who is interested in art as a career, Specialized Art I and II are available.

With such courses available, one can really get into the "Creative Spirit".



It seems as though Cindy just can't get away from her friends.

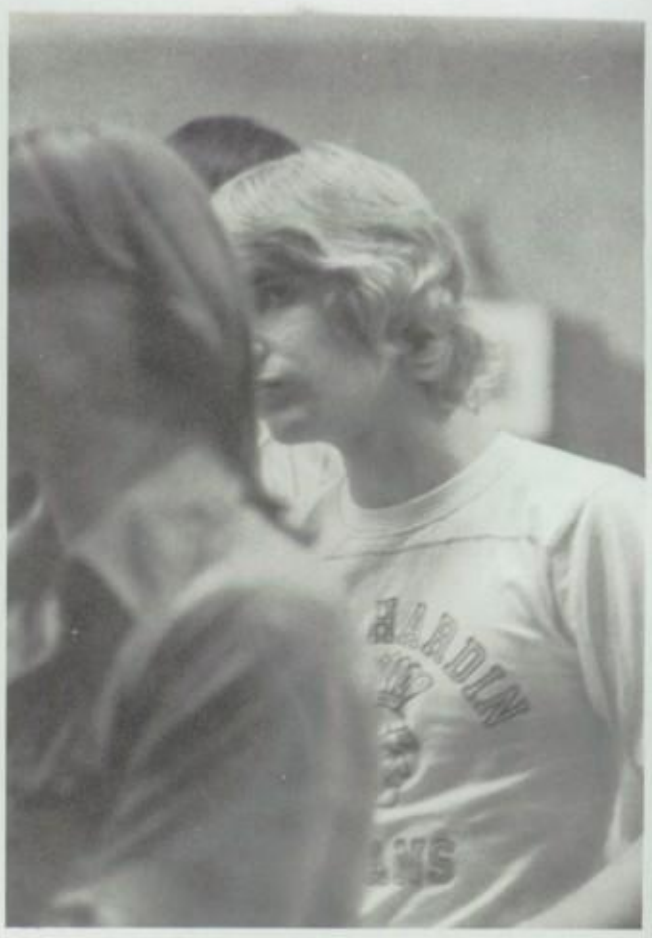


They look good enough to eat—well almost!

No one ever wants to paint anymore. However, the only thing left to paint is the floor.

"Just call me cyclops!"

"Who tied this in my hair?"



"We just had to take a break and smile for the photographer."

"Do you honestly think I'm going to believe that? I know he's not seeing another girl!"

These Students Have a "Gift of Gold."

Believe it or not, this isn't a zoo. It's just our art room.

"I hope you weren't going to insult my onion because if you were, this paint brush might look wonderful across your face!"

"I hope I don't slip; it sure is a l-o-n-g way down."

This student works diligently to get his work perfectly finished.

Cindy's unique talent is displayed as she patiently paints around her rabbit.

Miss Brenda Jo Wilson 6 years
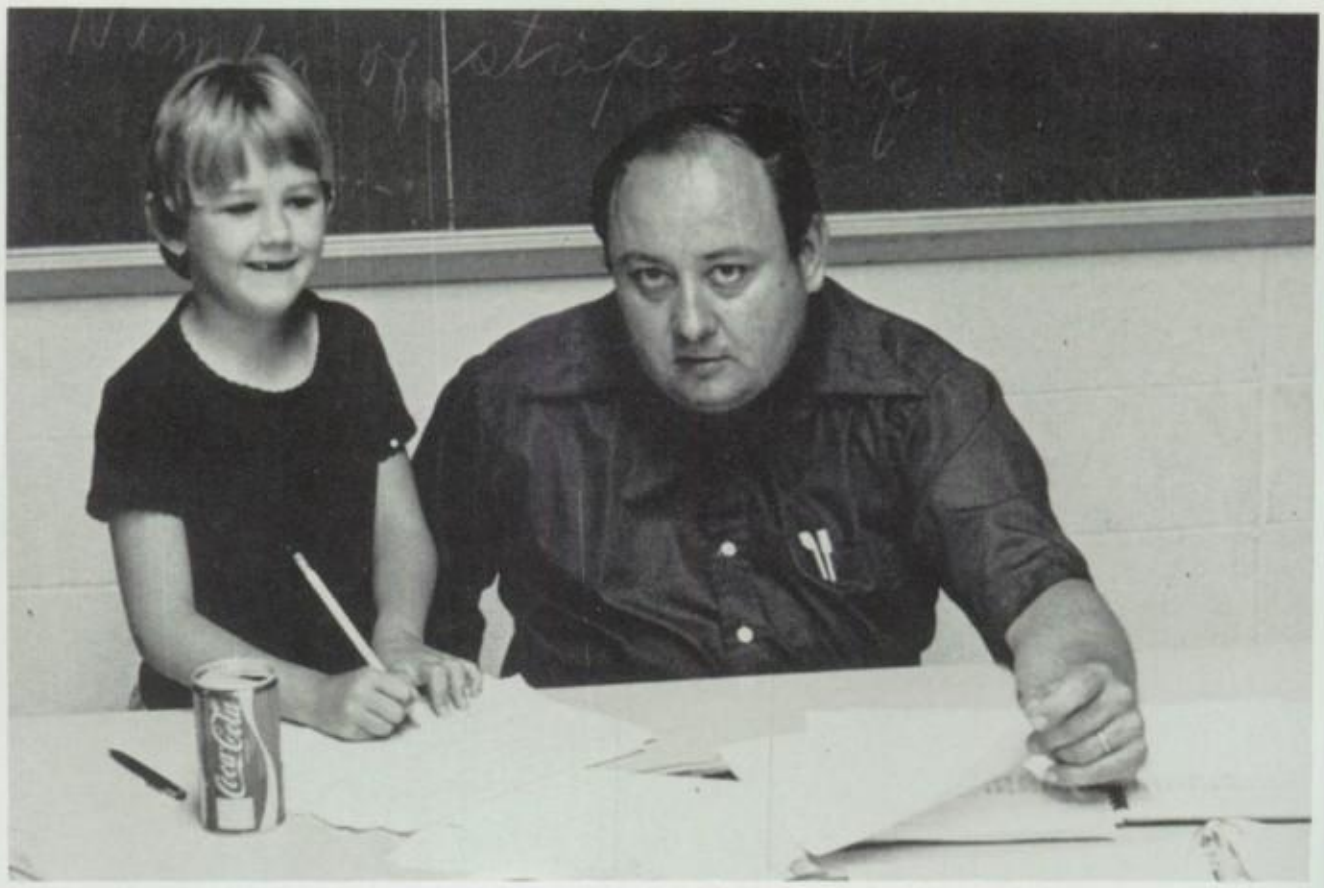
B.S., Campbellsville; University of Kentucky
Resource Room

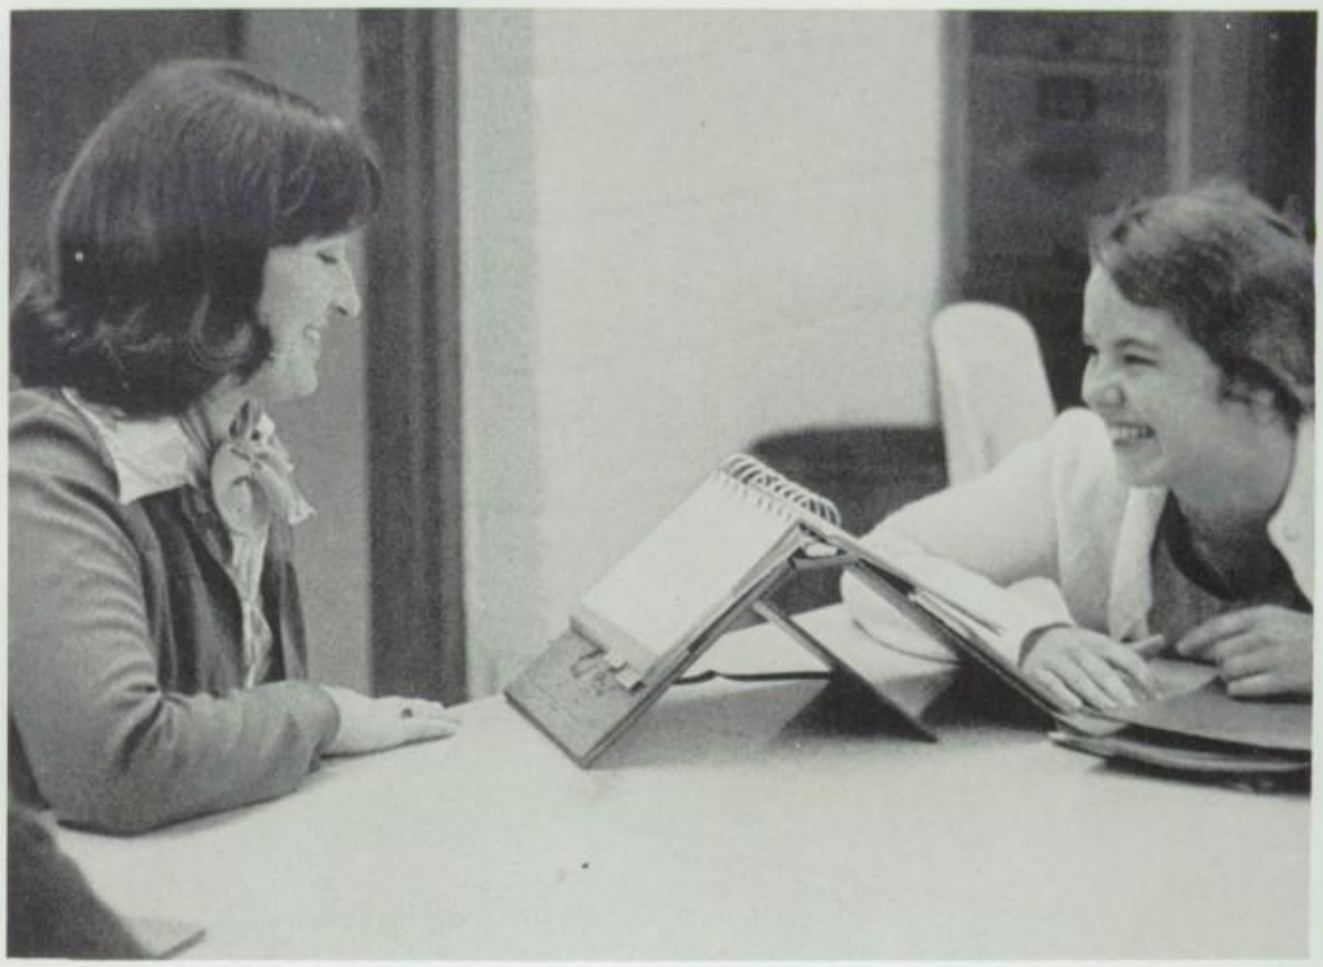


Mr. John Brecht
B.S., M.S., Rank I
Mississippi, Xavier of Ohio, and WKU
Career Education

Mrs. Reynolds finds nothing more rewarding than helping these special students.

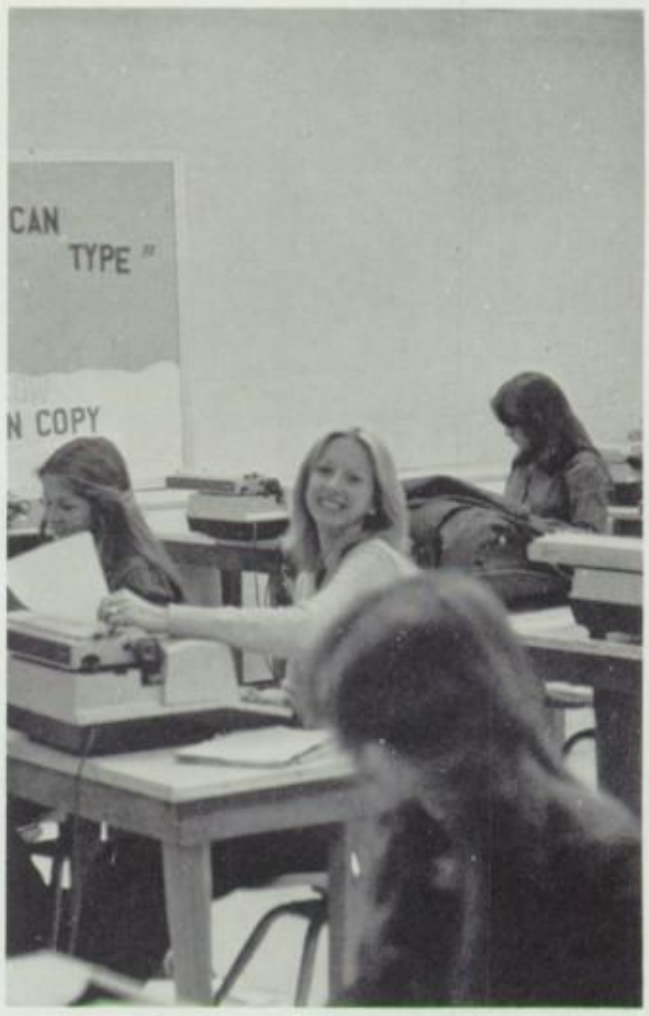
"Dare to Love"

The Career Education department here at North Hardin is a very special one. In this area the teachers give the extra help and attention that some students requie in order to learn. It truly takes a unique person to teach in this area, and we are fortunate to have such instructors who "dare to love" and who are willing to give this instruction.



In judging this picture wouldn't you say that George is in a complete daze?

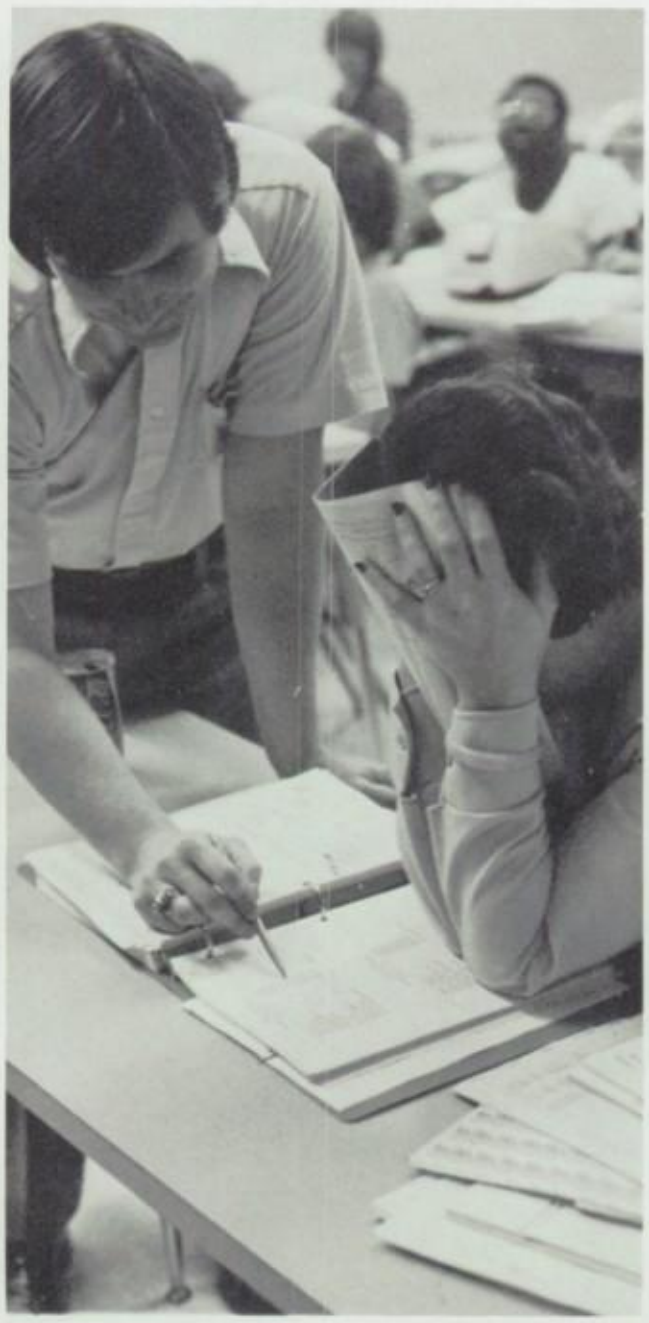
However, Diana is unperturbed by George's stares.



Judy's smile is a smile of a efficient and good typist.

Has Anybody Seen "Miss Bishop"?

Students who take Business Law work hard because they know Miss Bishop means business.

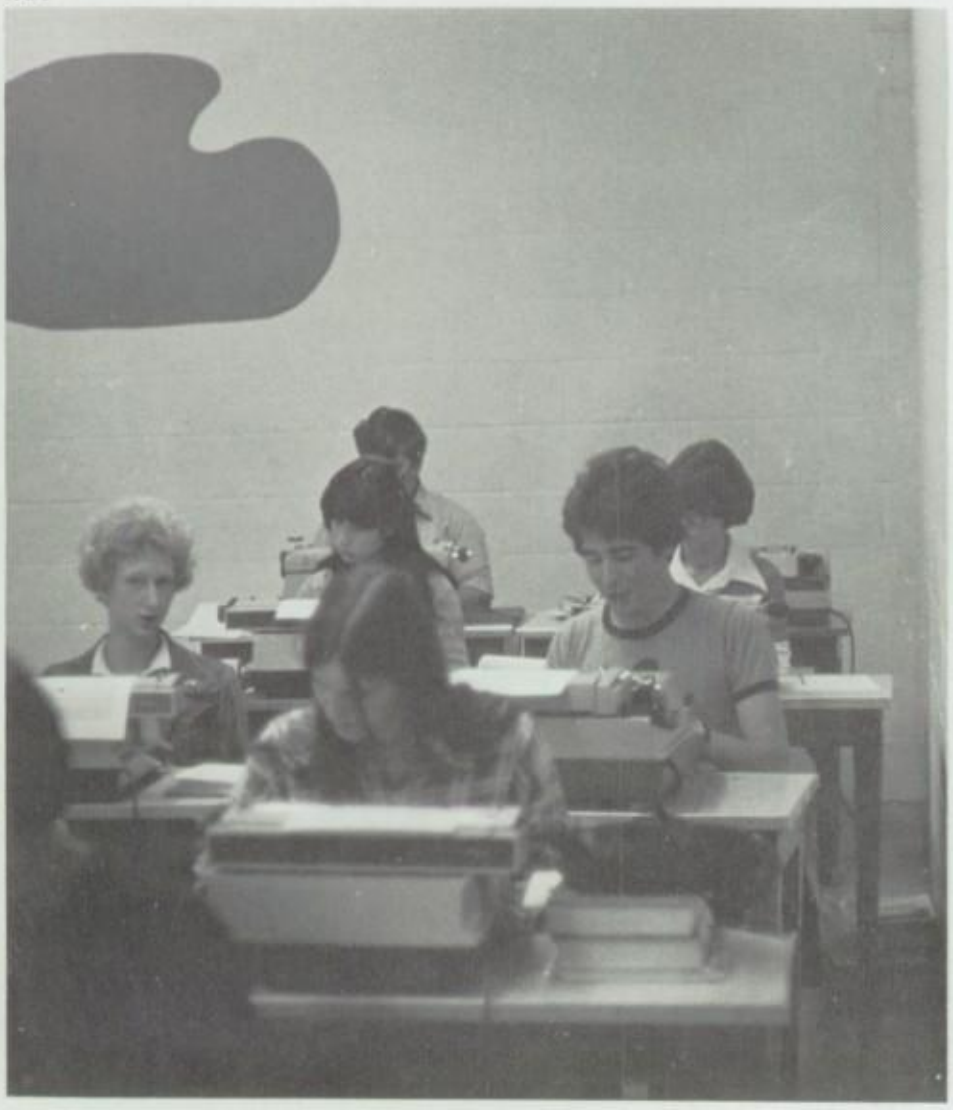


Mrs. Logsdon is sometimes shy and scared to get her picture taken with Mr. Duggins.

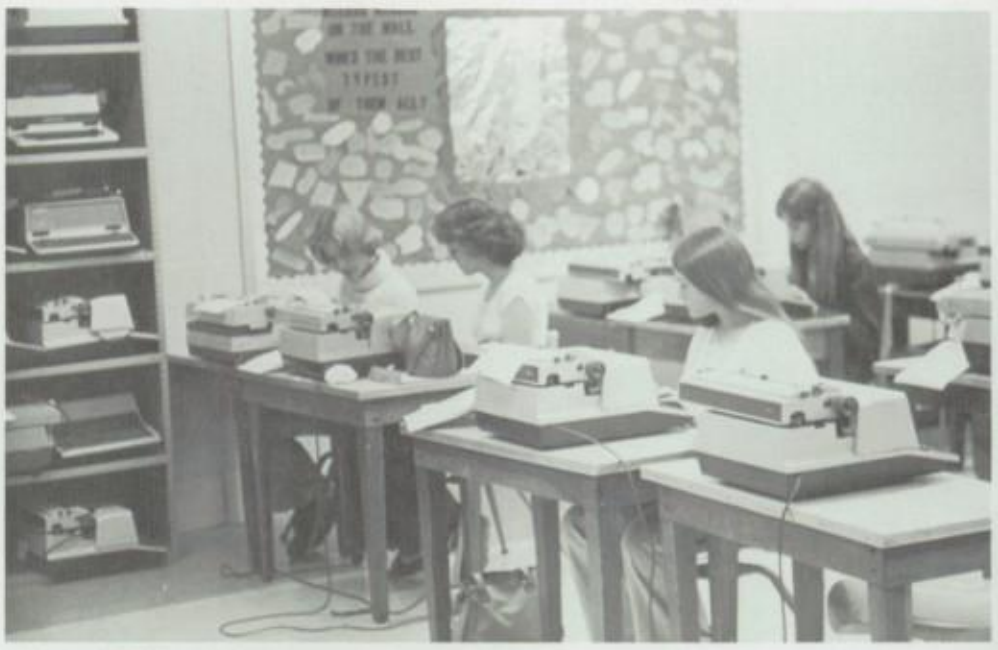
Karen Ray shows her happy and friendly smile when the cameras come around.

"All I keep doing is making mistakes. I can't help myself."

"When am I ever going to be finished? There is so much to do."



"I don't believe this machine. I keep pushing the keys but nothing happens!"



Alice Miller concentrates on the content of the material.

"I wish I knew where we were! It's difficult to type when you don't even know where you are. Oh, I can't see straight!"

"If I could get this one word started, everything should go OK."

The girls take time out of their busy schedules to have fun.

Miss Judith Ann Bishop — 8 years

The business education department in North Hardin is one of fine quality and great importance. It offers courses which aid the students in preparation for life in a business-oriented world. The teachers in this department strive to provide the necessary training so that the students will achieve the skills which will qualify them as competent workers in the business field. The individuals who enroll in the business classes at North Hardin have "A Rage To Live" and a strong desire to compete and come out on top!

"The Rage To Live"

Mrs. Kay Priddy — 4½ years
B.S., M.A., Western
Typing I & II, Bus. English & Management

Mrs. Barbara Jane Underwood — 15 years
B.S., Freed-Hardeman, David Lipscomb
Typing, Notehand, Gymnastics

Mrs. Irma Whorley — 2 years
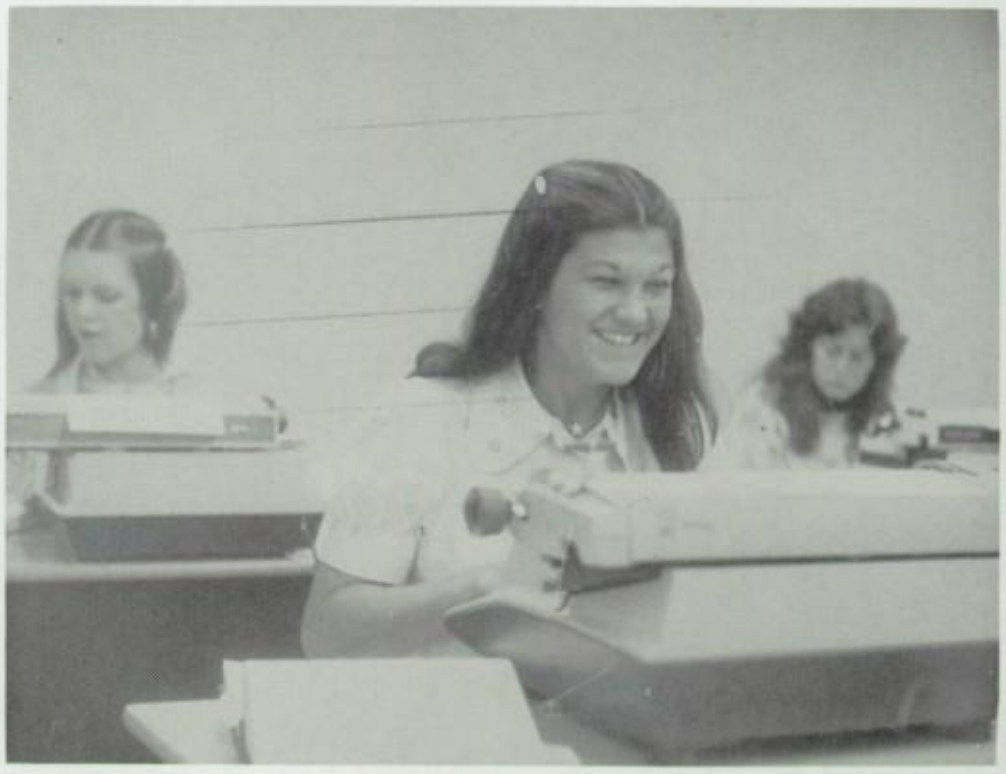
B.S., Morgan State University
Typing I & II, General Business

Suzanne doesn't give our photographer the time of day.

"Everyone else around here seems to be taking it easy. I guess I might as well take a break like the rest of them."

"I really don't know why everybody thinks that this is easy."



Jane Winebarger, you should be ashamed of yourself for causing a disturbance.

"Let me see. How do you work this machine? I think that this is the right button to press, but I really can't be sure. I'll try it and if it gets broken, don't anybody look at me."

Even the hardest worker needs a break every now and then.

"Don't even try to figure out what we're doing here."

"I shouldn't be looking at the keys, but just this once . . ."

"If you had any idea how rough my day has been, you certainly wouldn't be standing this close!"

Everybody Needs a "Business Education."

"I sure hope I don't get caught looking at the keys."

"Don't you believe I'm a hard worker?"

This class is deeply involved in their accounting homework.

Debbie admires Julie's technique.

"I really don't believe this class!"

"Would you believe it if I told you I messed up the first time?"

THIS doesn't happen too often!

"Oh . . . oh . . .! You caught me in the act!"

"I wish I could type that fast!"

Kim Scott hurries to get her homework done.

"Don't ask me who those three stooges are looking at!"

"He's always staring at that new girl!"

"Can't you get your locker open, sonny?"

"I know I put it around here somewhere!"

Students "Meet the Future" Well Prepared.

Miss Rebecca Meredith
B.S., Western Kentucky University
Distributive Education

The Distributive Education department here at North Hardin is one of quality and high standards. Through this course, students learn about advertising, cashier checking, display, marketing, and public speaking. As an option, students may choose to work as part of the program. This course is one that will help students "meet the future" with a smile because it will give them an advanced look into the world of business.

Barry makes a good mannequin don't you think?

"Becky! Uh, Becky can you repeat that just one more time?"

"Who me? Naw I'm just practicing for my television commercial; don't you think it's a winner?"

"Hey Cindy!! You got my book again, and you wrote in it!"

"Jean, tell that guy to go away or I'll break his face!"

"Contrary to what you may believe, this is not such a hard class."

Some of These Students Will Work on "Main Street."

Lisa poses for the cameraman.

Glen Allen enjoys reading his book.

Mrs. Audrey Hoogerheide 5 years
B.S., M.S., WKU, Lewis and Clark
Distributive Education I, II, and III

Penny Logsdon is a very hard worker.

Russ lets Mike in on the latest news.

Lisa Davis enjoys her job at the Central Office, which is located in Elizabethtown.

Karen Storemski works hard at her place of employment, Bluebird Food Mart.

Diane Cummings is asked to retrieve some information that is stored in the horizontal files at UARCO.

Steve Tucker is employed at Burger Queen as the assistant manager.

Debbie Beavers carries out one of the many duties she has at the Radcliff Chamber of Commerce, and she is meeting this challenge with a smile.

Brenda Filyaw enjoys her work at A. Arnold and Son.

Kathy Park is proud of her job at Fort Knox National Bank. It gives her much experience in the business world, and she also earns a little spending money.

These Students Survived "The Trial."

Mark Abrahamson works hard in his job at the Mighty Distributing Company.

Students who are enrolled in the Cooperative Office Program experience "the trial" of going on their first job interviews. Because of their classroom instruction which is provided by Mrs. Logsdon, these students are well prepared to work their way into entry-level positions. All of the students survived their trials, and at the same time, acquired confidence, job experience, and money.

Brenda is busy typing and completing her duties.

Cindy is a diligent worker.

Karen finds something amusing.

Keep a stiff upper lip, Kathy.

Being a manager has its advantages, doesn't it Steve?

Now come on, Karen; don't give us the evil eye.

Bosses can also be helpful.

"Where is my fingernail file?"

"I don't have time to talk."

Miss Bishop is working Anita Bell to death!

These students are really trying hard to get all their typing done.

"Mama's Bank Account" Could Use Some Help.

What are you looking for Miss Bishop.

What do you want us to do next?

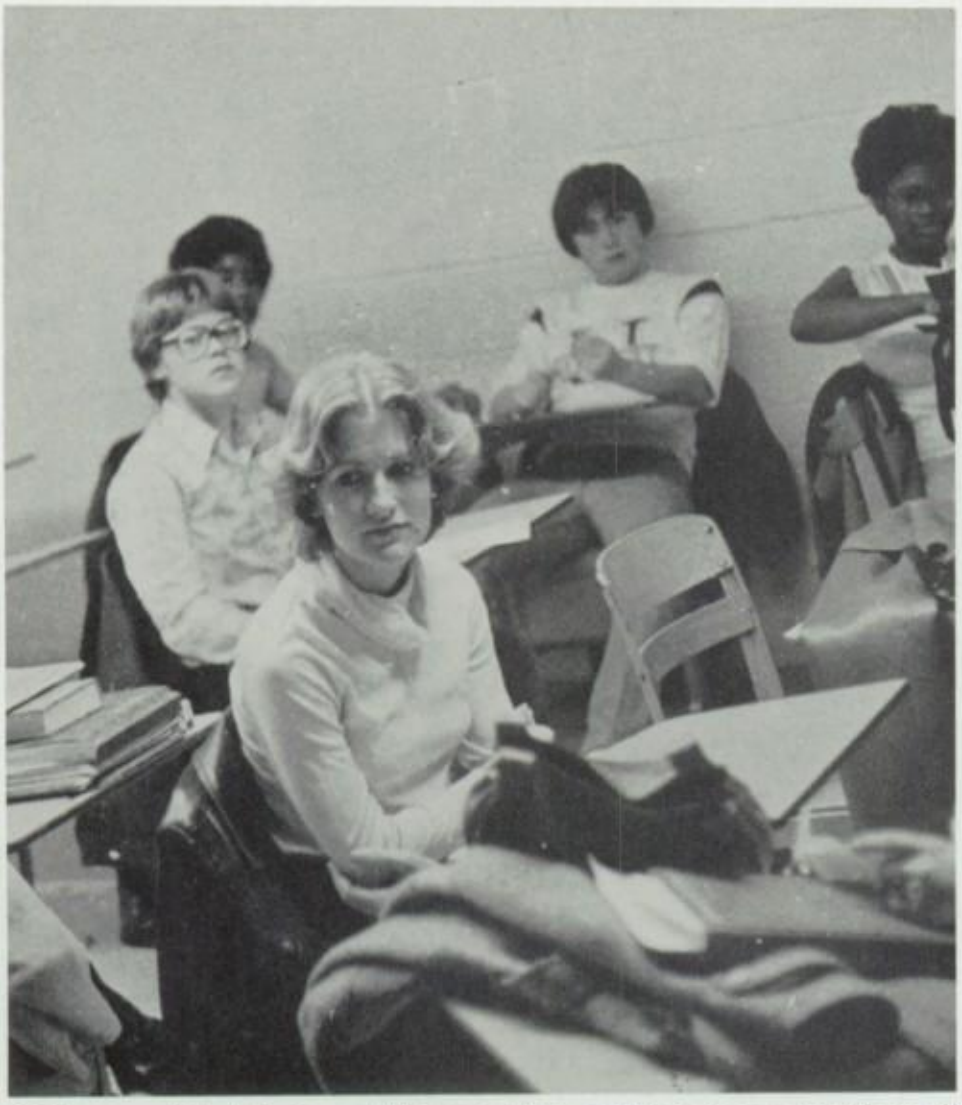
Learn Not to "Crash"

The Driver Education students learn a great deal about safety and handling of a car. They are taught such things as how to stop, go, make a turnabout, and parallel parking. They also learn the rules of the road and the basic maneuverability of the car. After taking this class, one can get at least 10% taken off their insurance. Many students agree that this course had helped them considerably in receiving their driver's license.



"Oh, wow! I wish I would know that guy's name over there."

Doug Nelson listens attentively while Mrs. Gelinas lectures.

"Get in and close the door, or you'll let all the heat out."

"Oh, these kids are driving me crazy. Can't they learn anything? A noun. They can't even figure out what a common noun is!"

We Keep "In Touch."

The English language is said to be the most complex of all languages. Analyzing a single word in a simple sentence can yield enough answers to boggle one's mind. Grammar and literature are not the only aspects of English that are taught here at North Hardin. Speech, humanities, and Study of the Bible are other classes offered. These courses help us to keep "in touch" with others through written and spoken communication.

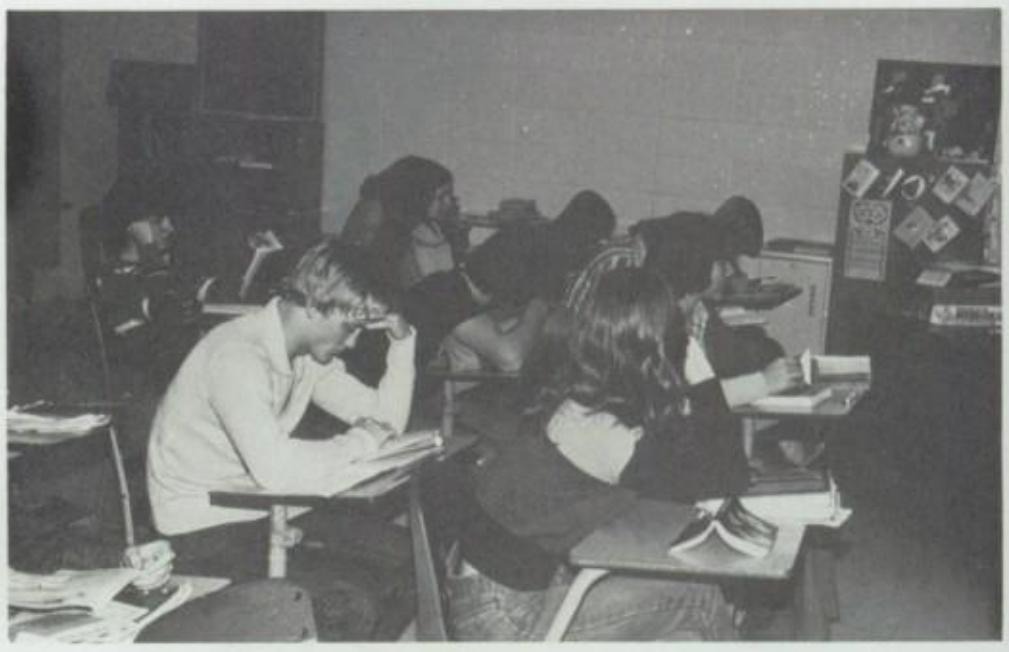
The teacher of this class certainly must have worked hard to prepare an assignment that kept the students so interested.

It certainly is surprising to see a group of girls where no one is talking.

Don't worry; your answers are right.

Obie certainly isn't camera shy.

Bobby and Nikki don't seem too pleased about having their picture taken, but no one else seems to care.



Whether David Jones is studying or participating in sports, he always excels and looks great at the same time!

What do you suppose Steve is looking at?

"Oh, I should have known that a photographer would take my picture on a day when I didn't curl my hair!"

It certainly looks as though Mrs. Bogue has had a rough day.

No one seems to be discussing the same thing in this class.

". . . and here we have a group of typical and confused students."

Broaden Your Vocabulary in "Word Power" Class

It must be sixth period; look at those L-O-N-G faces!

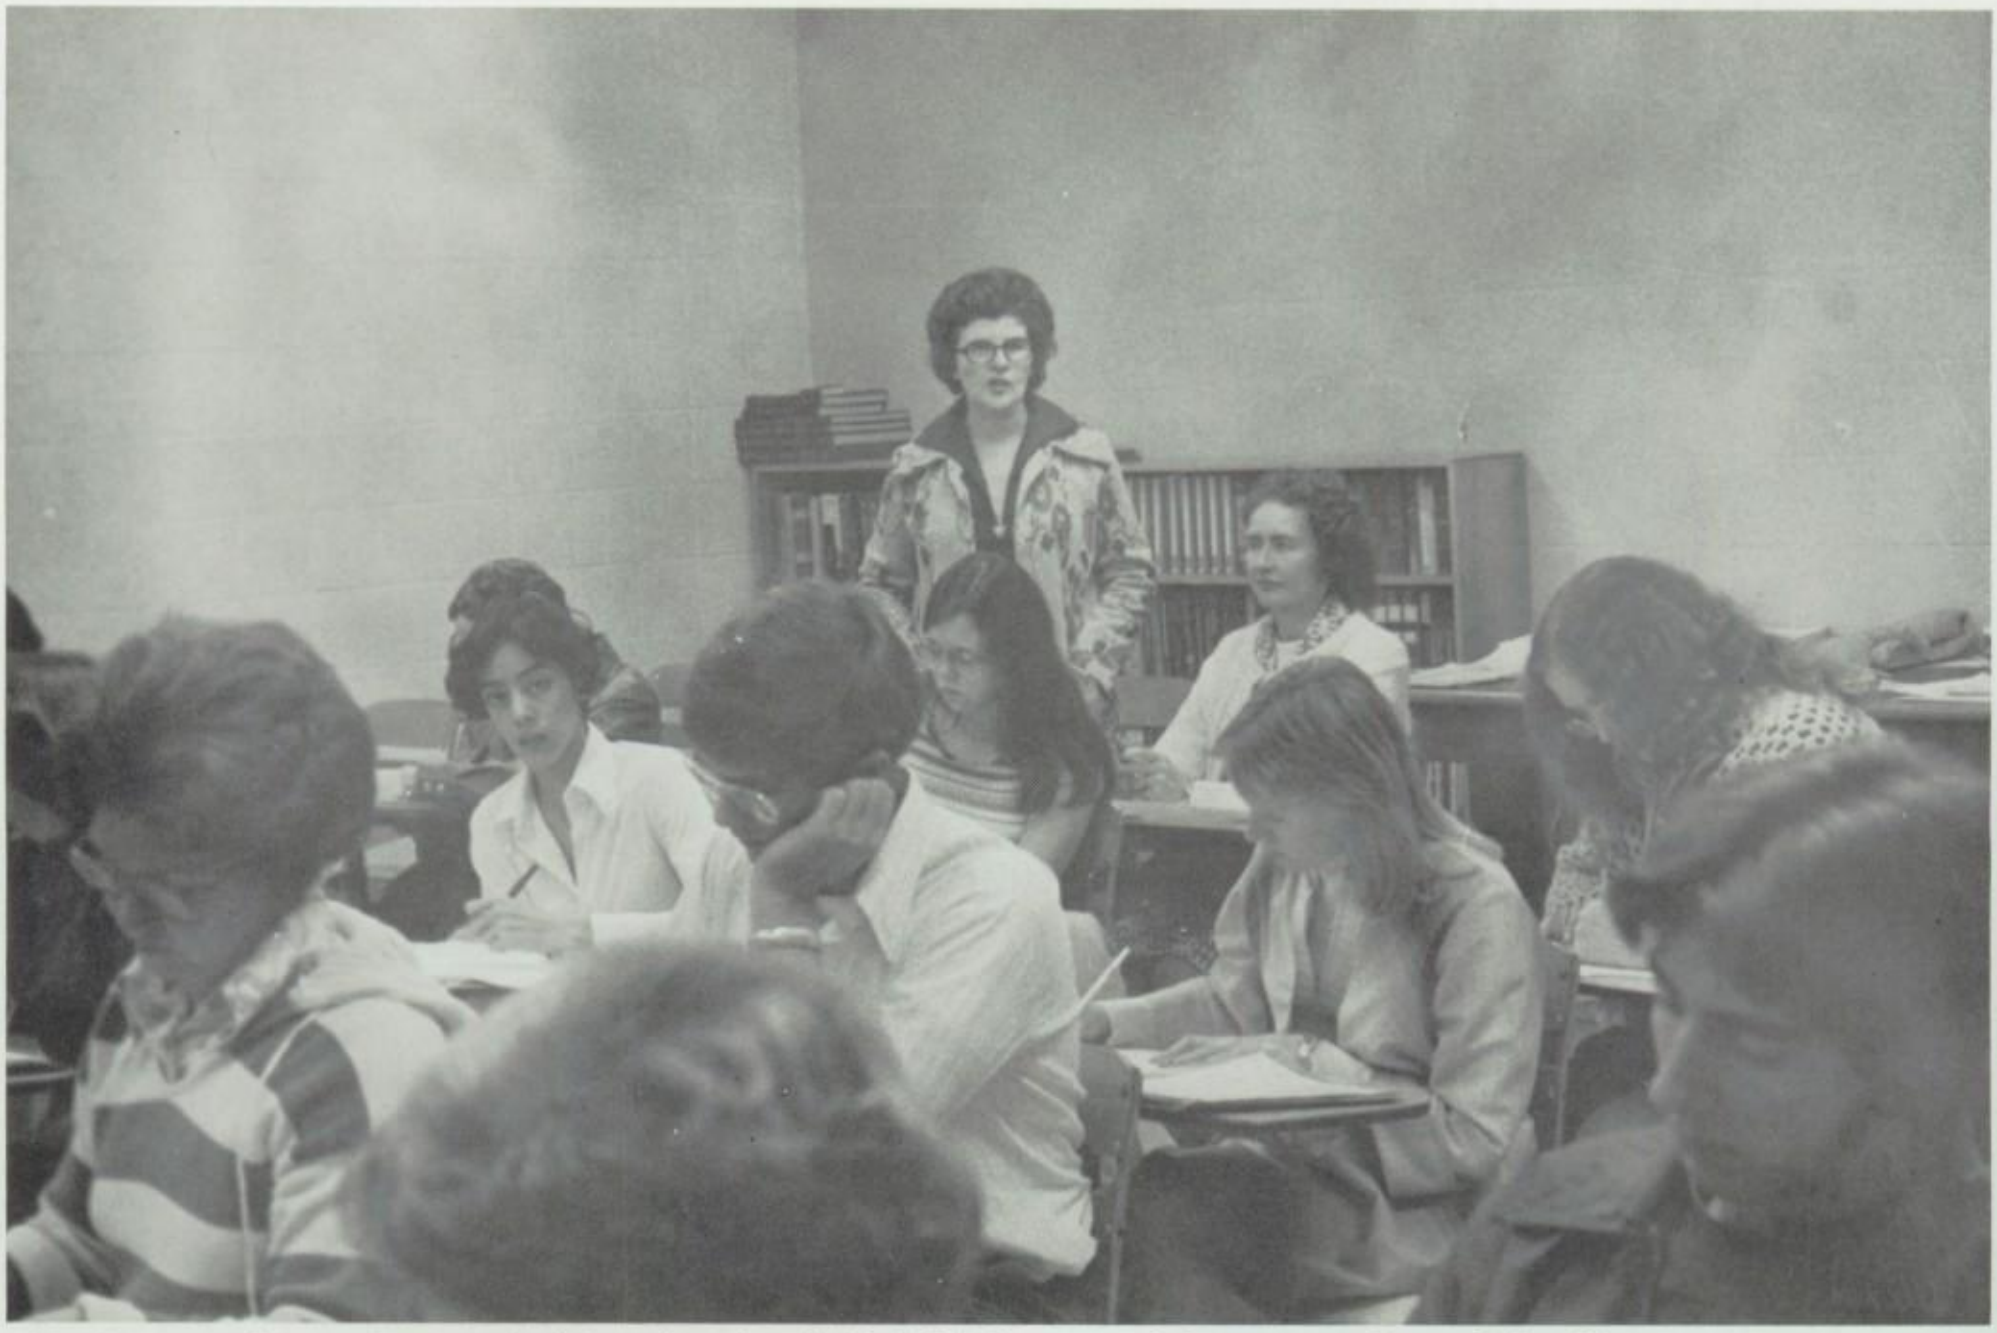
You just interrupted a really good dream!"

Lyle must have had a rough day.



"Don't even ask me why everybody's quiet—but I think it's because of the parents. Boy, oh boy!"

"I wonder if I should skip or not!"

"Oh, Kevin. Don't leave. I didn't mean it!"

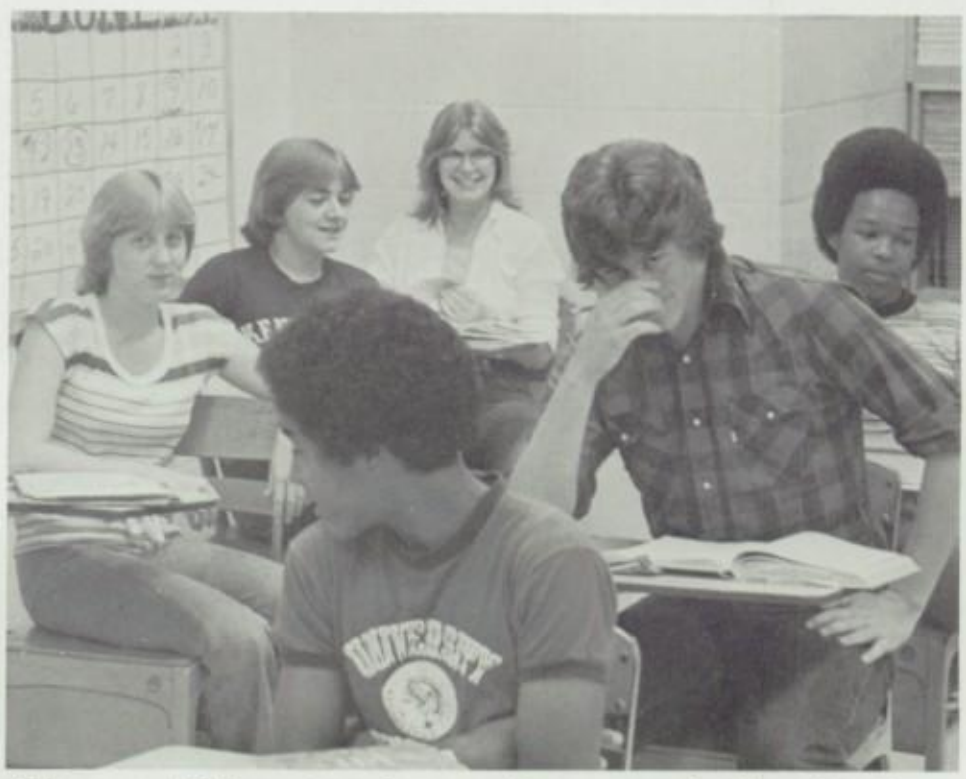
"If you do that again, I'll get your tail!"

"Do you honestly expect me to believe that excuse?"

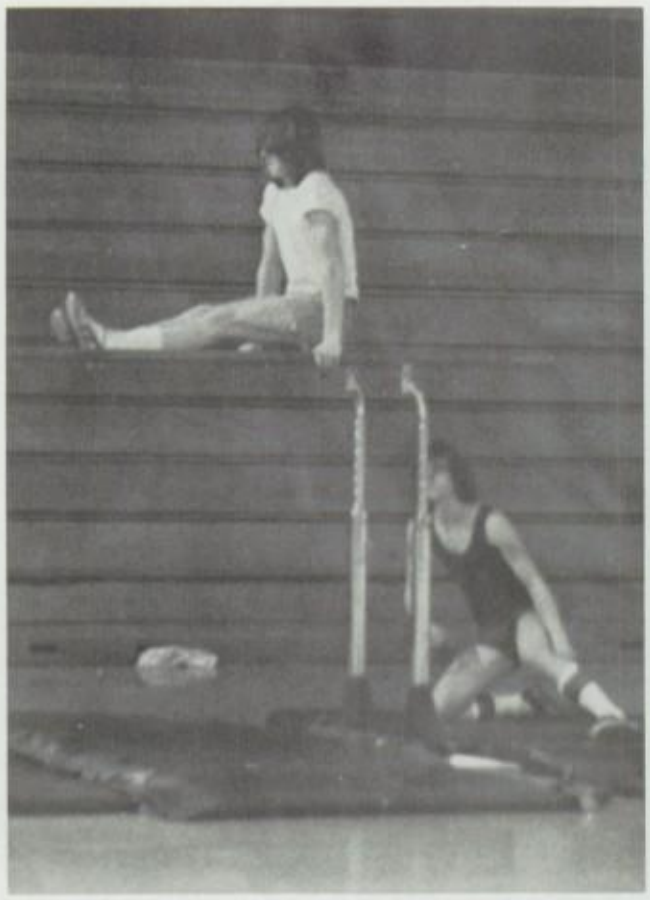
Duane seems to be fascinated by the lesson. Or do you suppose it could be a cute girl who just came in the classroom?

"Learning for the Sake of Knowledge" Is What Life Is About.

"If I have to explain this one more time I am going to scream!"



"You would have to take my picture on the day that I didn't blow-dry my hair!"



"Now, watch me fall on the floor!"

"If I don't get this shot, they're going to laugh at me."

"Come on, up and over. You can do it! If you can't do it, I'll show you how!"

Jeff Shoebrooks helps a friend in need.

The class waits patiently as David complains to the cameraman.

Hey! These guys are pretty good!

"Oh, I'd better not let her fall!"

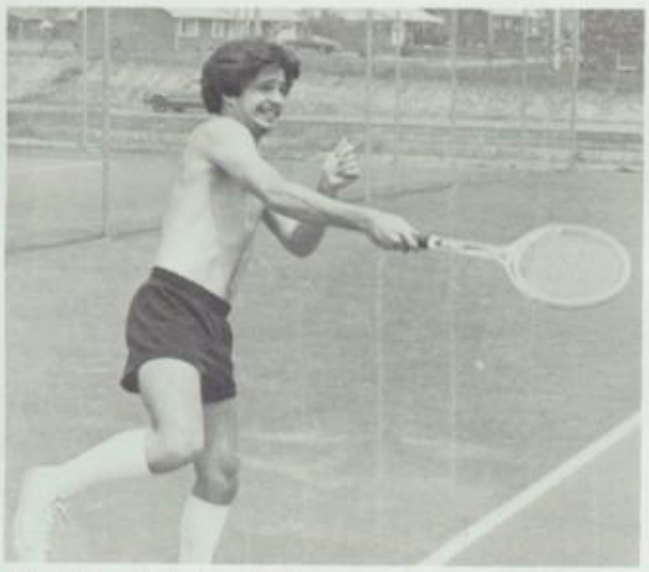
Advanced P.E., Health

Here at North Hardin we have a Physical Education department which is capable of producing "The World's Greatest Athlete." This program of study allows students to excel in their favorite sports and obtain credits at the same time. A student's curriculum is no longer strictly limited to books. They have the opportunity of exploring new horizons of education and fun at the same time.

"The World's Greatest Athlete"

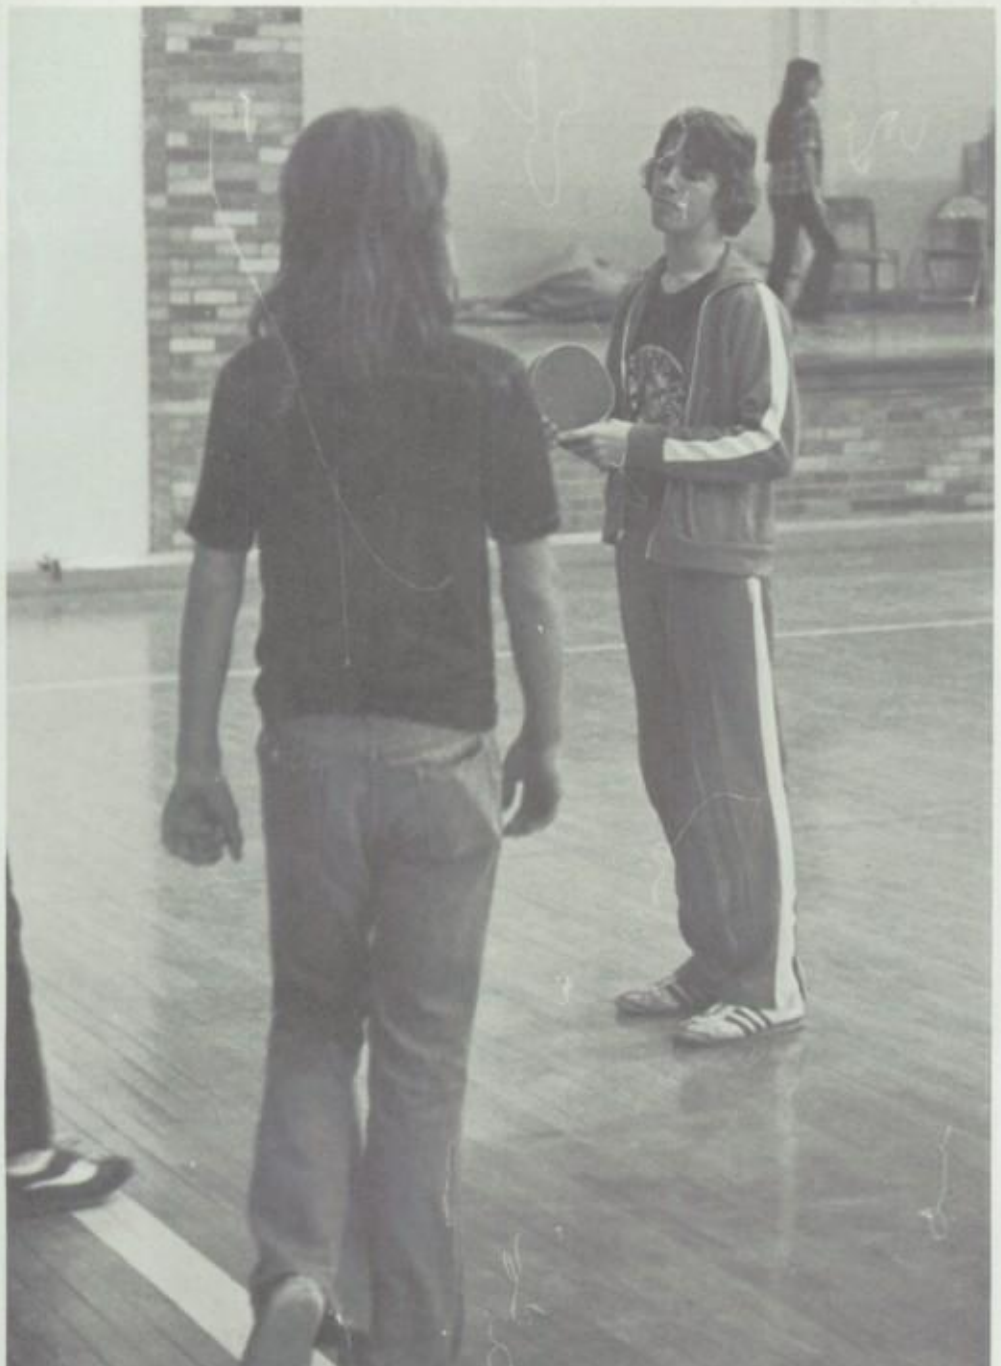


Senior Chris Johnson uses his entire body as a weapon against his opponent in this game of tennis.

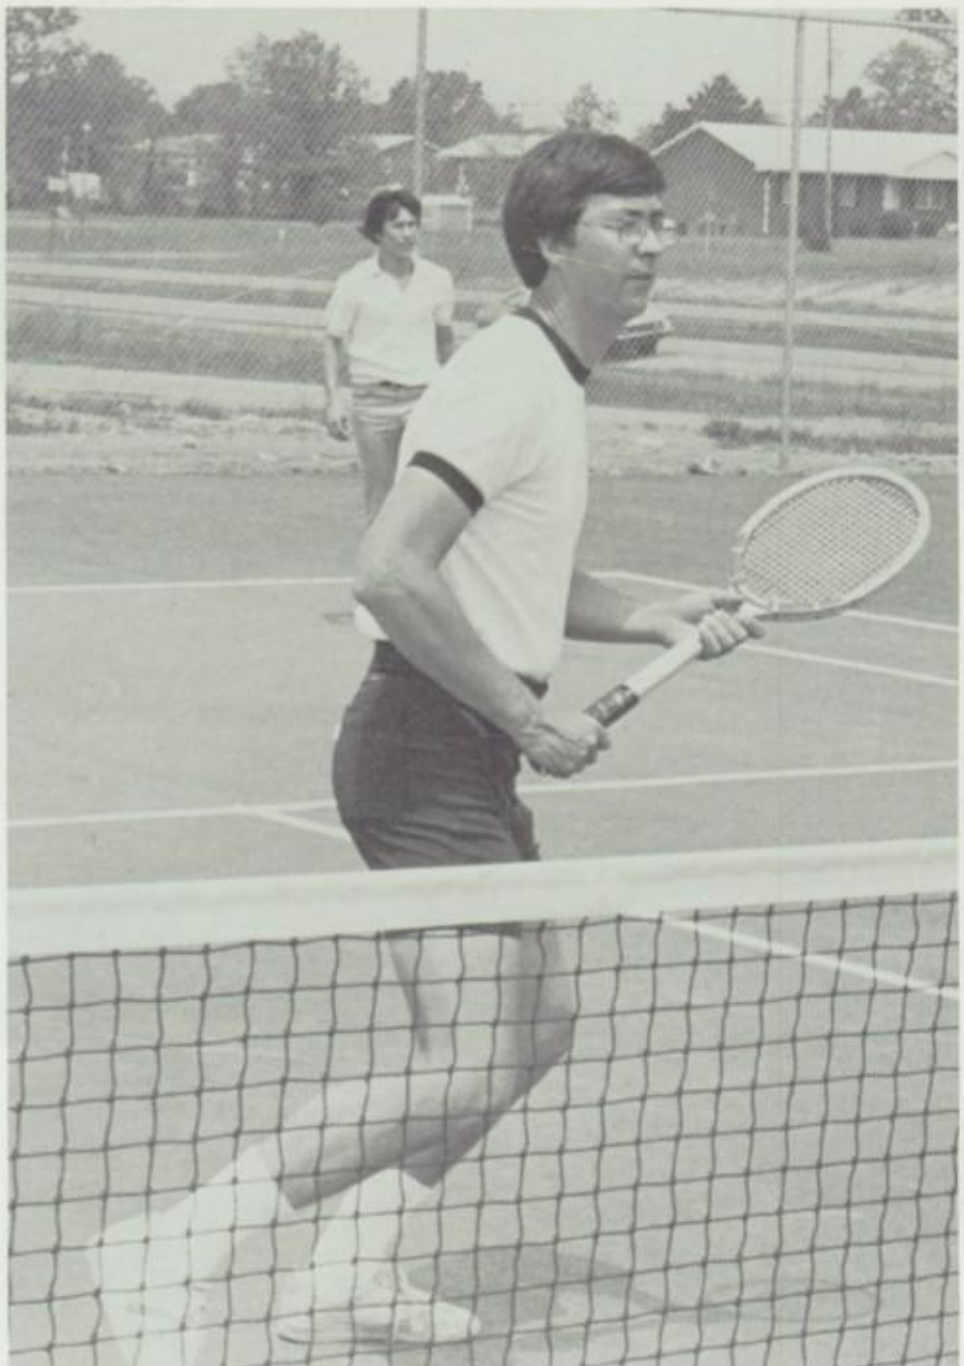
"You know I'm the best. Why argue?"

"If I don't get this shot, they may kick me off the team. I haven't been doing well all week! Please let me get it!"

Vickie Hannah is very proud of herself because she made the score 30-LOVE. Way to go, Vickie! Do it again and make it 40.

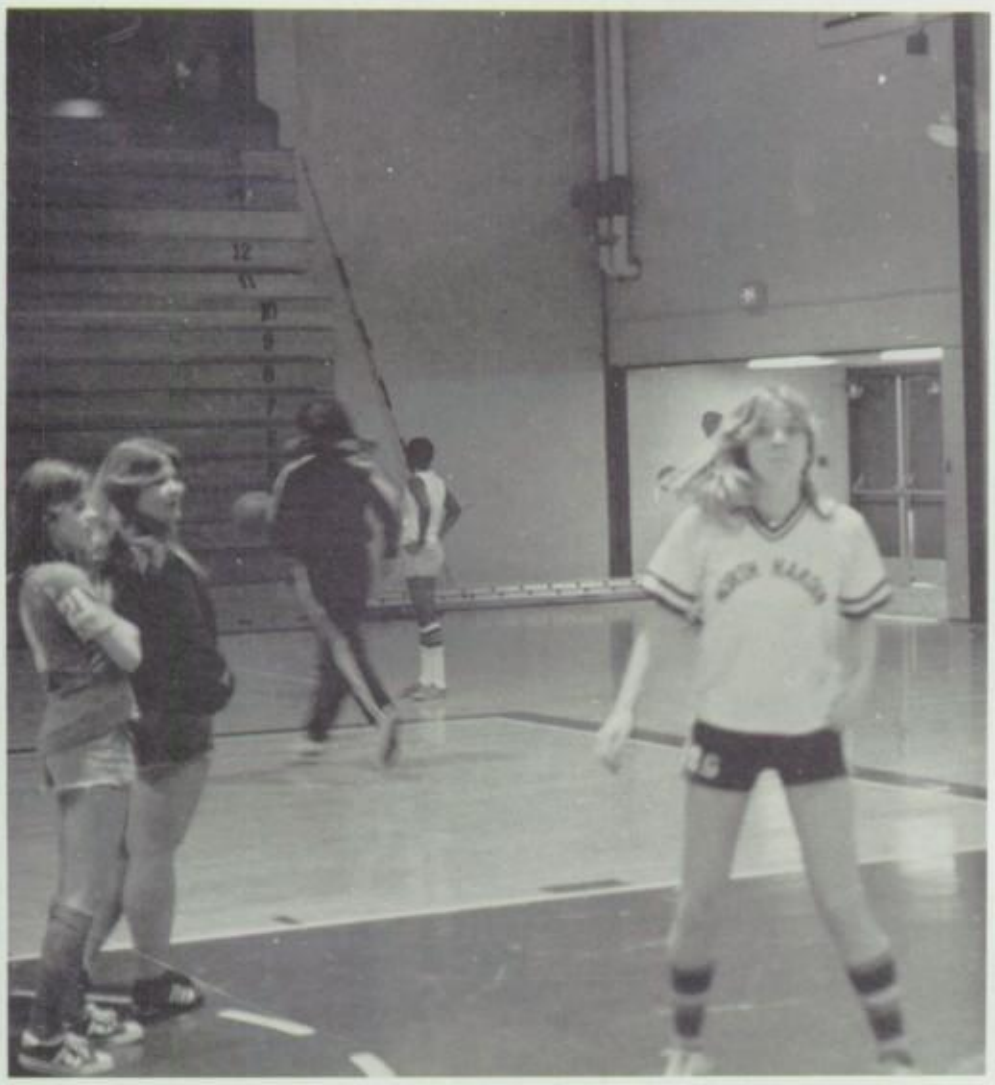


"It was fair, or do you want to make something of it?"



"If I don't get this shot, I'm going to look mighty dumb!"

"They Also Run" in P.E.



"How dare you take my picture without my permission!"

"Don't worry about it, Jean. It'll grow back!"

Roll up your sleeves, Duane!

I wonder why Johannesburg is making faces at Craig? Are they friends?

Cindy pays close attention to the teacher.

"Mmmm! And to think I actually made this all by myself! Well, she helped a little!"

Mrs. Ashley is a very helpful aide.

"Thresholds" of Life

The Home Economics department here at North Hardin is one of fine quality. Through this program, students have the opportunity to improve home and family life through the "thresholds of adult living". They also become involved in food and nutrition, clothing, textiles, child development, and home management. With this knowledge, one can lead a safe and fulfilling life.

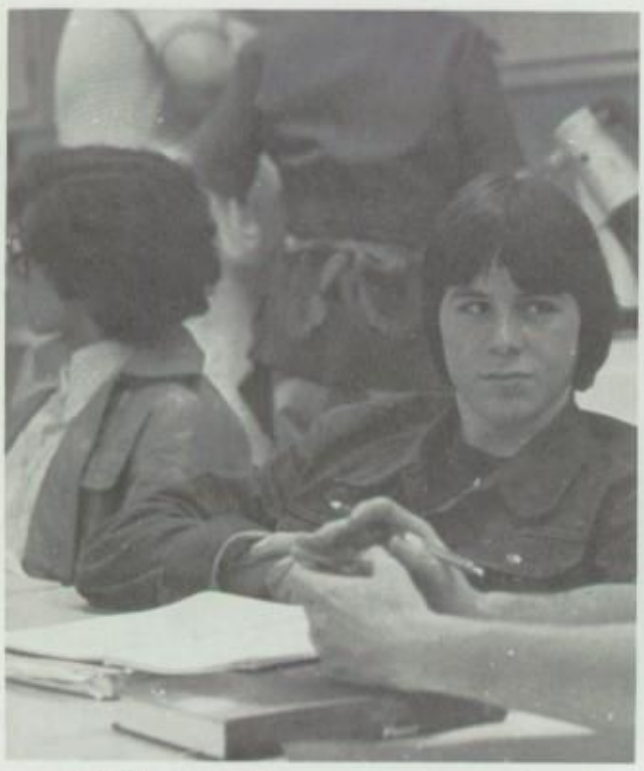
Bruce, Eddie, and Bobby try their hands at sewing.

"Oh, these stupid needles should be made with a blunt point. I keep sticking myself in the fingers!"

"I've got to know that guy's name!"

"Hi! My name is Lorraine. What's yours?"

"Where in the world am I going? The lobby is on the other side of the school!"



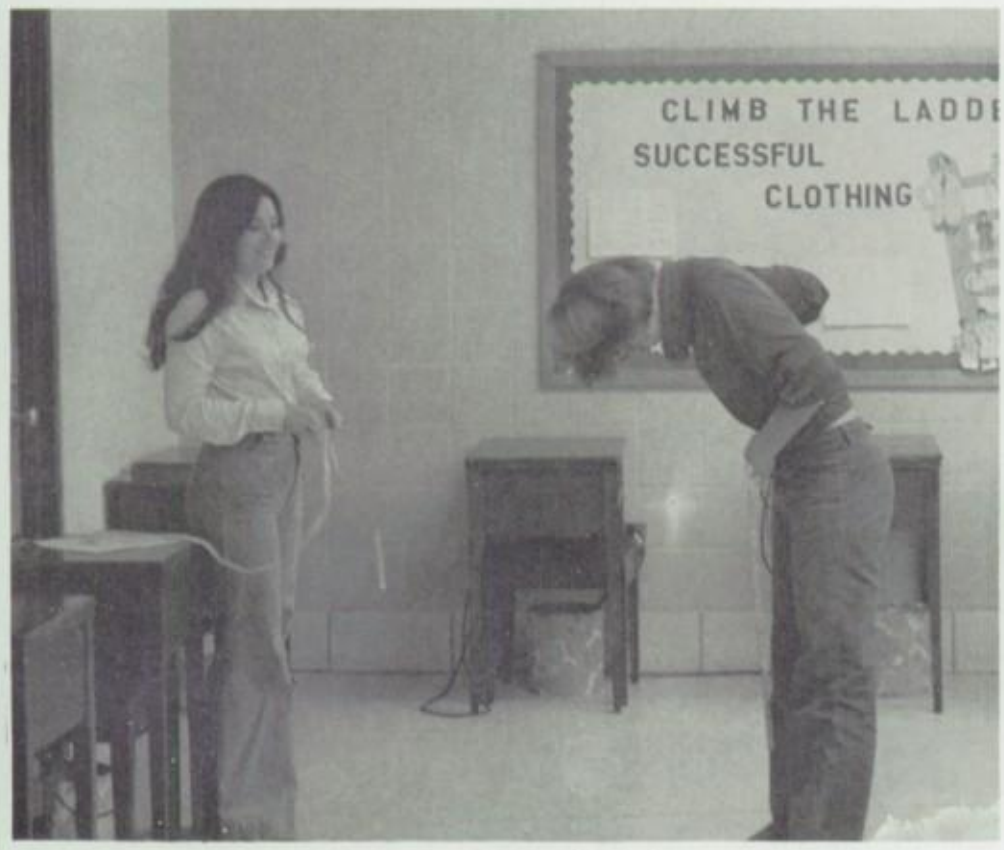
"What's the answer to the last one?"

Vince does well in Mrs. Kerfoot's class.

"Don't look at me like I'm crazy. If you think you can do better than me, just go ahead and try."

The speaker must be cute; he even has Tanya awed.

"Now you know how I honestly feel about doing this."



Iva Jo seems amused at the idea of taking measurements.

Anita is shocked by what she's heard, but Renee doesn't care.

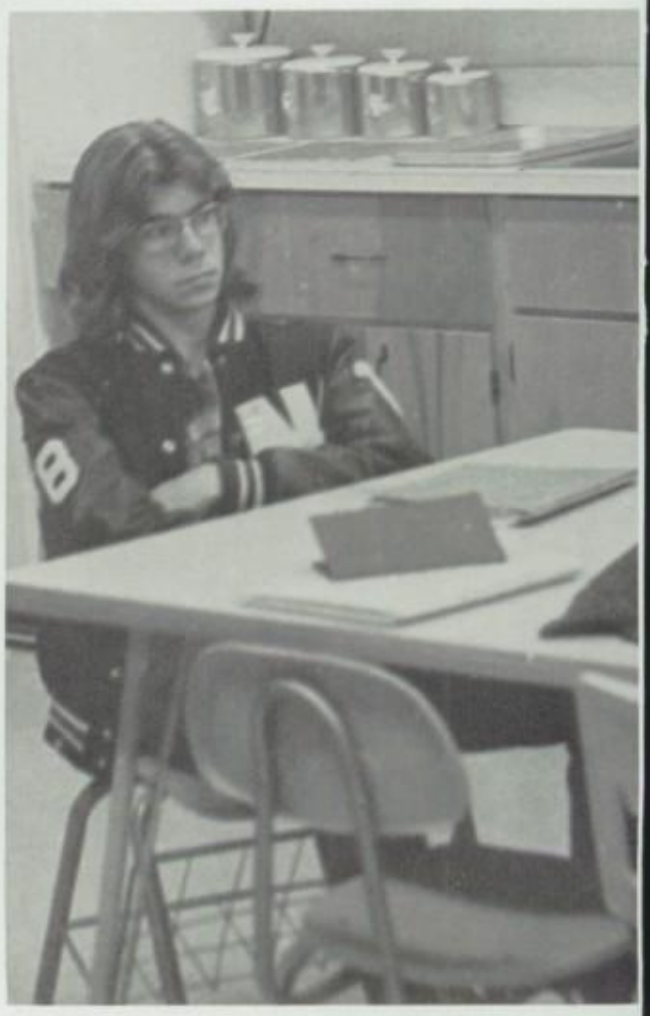
Jody Exler certainly has a guilty look on his face, as he watches Mrs. Bennett and listens to Mr. Robert Harrod give and interesting lecture on insulation and energy conservation.

Patti Heard, Jane Goodrich, Teresa Lowry, and Pam Burnett certainly seem to be having a good time while they enjoy the togetherness that Family Living class brings.

Mrs. Kerfoot watches closely and gives pointers to her students.

Jo keeps a watch out for Mrs. Kerfoot.

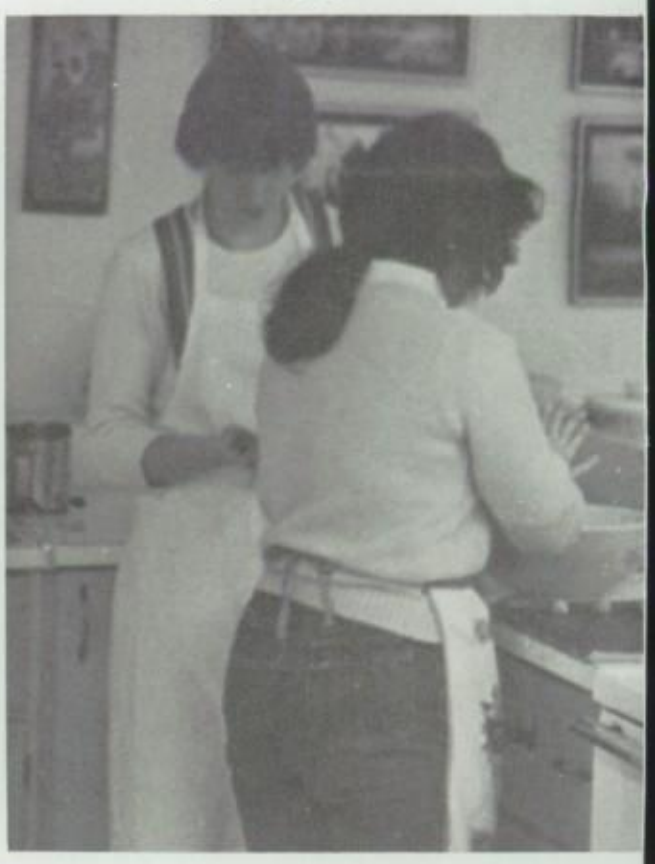
Craig Thompson lends a helping hand to a fellow student.



"When do I get my food?"

Jeff carefully stirs his concoction.

"Mrs. Kerfoot will never believe this!"



"I don't understand any part of this."

"You hold the needle while I thread it! Hold it steady!"

"This is the way we sew our clothes so early in the morning."

"How to Make Clothes That Fit and Flatter."

"So you want a job. What are your qualifications?"

"Sure, we'll take a break to pose for a picture anytime!"

"Mmm! That guy is cute. I wonder if he has a girlfriend?"

The members of the wedding party included: Miss Bishop, mother of the groom; Jeff Shoebrooks, groom; Joy Phelps, bride; Mrs. Ashley, mother of the bride; and Danny Meredith, father of the bride.

In keeping with wedding tradition, Jeff and Joy are the first to cut the wedding cake.

Jeff and Joy enjoy the first piece of wedding cake.

"To Have and To Hold".

On June 4, Sunday afternoon, a wedding took place in the family living room. It wasn't just an ordinary wedding, but a mock wedding put on by Mrs. Kerfoot's third period family living class. The whole affair was carefully planned out down to the last detail. The bridal gown, worn by Joy Phelps, was provided by Laurene's Bridal Shop; the flowers were supplied by Flowers in Art by Jo of Vine Grove, and the wedding cake was donated by Mrs. Willis Cecil. The ceremony was a success and everyone in attendance had a good time.

Randy Gardner portrayed the role of usher, while Betty Tinker, that of the bridesmaid.

Don Conner was the best man and Julie Hinds, the maid of honor.

Teresa Lowry enjoys the time that she spends with her students. One can tell by looking at the faces of the children that they enjoy her, too.

Sabrina Weaver teaches second grade at Parkway.

Chris Offner gives her first graders a helping hand.

Susan Harbolt reads to her students at St. Brigid.

Ambitious Students Who Have Come "Forward to Teach."

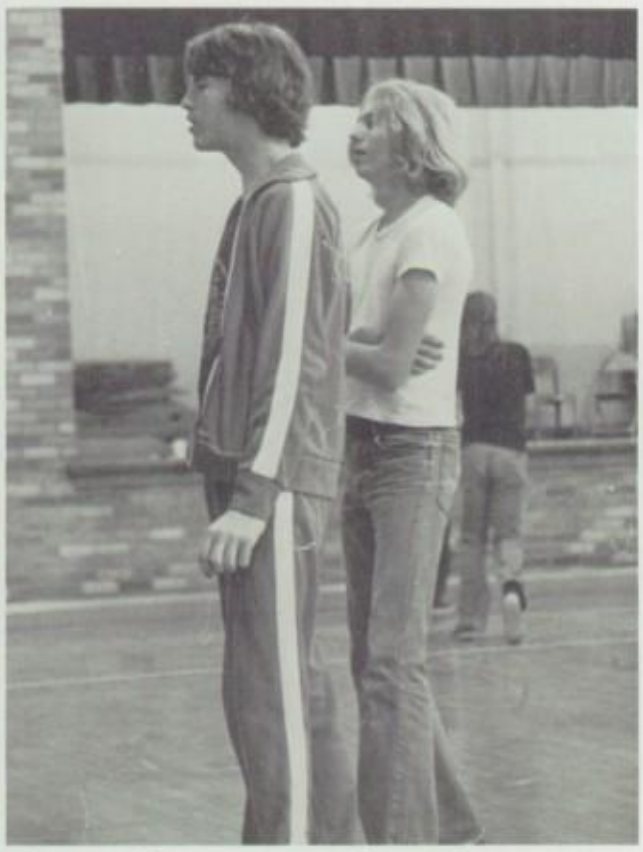
As you can see, Monica Taylor is very content with her work.

Mr. McDonald, at Radcliff Junior High, also has a helper. His name is Jose Cubero.

Exploratory Teaching is one of many unique programs offered at North Hardin and it is certainly a worthwhile course for those students who are considering the teaching profession. Through this course, the students get actual teaching experience and have such responsibilities as making lesson plans, giving homework assignments, and putting up a bulletin board. These students have come "Forward To Teach" and are sharing in a most rewarding and informative experience.

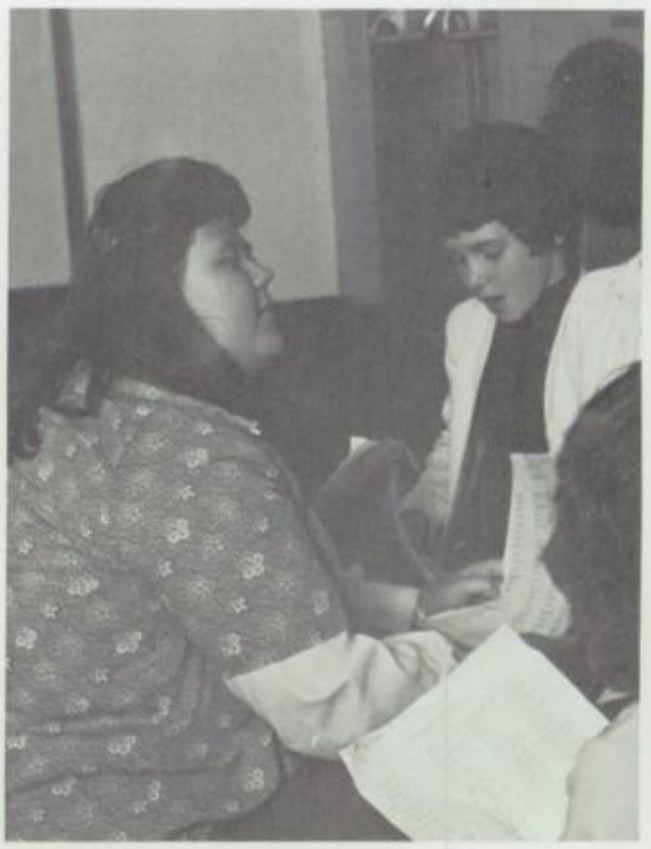
Patty Hohenstein, Mrs. Kelley's assistant at Parkway, is very helpful in whatever the problem may be.

Another assistant from our school is Anita Joly. As well as charm, she has understanding towards her students.



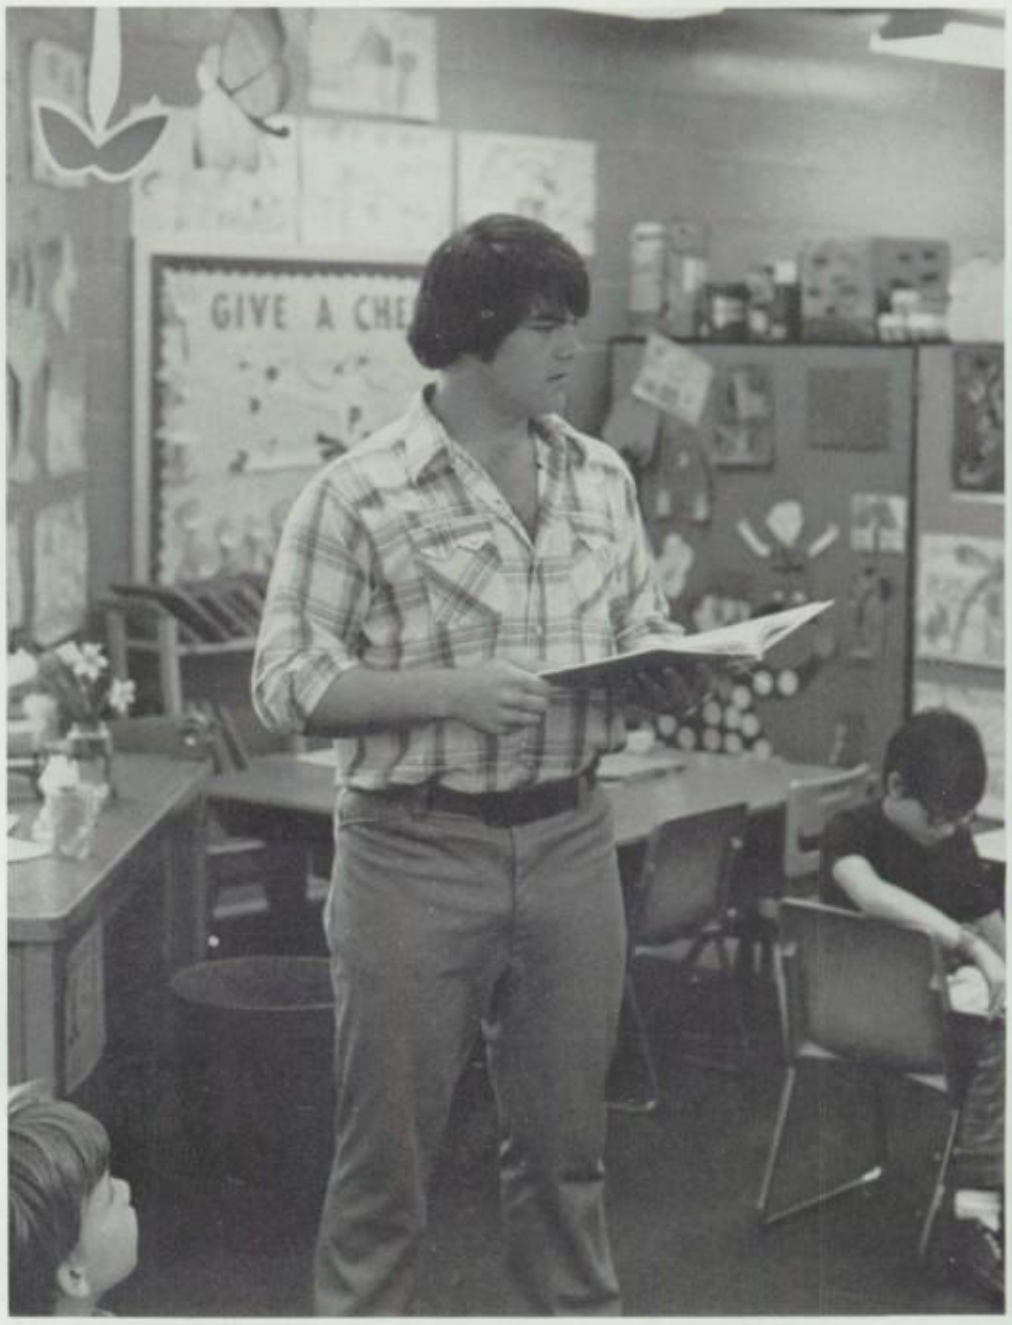
Tommy Lirot enjoys his job as an exploratory teacher.

Vickie Hannah is a very reliable person, and she enjoys her work.



Julia Cartwright teaches Mr. Stein's second grade class at Parkway.

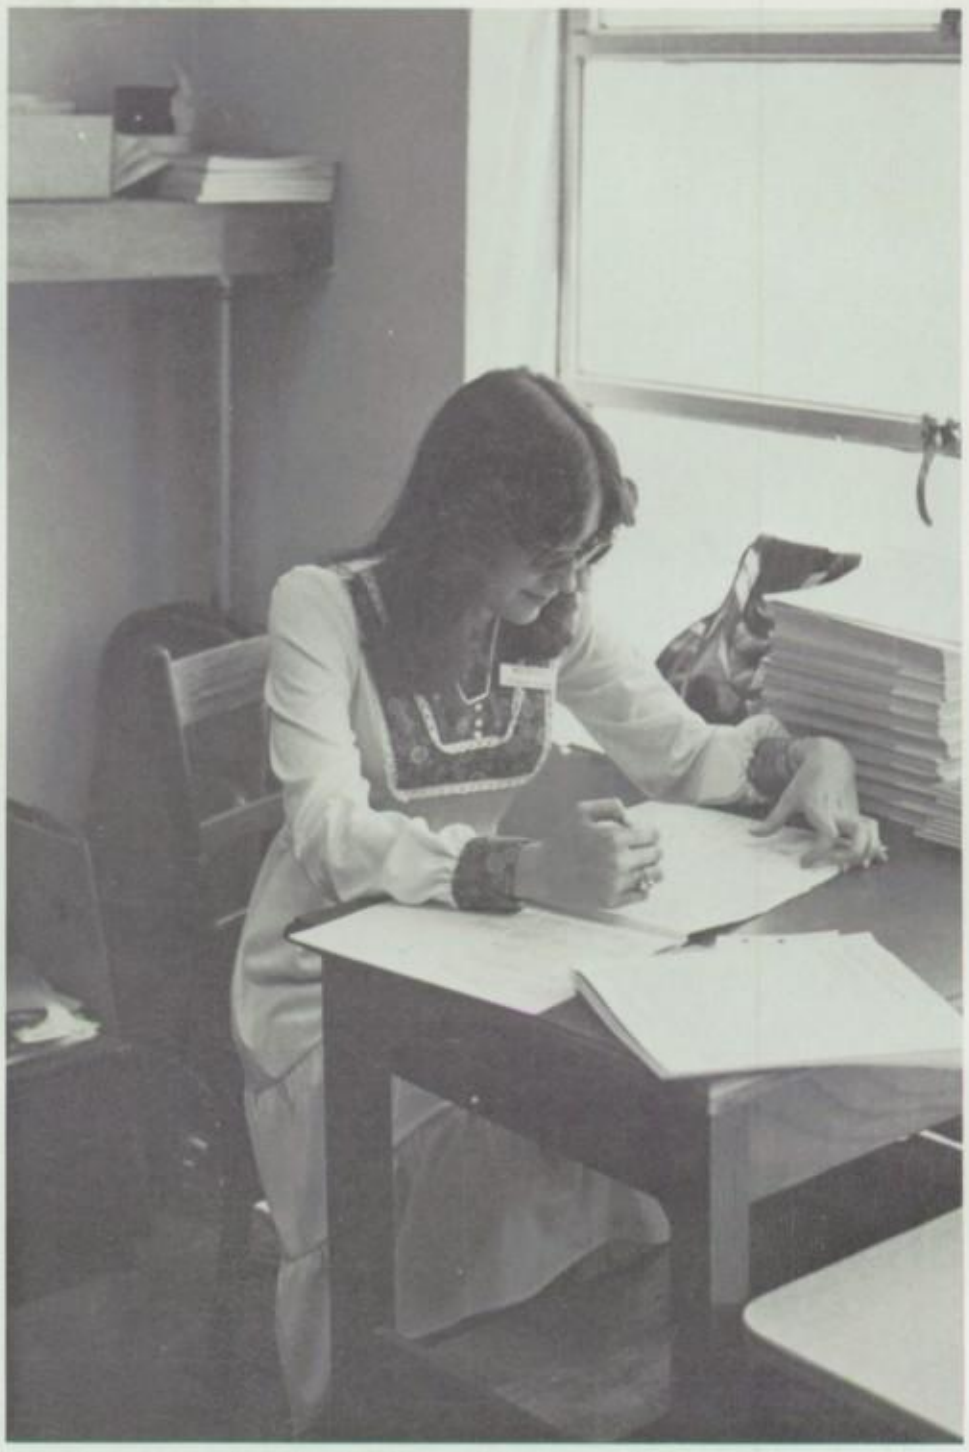
Terry Ray enjoys teaching his sixth grade class at St. Brigid.



"If that kid doesn't shut up, I'm going to belt him!"

The student looks on as Lesa Bennett solves the problem at hand—only he doesn't seem to know what she is talking about.

Jane Goodrich has truly enjoyed her work at Parkway Elementary.



Don't worry, Jeanine! It's not too much longer!

These Are the Makings of "A Miracle Worker."

"He keeps getting closer to that new girl!"

"Aw, shucks! I'm not that cute!"

"Hi. My name is Rick. What's yours?"

"If you don't shut up, I'll get Mr. Story!"

"Those cheat notes must be here somewhere!"

Don't these people look like they're busy?

"Here, you can have it. I don't think it's right anyway!"

Artie Hughes does the best he can to get an "A" in Shop class.

These students take time out of their busy schedule to take a nap. Come on, you guys! Wake up before the teacher sees you.

"The Gallery"

The Industrial Arts course here at North Hardin is one of fine quality. There are many classes included with the program. They include architectural drawing, graphic arts, woods, metals, and power mechanics.

If you were to go past the Industrial Arts room, you would notice a display case. Inside, there are plaques, which the students designed themselves, and also some very unique photographs. I guess you could call it "The Gallery" of masterpieces because of the fine work the students have shown this year.

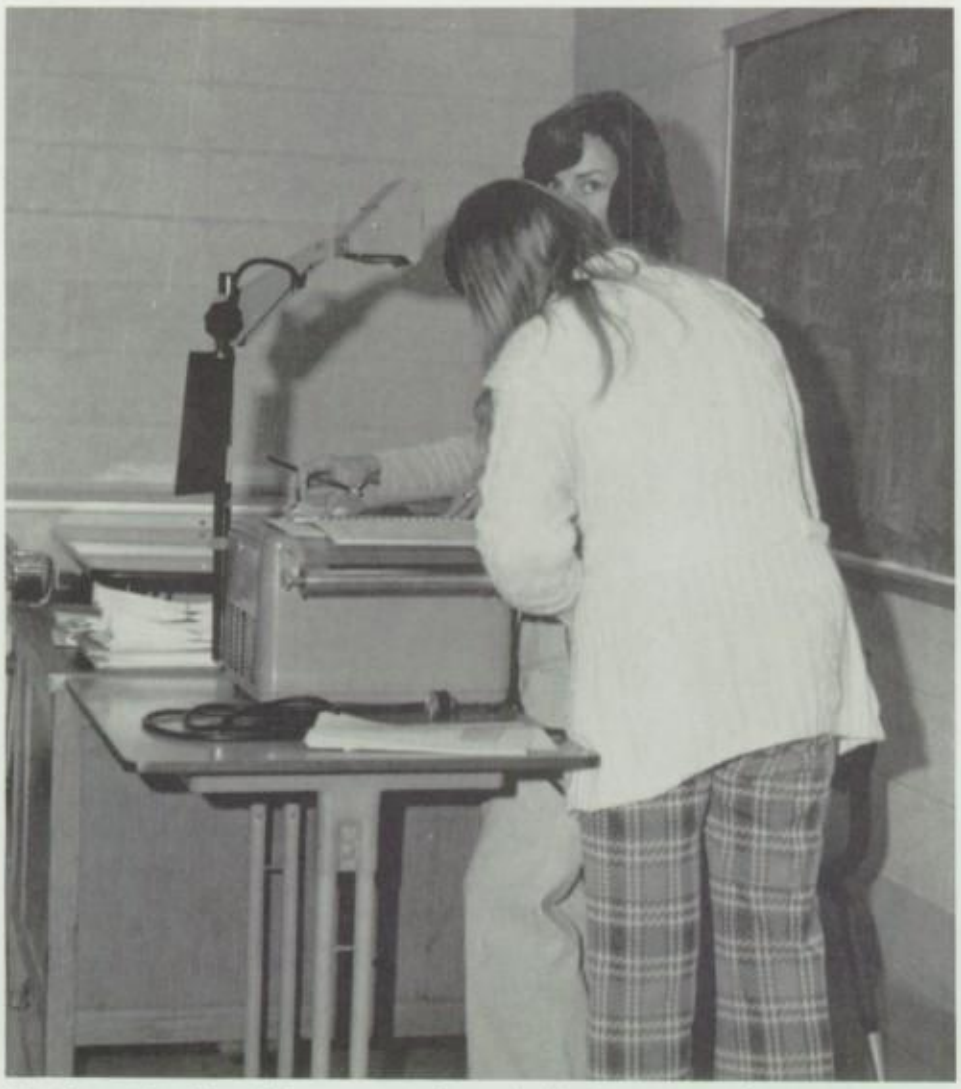
French, German, and Spanish are the options which are available for any student who is interested in taking foreign languages at North Hardin. The efforts of the students are shown at the Foreign Language Festival which is held in the spring. Through these classes students learn not only the language, but something about the culture as well. "If you could see what I hear", you would see three very interesting diverse cultures.

"Hey, I'm not in this conversation!"

"If You Could See What I Hear"



"I thought I told you to knock before you interrupt my class!"

See No Evil. Hear No Evil. Speak No Evil.

"Please help me out of this. I'm stuck. Besides, I can't see!"

"Keep On Learning"

The Math classes at North Hardin serve as a building block for a student's future career. Without the knowledge of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division, one would not function successfully in life. The outcome of one's future depends considerably on the extensive amount of knowledge on this subject. The higher of the math classes include Algebra II, Linear Algebra, Plane Geometry, Analytic Geometry, Trigonometry, UMM II & III & IV. In order to get ahead, one must "keep on learning."

Mrs. Pat Lafferty — 6¼ years

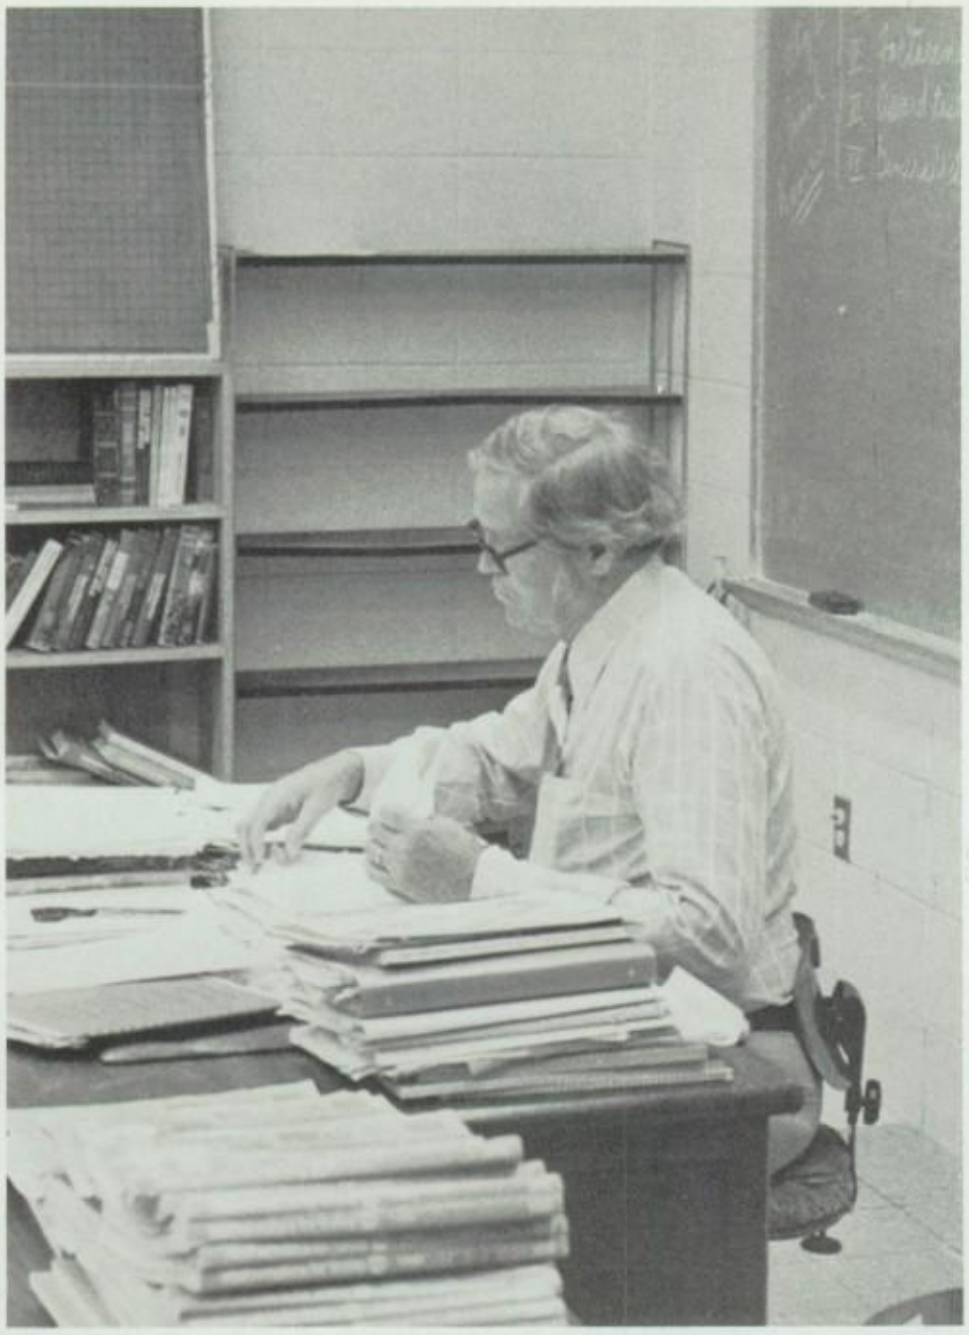
"This class is boring. That's it, I'm getting out of here. Besides, I'm hungry!"

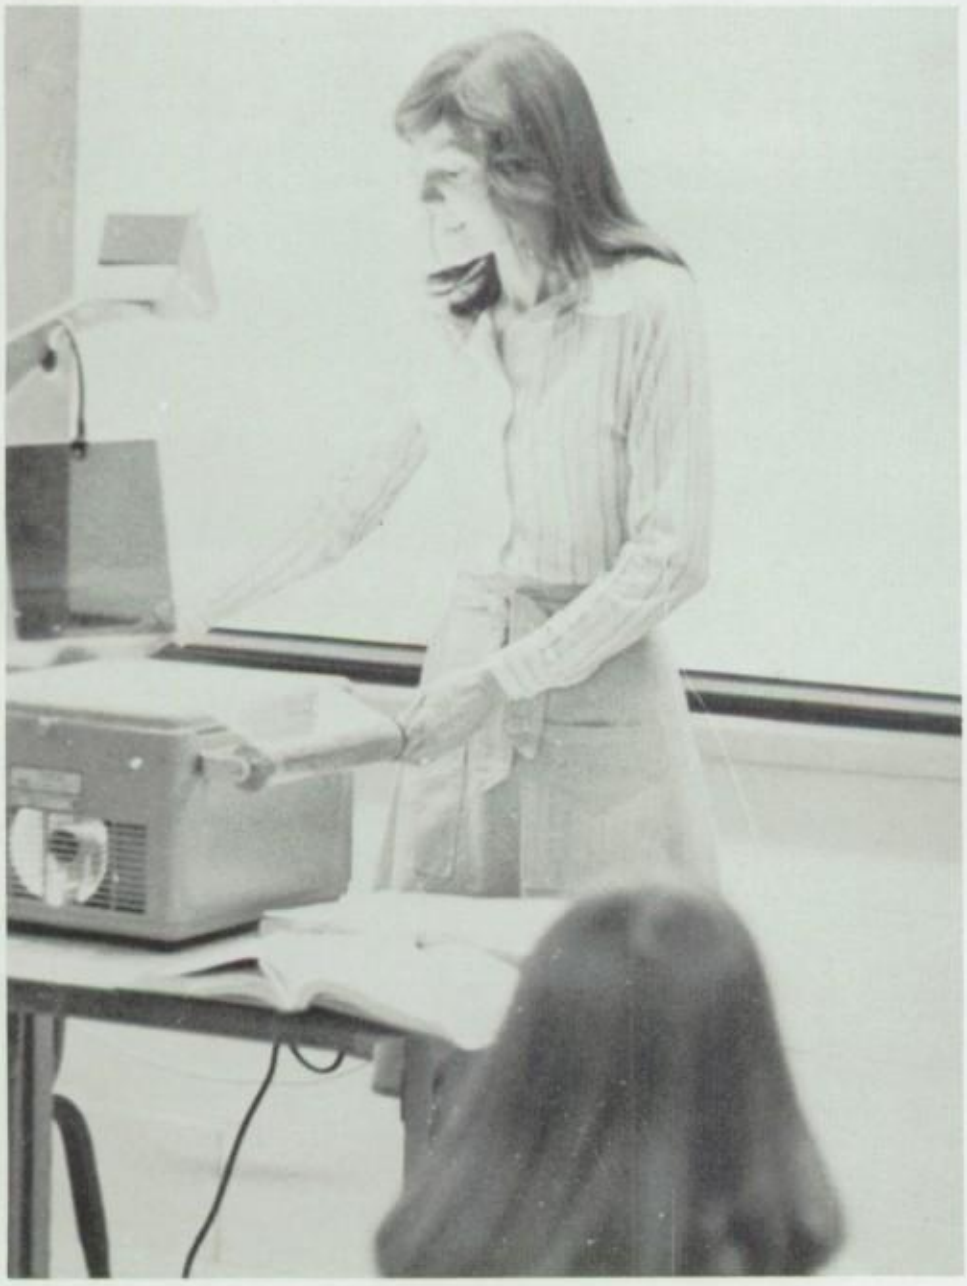
"At least let me fix my hair first!"



Mr. McCoy obviously has a lot of work to do, so don't bother him.

It seems these students have nothing better to do than to talk.

"I'm leaving the room for a few minutes, so be quiet!"



A typical day in the life of a student.

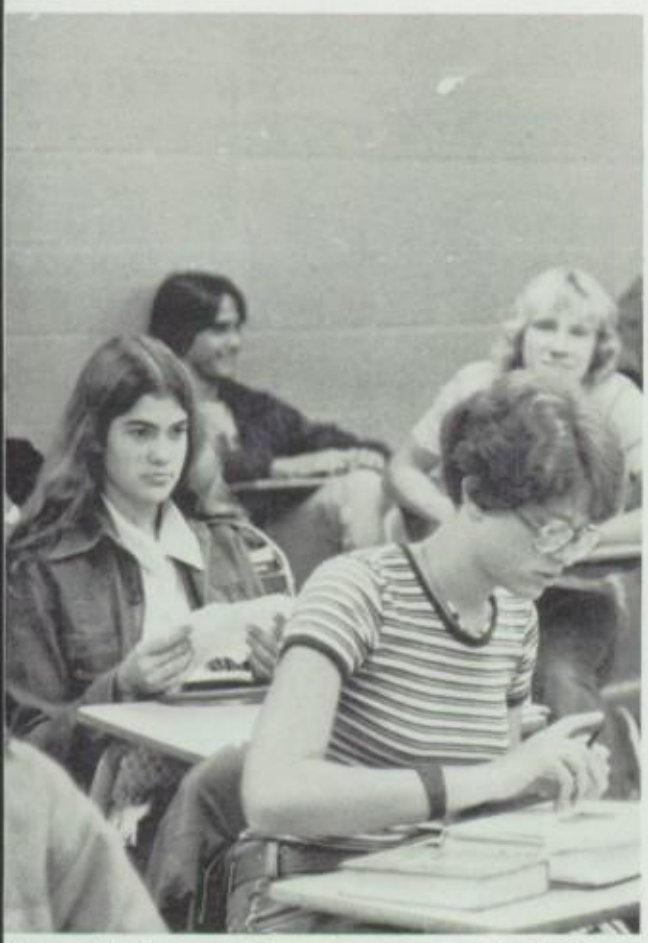
The teacher has these students awed.

"Thank goodness this is only study hall!"

"Cheaper by the Dozen"

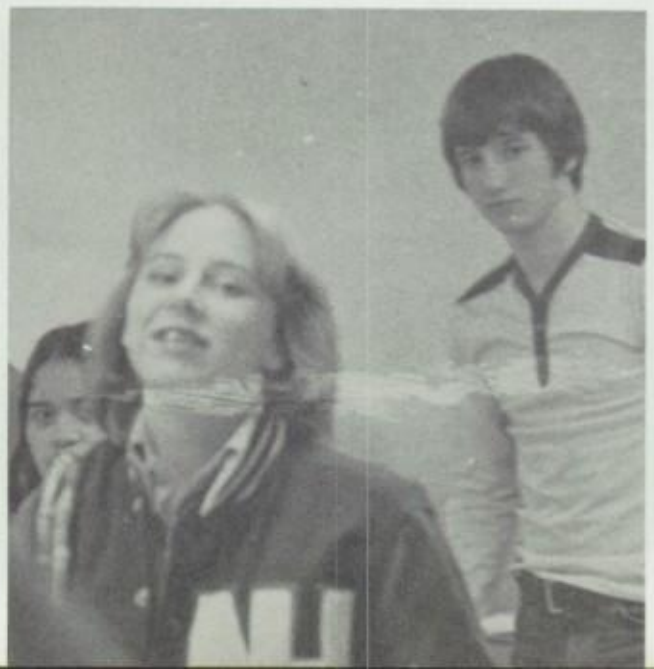
"That is such a good looking guy. Maybe if I give him a smile . ."

It looks to me like this whole class is confused!



"I wish I would've gotten an "A"."

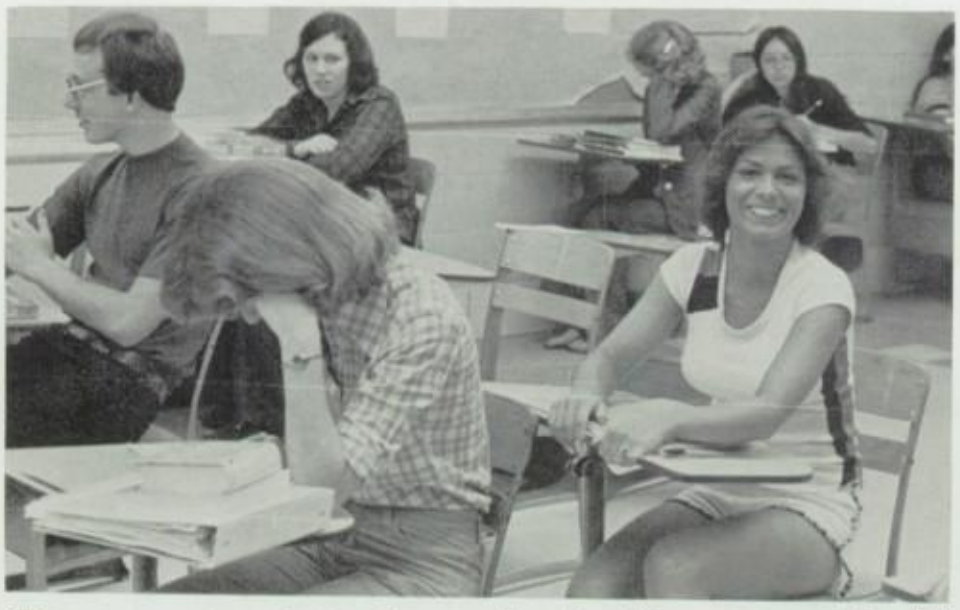
"One of these days . . .!"



"Look at him. He thinks he's so cool!"

It seems only the girls are paying attention to the teacher.

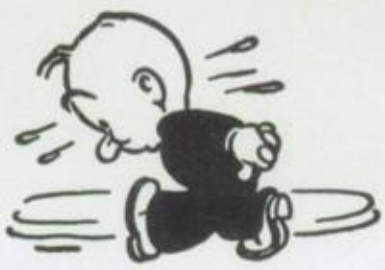
"Where have you been?"

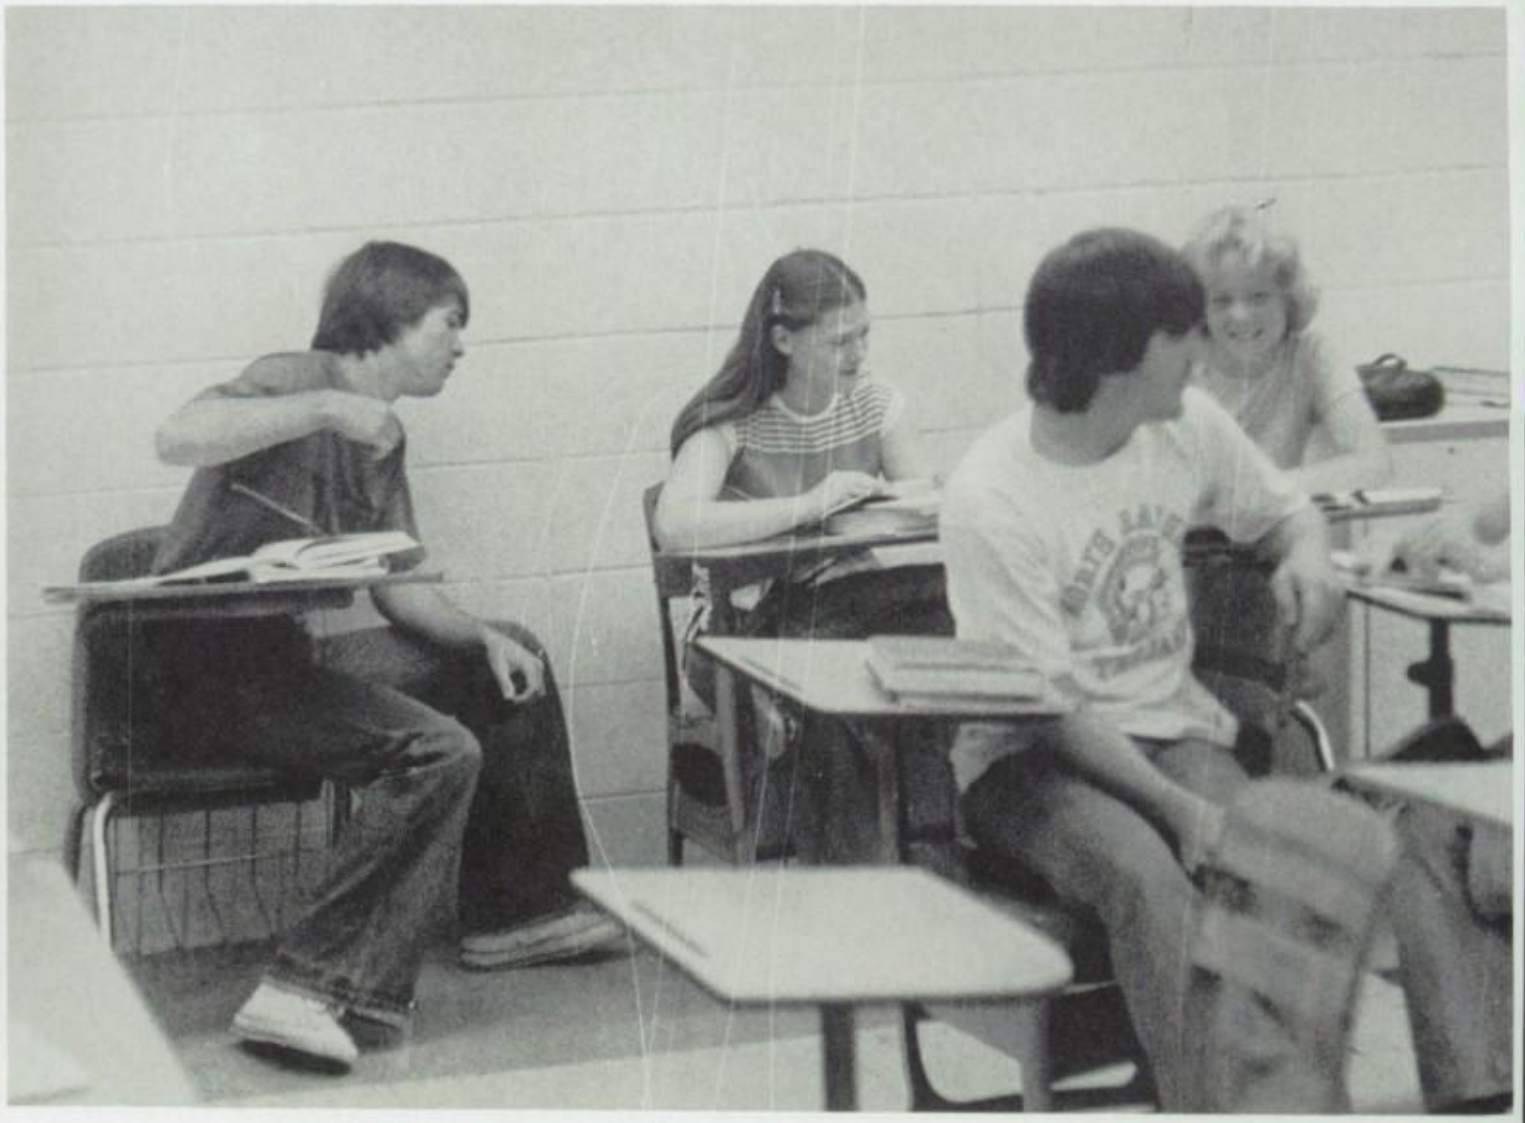


"Do you want me to tap her on the shoulder or something?"

"I haven't seen her here before. I wonder where she's from?"

"What's your name?"





"Now this is the way I feel the problem should be worked."

"The Computer Wore Tennis Shoes."

Mrs. Lafferty takes much pride in her students' work.

". . . and here we have the wiz kids of Calculus!"

Everyone in this class looks like they've had a hard day.

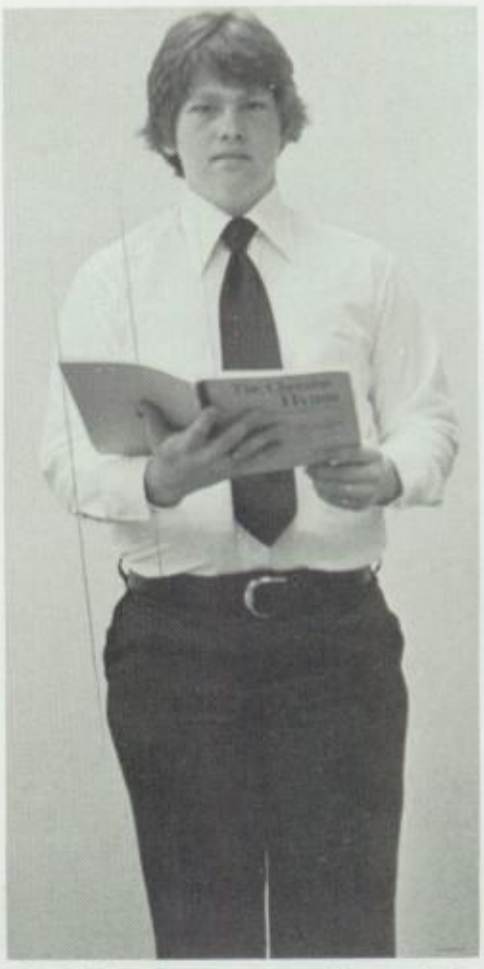
Mr. Atherton doesn't look too pleased about the interruption.

"I really wish that you students would listen to me."

"I don't mean to be pushy, but MY way is the best!"

Senior Russell Gross received the 1978 Chorus Award.

Lisa Logsdon received several honors in the Music Festival.



Mark Page is a member of the All-State Chorus.

Mrs. White is proud of the honors the chorus has received.

Here we have our award-winning chorus.

L. Logsdon, D. Hughes, R. Waggoner—Superior Rating for Trio.

Kim Short-Excellent Rating for Soprano Solo.

Creating Sound Through "Pop, Rock & Soul"

Pam concentrates as she plays to obtain the perfect sound.

Teresa and Jane take pride in their music.

Through "Pop, Rock, and Soul" as well as classical, religious, and jazz music, the band and chorus explore the joys and many different aspects in the creation of sound.

The students who participate in this program of study are truly dedicated, for there is a need for many sacrifices and much patience. There are long hours of practice and competition which demand talent and much time. North Hardin is fortunate to have so many enthusiastic students and such unique instructors.

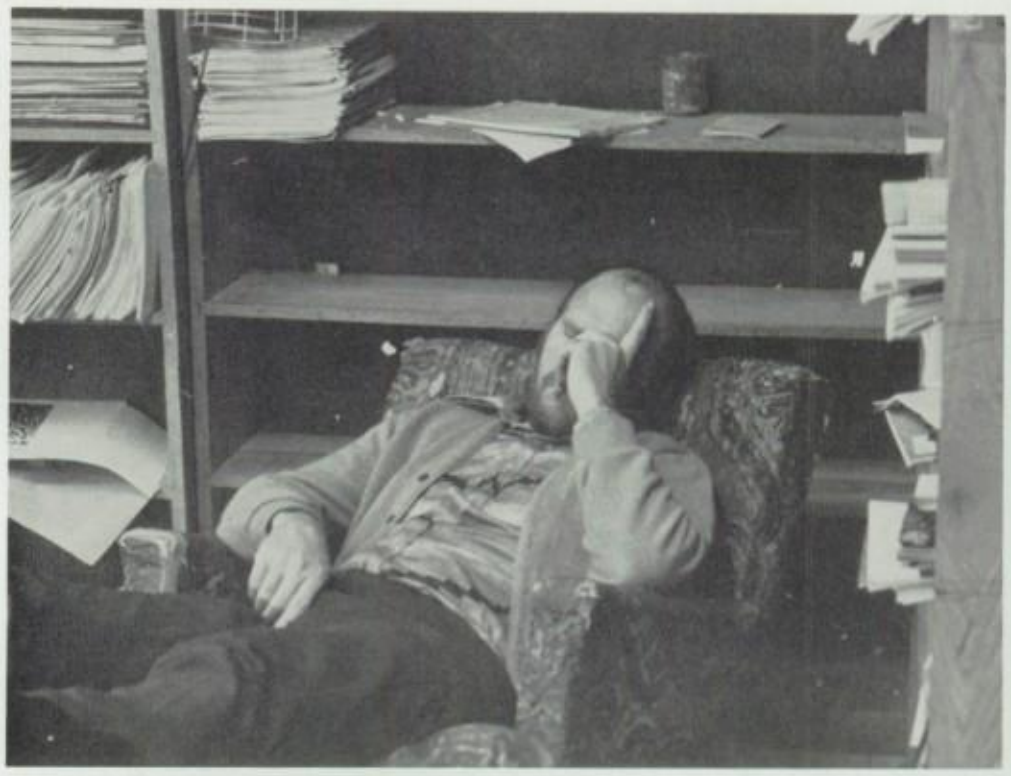
These guys back it all up.

"I sure hope I can play my part right."

Senior Phil Wiseman has enjoyed performing with the band.

Here are many of the talented students that make up our award-winning band.

What do you suppose Vaughn said to Lynn to make her smile?

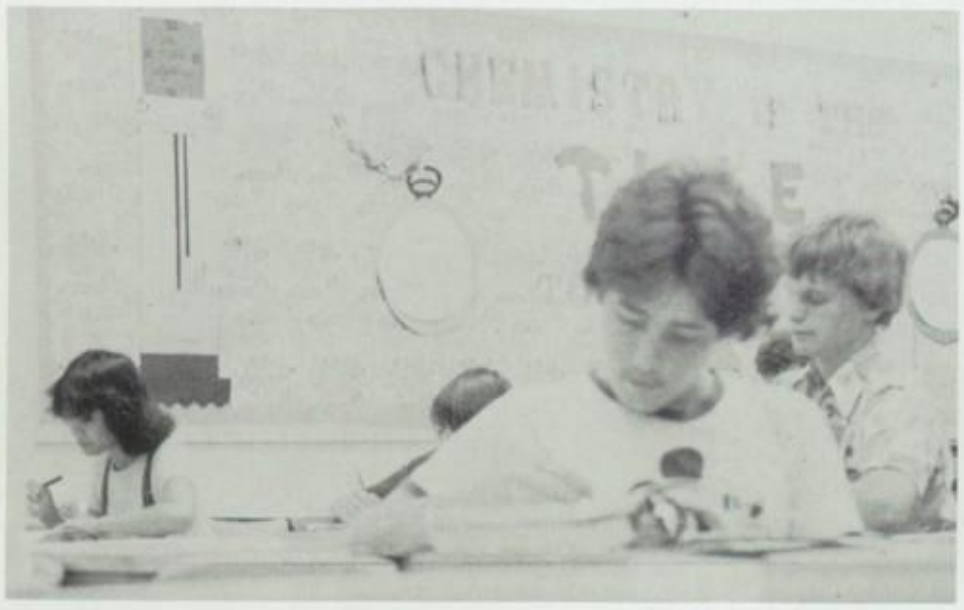


Even a "mad scientist" like Mr. Yates needs a rest sometime!

"You had better not say that again or else you're going to find out just how underestimated the power of a woman really is!"

"As if my day hasn't been bad enough already and now such an ugly photographer has the nerve to take my picture! You just wait until I get my hands on you!"

It certainly must be hard for Lori Hemmen to concentrate with such a cute, intellectual guy in front of her!"



"I wonder if this problem is as hard as it looks."

Mr. Hodge doesn't look too pleased with David.

I wonder if this guy is really studying or if he's daydreaming about some special young lady?

"Is it clear to you now, or do I have to explain it again?"

We at North Hardin are very proud of our Science Department. It consists of such classes as Biology, Anatomy and Physiology, Advanced Biology, and also boasts one of the best Chemistry departments in the surrounding counties. We have Chemistry, Advanced Chemistry and the only high school Biochemistry class in the state. Our students have placed first in Biology and Chemistry in the Science Competition at Cambellsville College. Who knows? One of the students enrolled in this department may turn out to be another "Doctor Zhivago".

This class seems very attentive as they listen to one of Mr. Yates' sermons.

"I told you not to take that picture now! Explain why you did it, or else!"

Mr. Stein has control of his class, but Ronald's mind is elsewhere.

"This is the third time I've adjusted this thing, and it had better be right!"

Everyone is hard at work, but Jennie has a question.

"I guess I should be working, but I just don't want to."

Steve Kersey, hindered by a broken arm, struggles with his assignment, as Carla and Tony breeze through theirs.

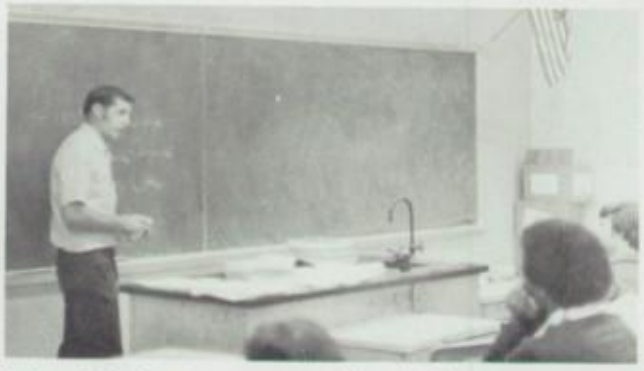
This class seems to be having a good time; I wonder where the teacher is.

Mr. Smith even demonstrates his wrestling moves in Biology.

"It's been a hard day, and I deserve this break!"

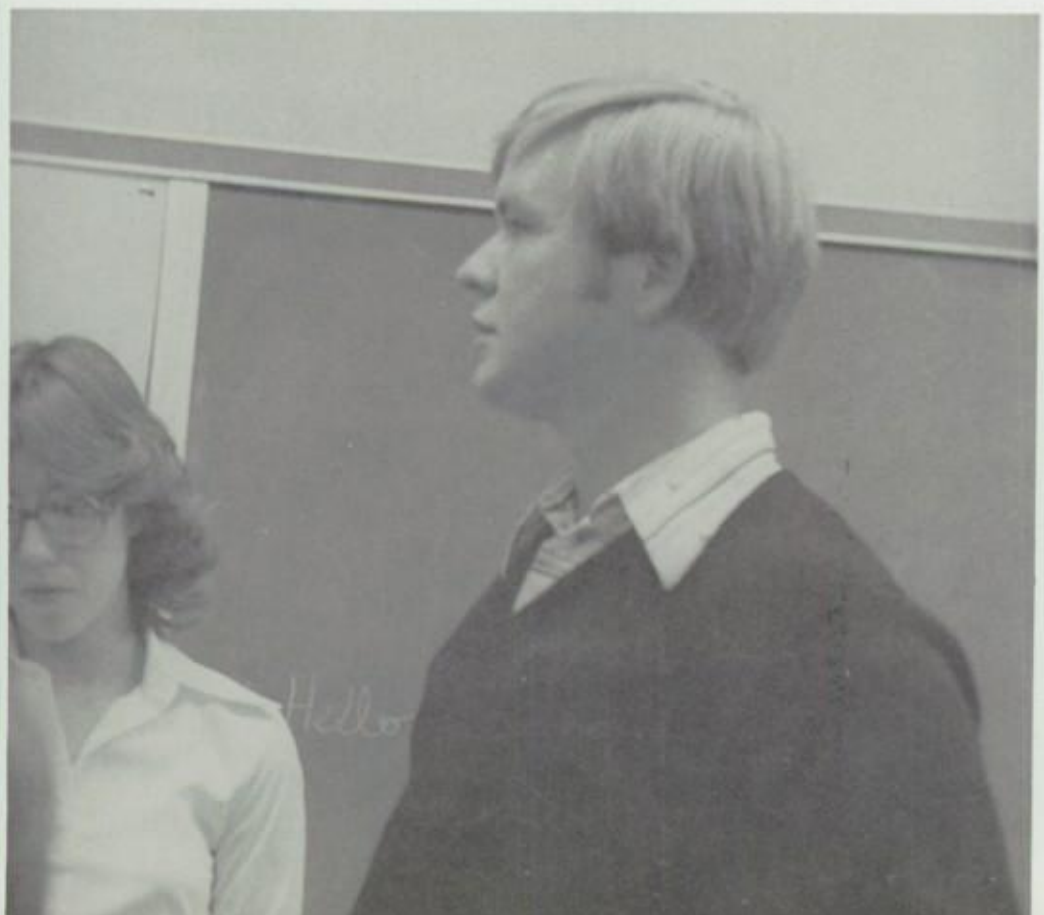
"Biology used to be for 'Boys Only'."

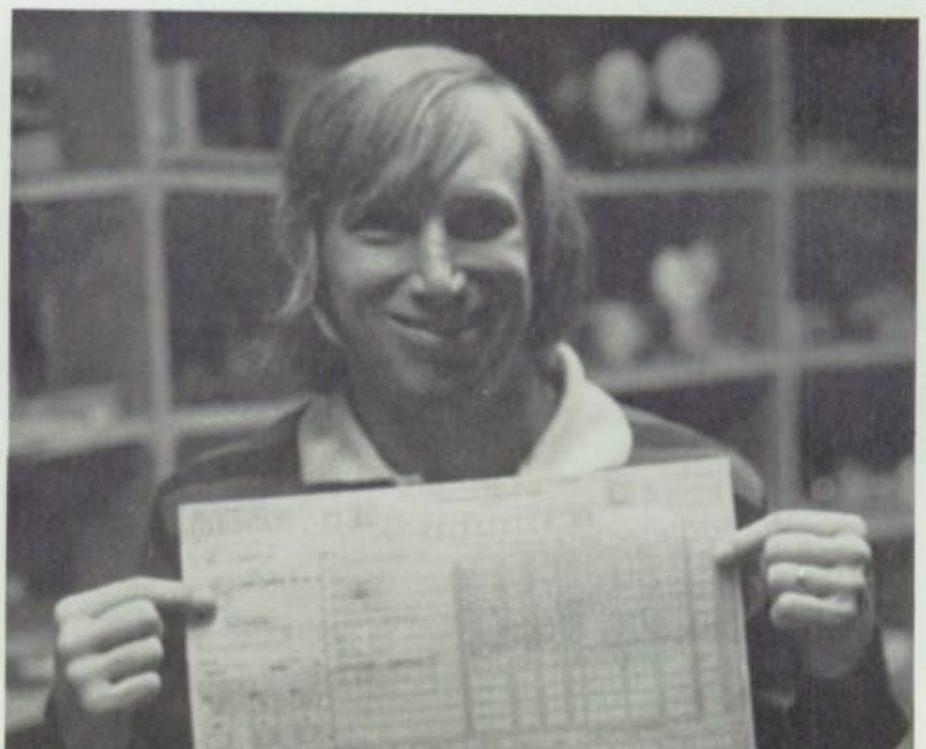
"Keeping busy isn't easy with you here!"

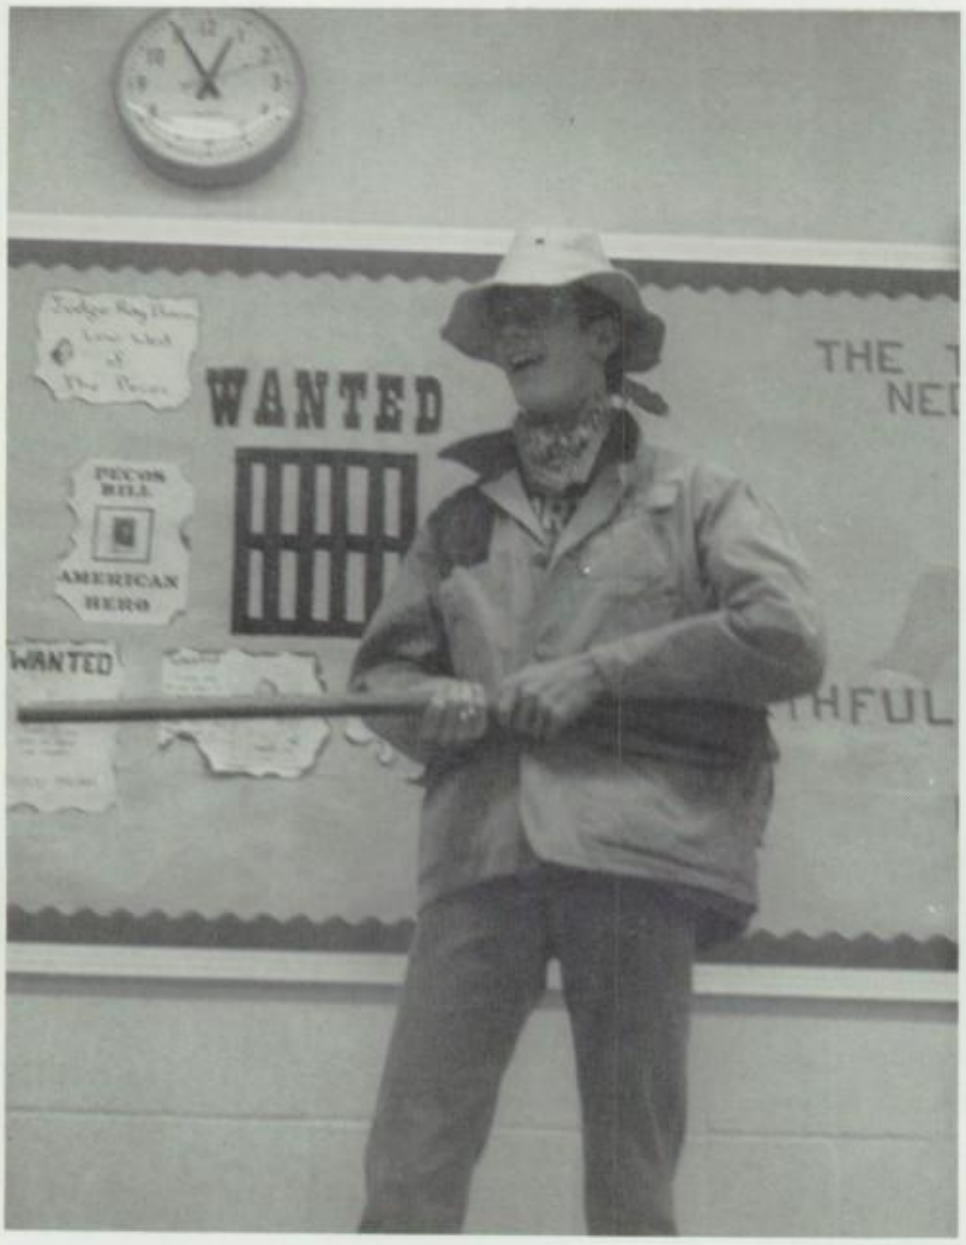


Mr. Hodge stresses the information he feels is most important.

"I wonder if I'll remember all of these equations next year?"







Johnny Allison does his part in "Western Heroes" quite well.

Genny "Shirley Temple" Day sings "On the Good Ship Lollipop."

"The Olden Days"

The Social Studies classes at North Hardin play a very important part in broadening one's knowledge. For instance, the students can learn such things as climate, how many other countries there are, and industries throughout the United States in Geography. In History, however, one can learn about many of the heros and heroines and how they have helped us get to where we are today. These classes are designed for the students of today to help develop their minds on what is actually happening around us everywhere. Why don't you find out if you would like to have lived in "the olden days".

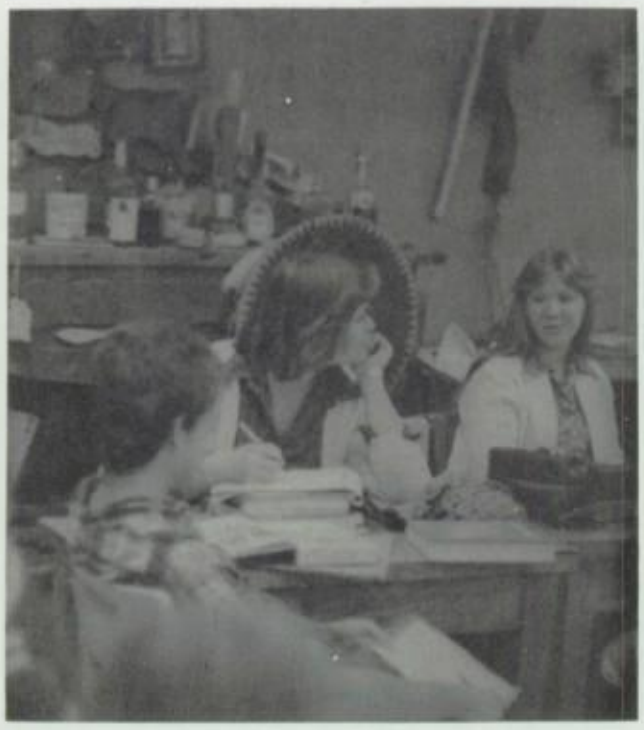
The history classes display a bulletin board of Mark Twain.

"I wonder how you do this stuff. I can't even find the page."



"Let me tell you, I've NEVER seen such a handsome face before"!!!

"OK, you've got me! Now what do you want?"

I wonder what the girls are dreaming about!

Frank dreams of being out of school and back in bed where he belongs.

"I really don't appreciate them talking about me!"

"Boy, did I need a break!"

"Are you going to move or what?"

Lisa Daniels waves a friendly "hello" in spite of what her friends think. I wonder who the photographer was?

Hear no evil. See no evil. Speak no evil.

What Happened After "The Mayflower"?

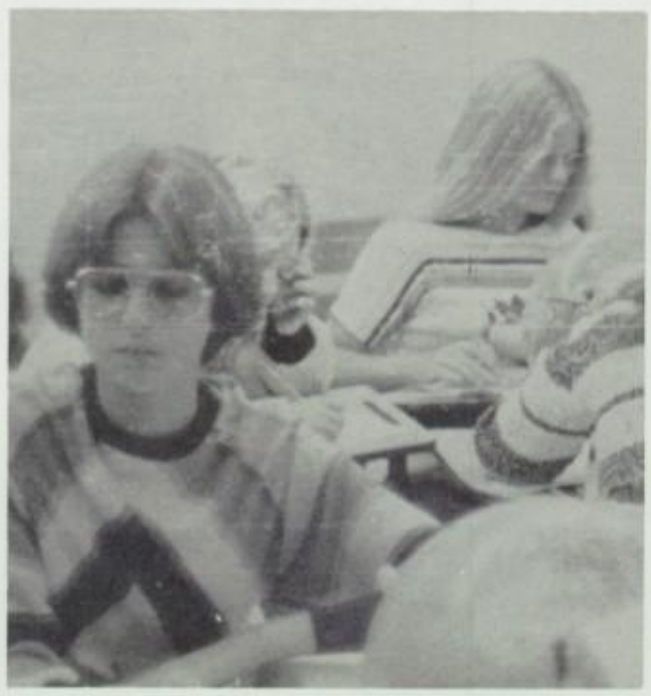
"When is this class going to be over with?"

"All of this work is driving me beserk!"

It seems Craig doesn't like this class.

"If you don't mind, I'm trying to study!"

This is certainly an unusual classroom.



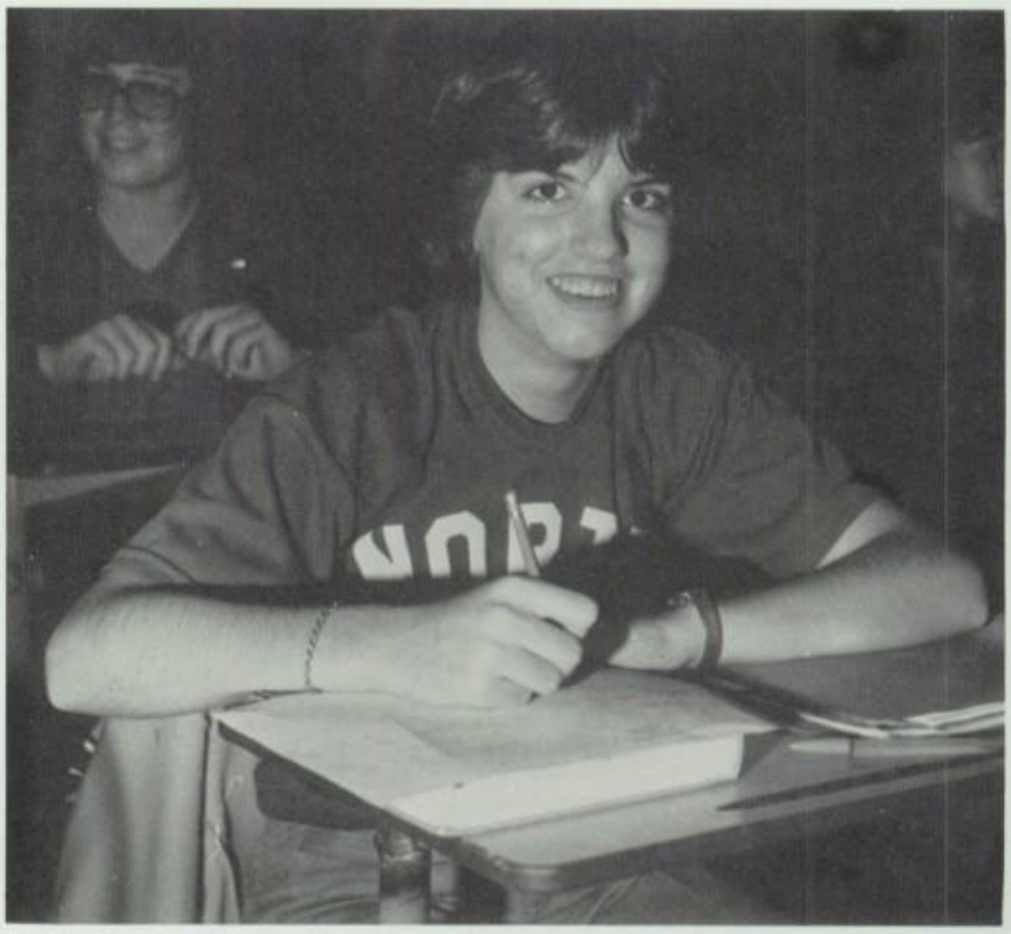
"You had better say you're sorry!"

"Now, how can I get to know her?"

Lisa Brown must be thinking of someone nice to be so dazed.

The students pay close attention to Mr. Williams' directions.

"You're probably wondering why everybody is goofing off . . . !"



"All the teachers do around here is give homework! I never have any time to myself! Will you help?"

"Oh, come on. Let me see it or else!"

"It is right, but just check it to be sure."

Sharon takes time to get a little shut-eye.

"Get me out of here away from Rob!"

"Want a 'fistful of knuckles'?"

"No, we're not twins!"

"They Showed the Way."

Ah, hah! We caught you!

Organizations

The organizations at North Hardin cover a wide variety of interests, ranging from the Pep Club to the Future Farmers of America. The clubs are run by the students with the aid of their devoted faculty advisors, who have given much time and energy to the success of the organizations. Club members are involved in such diverse activities as field trips, banquets, and service projects. At North Hardin being a club member is a profitable experience for those who choose to participate.

Seniors: Jan Vowels, Judy Fletcher, Sabrina Weaver, Terry McCarty, and Craig Thompson.

Where Are "The Grapes of Wrath"?

Officers: Debbie Coffey, Treasurer; Mrs. Bateman, Sponsor; Kathe Garbrick, President; Tom Elkins, Vice President; Terry McCarty, Secretary; Vonna McDonald, Historian; and Chris Coons, Sgt.-at-Arms.

"The Grapes of Wrath" made John Steinbeck famous, and the grapes, pineapples, and other decorations which are found in the lunchroom and gym are making the Art Club members famous. In addition, the club is responsible for the backdrops for Miss NH and for the Senior Play. Mrs. Bateman and her students should be complimented on their work.

Kevin Olive demonstrates just how much concentration it takes to play chess.

"Let me think, if I move this man there, I'll have my opponent in check!"

"Do you have any suggestions about where I could move to next?"

Jane and Kammy are in deep concentration about their next move.

Here is a prime example of two expert chess players, Brian Willcut and Charles Young.

"Ah ha! I've got him trapped now!"

"That game over there is getting exciting; I think I might go and join them."

Kammy Little, Student Council representative; Jeff England, Sergeant-at-Arms; Susan Cooper, Treasurer; Brian Willcut, Vice President; Jane Winebarger, Secretary; and Allen Davis, President.

Row 1: Alice Miller, June Flores, Buddy Wilson, and Stewart Erhart. Row 2: Jay Wilson, Gary Earnest, and Rob Cooper.

"The Agony and The Ecstasy"

Webster's Dictionary defines chess as being "a game of skill played on a chess board by two players, each with 16 pieces limited in movement according to kind." But it is more than "just a game." It requires much time, brain power and expert maneuvering. The chess club members experience both "agony and ecstasy" with each move they make. Mr. Yates, the club sponsor, has provided the knowledge which enables these players to increase their skill.

Juniors: Row 1: Suzanne Sproull, Julie Hartline, Debbie Haraway, Terri Moore, Becky Nall, David Jones, and Pete Baney. Row 2: Patty Dixius, Tammy Snyder, Brenda Estes, Rhonda Waggoner, Terri Dennis, Tina Hall, Bernie McCamish, and Laura Mouser. Row 3: Renee Mercer, Anita McKee, Cyndi Priest, Kathy McCarthy, Monica Hoffman, Linda Smith, Valorie McBeth, and Diane McCulley. Row 4: Sandy White, Peggy Hays, Janet Martin, Stephanie Burroughs, Nancy Brandon, Sharon Ruger, and Noka Stone. Row 5: Jetta Holland, Vickie King, Mike King, Vera Crowder, Carl Durall, and Duane Mills.

Sophomores: The sophomores had the largest membership to back the Trojans. They were led by Valda McKinney, who was vice president of the Pep Club and Tony Frydrych, who was the Trojan Mascot.

"I Will Try" to Attend All Athletic Events.

Pep Club officers: Row 1: Suzanne Sproull, Secretary; Debbie Haraway, Treasurer; Johnnie Allison, President; and Valda McKinney, Vice President. Row 2: Mrs. Underwood, Sponsor; Lisa Swyers, Student Council representative; and Miss Wilson, Sponsor.

The Pep Club at North Hardin was established to promote school spirit. This year one of the most spirited students ever to attend our school was recognized. The Johnnie Allison award from now on will be given to students who excel in the classroom, and at the same time, who promote North Hardin in athletic competition. Johnnie was president of the Pep Club, and he was voted the Most Spirited Senior boy.

Everyone hopes to win a trophy.

Russ Morse receives an award for his performance at the State DECA Conference.

"Do that again. You got our attention!"

The officers lead in the DECA creed.

Doug is probably doing his "UNfamous bird calls," or maybe moose calls.

Everyone has to stand before reciting the DECA Creed.

Officers: Miss Meredith, Chuck deRoche, Venita Lee, Lourdes Labrillazo, Barry Goodin, Andre Couch, Mike Antonetti, and Mrs. Hoogerheide.

"Theirs Was the Kingdom."

"Theirs was the kingdom" and the NH DECA made the most of their opportunities. These students were involved in fund-raising activities throughout the year in order to raise money to attend leadership training conferences and regional, state, and national competition. This club is definitely on the move, and we know that they will increase their membership and expand their kingdom.

Officers: Mrs. McAnelly, Advisor; Linda Smith, Vice President; Wade Mattingly, Parliamentarian; and Debbie Bean, Secretary.

Seniors: Row 1: Toni Millhorn, Julie Hinds, Julie Hager, and Terry Cowley. Row 2: Gay Lacy, Loretta Fisher, Doug Hall, Kevin Easton, and Tanya Joseph.

Seniors: Row 1: Donna Pearman, Karen Hunt, Diana Cummings, Brenda Filyaw, Debbie Bean, and Kathy Kohler. Row 2: Tim Gill, Karen Storemski, Brenda Payton, Lisa Davis, Jennita Bertram, and Steve Tucker.

Juniors: Row 1: Terri Moore, Laura Mouser, Becky Nall, Karen McCoy, Brenda Reynolds, and Diana Hughes. Row 2: Jane Winebarger, Beth McIntyre, Kevin Prather, Dorothy Canada, and Karen Ray.

President Terry Ray presides at the monthly meeting.

"Fitting Yourself Into Business" Can Be Fun.

The FBLA brought recognition to itself and to North Hardin by starting our the new year at leadership training conference at Hardinsburg. Under Mrs. McAnelly's supervision, the beginning of the year started with great enthusiasm. Some of the officers and members attended the Southern Region Leadership Conference at Little Rock. In regional competition in April, the NH FBLA came home with three first-place awards, two second-place awards, and two third-place awards. In addition we now have our first regional officer in FBLA. At state competition our chapter received first place in penmanship, third place in data processing, third place in bulletin boards, and fourth place in Mr. FBLA. "Fitting Yourself into Business" is one of the goals of the FBLA, and the members achieve this goal by their participation in community activities, school activities, and competitive events. As you can see, business and pleasure can be mixed.

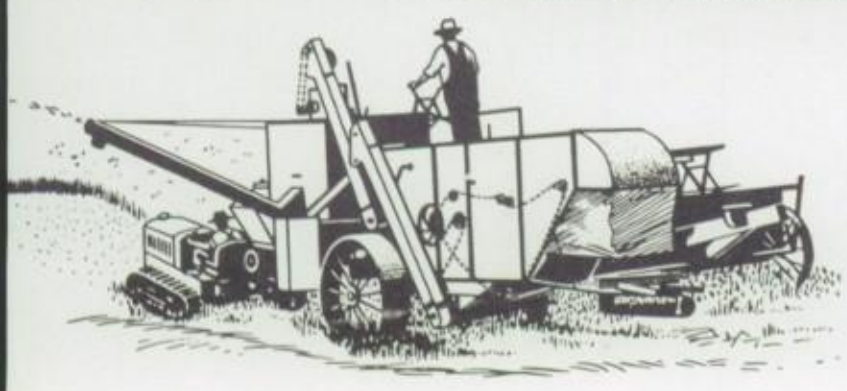
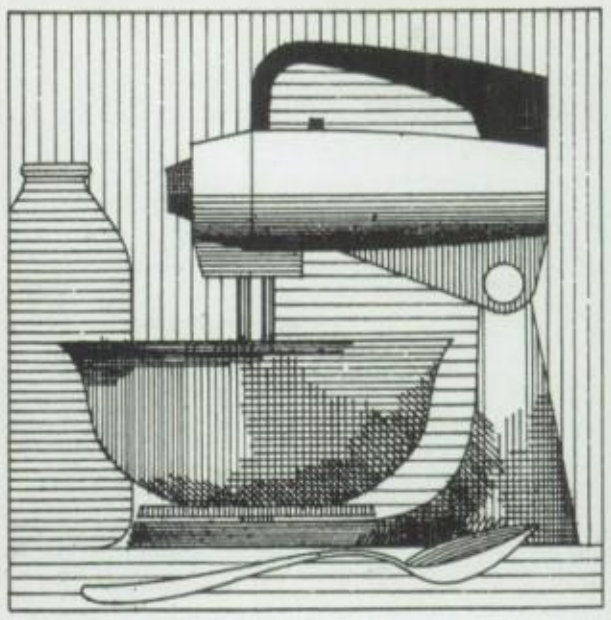
"The Farmers' Hotel" Does Not Exist.

Officers: Jeff Yates, President; Richard Mattingly, Vice President; Bobbie Sheroan, Secretary; FFA Sweetheart, Angela Yates; Bill Boswell, Treasurer; Brian Kaelin, Reporter; and Jeff Brangers, Sentinel.

"The Farmer's Hotel" is not in existence at North Hardin, but we do have a very active FFA. Students who are enrolled in Horticulture classes are eligible for membership in the club, as well as students who are taking Agribusiness courses. FFA members are well known for their parliamentary procedure demonstrations and for their public speaking abilities. Members of the club participate in judging contests which are held throughout the year. We are proud, indeed, of this club.



FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA



Sophomores: Row 1: Pam Burden, Linda Clayton, and Cindy Johnson. Row 2: Ann Brangers, Loretta Salisbury, Linda Tharp, Donna Burnett, Sherry Vertrees, and Beverly Wiseman.

Juniors: Felander Stewart, Tammy, Linda Salisbury, Laura Davis, Trese Deese, Keeley Embrey, and Susan Raine.

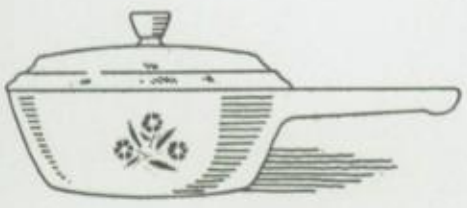
Future Homemakers Of America

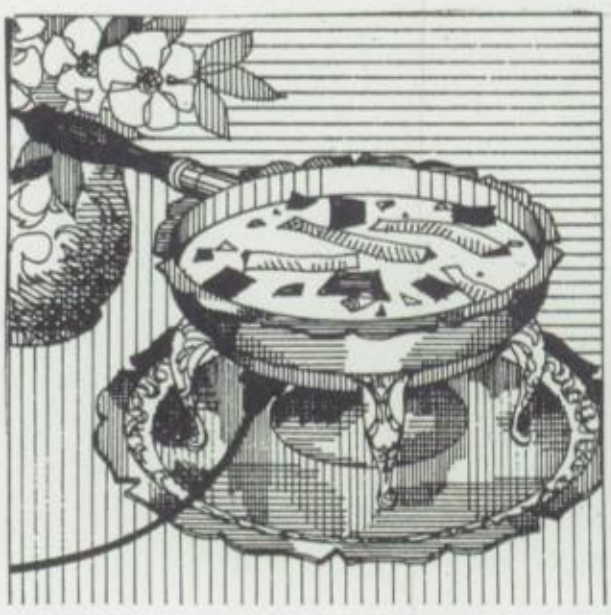
Row 1: Rosie Ray, Ellen Stilwell, Brenda Ray, Jeanine Boothe, Darlene Rucker, Debbie Golder. Row 2: Norma Fererria, Vicki Frydrych, Linda Carp, Berdetta Dayton, Janet Bryan and Patti Blackston.

"The Questions Girls Ask"

There is alot of work in keeping a home together and in FHA, they try to answer "the questions girls ask".

The Future Homemakers of America have had many activities to involve their members. Just before Thanksgiving they had a dinner where some of the aged of our community were the guests. At Christmas they had a Pizza Party for the FHA Members, and during the Christmas week, they offered free babysitting for parents. These activities may have answered some of "the questions girls ask". But the real way to get the questions answered is through Home Economics classes.





Juniors: Row 1: Tammy Midkiff, Carmen Clark, Julia Jahr, Jo Ann Hambly, Janet Twyman, Joyce Taylor, Helen Kieta, and David Jones. Row 2: Sherri Cash, Susie Carlson, Steve Antonetti, Dorothy Canada, Robin Wiser, Ulla Sturmer, and Steve Cisco. Row 3: Donita Edwards, Renee Austin, Brenda Barker, Theresa Deckard, Lynne Erickson, Sander Gjuraj, and John Entsminger.

Sophomores: Row 1: Tim Williams, Lawrence Pickett, Carolyn Kieta, Michelle Dew, Brenda Austin, April Barkman, Carol Guilliam, Harvey Scobie, and Walter Amburn. Row 2: Vickie Cox, Andy Archibald, Helen Miller, Rosie Kruger, Donald Hite, Carla Breeding, Mike Hoffman, Diane Rice, and Shirley Ferreria. Row 3: Tom Entsminger, Vince Holloway, Greg Bowman, Darren Chapman, Steve Dwinnells, and Veronica Erickson.

They'd Like to Visit "A Small Town in Germany."

The German Club, sponsored by Mrs. Phillips, is one of the largest clubs here at North Hardin. Every year the club takes a field trip to The International Folk Art Festival in Cincinatti, Ohio. Many of the members participate in the Foreign Language Festival held at a different high school each year. The winners attend the state festival in Lexington. In order to raise money for various activities, they sell German candy, such as Gummi Bears and Toblerones.

German Club Officers: John Entsminger, Fred Stone, Tammy Midkiff, and Jerry Penner.

Seniors: Row 1: Don Conner and Fred Stone. Row 2: Jerry Penner, Kevin Flowers, Randy Gardner, and Vaughn Boggess.

Officers: Tim Mallard, Phil Wiseman, Kathy Little, Tim Gill, and Dean Sears.

"Face to Face"

This year the Math Club members solved the problem of declining enrollment by printing pamphlets which explained about the classes which are available at North Hardin. The pamphlet also explained how a good math background could be helpful in college. This active club came "face to face" with their problem, and through fund-raising activities, the members raised enough money to finance their publication.

Seniors: Eddie Waldman, Arvil Dobson, Mike Crum, Tim Sutton, and Bobby Baker.

Sophomores: Row 1: Chopper Williams, Lawrence Picket, Carolyn Kieta, Michelle Dew, Brenda Austin, April Barkman, Carol Gilliam, Harvey Scobie, and Walter Amburn. Row 2: Vickie Cox, Andrea Archibald, Helen Miller, Rosie Kruger, Donald Hite, Carla Breeding, Mike Hoffman, Deane Rice, and Shirley Ferreira. Row 3: Tom Entsminger, Vince Holloway, Greg Bowman, Darren Chapman, Steve Dwinnells, and Veronica Erickson.

"You and I" Should Appreciate Their Efforts.

Officers: Arvil Dobson, Jimmie Harbolt, and Bobby Baker.

"You and I" should appreciate the efforts of the Industrial Arts Club to make their club a successful one. The club members make toy train sets, and they also make plaques which are awarded at the athletic banquets. In addition, the club sponsors a float for football homecoming. These students have succeeded in gaining recognition for their organization.

The Library Club Aids "The Borrowers" of the School.

Officers: Row 1: Jo Holloway, Student Council Representative; Monica Bailey Taylor, Vice-President; and Julie Hinds, President. Row 2: Jackie Binhlam, Program Chairman; and Abby Baker, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Library Club is composed of the student aides who work in the library under the supervision of Miss Carr and Miss Coomer. These aides help the students and the faculty to utilize the resources which are available. The club sponsors a Book Fair, the Senior Movie, which is shown during Senior Week, and a trip to another library. The members truly aid "The Borrowers" of NHHS.

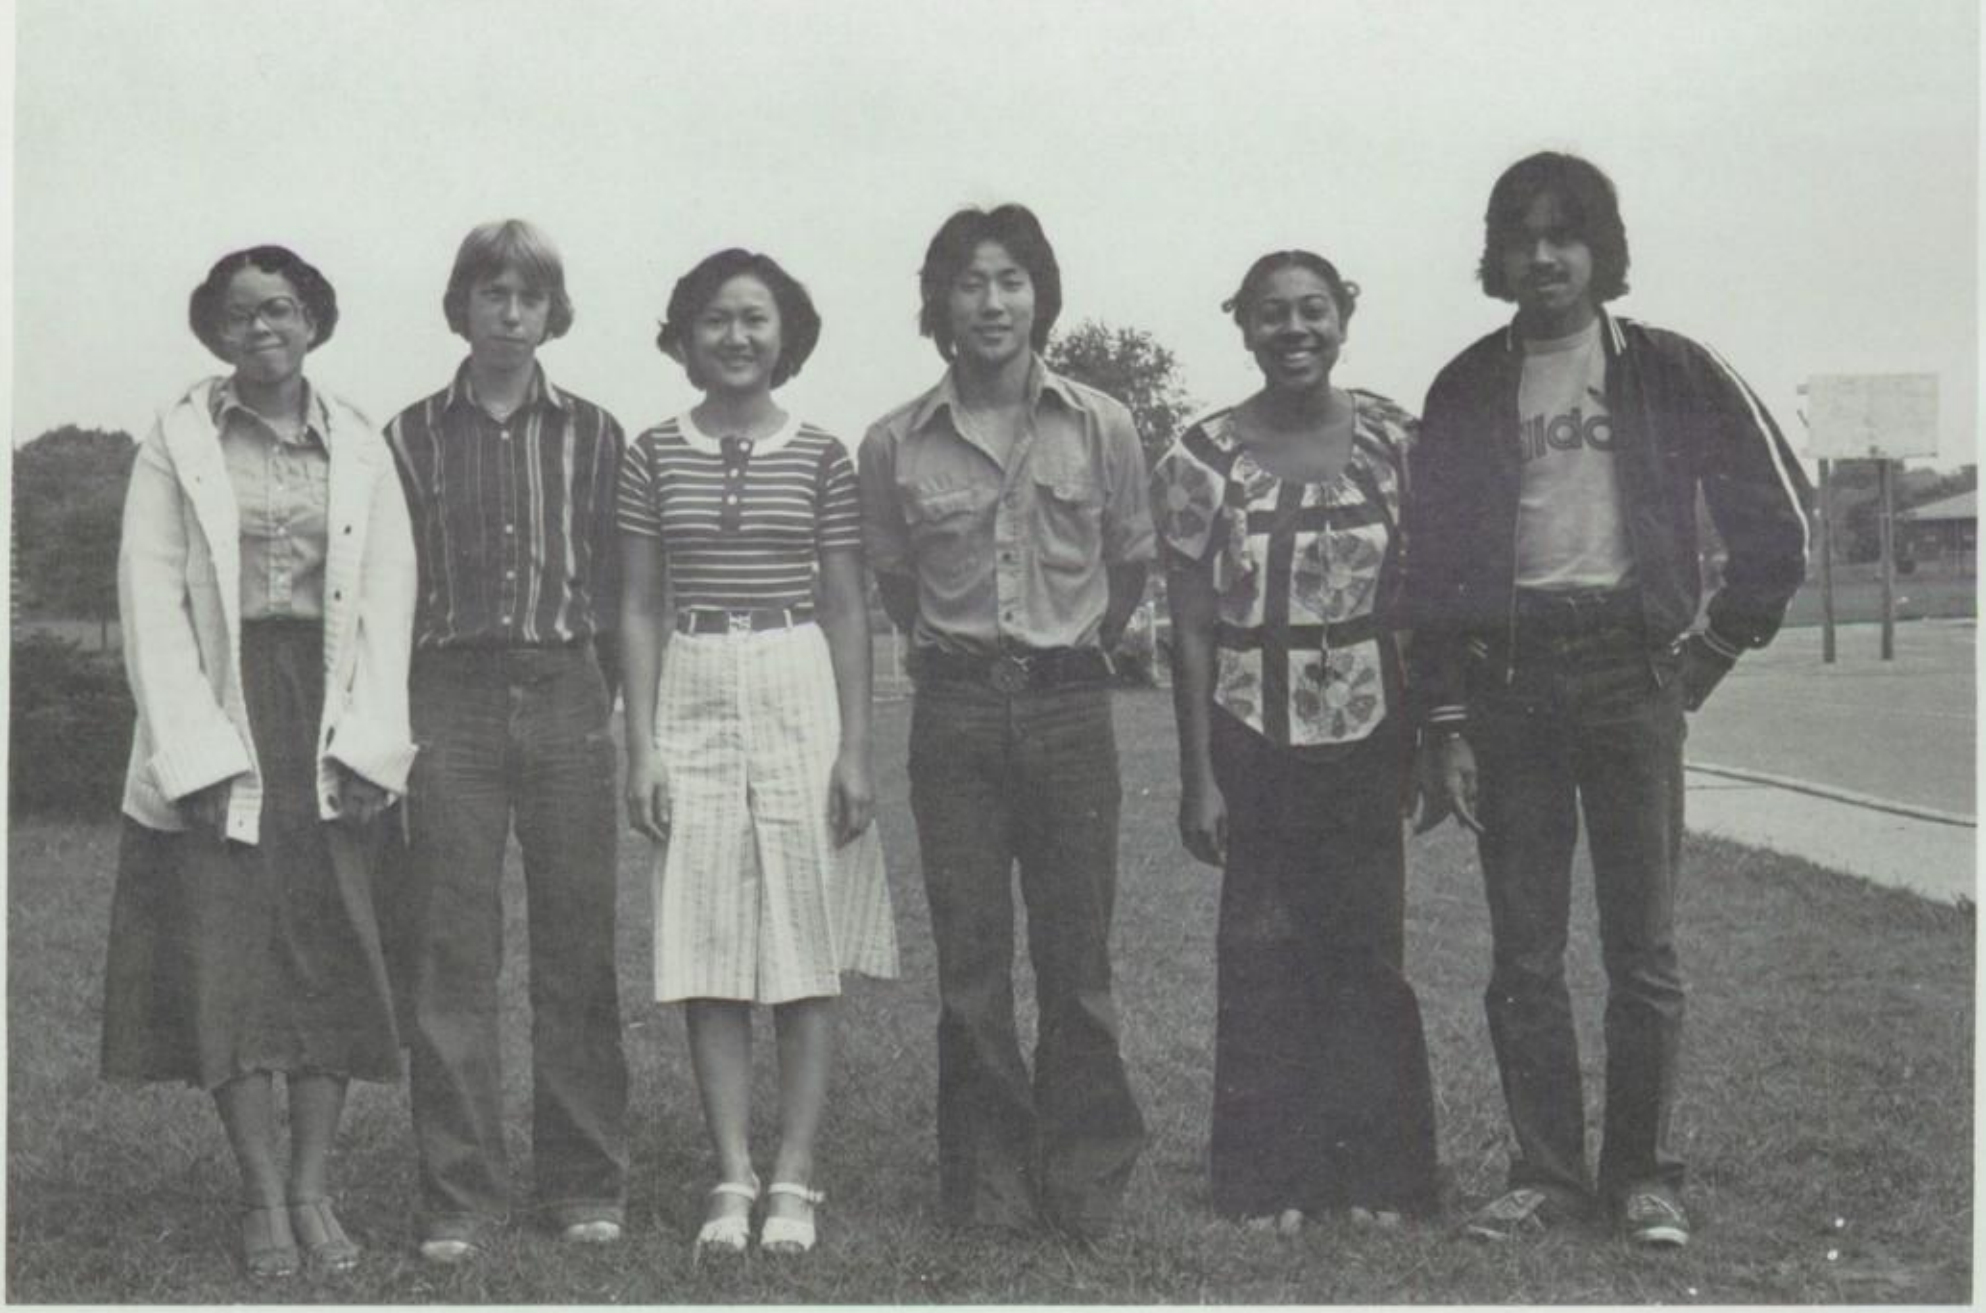
Row 1: Carla Breeding, Linda Smith, and Valerie Hamm. Row 2: Scott Stout, James Scarborough, Dobehi Lacaden, and Lynn Shipp. Row 3: Mrs. Bogue and Ed Jordan.

"Is There Life After Graduation?"

Officers: Row 1: Linda Smith and Valerie Hamm. Row 2: Lynn Shipp, Scott Stout, Mrs. Bogue, and Ed Jordan.

"Is there life after graduation?" For most people, this would be a seemingly impossible topic to discuss. However, members of the Speech Club must be ready to speak on any topic at a moment's notice. Extemporaneous speaking, debate, and poetry are only some of the categories, and our students are always prepared for their debutes.

Row 1: Jackie Binhlam, President, French Club; Tanya Joseph, Vice President, French Club; Sharon Marsee, Treasurer, Spanish Club; George Flores, Secretary, Spanish Club; and Doris Gilliams, Student Council representative. Row 2: Craig Thompson, Sergeant-at-Arms; Beth McIntyre, Secretary, French Club; James Yates, Spanish Club, Vice President; John Marsino, French Club Treasurer; Bobby Villaneuva, Spanish Club, President; and Mrs. Mallard, Sponsor.



Seniors: Tanya Joseph, James Yates, Jackie Binhlam, Tim Gill, Lavette Allen, and Bobby Villaneuva.

Sophomores: Row 1: Wilma Abshire, Jill Burris, Jamie Mallard, and Sarah Bowling. Row 2: David Tilton, Rick Powell, and Glenn Allen.

They Speak "In Their Own Words."

Fourteen of the Spanish Club members spent the year preparing for the Fourth District Foreign Language Festival. Mike Palmares took first place honors in foods.

The French and Spanish Club also attended the International Folk Festival in Cincinnati.

The club members enjoy being able to converse with club members "in their own words" and in the language of people of other lands.

Executive Board Members: Teresa Brandon, Donna Deaton, Jose Cubero, Blake Proffitt, Rick Stewart, Teresa Lowry, Connie Drake, and Mike Gallagher

The Letterman's Club Reaches For "The Big Sky."

The Lettermen's Club here at North Hardin is a very active one. Its members include those students who have lettered in sports. The club's activities include sponsoring both the senior-faculty game and the Homecoming Dance. Their major goal this year was to raise enough money to obtain lights for the baseball field so that more games could be played in the evenings than in years past.

Sophomores: Row 1: Wayne Mason, Sharon Bryant, Teresa Brandon, and Obie Spratling. Row 2: Greg Crockett and Vince Holloway.

Officers: Rick Stewart, Pete Baney, Julia Jahr, Vickie Hannah, and Jimmy Harbolt

Row 1: John Mahanna, Steve Butler, Dee Dee Caldera, Peggy Thomas, and Greg Yates. Row 2: Bobby Jones, Jim Dedmon, Hilda Brown, Anita McKee, and Lisa Clayton.

Scientific Invention May Begin with "Magnificent Obsession."

Mr. Smith takes being a co-sponsor for the Science Club seriously.

Mr. Stein is a sponsor for the Club.

The members of the Science Club are driven by the desire to learn about the different interests and aspects of science. The members are given a chance to express their ideas and interests by participating in the Science Fair which is held during the spring of each year.

The fair is held at the Hardin County Board of Education and the winners are presented with trophies during a program held at Hardin Central Junior High School.

A reality starts with a dream and who knows? The next great scientific invention may be started with a "Magnificent Obsession."

 Patty catches a little bit of "shut-eye."

Anita and Don really know how to "Relax."

"Where Are the Children?"

The Student Action for Education Club is made up of those students who are interested in someday becoming teachers. Their one main goal is to help establish a better relationship between the students and the teachers here at North Hardin. The club had many activities planned this year, including a Teacher Appreciation Day. The members of this club will someday be our children's educators.

Officers: Mrs. Medlin, sponsor; Julie Hartline, Vice President; Russell Gross, President; Denette Myers, Treasurer; and Patty Heard, Secretary.

Seniors: Row 1: Patty Heard, and Denette Myers. Row 2: Russell Gross, Jane Goodrich, Lisa Logsdon, Barbara Wise, and Trisha Correa.

Dinky makes the most of every opportunity, especially where girls are concerned.

Vicki has a problem—she found her way into the wrong room!

Doobie and Vicky, a visitor to our school, are pleased by the presence of our photographer. I wish all of our photographic subjects were so cooperative.

Karen Ray and "Starsky" are either engaged in a staring contest with the cameraman, or they are looking for "Hutch."

"The Forgotten Smile"

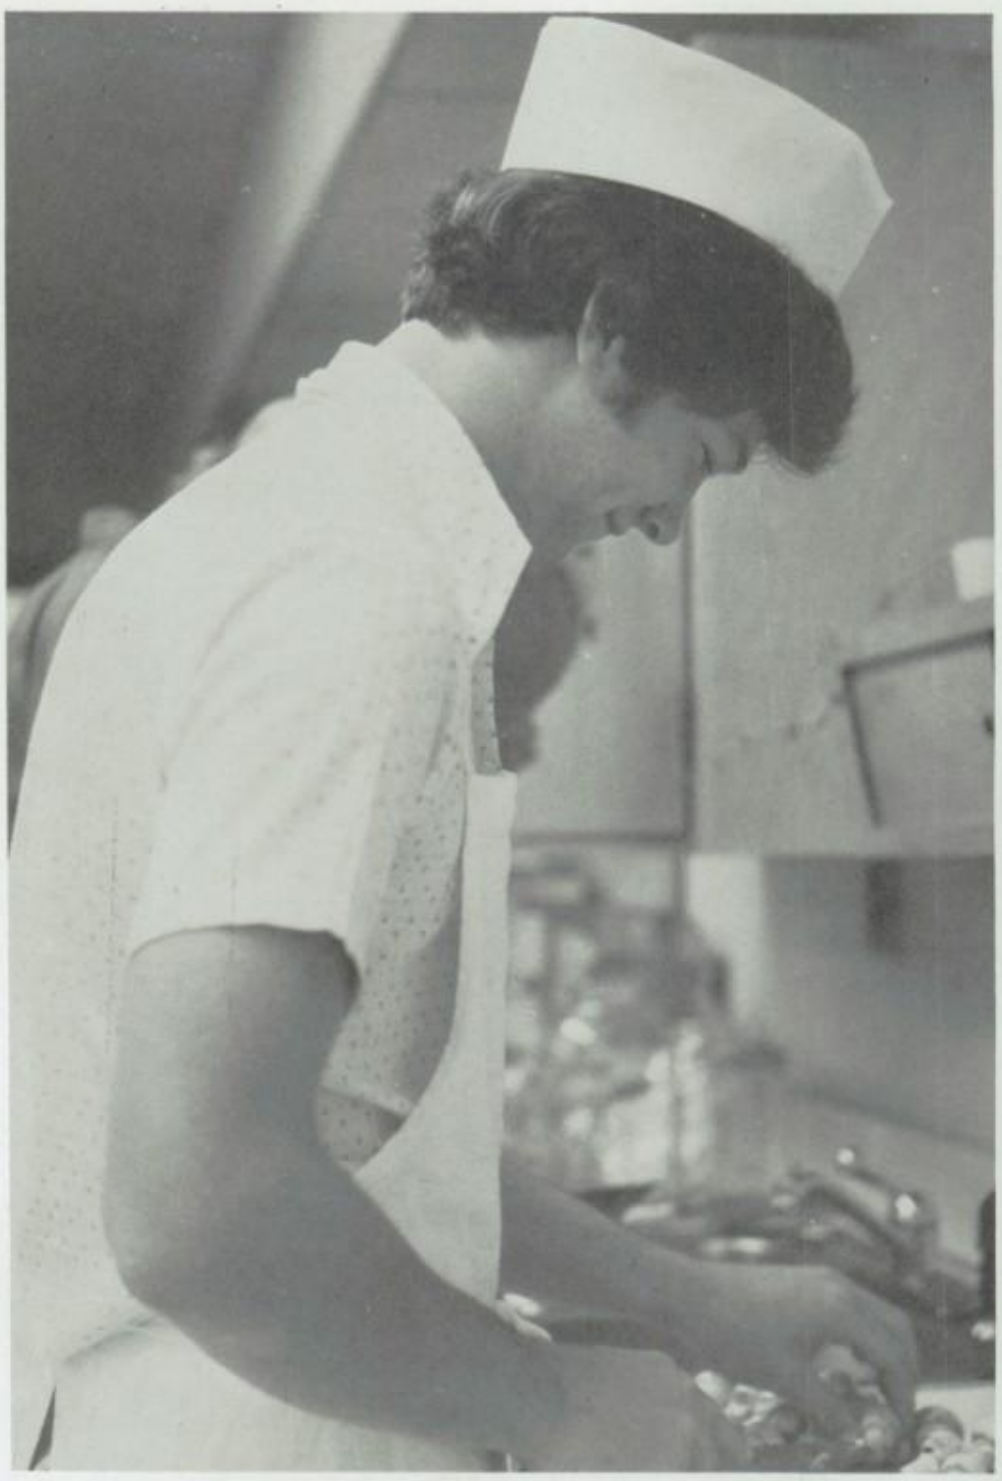
For These Students "Once Is Not Enough."

The Student Council is one of the most active organizations in our school. Four students from each class and an alternate from the class, and a representative from each club make up the Council. The council members feel that "once is not enough" when it comes to helping others, so this organization makes its presence felt all year long. The members sponsor the football and basketball homecoming activities and the Parent-Student Swap Day. They were instrumental in forming the National Honor Society. For outstanding Seniors, the Student Council set up the "Book of Gold", and they nominate students for the "Best Boy and Girl Citizen" awards.

To help students get in touch with other students, the members compiled a telephone directory called "Dial a Trojan." To help promote school spirit, the organization sponsored Spirit Week. The members also held fund-raising activities to raise money for a college scholarship.

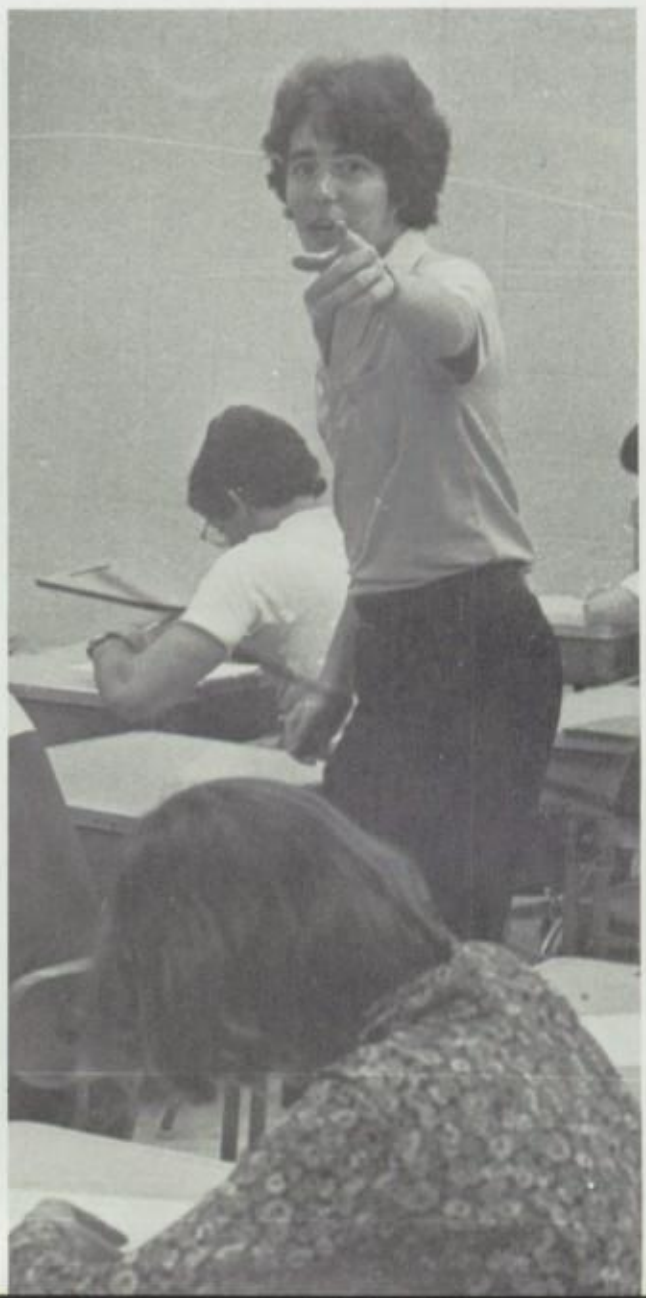
The Student Council has definitely been very active this year, and we are certainly glad that for these students "once is not enough."

 Officers: Linda Smith, Valerie Hamm, Jose Cubero (President), Teresa Lowry, Rhonda Waggoner, and Debbie Haraway.



Publications

The staff members of the TROJAN TRIUMPH and THE TROJAN are faced with a very difficult task. It is the responsibility of these individuals to report to the student body and to capture on film the daily events which occur at NH. There is excitement to be found in every activity which takes place—from the classroom to those special events. We hope that we have accomplished the task that was set before us, and we hope that we have given you something to smile about.

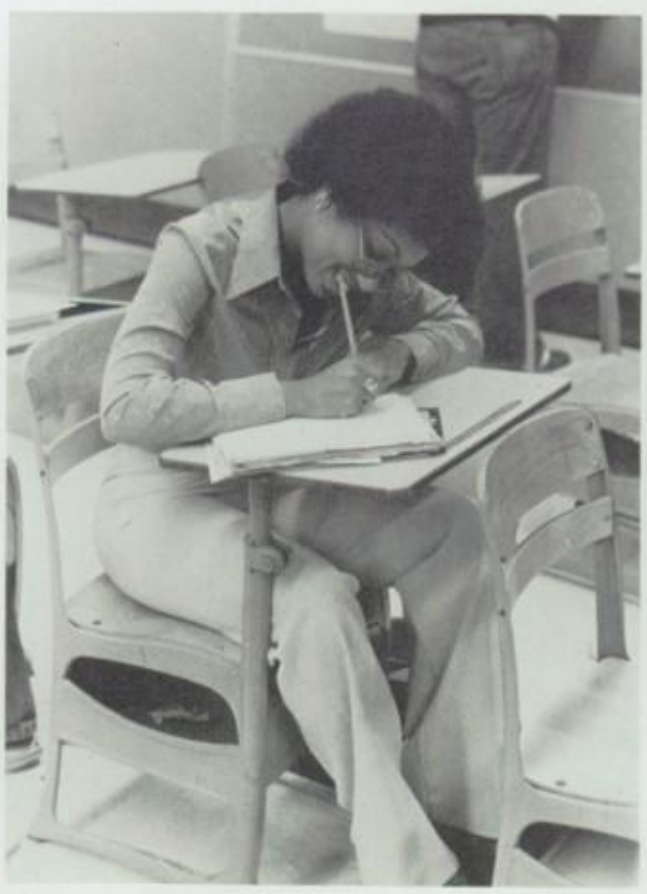


The TROJAN TRIUMPH staff works quietly and efficiently to get their monthly edition out on time.

Valerie seems to be in a daze. She must be thinking of someone special.

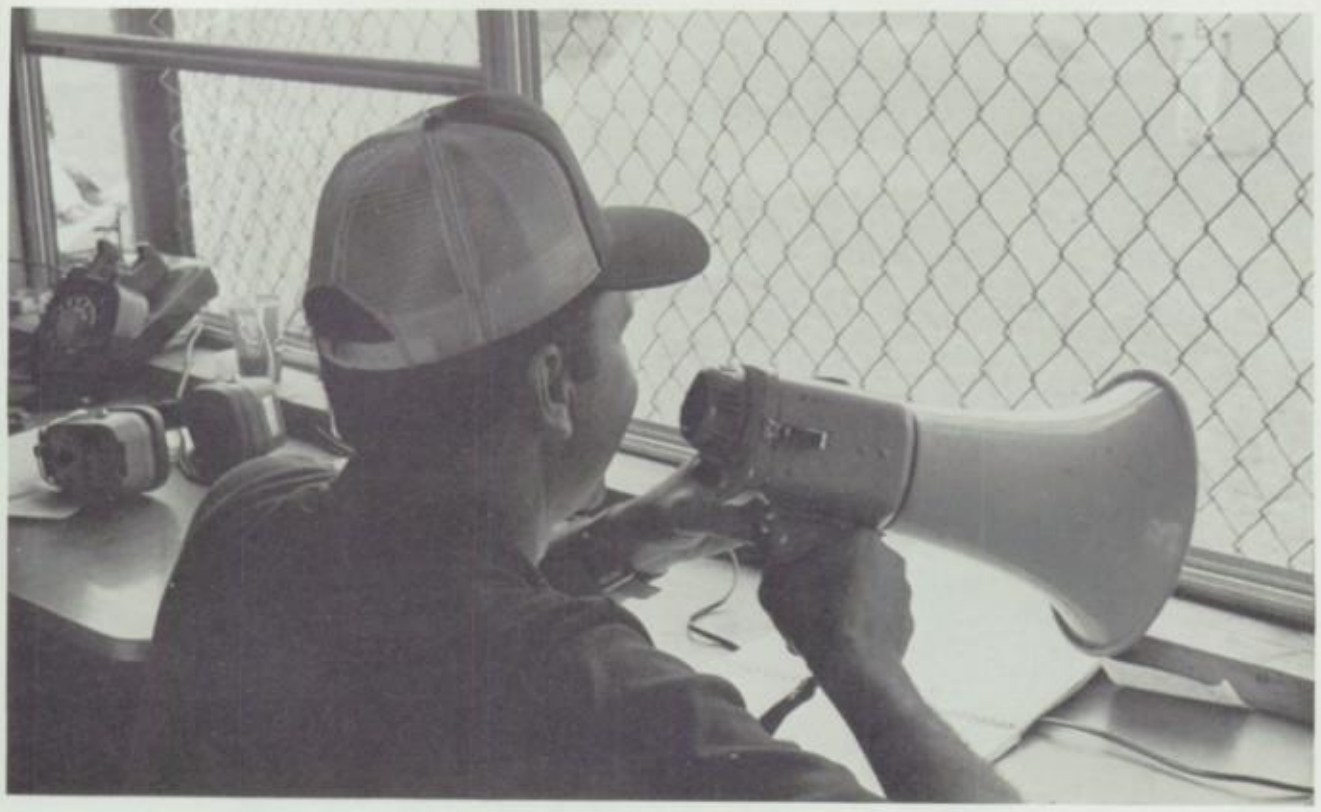
Craig and Bill are trying to act busy with writing their stories, so that Mr. Ellis won't fuss at them.

"That perfume your wearing is driving me crazy!!!"

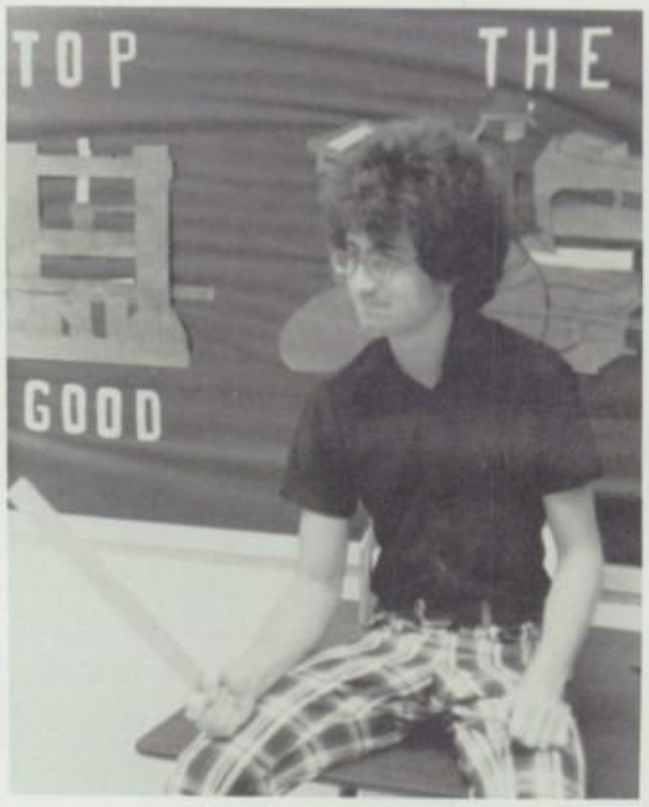


Alice, what are you writing that's so secretive? You like to keep us guessing, huh?

"Tanya, did you see that?" "Yeah, Patty, he's cute."



It is Mr. Ellis's first year of being the sponsor for the Journalism staff, and it was a successful one. He enjoys helping his students come up with interesting stories.



Editor Bruce Kabalen ruled the staff with an iron hand.

These Students Know "How to Run a School Newspaper."

Patty Hohenstein ignores our cameraman as she types.

These students know "how to run a school newspaper." The staff is composed of fifteen students who are given the responsibility of printing a monthly publication called the TROJAN TRIUMPH. Interviewing, editing, typing, proofreading, and pasting are some of the things one must know in order to have a newspaper. The students have the knowhow and creativity and most of all the writing ability to make sure that each issue will be a good one.

Tena Vervilles enjoyed her position as reporter for the TROJAN TRIUMPH.

The task of being feature page editor was given to Alice Stoner.

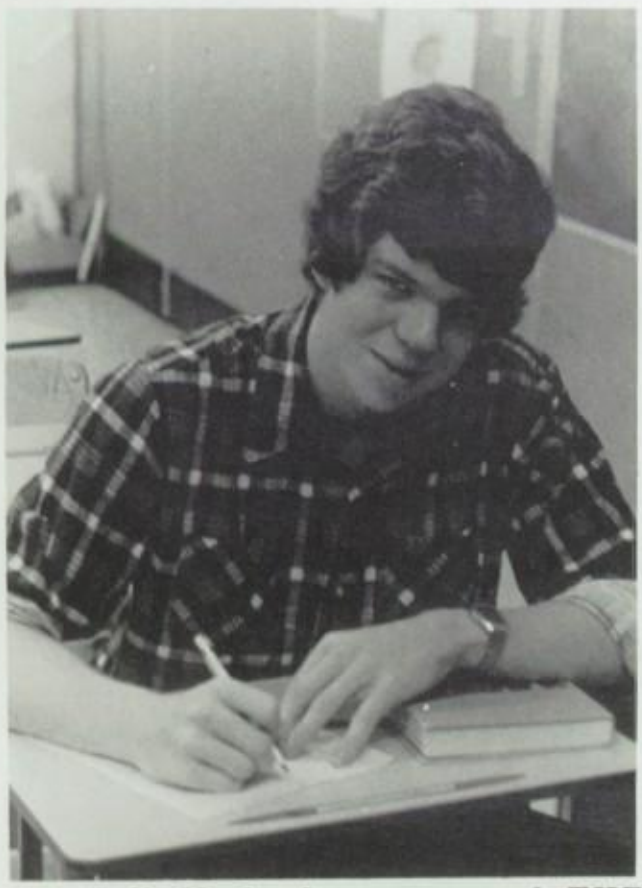
Tanya Joseph spent most of her time this year as exchange editor for THE TROJAN.

Valerie Hamm did a good job as a copy reader and typist for the 1978 newspaper staff.

Kurt McWhirter displayed his knack for taking pictures.

Vickie Hannah did a superb job as sports editor for THE TRIUMPH.

Patty Hohenstein enjoyed covering the sports events at North Hardin.



Bill Michael was one of THE TRIUMPH'S photographers, and he did well.

Betty Davis also contributed her photographic ability.

The task of being advertising manager was given to Margaret Ryan.

"Quick, Julie, hide those pictures while I distract them with my smile."

Regina laughs at a picture that she thinks is funny.

"What evil thing can I do next?"

What did you put in that box, Don?

"Who has my sucker, gang? Come on—give it to me!"

"Don't you two just love my new hairdo. I did it myself."

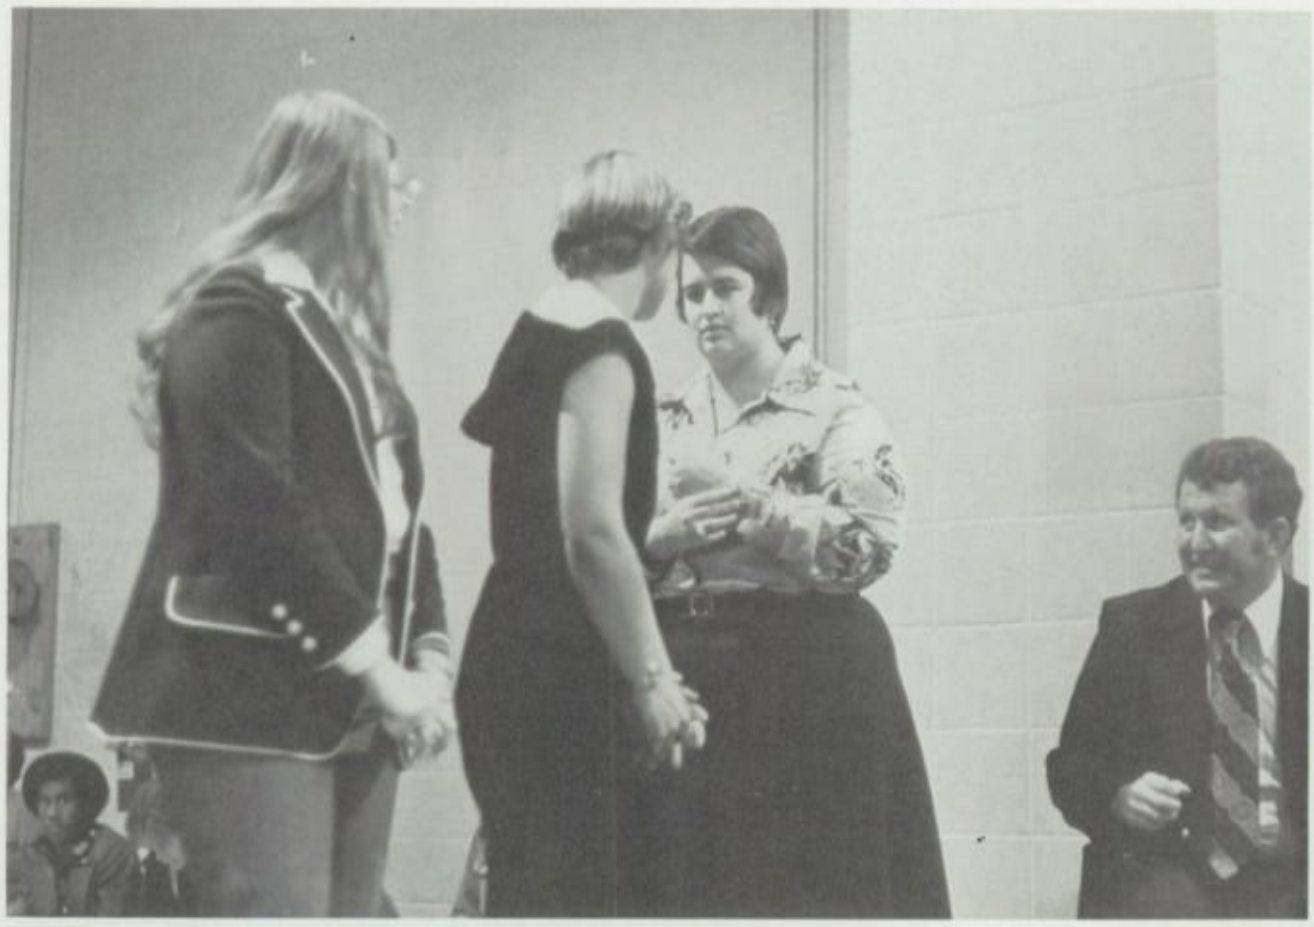
"Who me? I wouldn't do something like that to Miss Bishop!"

"Hi, mom. Don't we look just great? Of course we are behaving!"

Belinda and Janet are tired after a long day at school.

Come on, Angela; give us a smile. We know it can't be that bad!"

The '77 annual was given out the same day the Seniors received their rings.



Regina Plegge and Belinda Huston walk on the stage to present the special awards which are given by the annual staff each year.

Vince Crume is overwhelmed as he is recognized by the staff.

Vince happily receives the annual which Regina presents to him.

Mr. McKinley gives Julie Hinds a hug after she recognizes him in her "Dedication" speech. He had been an active teacher here at NH for 20 years.

Belinda Huston congratulates Mr. Sims on being recognized in THE TROJAN '77.

Miss Bishop has worked with the annual for a total of 7 years. She has dedicated much time and effort to the difficult task of completing a 384-page annual.

Assistant editor Regina Plegge spent a lot of time drawing layouts for the Junior section.

Annual Staff Members Face "Hard Times."

Julie Hinds has been on the staff for 2 years, and was editor of the 1978 TROJAN. She did a good job planning, drawing, and proofreading layouts.

Annual staff members face "hard times", and this proved to be true as we assembled the '78 yearbook. Many people do not realize what tremendous effort it takes to put out a publication of this size. Thirty five hundred pictures have to be taken, developed, printed, and then drawn to fit the various sections in the yearbook. It takes much dedication, a great deal of time, and of course the will to get the job done.

Diana Sutton was in charge of the publications section of the 1978 TROJAN.

Belinda Huston was given the task of completing the Senior section.

Gloria McElroy spent her time drawing for the sports section.

Lori Gilliam gets pictures out of her administration file to draw a layout.

Florence Schreier worked on the program of studies, which contains over 90 pages.

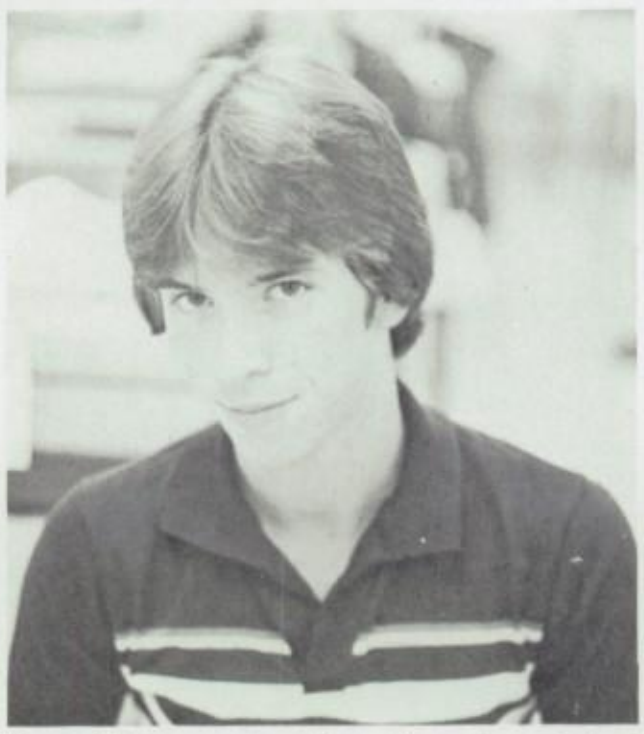
Rick Entsminger has been an annual staff photographer for two years.

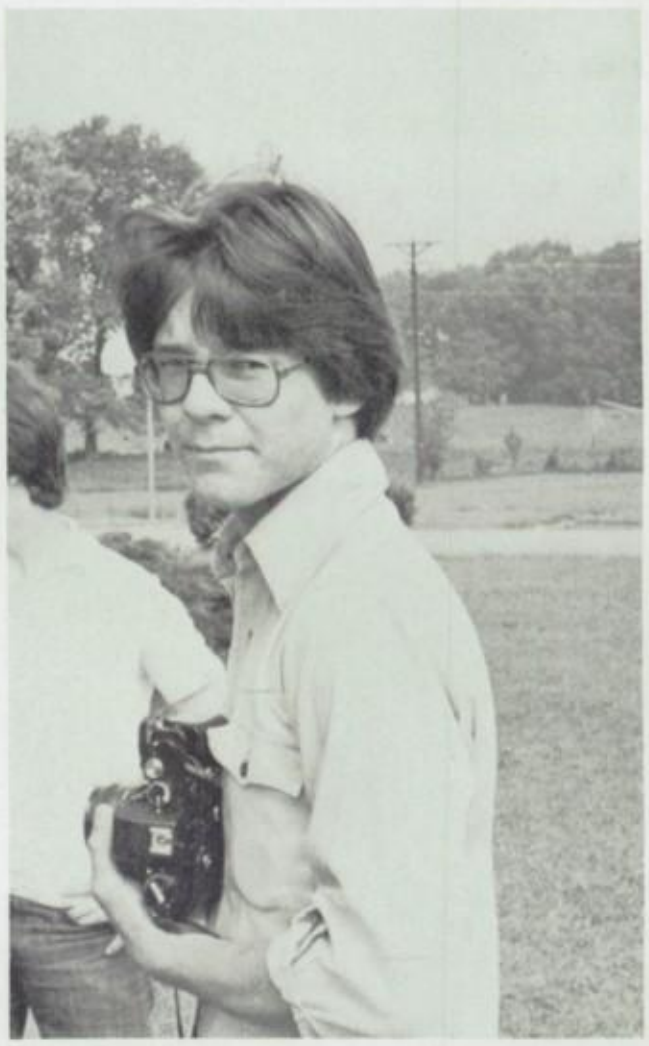
John Mahanna spent a lot of time taking pictures for THE TROJAN.

Bill Lacy was Business Manager this year, and he did a fine job.

CANDIDS OF ANNUAL STAFF



Don Conner developed and printed many pictures for our publication.



Joey Starkey is always ready to take pictures of the action—wherever it is!

Jeff, put down that money and get your camera!

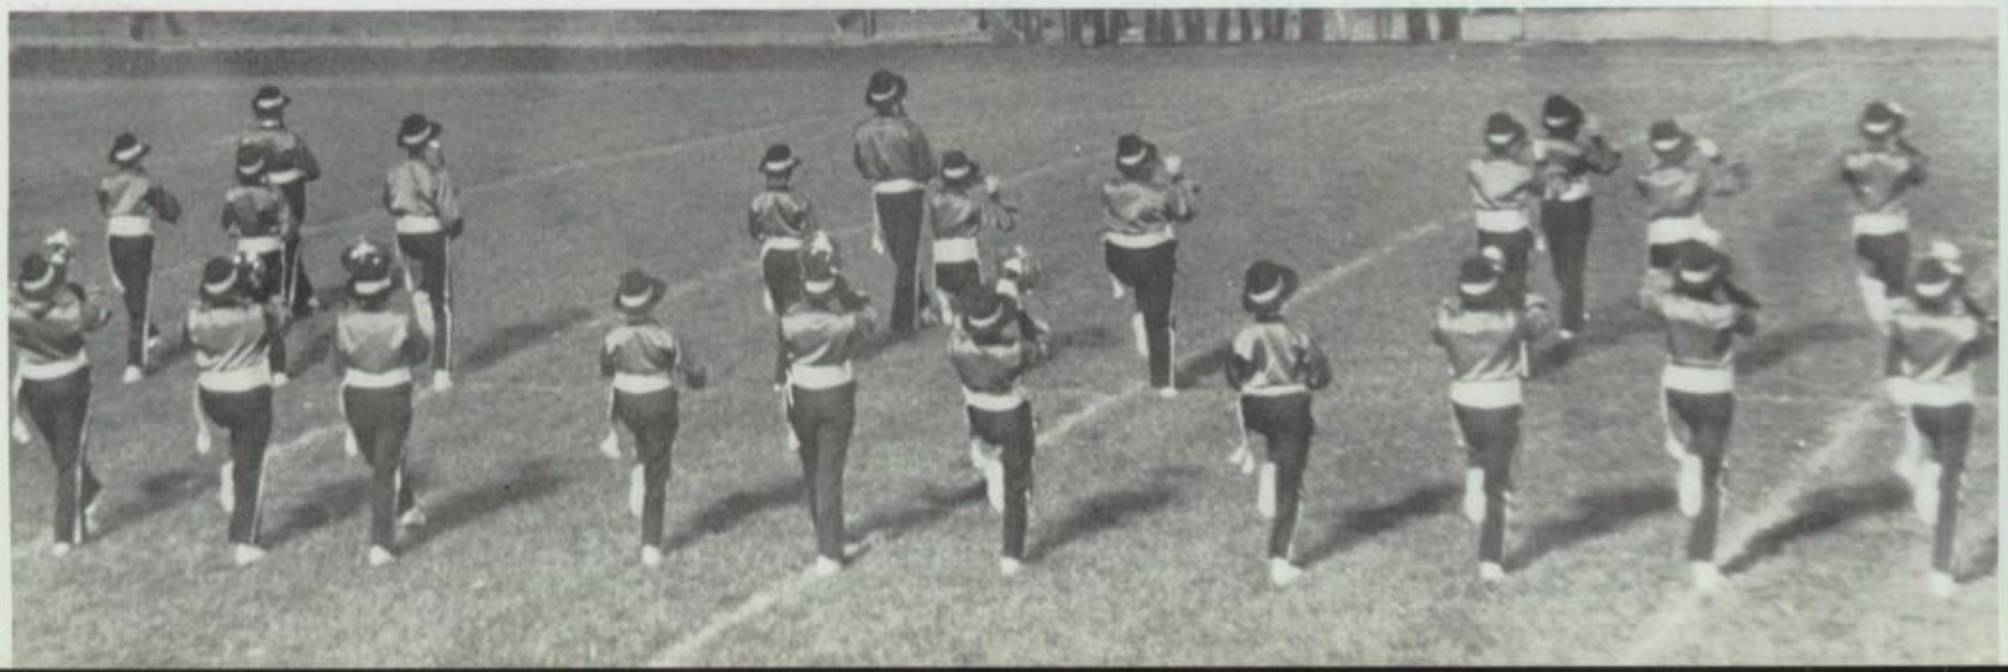
Features

The various pageants, concerts and other activities which occur here at North Hardin every year are full of color and excitement. Happy faces, music, various forms of entertainment, and pretty girls help to make all of our special events something to see. Because of their outstanding color and dazzling beauty, all of the features here at North Hardin seem like "a walk to the hills of dreamtime.

Mr. Sims is a firm believer that "practice makes perfect."

The flag girls "do their thing."

Debbie leads the Marching Trojans.



"Hey! Have you seen another shoe like this anywhere?"

Max Foster seems to be preoccupied with something across the field.

"Oh, my! What's that thing crawling around on the ground."

"Strike Up the Band."

As you can see by the look on Oscar's face, he is ready to perform.

Each band member has to make sure that every minor detail is perfect.

Allen Davis watches intently as his fellow band members prepare to march.

This gang looks as if they are ready to take on just about anybody.

Cindy, Patty, and Vena are happy, but tired.

The percussion section leaves the field after another fine performance.

"Hey, do you like my horn?"

The Band Boosters are always willing to lend a helping hand.

Debbie directs the band in their first number.

Tena, Trish, Anita, Vickie, and Rayann are happy to have been a part of the band.

Debbie Haraway is at the helm of command of the Marching Trojans.

"See, Ma! We don't have any cavities."

These clowns are getting ready for their inspection.

The Trojans climb the stairs to get ready for their performance.

The members prepare to march out on the field.

The beginning of the show is always a thrill.

"Winners Never Quit"

"Winners never quit" and the North Hardin Marching Band never stops giving exciting performances during the contest season. Despite their success, Mr. Sims and the members spend countless hours making small changes and variations to make their program even more entertaining. It's "hats off" to our marchers.

The trombone quartet, composed of Blake Proffitt, Tim Mallard, Brian Willcut, and Dean Sears, performs "Going Out of My Head."

The band members rest after their entertaining show.

North Hardin

These 20 lovely young ladies have definitely been an asset to the Marching Trojans this season. Each girl survived stiff competition and many hours of practice in order to gain her position. During the summer, all girls attended camp to learn marching techniques and drill formations. The girls perfected their routines, and they put on an excellent presentation each time they performed. "When the cheering stopped," they could smile and know that they had done their best.

"The Greats" Are Honored at the Spring Sports Banquet.

The Spring Sports Banquet is held near the end of each school year to honor athletes who participate in tennis, track, golf, and baseball. "The greats" of North Hardin's spring sports are honored at this time. The award recipients and their families have a very enjoyable evening.

We Have "The Will" to Move Onward and Upward.

Two of the most important positions in any band are the field commander and the band director, and we have two of the most capable here at North Hardin. The director of the Trojan Band is Mr. Michael Sims. Mr. Sims has worked very hard, and he has the "will" to move forward. Because of this determination, Mr. Sims and the band have accomplished many things. He is the type of person who gains respect without demanding it. The band's motto is, "We can, we will, we must," and we have found that the band members live up to their motto.

The band's many accomplishments include Middle Division Winner at the Kentucky State Fair; Middle Division Winner, Sweepstakes Winner and Best Flag Corps Winner at the Governor's Cup Contest; first Place Winner in the Music Bowl I; second place in the Fourth District; third place and a superior rating at Murfreesboro; first place, Sweepstakes Winner, and Best Field Commander at the Meade County Invitational.

The field commander for this year is Miss Debbie Haraway. She feels that being field commander is one of the greatest honors at North Hardin, and she is very proud to hold this position. Mr. Sims has assured us that the band's winning tradition will continue.

Johnny, Larry, and George are quite talented coronet players, and they can hardly wait for the concert to begin so they can put this talent to use.

Melanie and Debbie are having their problems—their lips are stuck together.

"Oh, you're not going to take my picture are you? Well, if you are, let me pose."

These young ladies are raring and ready to go.

Janette, isn't it very difficult to see your music with your eyes closed?

Kim Raine has accompanied the chorus this year and has been a great asset.

The women's ensemble has worked extremely hard this year. They show the maturity it takes to make the best possible impression on an audience.

Each year around Christmas and springtime the North Hardin High Chorus performs a special concert for the student body. The chorus works hard all year long, in preparation for a contest at Western Kentucky University. Mrs. White is the director, and she not only selects the music for the whole chorus, but she also prepares songs for special men's and women's ensembles, triple trios, and solos. The chorus has done an outstanding job, and they have brought much recognition to North Hardin. We salute these outstanding young people.

I Wonder If "The Osmonds" Got Started This Way?

The sopranos put as much feeling as possible in the songs they sing.

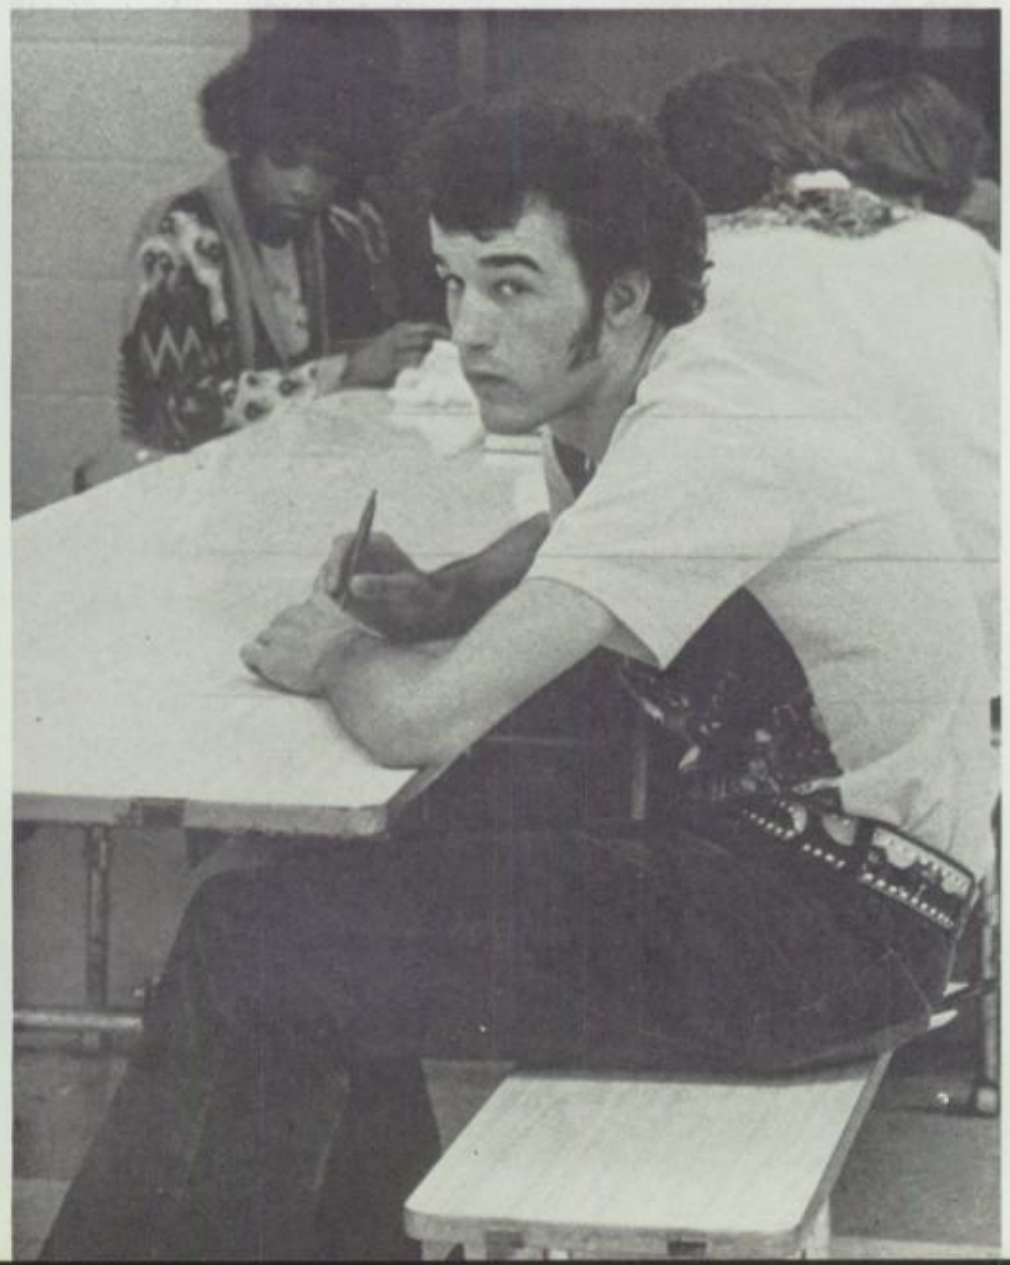
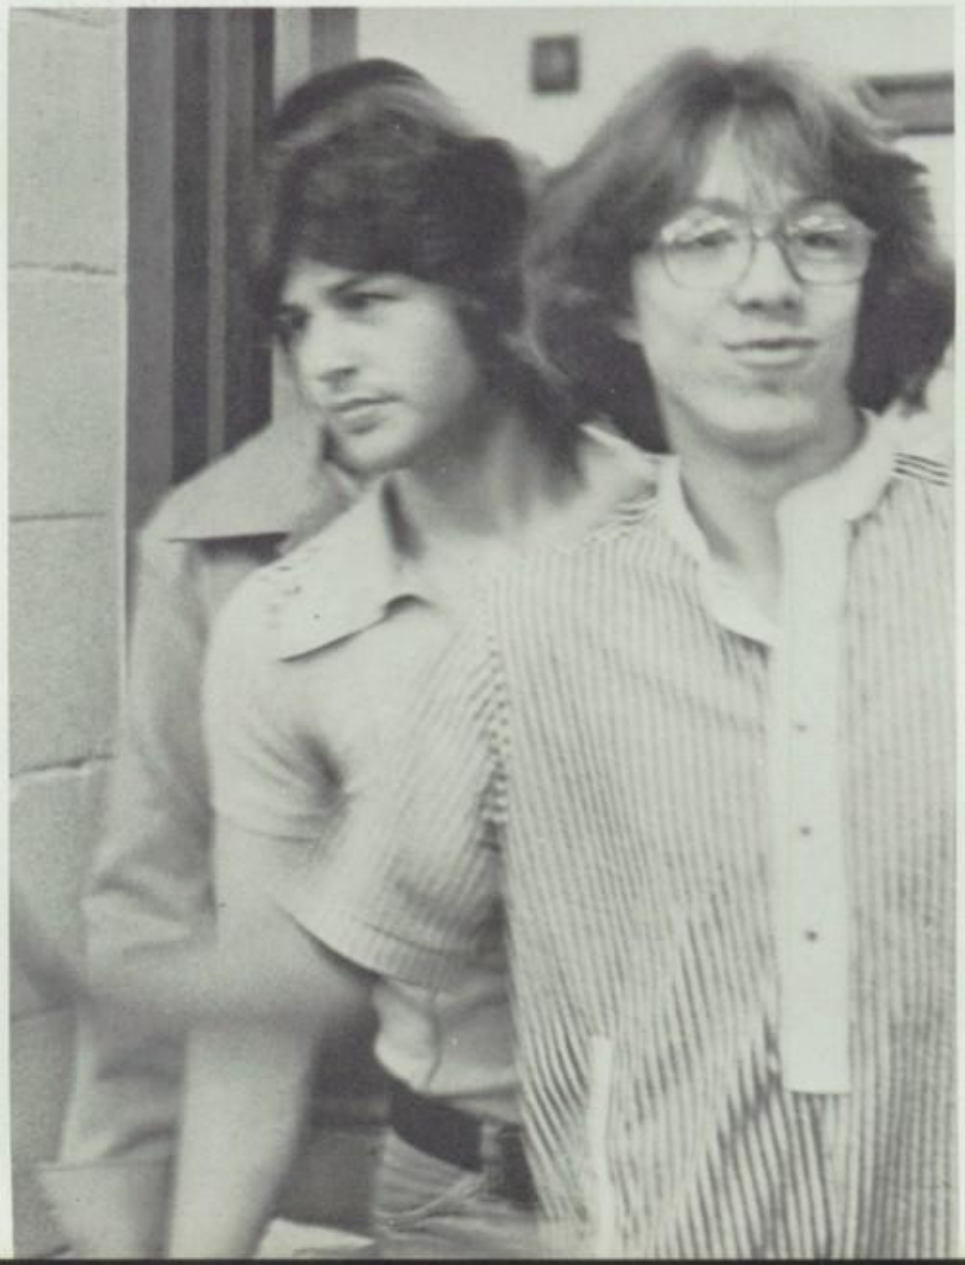
"This Is America."





The judges' panel consisted of Mr. Michael Sims (alias Rex Reed), B. J. Thomas, and Mrs. Ayn Gelinas (alias J. P. Morgan). They were entertaining as well.

Dinky and Denette did a great job of announcing the performers.

Vicky is queen of the jungle.

Nanette, Marsha, and Rayann tried to dance their way to stardom.

Sir Courtney of Jeter recited an original poem, and the audience loved it.

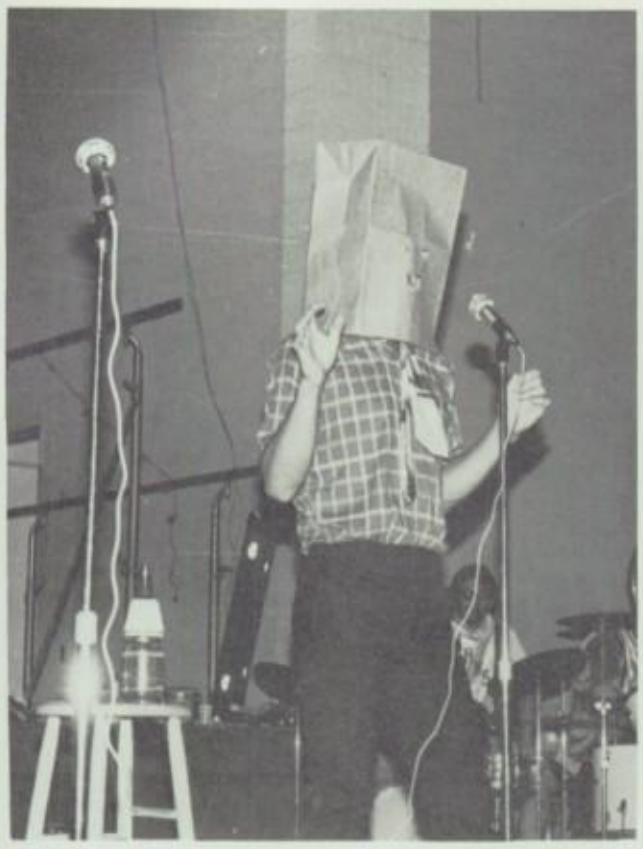
Courtney always was a ham, and this gave him the perfect chance to show his style.

Rosa Brooks dances to the new hit, Bootzilla.

Mark Luper and J. P. Gelinas put on a great show for the Seniors.

Bill, Darlene, Criag, and Alice did an act entitled "Peanut Butter and Jelly."

However, before the act was finished, the gong sounded!



Jim, take the bag off of your head. We know it's you and besides that, Halloween isn't until October.

Oscar and Cheryl Murray were the best brother and sister act in the talent show—they were also the only brother-sister act!

Second Runner-Up—Rayann Bowden

Take A Look "Beyond the Looking Glass."

Becky Jones was secretary of the Senior class in 1976-77.

Becky was a North Hardin cheerleader for all four years.

On May 6, 1977 the Miss North Hardin judges selected Becky Jones as 1st runner up. Through the pictures on this page, we have gone"beyond the looking glass" to show Becky as a typical North Hardin student.

Becky was captain of the cheerleading squad, 1st runner up in football homecoming, Art Club Sweetheart, Most Popular Senior Girl, Best Girl Citizen, and valedictorian of the 1977 Senior class. In addition Becky maintained an A average for 4 years. With all these accomplishments, no wonder she was chosen 1st runner up for Miss North Hardin.

Becky was first runner up in the Miss North Hardin pageants of '76 and '77.

As a cheerleader, Becky was captain of the varsity squad her senior year.

Becky participated in the Miss Gold City contest in 1976.

Becky looks at the certificate she receives for her A's.

Rhonda works hard on her talent presentation during practice.

Miss Rhonda Waggoner was crowned Miss North Hardin.

Rhonda Is Our "Lovely Child"

Rhonda has been cheering for the Trojans for seven years.

One of the most active, talented and beautiful students here at North Hardin is Miss Rhonda Waggoner. A cheerleader for five years, a member of various clubs, and a chorus member, Rhonda manages to keep herself busy. The biggest highlight of her sophomore year was being crowned Miss North Hardin. Rhonda is definitely our "Lovely Child."

As you can see by her smile, Rhonda enjoys attending NHHS.

Rhonda is proud of the sash and gold cup that was presented at the pageant.

The senior football players enjoyed their last Homecoming Parade.

Phil Sickly and the Upchucks were the entertainment at the dance.

Homecoming Is the Time for "Crowned Heads."

The week of October 28, 1977 was a very special week for students at North Hardin, because it was the week of homecoming festivities.

All week long the student body prepared for the gala event. The parade, which took place on Friday afternoon, was really something to see.

The climax of the week was the big game. At halftime, the winning floats were announced. The Senior class won the Class A division, and the Good News Club won the Class B division. Also at halftime Mr. Story "crowned the head" of Cindy Cox making her our new homecoming queen. The whirlwind of excitement is something to be remembered by all.

On the best day of her life, Mrs. Gelinas became a Kentucky hick.

Kenny Cimiotta won the "crazy hat" contest.

These Girls Should Be Proud to Go Through a "Hall of Mirrors."

Christine Cross entertained the students with some Latin music.

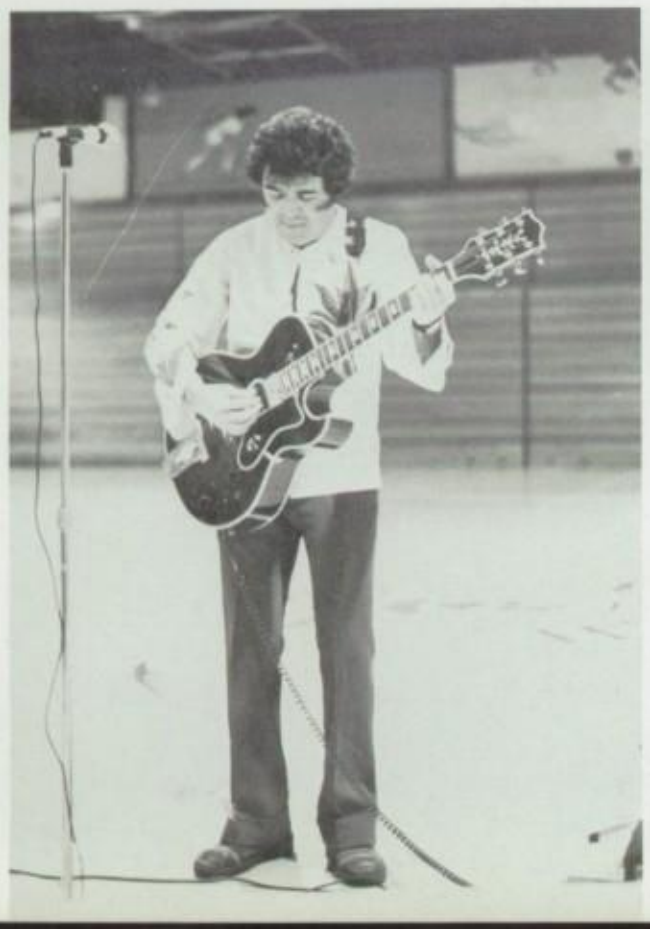
Christine chose some students to play different parts in a sketch about "Tarzan." As you can see, they all enjoyed it.

"Don Quixote" Would Have Liked This.

"I need a volunteer."

Christine sings to the students.

On February 21, Christine Cross and Manuel Delgado entertained the student body in a Southern Assembly Program, in which they played Latin music, and did a skit that was humorous, and that the students enjoyed very much. Not only did it entertain them, but it also gave the students an opportunity to hear music from different parts of the world, so it was educational as well as entertaining.



"Knock that ball over here!"

Mr. Downs really tries hard to get the ball.

The Seniors Were Out to Get the "Teacher's Blood."

The Senior-Faculty Basketball Game, has a special meaning to the seniors not only to have fun, but something they longed for. Even though it is a friendly game everyone knows the seniors are out to get the "Teacher's Blood". This year they accomplished that with a 57-56 romp over the faculty. It was a fine graduation present.

Miss Gold City . . . a Child's Dream

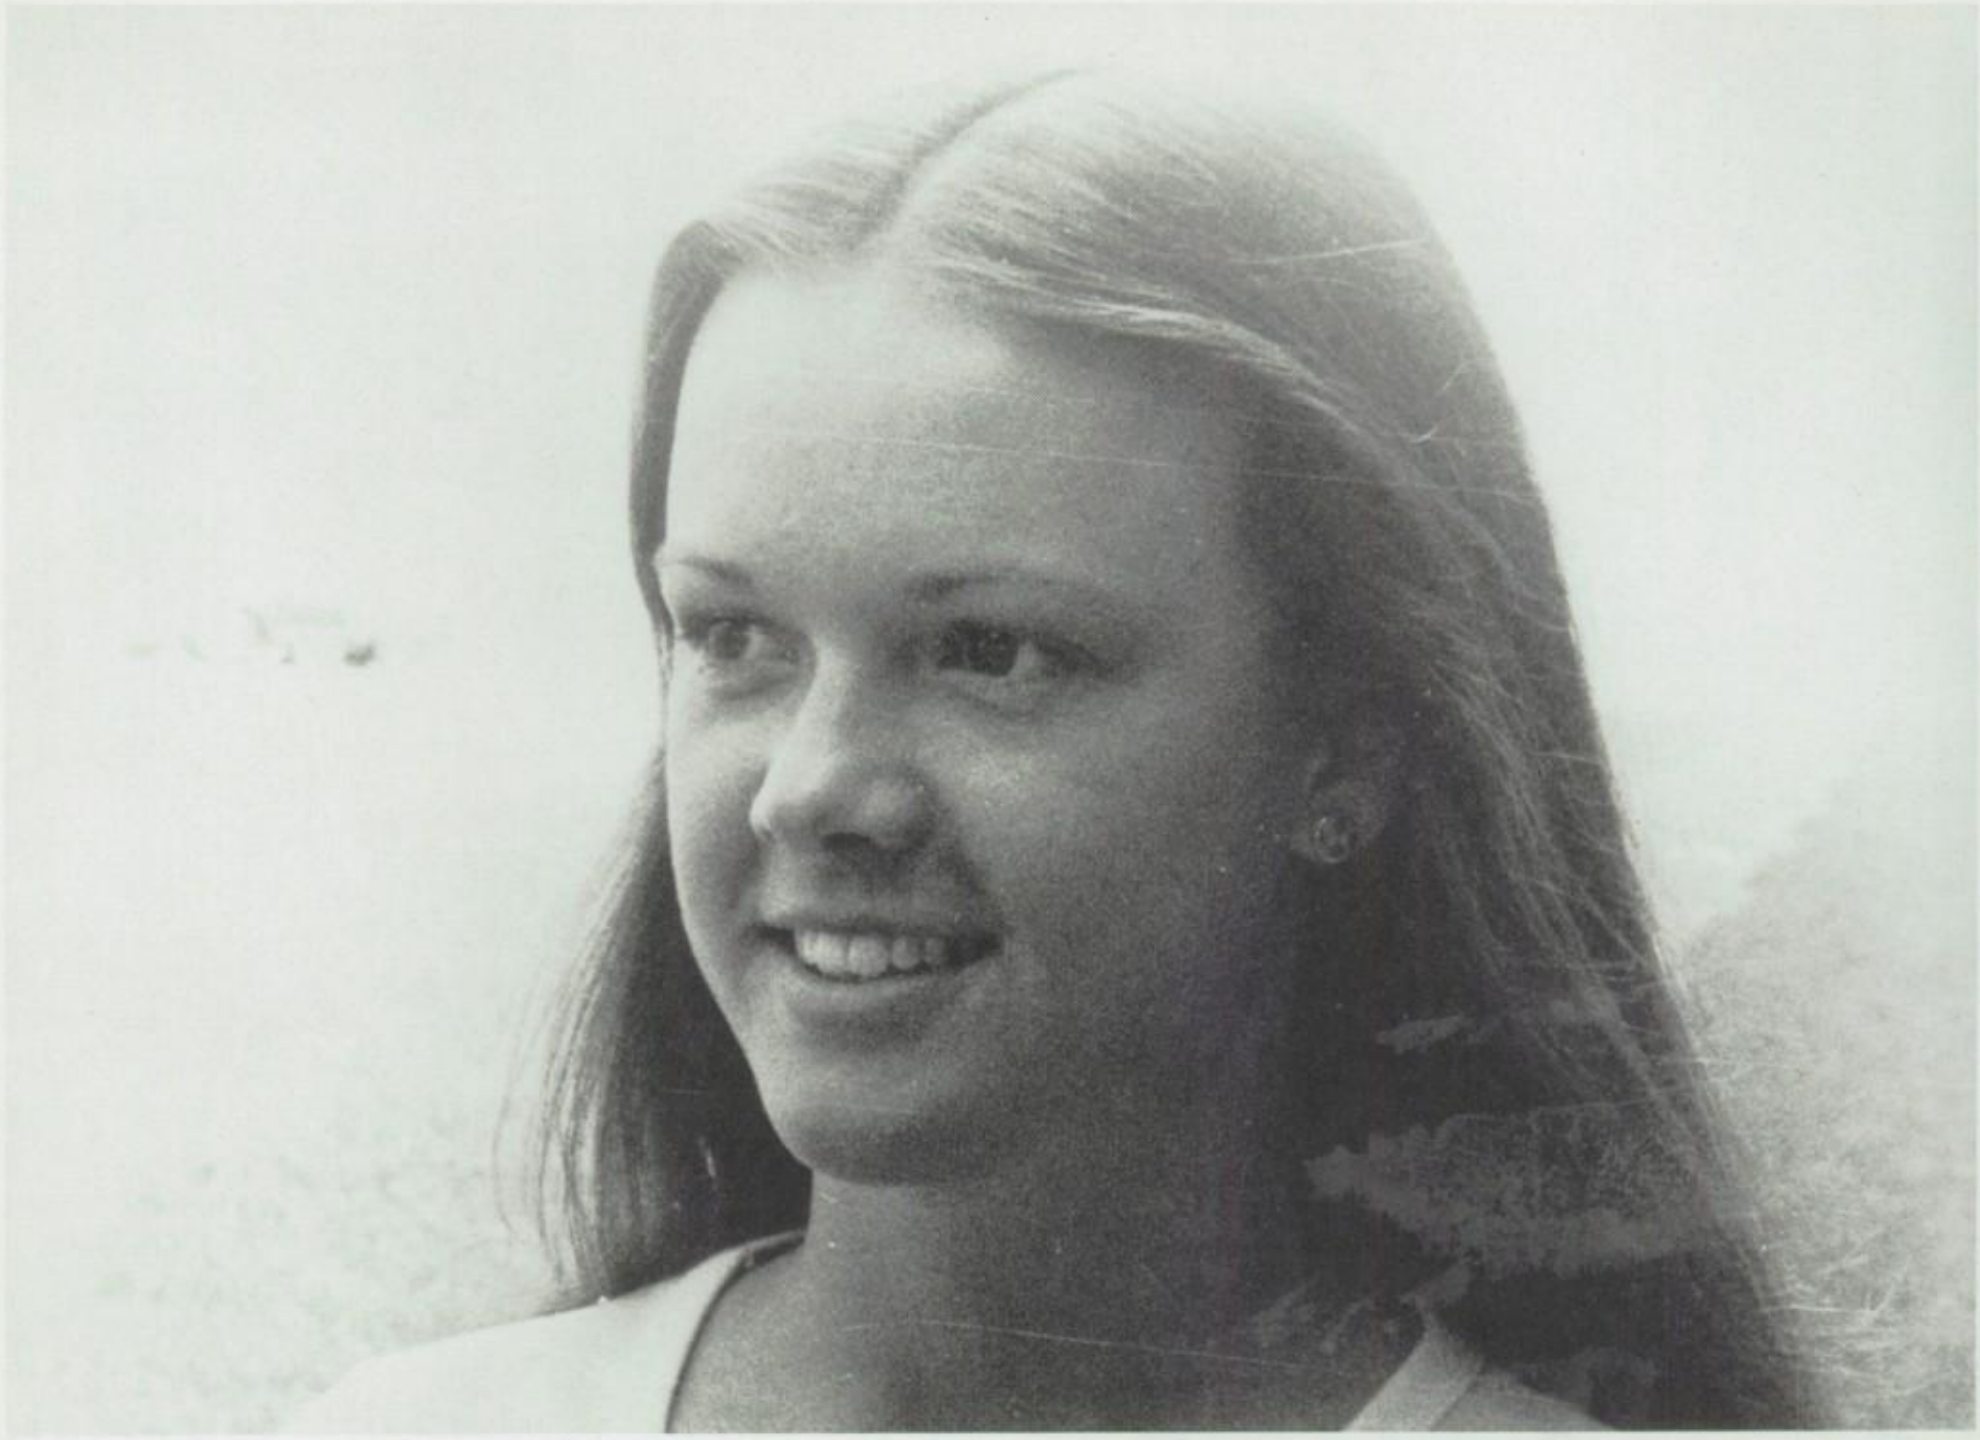
"Hi, there! We're just sitting around waiting for someone to take our picture."

Barbara Spradlin appears calm and relaxed before the pageant.

"A Child's Dream" was the theme of the seventh annual Miss Gold City Pageant. It was held at Parkway School on September 26, 1977. Twenty-four girls competed for the title. Twenty-one out of the 24 were from North Hardin. The contestants competed in evening dresses and swim suits. The title was given to Miss Terri Moore, a junior who attends North Hardin High School. First-runner-up was Susie Carlson, second-runner up was Sherry McGrew.

"This IS my best smile!"

"Hello! Don't we all have beautiful smiles?"



Susie Carlson—First runner-up

Sherry McGrew—Second runner-up

Stephanie Burroughs—Miss Congeniality

Terri Moore—Miss Gold City 1977

Patty Heard smiles at the judges as she walks down the ramp.

Nannette Nichols pauses and flashes a smile at the end of the ramp.

Betty Yates makes a lovely addition to the Miss Gold City Pageant.

Stephanie Burroughs flashes a lovely smile at the audience.

Sherry McGrew appears calm during the swimsuit competition.

These lovely girls are just some of North Hardin's contributions to the Miss Gold City Pageant.

Santa Claus brings joy and happiness to everyone.

"I can't seem to get this package open."

"I can't wait to get to my seat and open this big package."

A Child's Dream Is "A Christmas Fantasy."

Everybody wants the chance to talk to Santa Claus.

Everyone likes presents!

"Here's your gift young man."

At 9:15 a.m. on December 21, about twenty students loaded into a Volkswagen Van and departed for a visit to Parkway Elementary School. These students were members of the Teens Who Care Club, and the purpose of their visit was to give a Christmas Party for the ten students in the Special Education class. Money that had been collected was spent on buying presents and party favors. The look on the childrens faces as Santa Claus entered with a bagful of presents gave one the feeling that a child's "christmas fantasy," had come true.

Rita Pogue and Ed Bowden smile as the other candidates are introduced.

Juanita Walker and Dino Jones walk to their places as they are introduced.

Becky Reese and Eugene Walls appear to be slightly nervous.

Homecoming Queen 1977, Miss Karen Wood, is escorted by Richard Stewart.

Valda McKinney and Ronnie Holland look a little apprehensive.

Basketball Homecoming Queen—Rhonda Waggoner

Julie and Diana, that is a lousy imitation of "The Fonz."

"You think this is just a plain old cookie, don't you?"

"I'm sorry you missed the party. There's no food left."

Simon says, "Don't move!" You're out!

Everyone hurries to set things up.

The teens had as much fun as the students.

"Giddy-up horsey! Go that-a-way!"

Brenda Estes lends a helping hand.

At the party Don proved that he was just a kid at heart.

"If I put on a record of Christmas carols, will you sing along with me?"

The sponsor, Mr. Kitchen, supervised.

Rhonda had a great time at the party.

Darlene and Regina talk over some ideas.

Mr. Kitchen and Mrs. Kitchen enjoyed the party.

Carmen Mason and her date, Albert McKinney, enjoy themselves at the Prom.

Mark looks like he has a secret, and Karen is wondering what it is.

For Marvin Barker and Patty Peterson, the 1977 Senior Prom holds fond memories.

Clinton, you look a little devious. Do you know something that we don't?

"They Loved to Laugh."

The Senior Prom '77 was a time for much happiness, a time when friends met knowing they were nearing childhood's end. This was one senior activity that most will remember, and everyone knew that this was one of the last times the seniors would be together. The theme of the prom was "one day in your life," and it was a very special night for all who attended. It was an occasion during which "they loved to laugh."

For Paul Corea and Stephanie Burroughs, the prom was a time to remember.

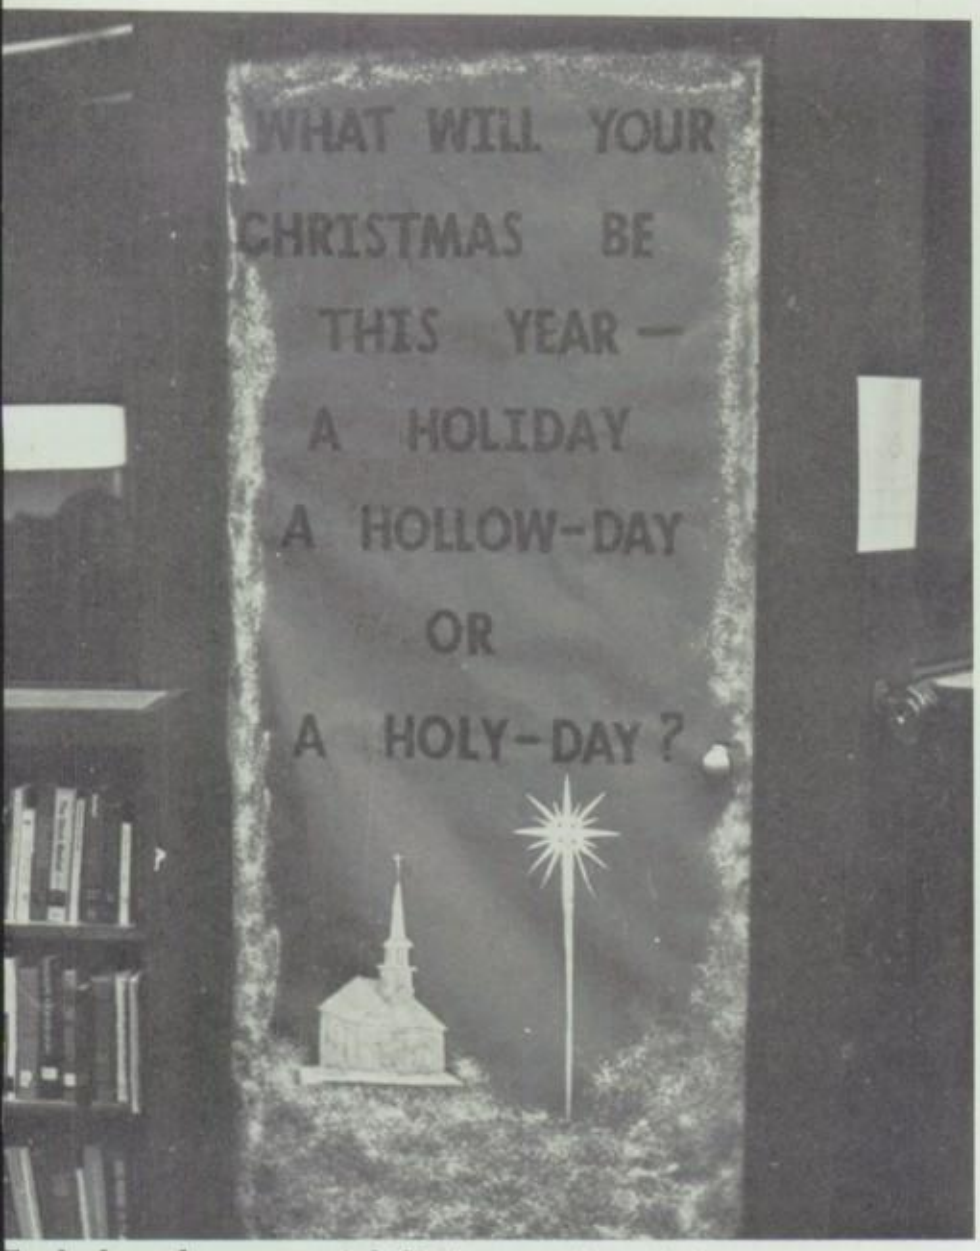
Mike Gallagher and Marcia Vessels spent some time with the photographer.

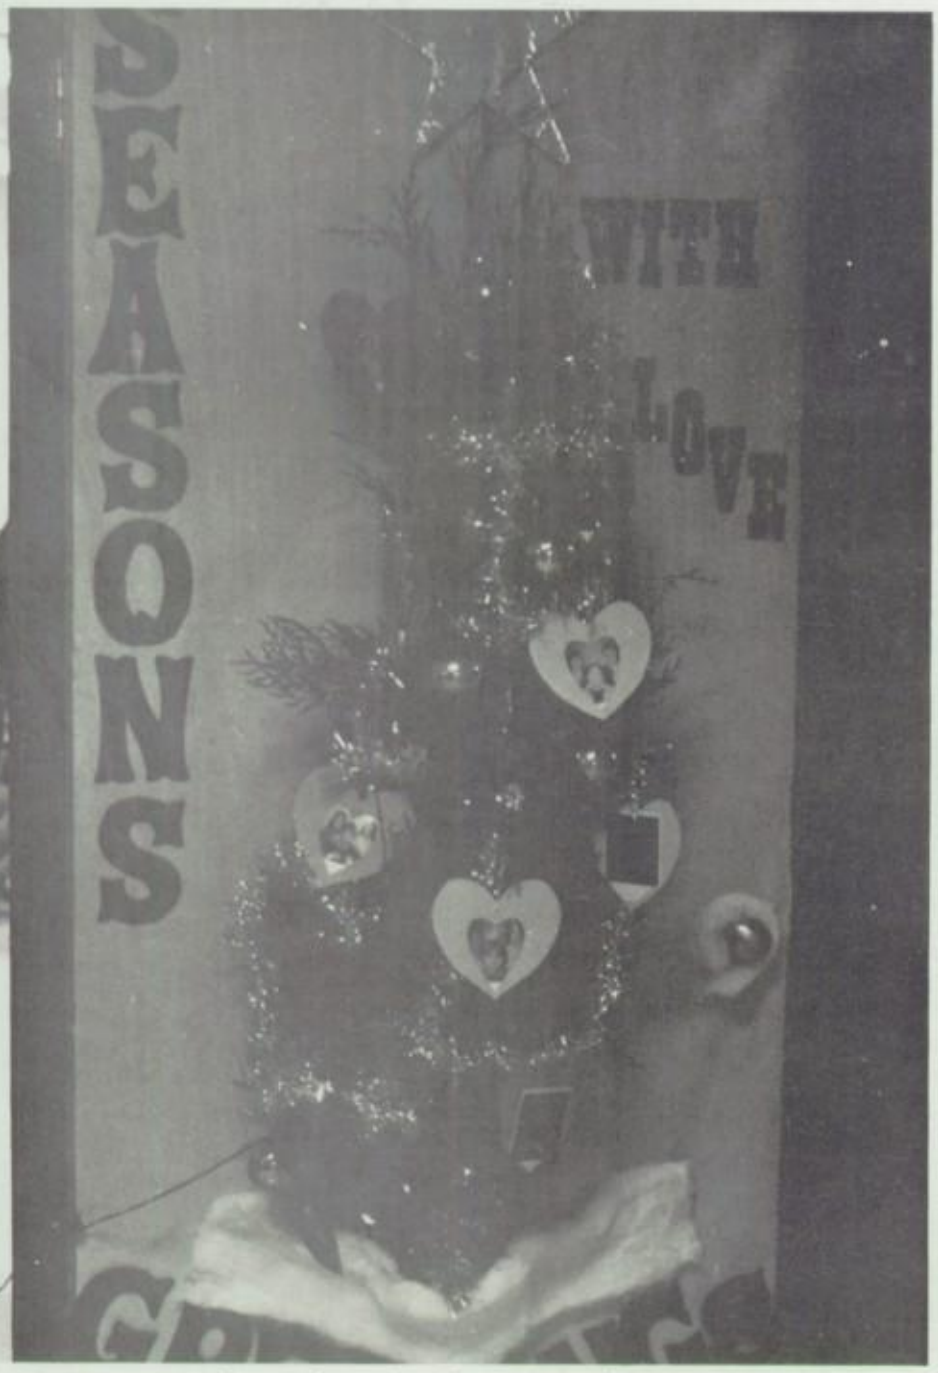


Each door has a special Christmas thought!

The theme on Mrs. Phillips' door was "Frosty the Snowman."

The SC Conducts "The Search."

Each year around Christmas vacation the Student Council conducts "The Search" for a perfect door! One winner is chosen in each category—religious and non-religious. This year Mrs. Logsdon's class and Mrs. Bogue's class came away winners.



rs. Bogue won first place in the non-religious category.

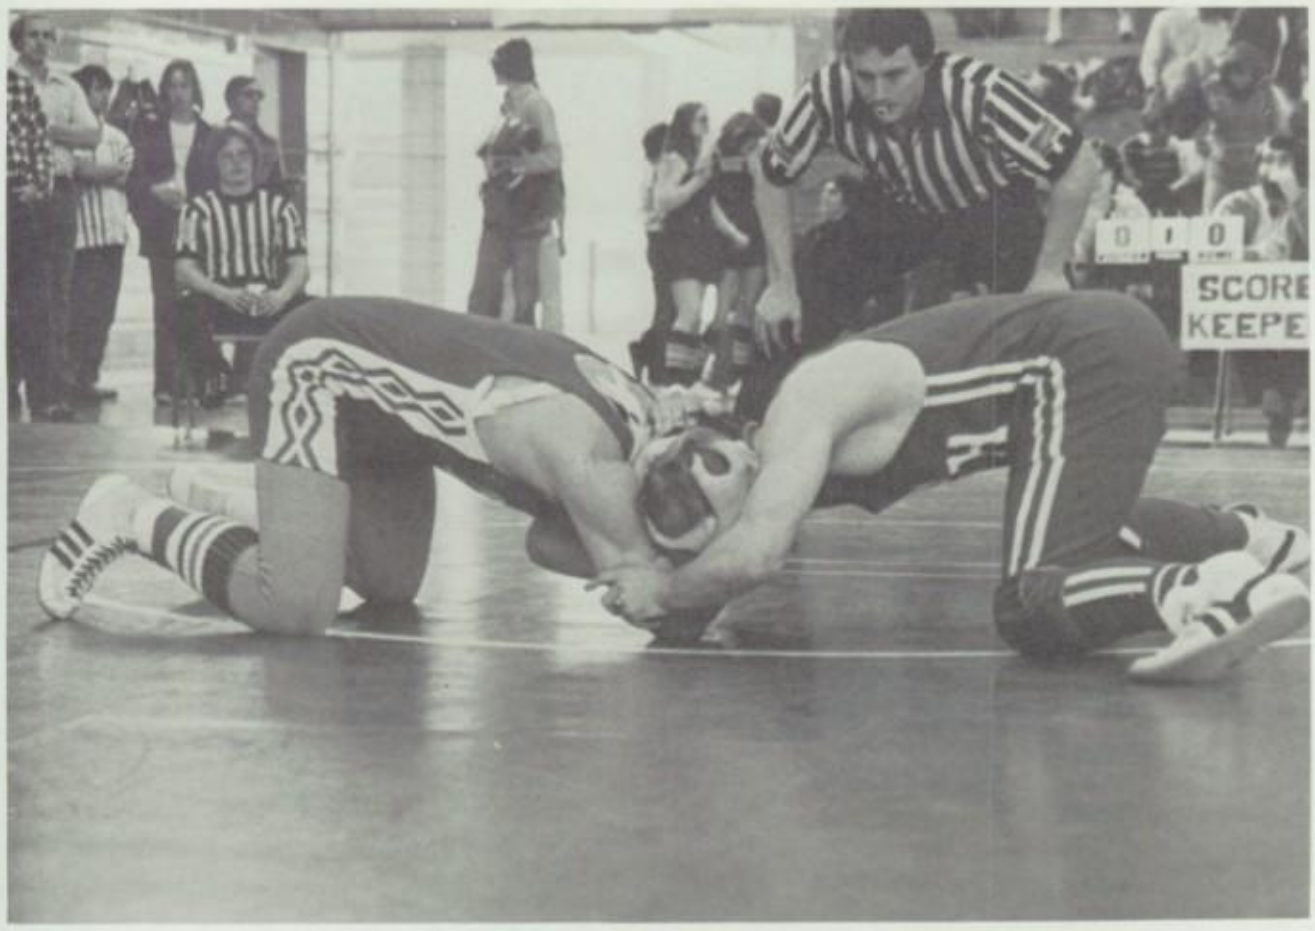
NHHS



Sports

"It takes all kinds" of athletes to complete the sports program at NH. Whether a person likes team sports or individual competition, participant or spectator sports, he can find satisfaction in our well-rounded athletic program.

For the small muscular athlete there is wrestling. Football is the sport for those who like that man-to-man contact. Basketball is the natural choice for those who have the uncanny ability to shoot the ball.

For those who are fast on their feet, track and cross country are at the top of the list. Of course, baseball, the number one sport in America, is an integral part of North Hardin. For those who like the sunny, warm weather, tennis and golf provide a means of release of built-up energy.

On the other hand, if a student prefers, intramural competition is always available.

However, students who are unable to compete can always serve as managers, statisticians, or scorekeepers, matmaids, or cheerleaders. Whatever the preference, many students have found their places in our diversified activities.

Chris, Sharon, Jim, Alan, Rick, and Dinky seem to be having fun displaying their trophies, because the trophies made all of their efforts worthwhile.

Are these guys trying out for the Zigfield Follies' Show? No, they're just showing how attached they are to each other.

To Race the Trojans Is "To Race the Wind."

The team also has a serious side to them, as you can tell.

It is difficult "To Race the Wind" and yet this is what Trojan opponents must face. With the help of Coach Denny Duggins, the team placed 13th in the Covington Invitational, 10th in state, and they're the Mid-West Kentucky Cross Country Champions. Although about half the team is seniors, and will be leaving, there will be a team just as good, if not better next year.

Even when the team lies down for a little rest, they are still patriotic to North Hardin.

Alan Neyland — best 2-mile time, 10:49; one-year letterman.

Rick Entsminger — best 2-mile time, 13:05; two-year letterman.

Jime Sandknop — highest point total; most valuable; 2-mile time, 10:28; 2-yr. letterman.

Dinky Holmes — best 2-mile time, 11:19; one-year letterman.

Alan, Jim, and Chris all agree that Trojans are No. 1.

The boys' cross country team climbed to the top this year.

A good cross country team starts with a good foundation.

Victor Wood, 2-mile run, best time, 10:49; 1-year letterman

John Sandknop, 2-mile run, best time 10:56; 2-year letterman

Garry Oaks, 2-mile run, best time, 11:02; 1-year letterman

Wayne Mason, 2-mile run, best time 11:07; 1-year letterman

David Dale, 2-mile run, best time 12:54; 2-year letterman

Robbie Hamilton, 2-mile run, best time 11:46; the top J.V. runner

For two years David Lutz has been a manager for the Cross Country team.

Jimmy Harbolt has used his managerial skills on the cross country team for 2 years.

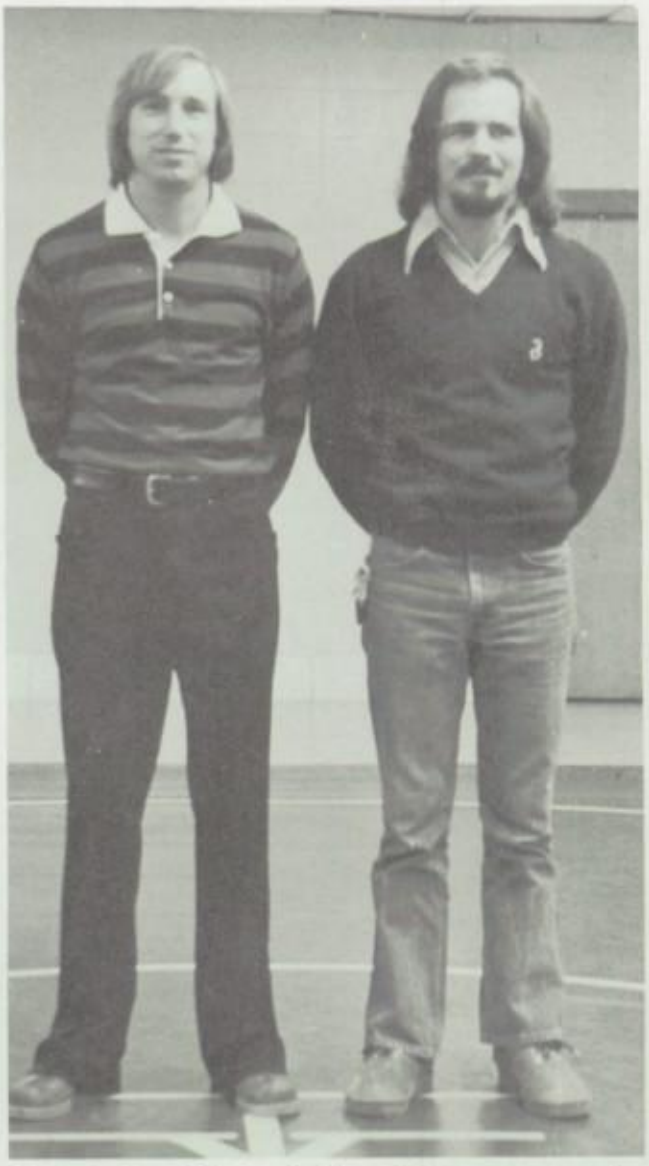
In no sport is individualism so important as it is in the sport of wrestling. On the mat, it is "one on one" and each grappler is left to defend himself, to go on the offensive, and to score points so that he might ultimately achieve victory for himself and for the team. Before a wrestler steps on the mat, he has had a battle with himself to cut or to maintain his weight to maintain an interest in the sport even though he gets his face rubbed in the mat, but above all he must believe in himself and his ability to dominate his opponent. Indeed the Trojan grapplers are the best in this area "one on one."

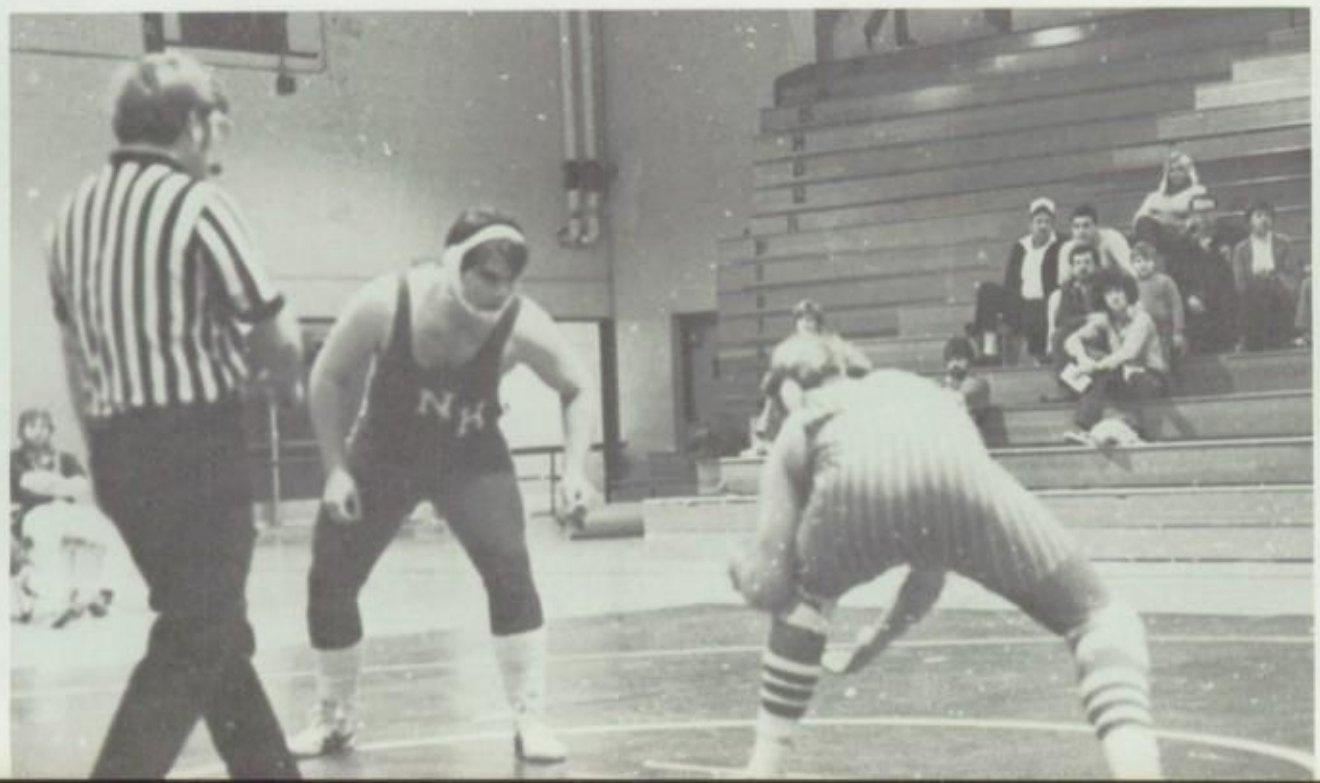
Captain Bernie McCamish does for his second pin during regionals.

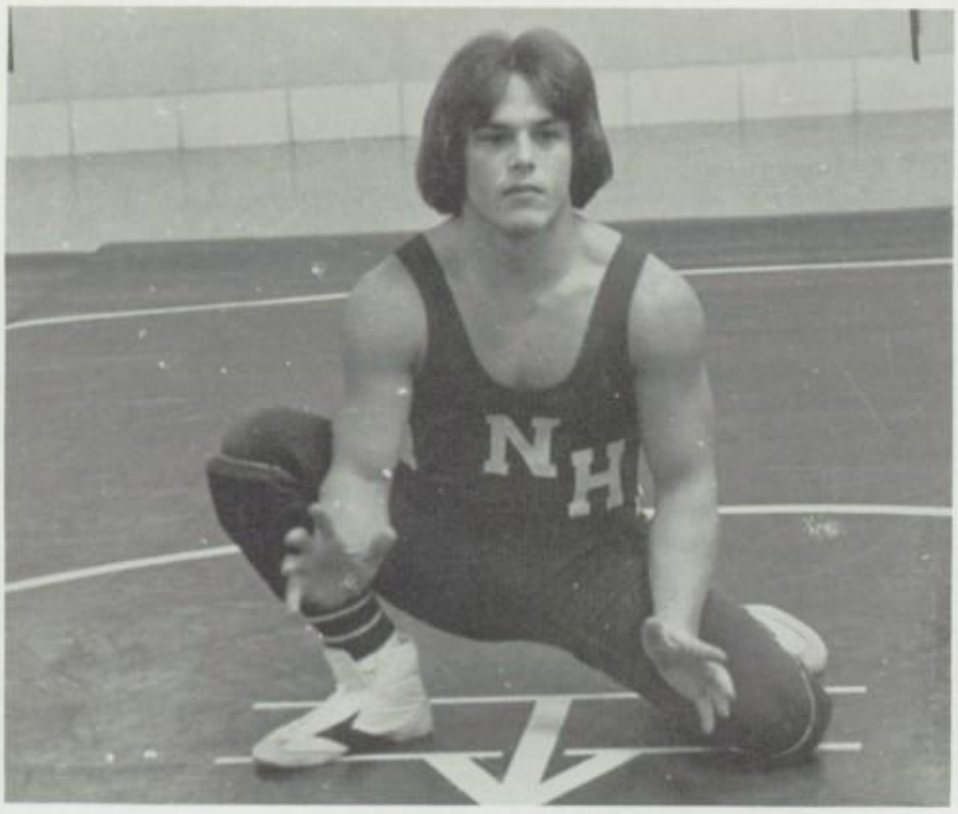
These Fellows Are Great "One on One."

The Trojan wrestlers, matmaids, and junior varsity are one big happy family during the wrestling season. Here the group shows their togetherness.

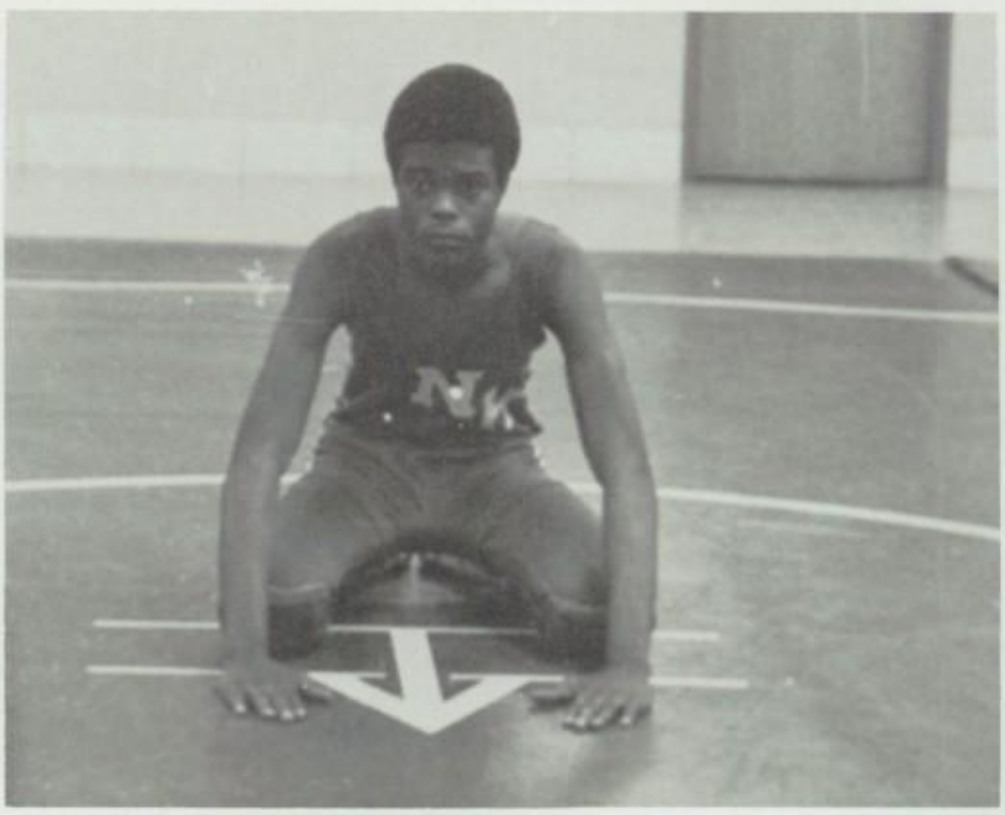


Coach Smith and Coach Jones are the two best coaches that any team could ever have. They guided the grapplers all the way to the state championship.

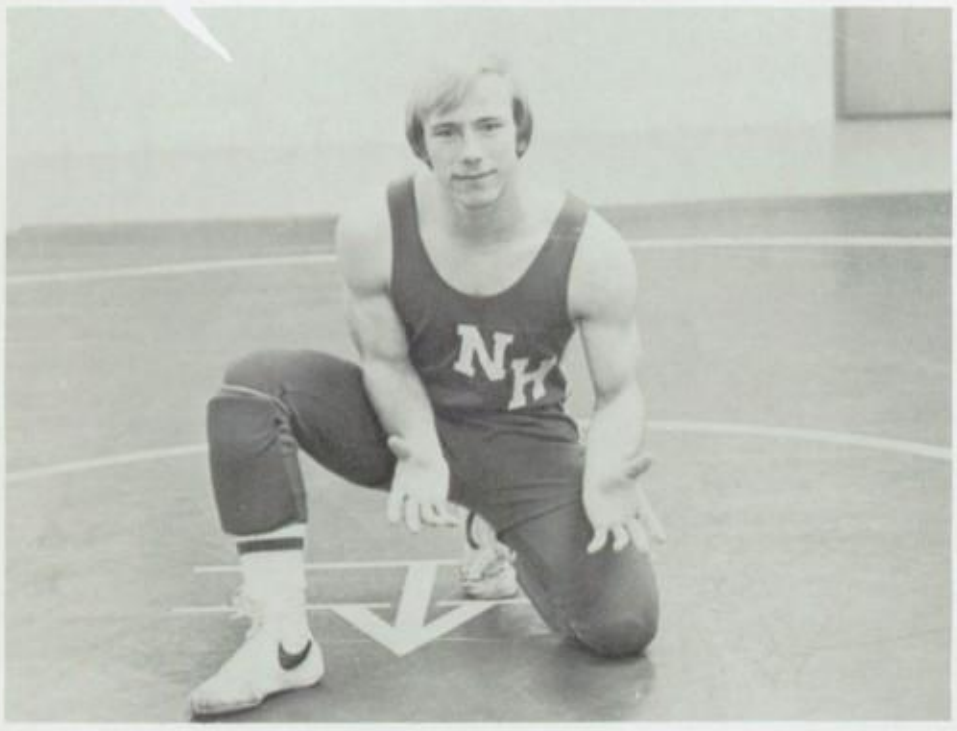




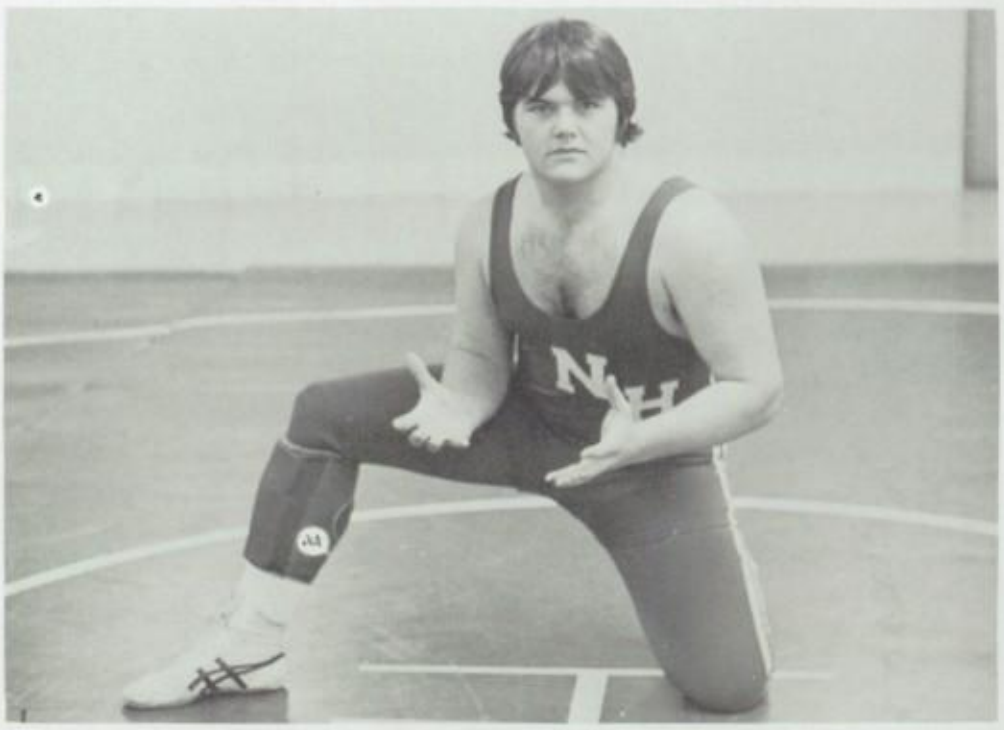
Ronnie Williams would "put his mind to it" and would outlast his opponents.



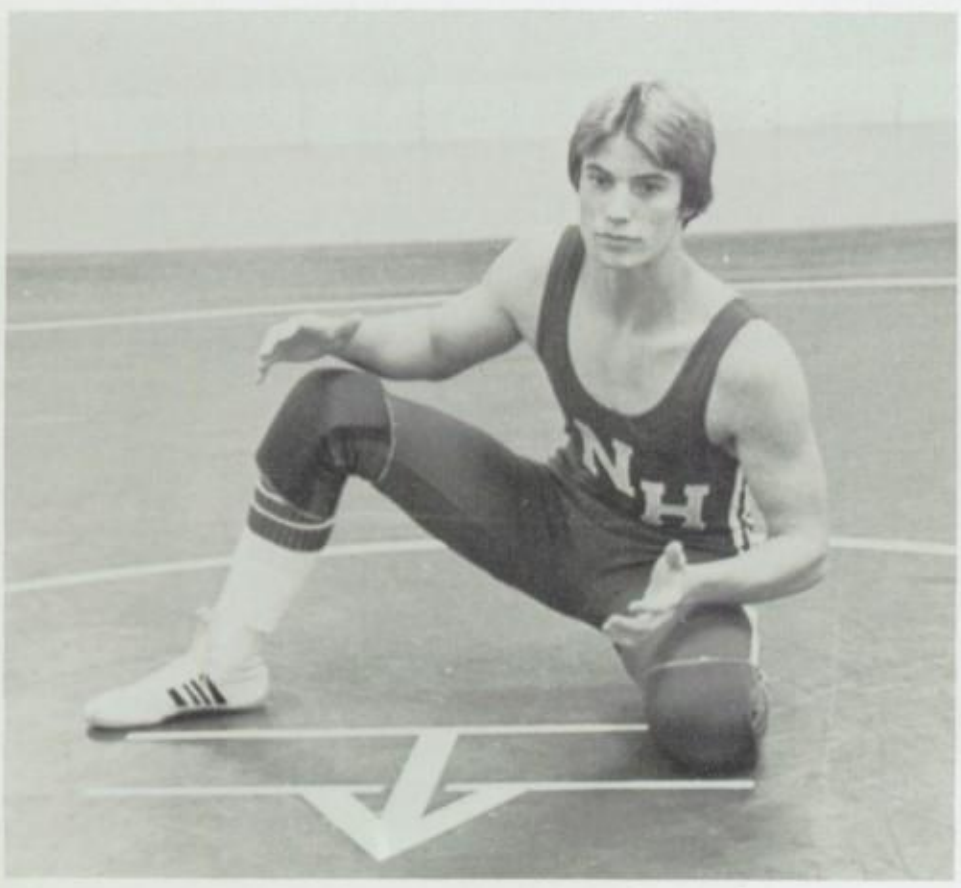
Jeff Shoebrooks was steady as a rock and the foundation of the Trojan team.



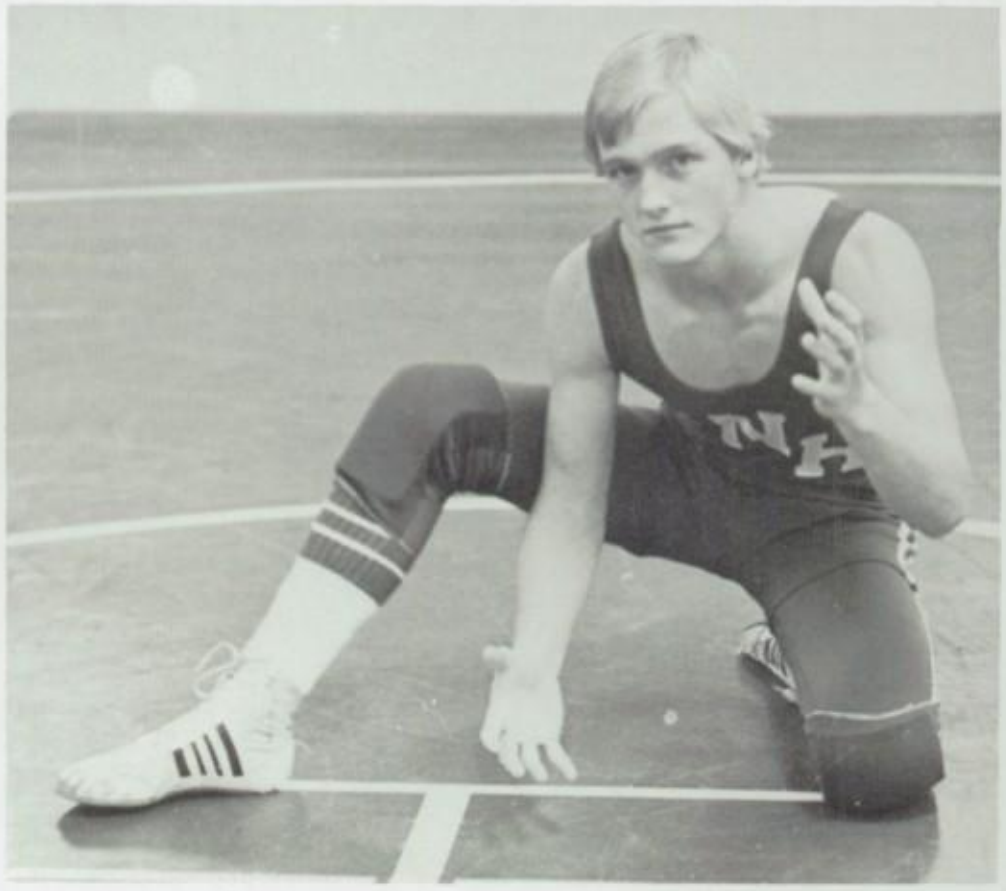
Senior Sam Arredondo is "rowdy, rough, big, mean, and tough", and he "shows his stuff" on the mat.



"When it comes to winning, he's second to none," and Mike Gallagher is definitely first class.



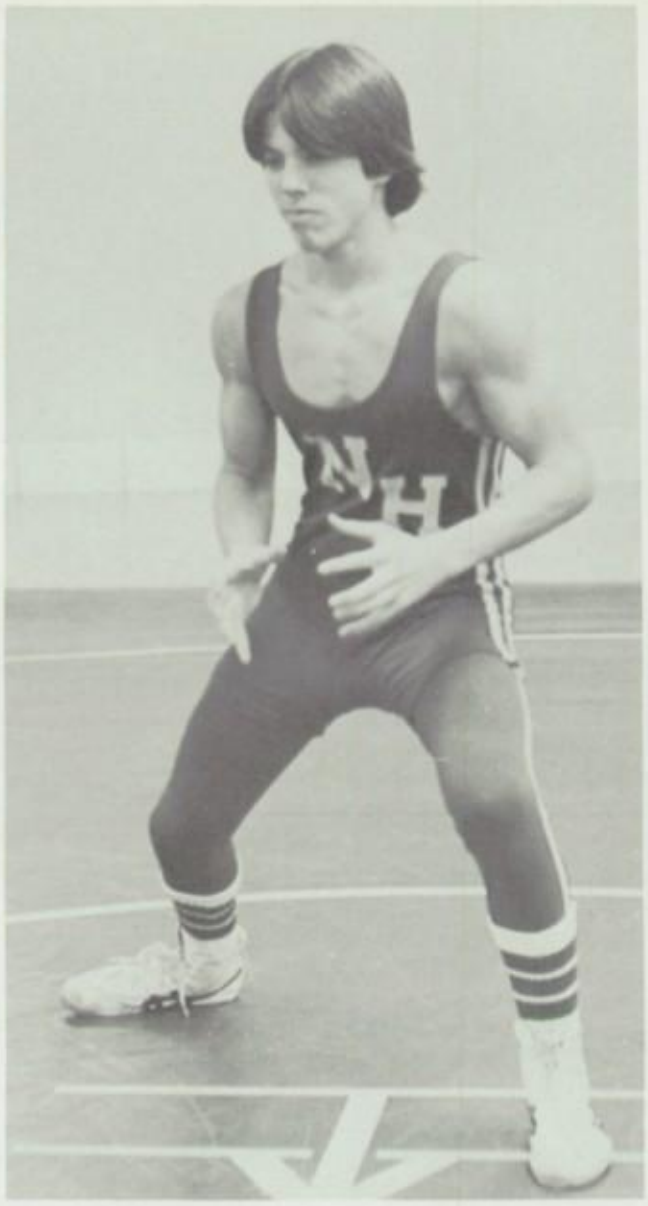
"You can't stop the Trojans" or third-year letterman Pete Baney for he always responded with an outstanding performance.



Junior David Jones is fearless on the mat, and he firmly believes that he "can beat you, too!"

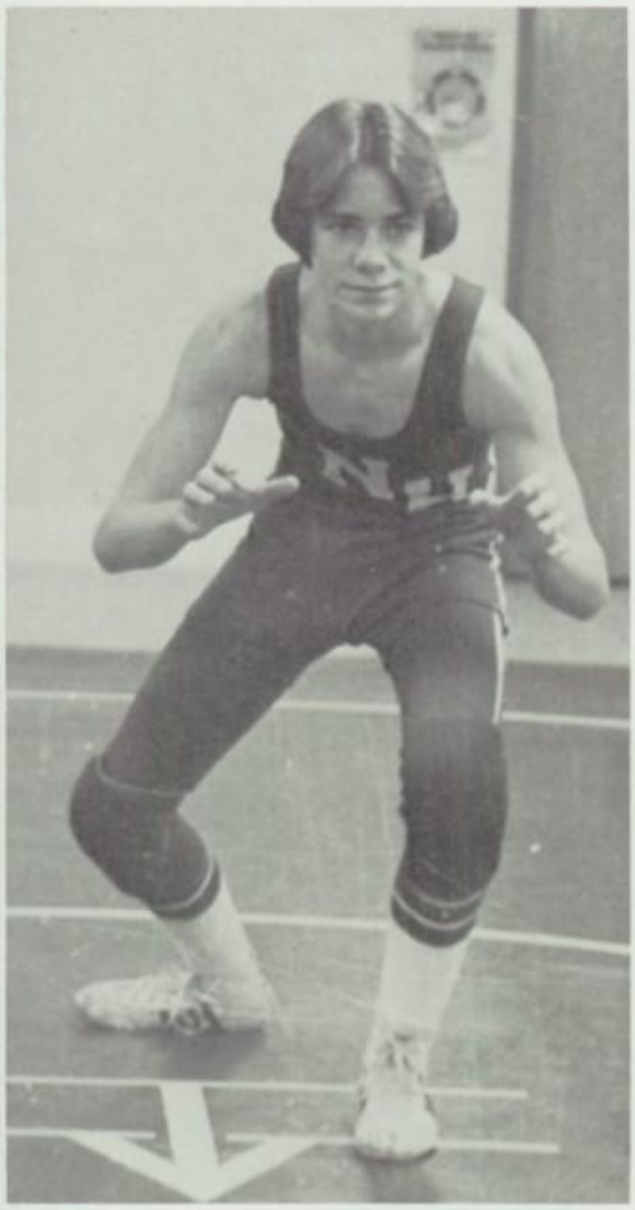
"Everybody shouts and everybody yells" when Randy Gardner steps on the mat.

Jim Bays is "vicious", and his opponents have been forewarned.

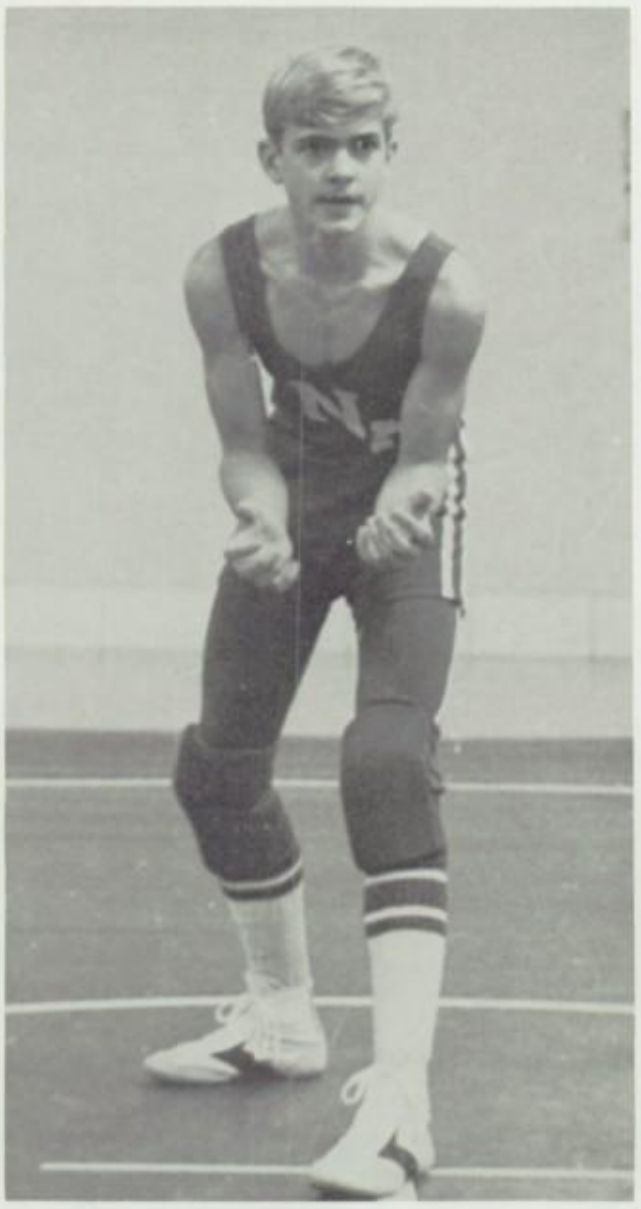


Bernie McCamish's opponents cry "Ah, shucks" when he steps on the mat.

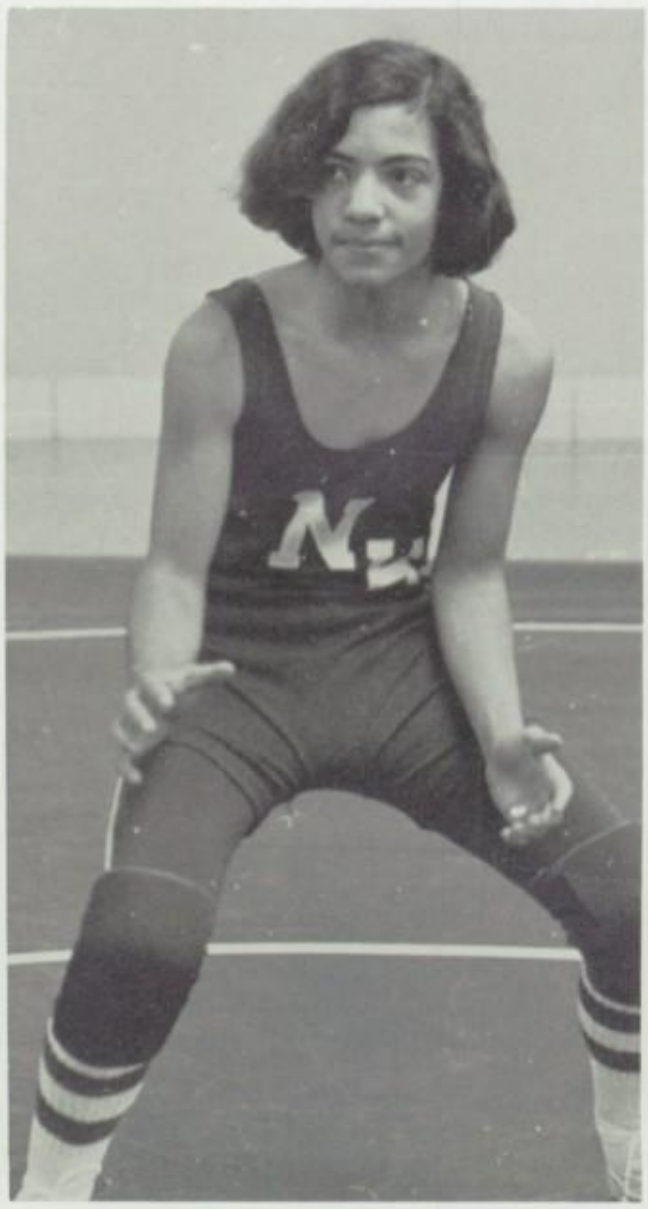
Here Is "The Team That Wouldn't Quit."



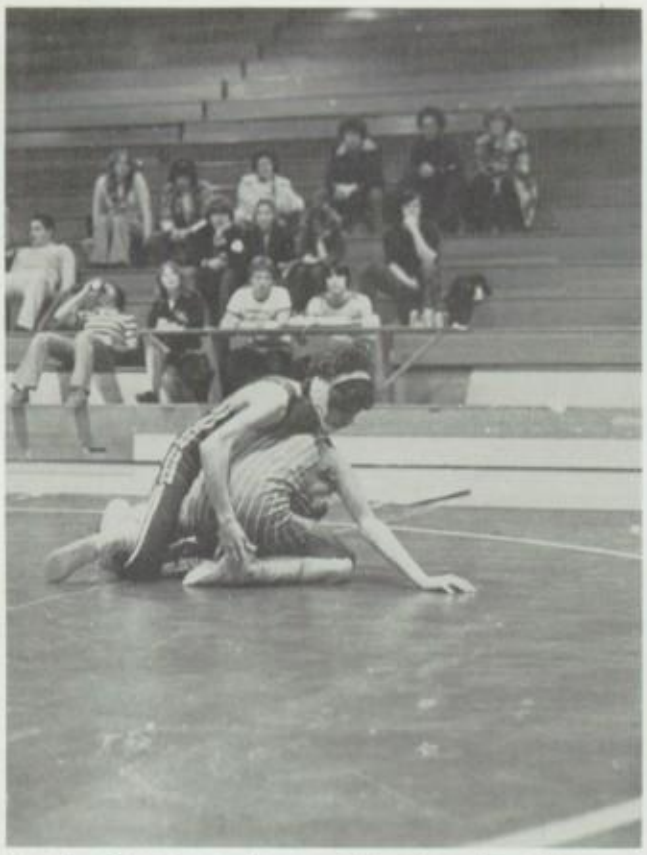
"Joe Burroughs is great," and he looks forward to his third year as a wrestler.



Freshman Tim Boggess would "back it up and do it again" as he conquered his foes.



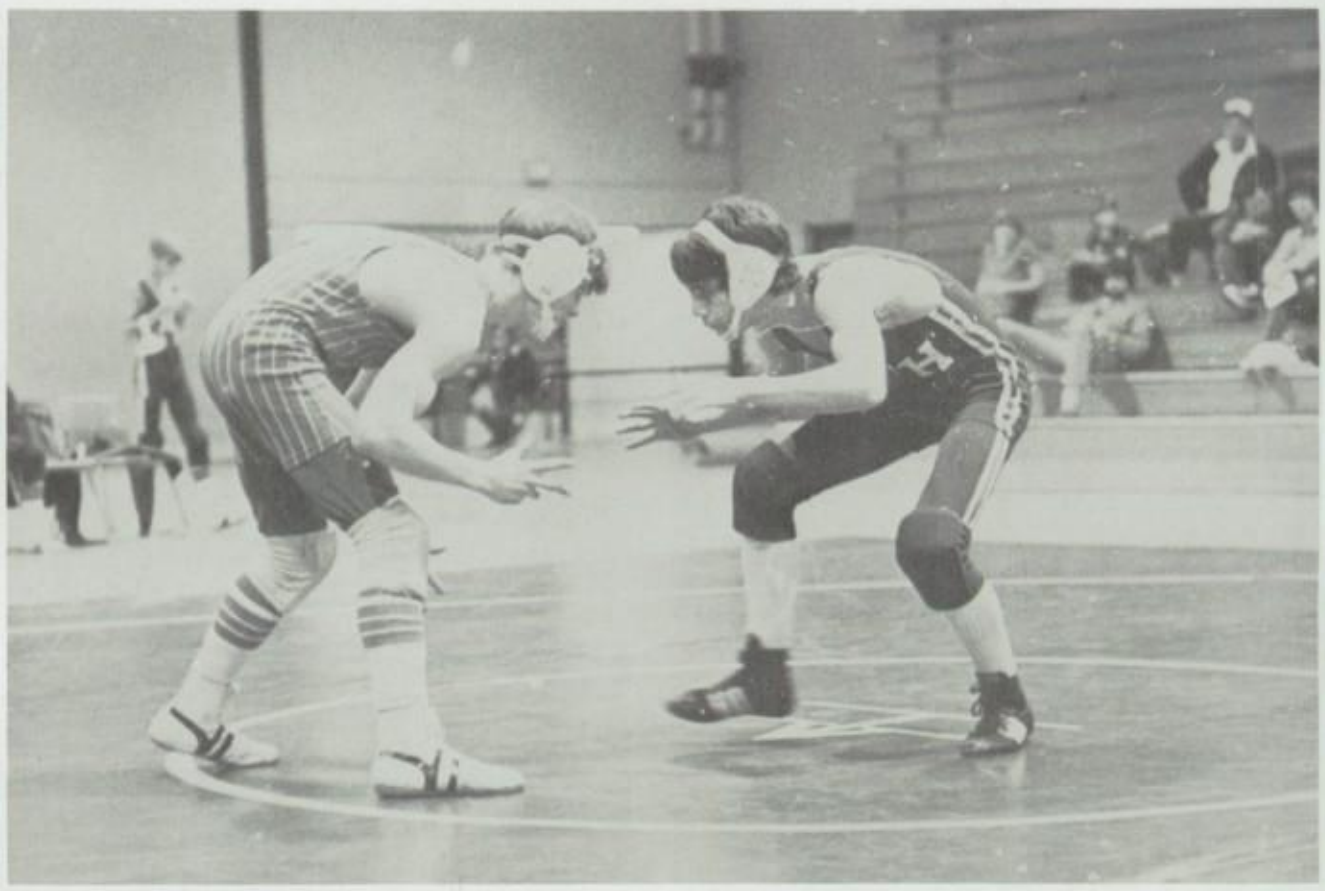
Louis Carrion was the engine of the "Trojan Locomotive."



Louis Carrion ties up his East Hardin opponent.

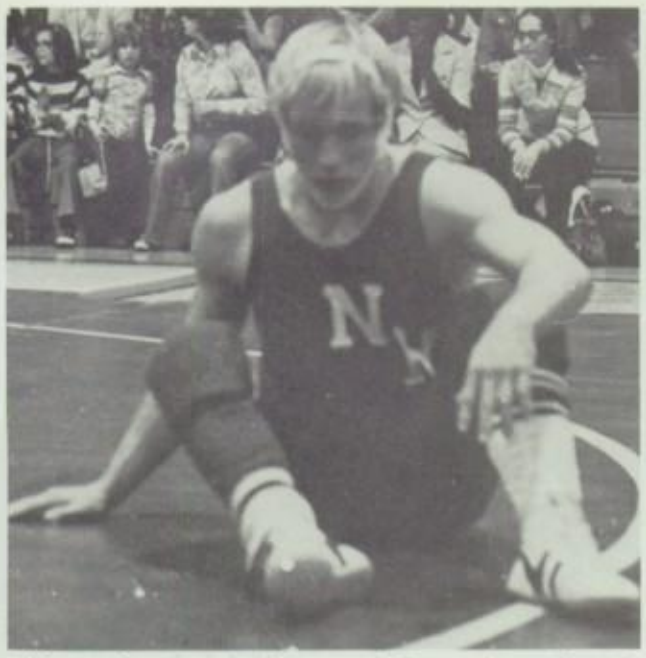
Joe Burroughs breaks down Jerry Booker of West Hardin as he goes for the win. Joe's efforts were successful, for he defeated his opponent.

Tim Boggess underhooks in order to gain the takedown.



145-pounder Randy Gardner prepares to set up for a takedown against Wolfe if East Hardin. Randy's victory gained him a number two seed in the regional tournament.

Jeff Shoebrooks ties up the legs of Ronnie Peters of West Hardin. Peters' only losses during the season were to Jeff.



After the second round Sam Arredondo takes a 30-second rest before wrestling again.

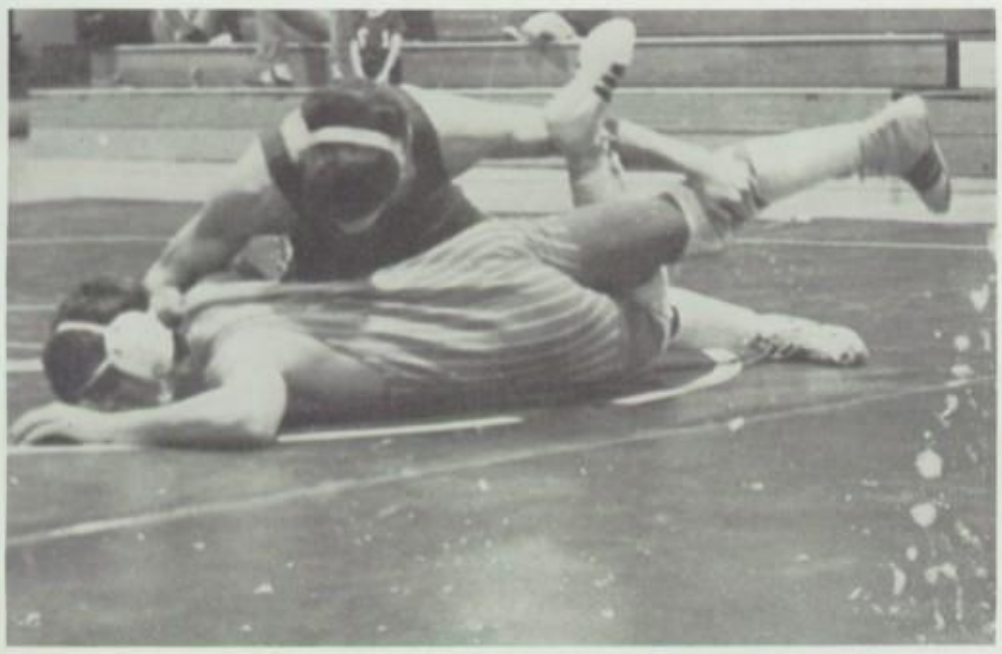
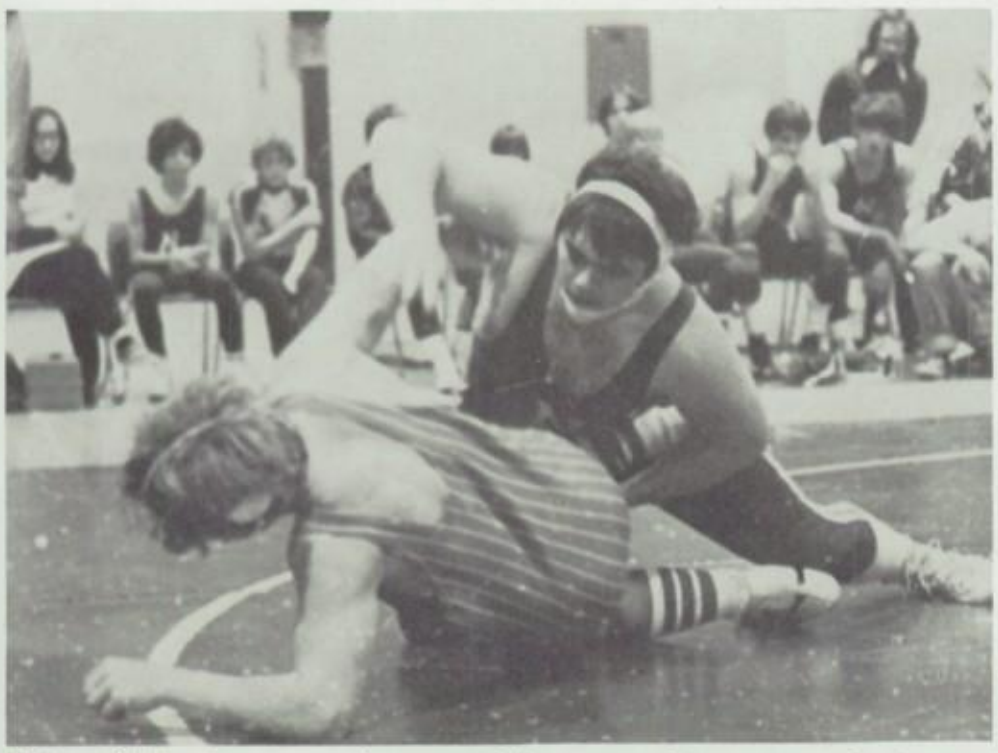
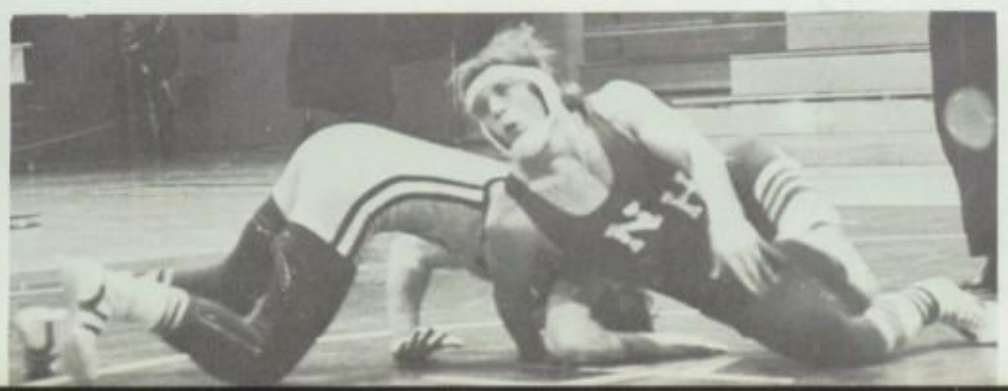
By using a Pepsi-back, Louis stops the East Hardin wrestler from getting a takedown.

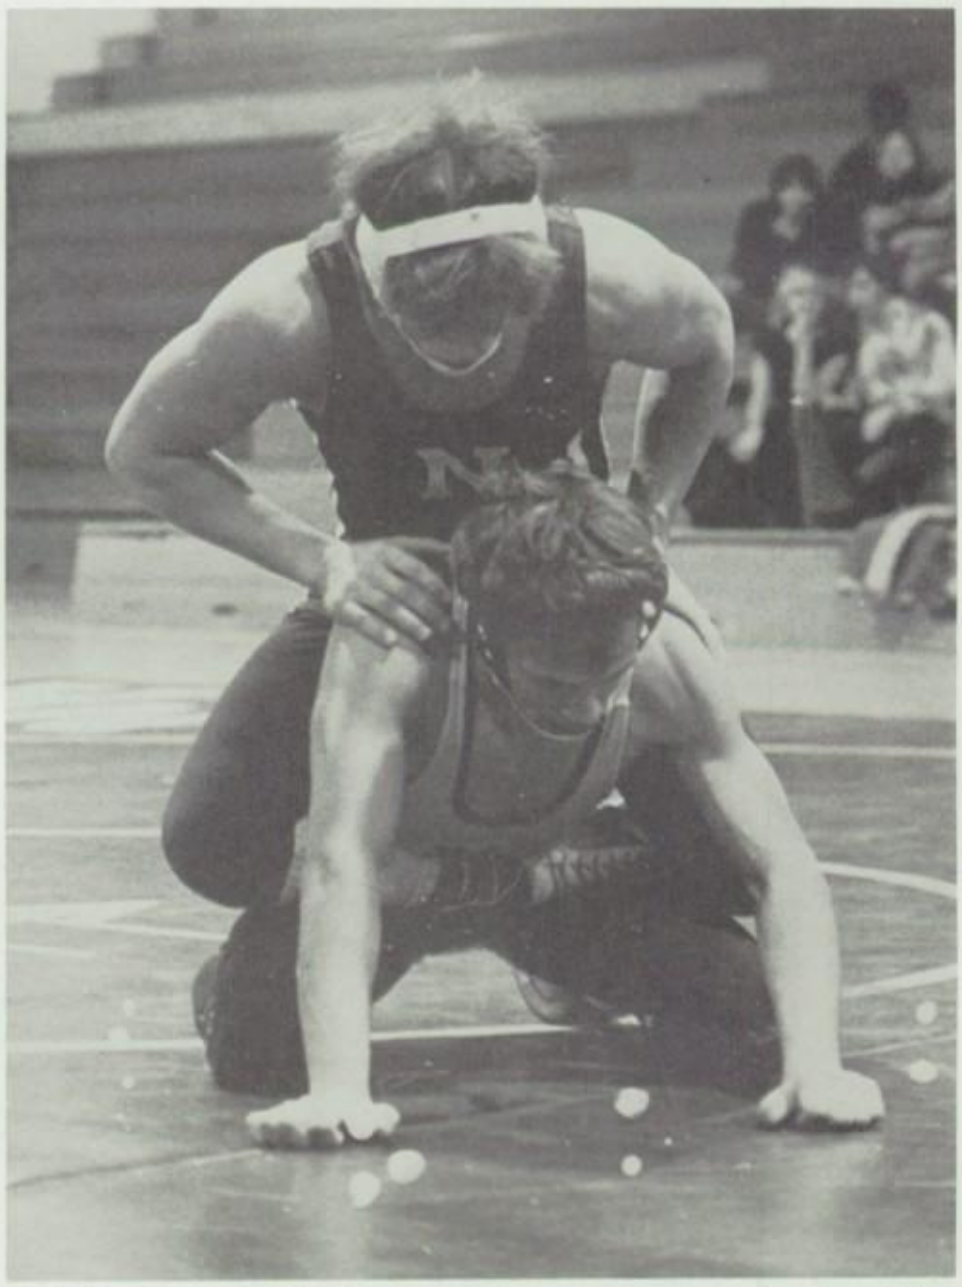


Jim Bays uses his animal instinct and strength to try to turn over his opponent in order to pin him.

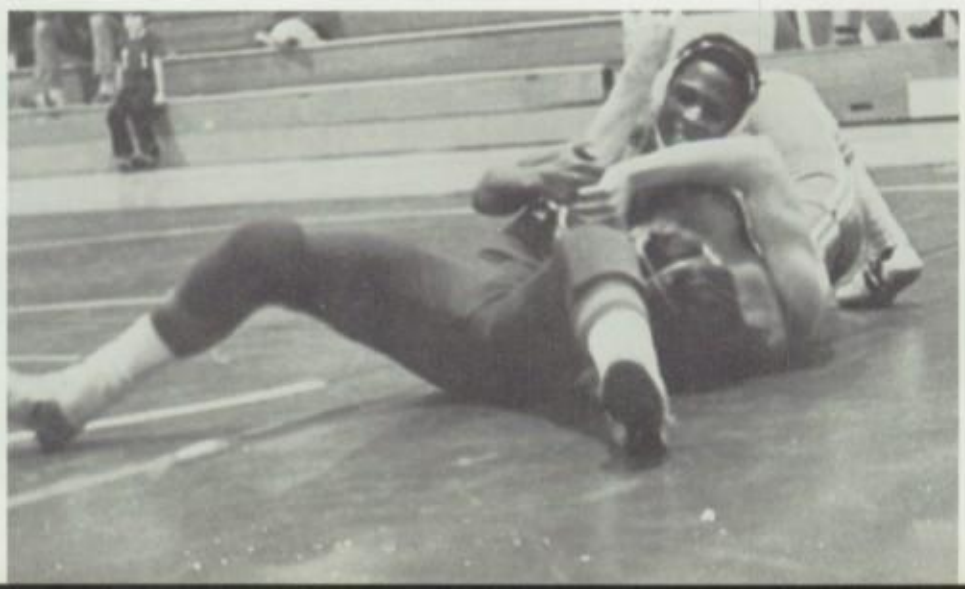


Mike Gallagher, our heavyweight, uses his strong body and wrestling experience to win by a pin for the North Hardin matmen.

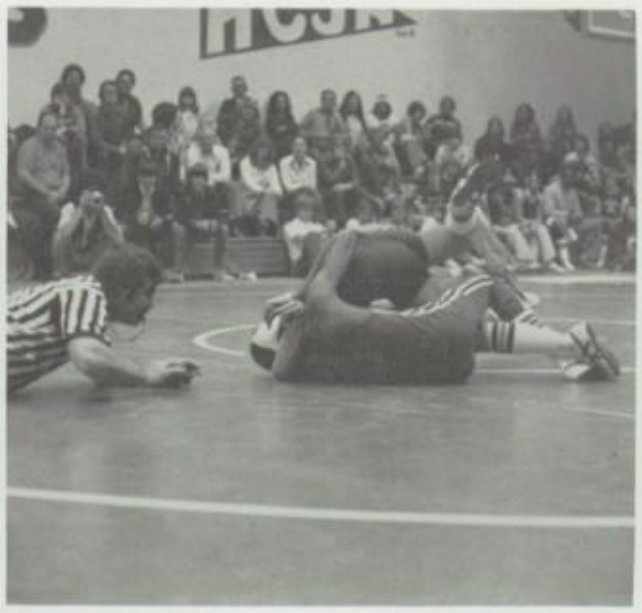




Jeff Shoebrooks who is one of the most outstanding wrestlers that North Hardin has ever had, uses a figure-four-around the waist on a West Hardin wrestler.



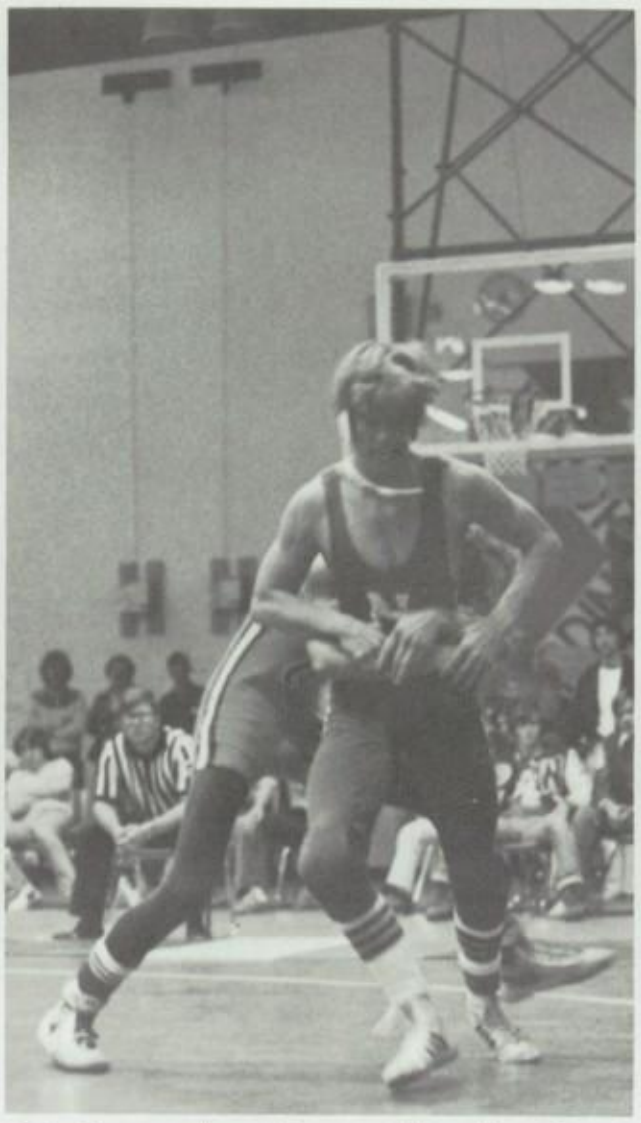
Jeff was voted Most Outstanding Wrestler.



Ronnie Williams took second in the region.

Jeff attempts a double-leg takedown.

Freshman Louis Carrion proves that he is the best 98-pounder in our region.

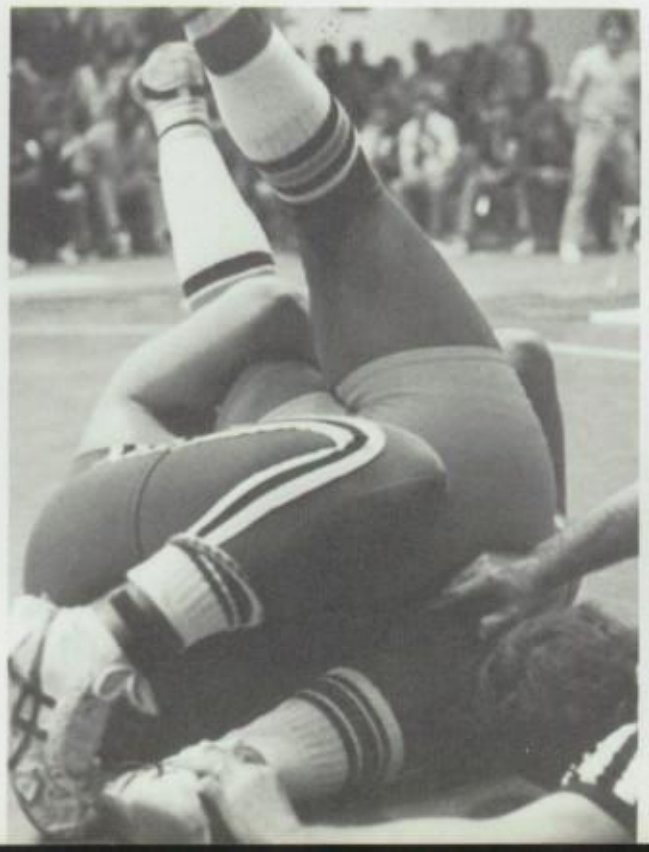


Pete Baney shows tremendous hand control against Booker.

Pete uses a banana split and gains his second regional title.

David holds off his West Hardin opponent.

Joe Burroughs defeats his Henderson County foe and gains some points for North Hardin.



The 1977-78 matmaids present the state champs with a blanket which shows their many accomplishments.

Jim Bays uses his four years of experience to gain an advantage over his East Hardin opponent during the 1977-78 regional tournament.

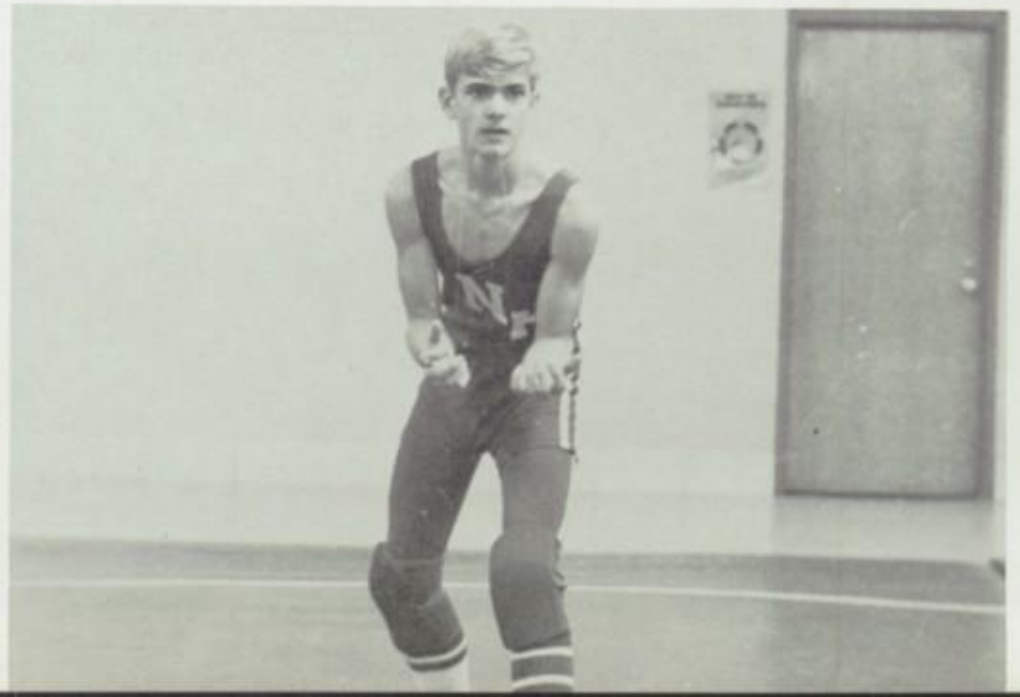
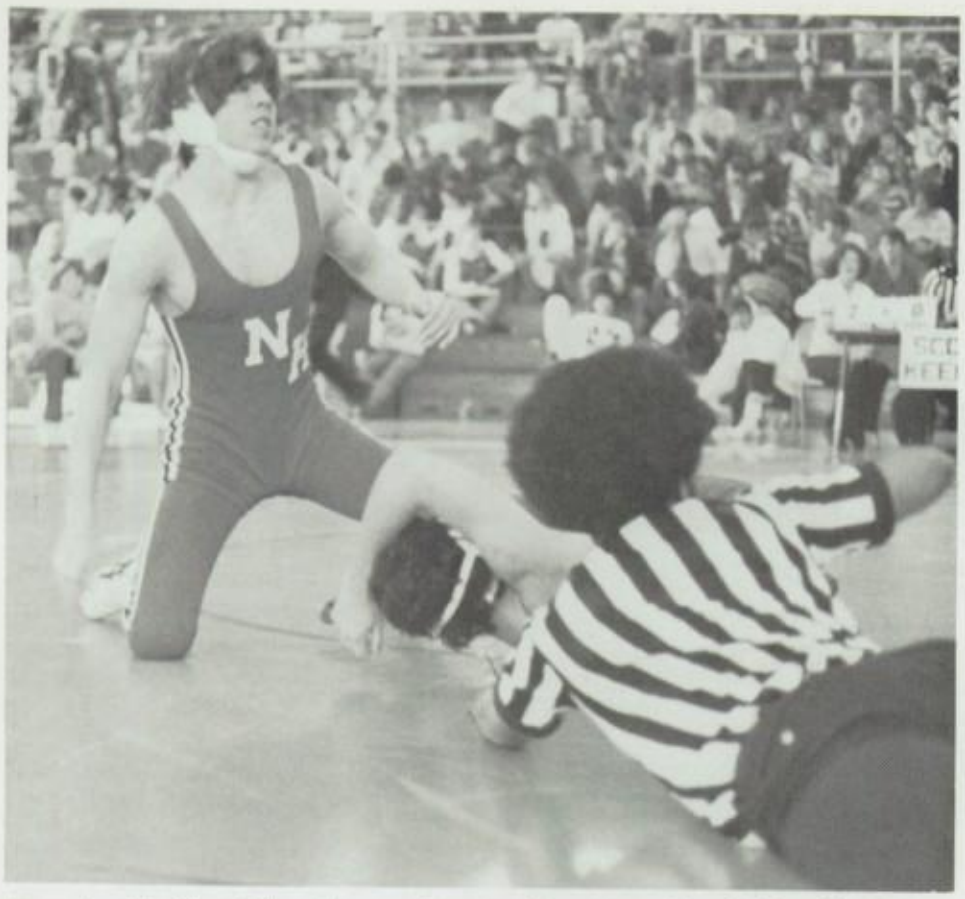
Mike receives his second gold medal as Regional Champ; he pinned his number one opponent Watson in 1978 regional finals.

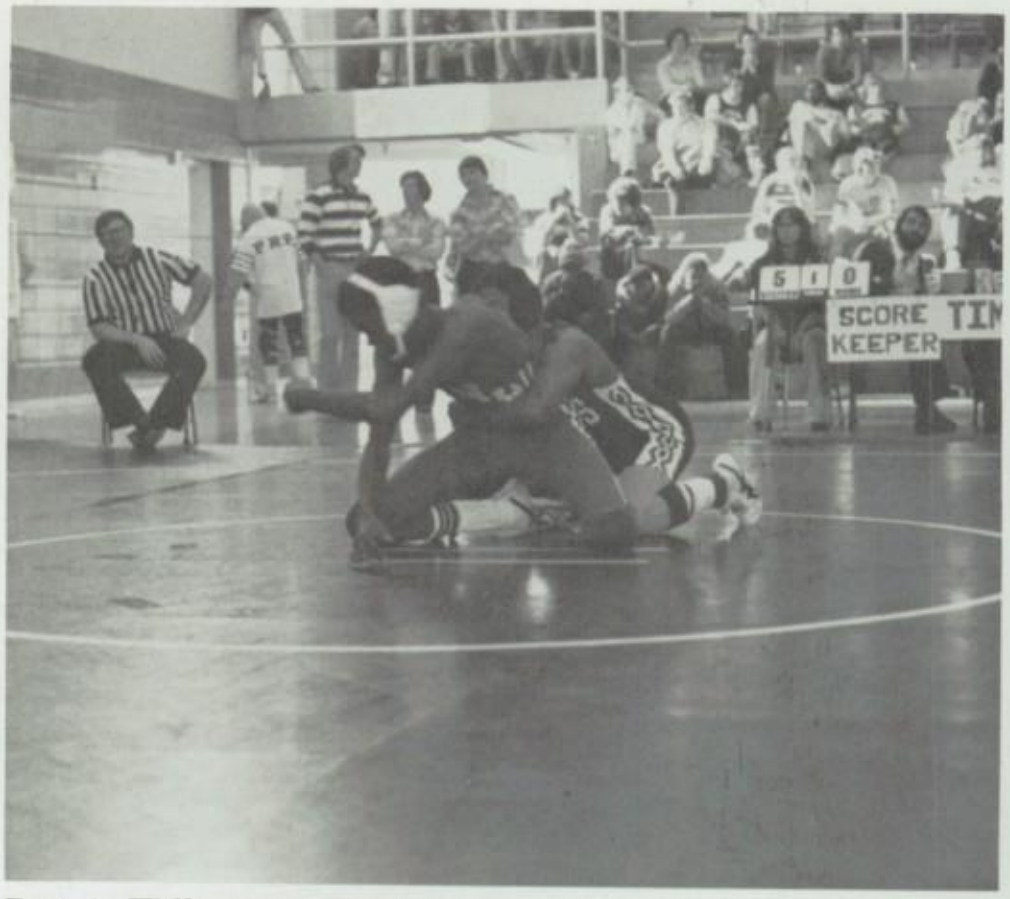
Bernie uses the chicken wing to pin his opponent.

Jim Bays receives his medal and poster for first place.

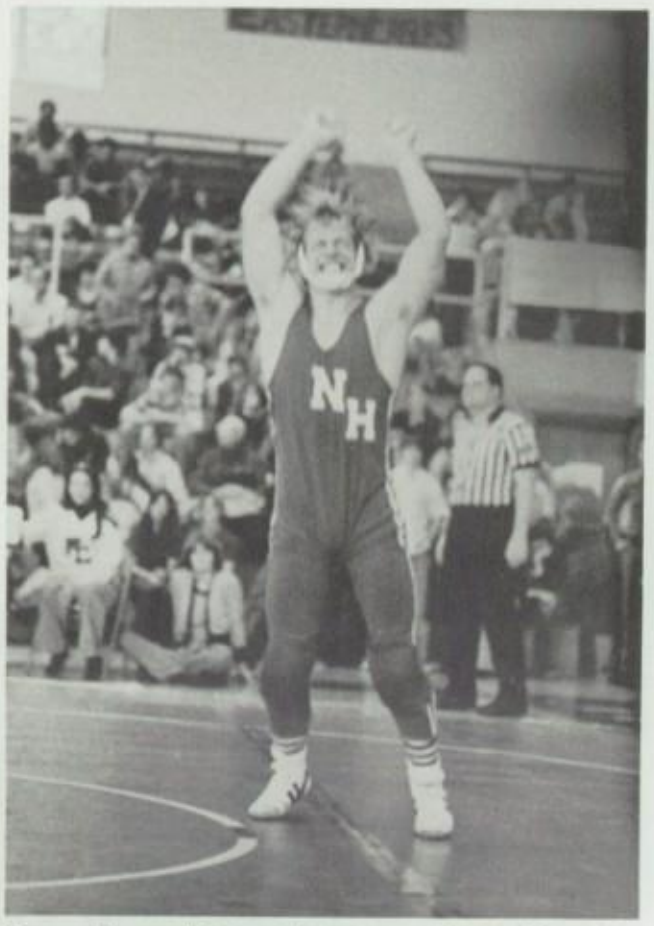




Bernie McCamish shows the exuberance he feels after winning a match. Bernie placed third in the tournament.



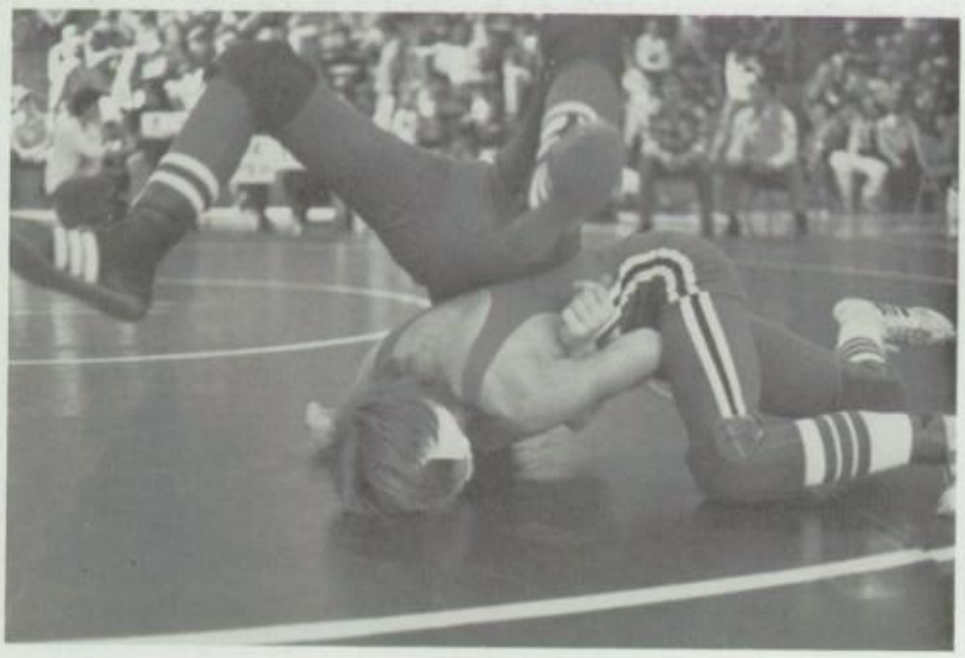
Ronnie Williams attempts to escape from his Jessamine County opponent in the early rounds of the State Tournament.



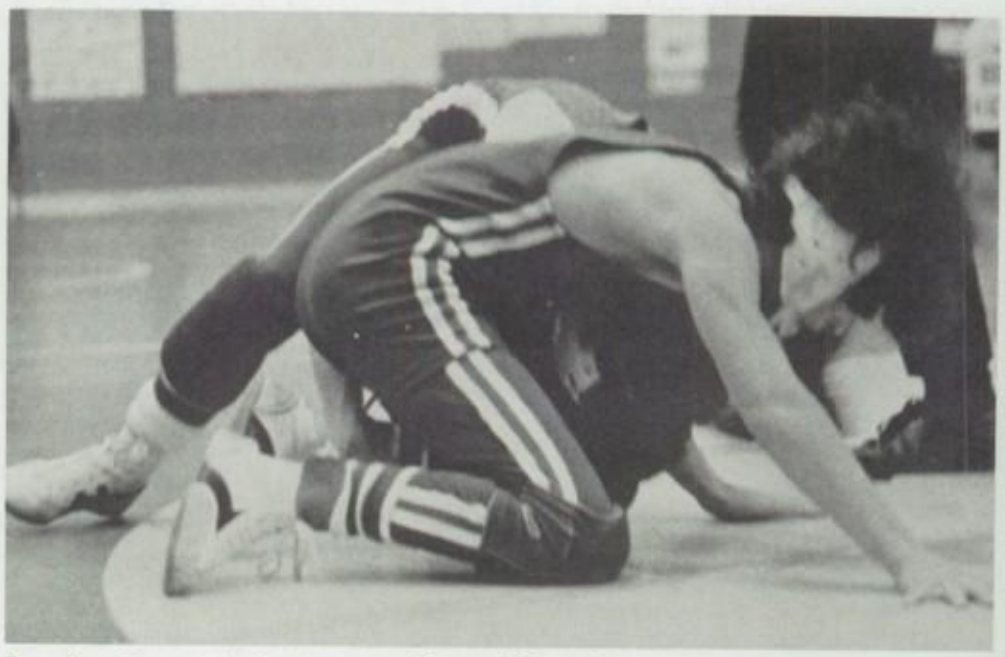
Sam shows his excitement about the win.

Every champion wrestler needs the support of his coaches at the State Tournament.

Coaches Smith and Jones encourage Jeff before his final match with Offut.



Pete uses his expertise to "stick" his opponent.



Louis attempts to escape from Miracle.

Pete uses every ounce of strengh to "stick" his man.

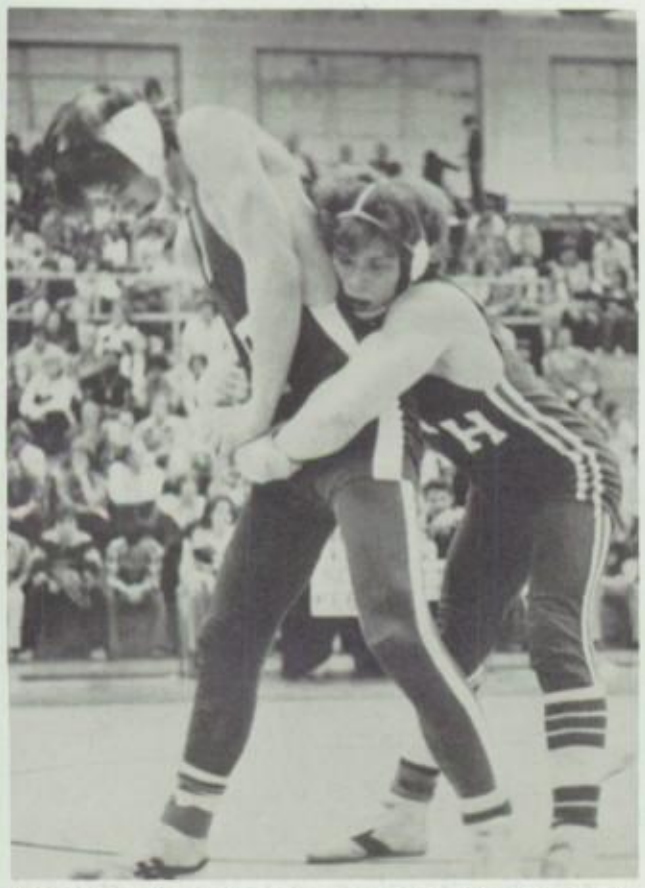
Mike uses an ankle ride to work on his competition.

Jim uses a cradles on his opponent, and the referee wants a closer look.

Bernie McCamish has some stiff competition in Ricky Bottoms of Woodford County. Bernie tied him in an earlier meet.

"Run that by me again, referee; I didn't hear you".

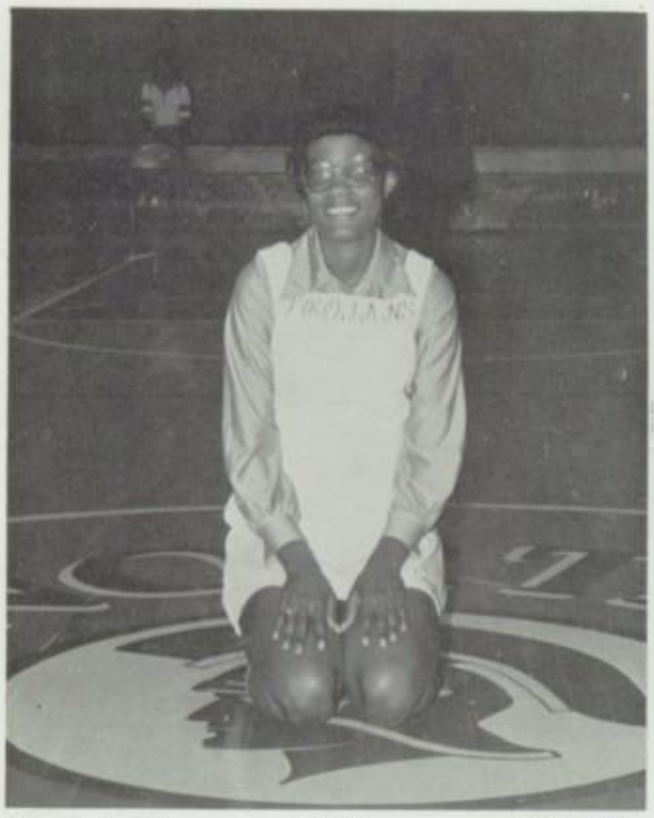
Jim Bays seems to have his opponent in quite a predicament. I wonder if he is ready to cry "uncle."



'You're not going to get away from me."

Even champs need the support of their friends, and Mike's friends stand by him.

Junior David Jones was a great asset to the wrestling Trojans.

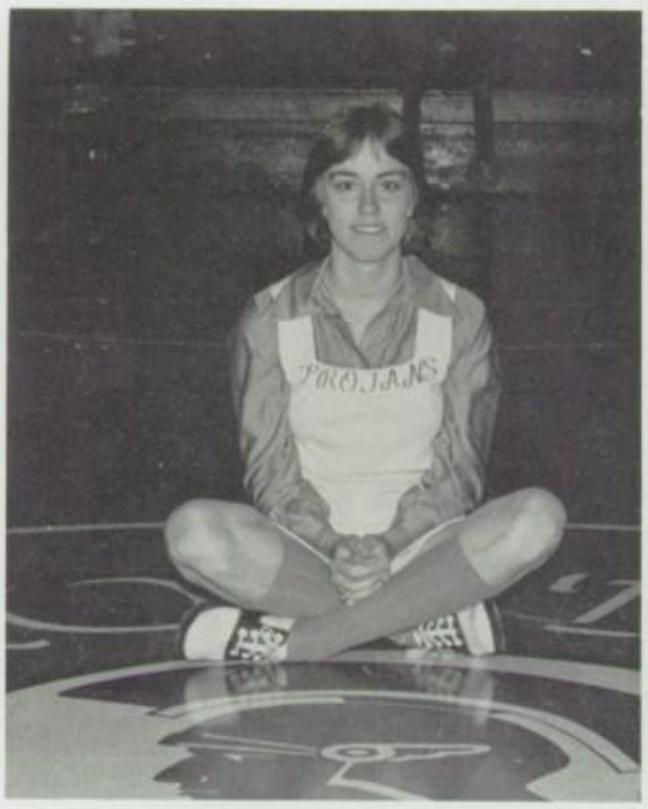


Captain Angela Williams provides the "fire" for the Trojans.

Terri Moore "wouldn't tell you no lies" about the Trojan wrestlers.

No one has supported the Trojan grapplers any more than Julie Hinds.

"Enthusiasm" is senior Anita Bell's middle name.



Patty Hohenstein has a lot of pep for the Trojan matmen.

Vickie Hannah enjoyed her year cheering for the champions.

Soft-spoken Julia Jahr really "lets loose" at the wrestling meets.

Stephanie Burroughs has done an outstanding job supporting the champions.

Tammy Midkiff is "fired up and ready" to yell for the Trojans.

Miss Bishop and Miss Carr enjoyed their third year as matmaid sponsors.

Even picture day can be exciting.

The Matmaids and the Wrestlers Are "One Big Family."

Wrestlers proudly display the blankets and shirts—both gifts from the matmaids.

The matmaids even take care of the coaches. They get a shirt, too!!!!

Matmaids and wrestlers are all part of "One Big Family"—alias the NH wrestling organization. Unlike most matmaids at other schools, these girls delight in supporting their matmen by shouting encouragement at home meets, by surprising the wrestlers with gifts, and by engaging in general morale boosting sessions. The girls also attempt to build student interest in the sport through signs and booster buttons. These nine young ladies are indeed glad to be a part of this one big family—the best "family" in the state.

Every matmaid supports the Trojan grapplers at all the meets. Mascots Princess Williams and Tammy Brown also enjoy the action.

Trojan Girls Have "The Luck of the Black Diamond."

Barbara Gordon helps bring the ball up the floor.

Here at North Hardin resides one of the best girl's basketball teams in the district. Under the guidance of coaches Marlene Lamm and Fred Wells, our girls placed second in the district and went on to the regional tournament. With these accomplishments our Trojan girls definitely have "the luck of the black diamond."

Cindy Bomar trys to get the ball so that she can shoot.

Marsha Gordon, Cindy Bomar, Rayann Bowden, and Lesa Bennett.

Patrice Billups, Lori Jeter, Lesa Bennett, and Robin Stewart.

Junior Leslie McElroy is excited about the prospect of cheering for the Trojans.

The girl's varsity cheerleaders think that the girl's team is definitely number one. We think they are, too.

Sherry Vertrees is full of pep and enjoys being a cheerleader for the Trojans.

Nancy, if you don't stop that, you're going to be in big trouble.

Rosa Benavides, captain of the girl's varsity squad, is proud to represent the Trojans.

Pouchie Thomas enjoys spending her last year cheering for the Trojans.

Mrs. Cross is new at sponsoring the cheerleaders, but she likes it.

As a Junior, Leslie McElroy has been an asset to the squad.

Nancy Haire enjoyed her year as a girls' cheerleader.

These Girls Read "The Complete Book on Cheerleading."

Rosa Benavides was captain of the squad, and did an excellent job cheering her team on.

Sherry Vertrees gives us a radiant smile; she was a definite asset to the girls' Varsity team.

Katrina Farrell is a dedicated cheerleader.

Sherry Vertrees really enjoyed her year as a girl's basketball cheerleader.

As you can see from her smile, Rose Benavides liked cheering for the Trojan girls.

Katrina Ferrell shows us she enjoys cheering for the Trojan girls because they're Number 1.

Nancy Haire did a great job cheering during the 77-78 basketball season.

Leslie McElroy has given her best for the Trojans.

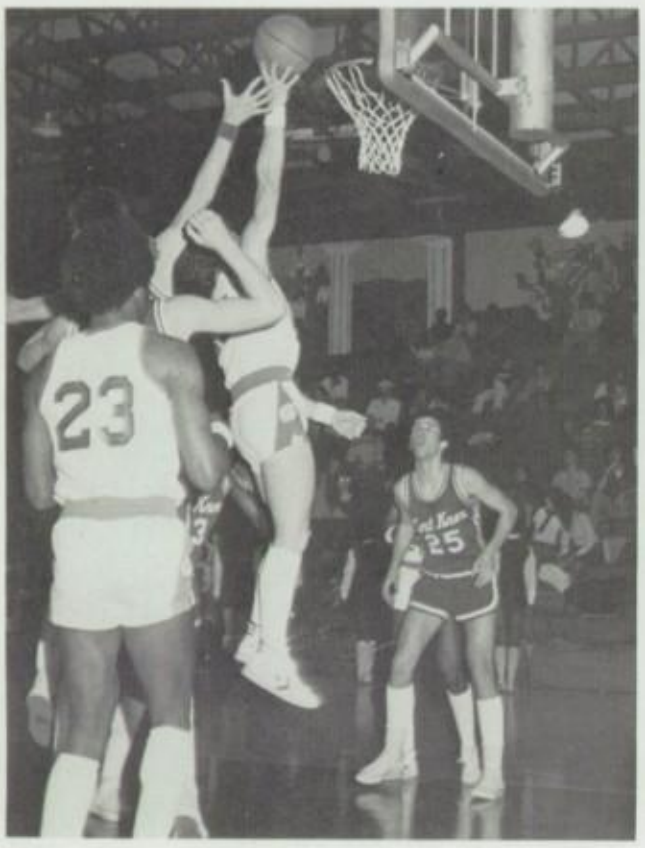
Sherry Vertrees is a very talented and high-spirited cheerleader.

A very peppy Leslie McElroy haas been a great asset to the girls' squad this year.

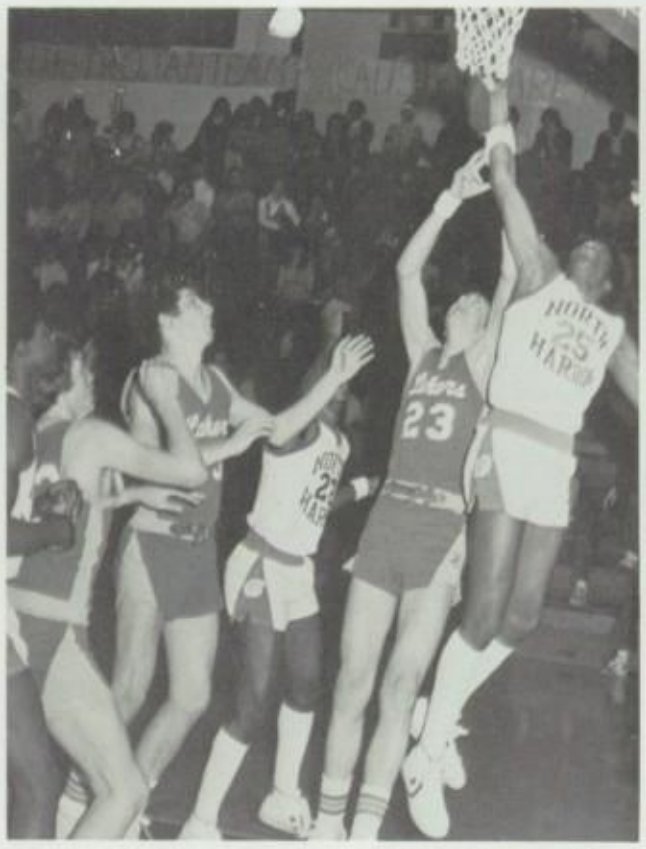
As the saying goes, "you can't keep a good man down," and Eddie Bowden is the BEST!

Eddie Bowden received the NEWS-ENTERPRISE Player of the Year award.

Eddie Bowden led the district in assists for three straight years, and he holds the school record.

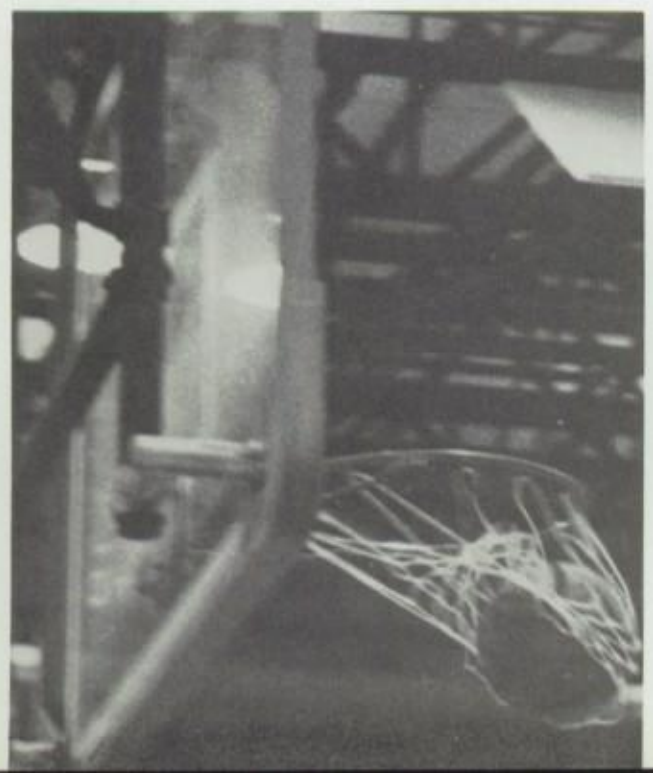


Danny Meredith led in rebounds with ten in this game against the Fort Knox Eagles.



James Jeter is our man of the hour. He is the best freshman in the history of the school.

Richard Stewart received the field goal award, because practically everything he shoots goes in.



Row 1: Vince Holloway, Danny Meredith, Ed Bowden, Chris Johnson, and Cheat Johnson. Row 2: Mike King, James Jeter, Ronnie Holland, Rick Stewart, Bruce Carson, Dino Jones, and Eugene Walls.

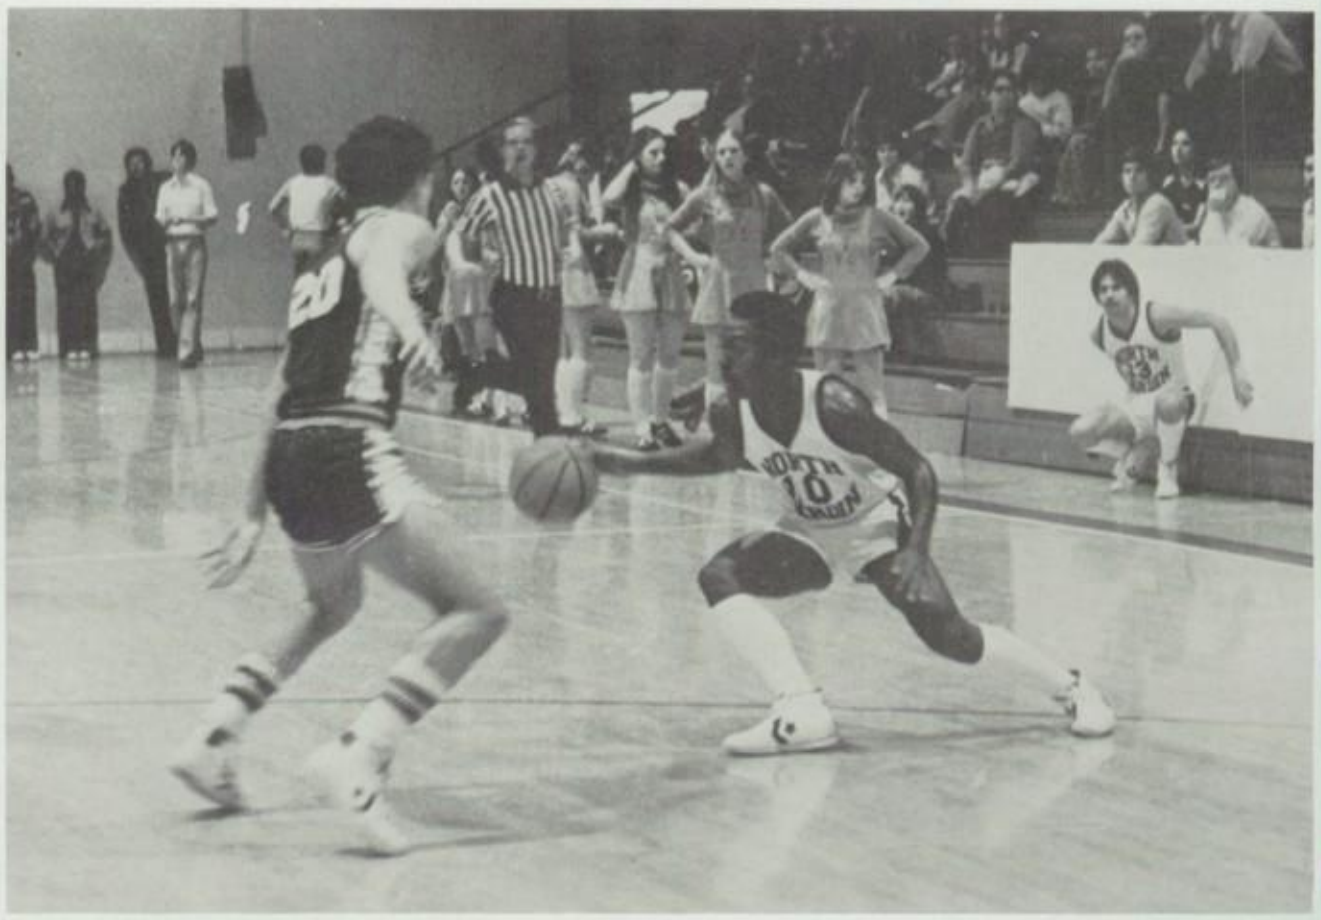
There are many things we can be proud of here at North Hardin, and one of them is our outstanding athletic program. One facet of this complete program is our boys' basketball team. They have made a name for themselves by being one of the best teams in the district. Each member of the team has done his part to make the name of North Hardin stand out in the basketball statistics. Teamwork, loyalty, and ambition are just a few of the many qualities our players possess, and these are the things which have made the basketball team at North Hardin No. 1.

Our Basketball Team Is "Walking Tall."

Danny, Chris, Stew, and Eddie are ready to play basketball. Danny and Eddie have a little different approach to the game, though.

Danny takes a shot while a Valley opponent tries to defend.

Richard Stewart goes up again for another two easy points.



Eddie Bowden goes into his famous dribbling routine and puts his Valley adversary into running circles. Eddie is widely known for this.

In times of adversity, it is often difficult for talented young persons to STAND LIKE MEN. However, the members of the 1977 Trojan gridiron squad accomplished this feat.

Under the direction of first-year coach Bill Jenkins, young players were given much playing time, and these individuals will be the superstars for the Trojans in future years. Because of the devotion of Coach Jenkins and his staff and as a result of the examples set by the seniors, there is a bright future ahead for North Hardin football.

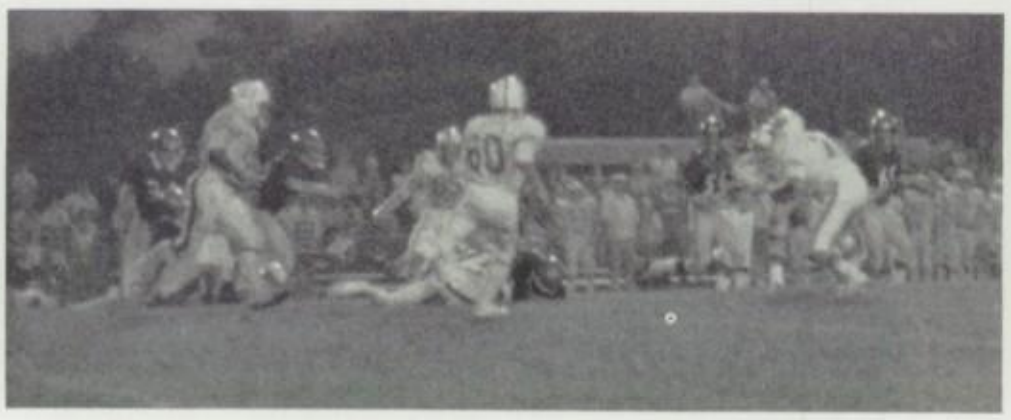
When David Jones falls down, Robby, Mike, and Bobby come to his rescue.

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses, yearning to breath free . . ."



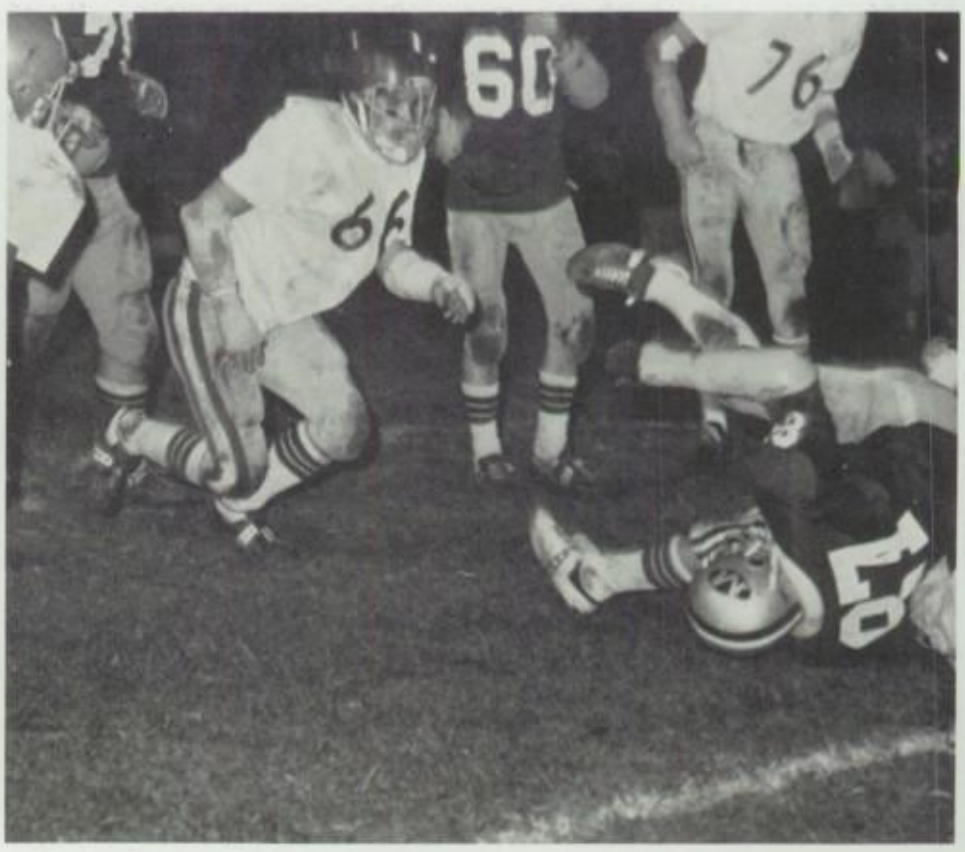
Not even Meade Co. can get our team down.

"I wonder which pile of people I should hit."

Don't you know it is not polite to point?

"The play is over, so you can let him up now."

"You've got to have the "killer instinct."



. . . and now he goes in for the kill.

David Jones hikes the ball.

Let's all play "pile-up" on the pigskin.

"Boys Will Be Men," and Men Love Contact Sports

The coaches have some of the most up-to-date equipment.

Bobby Stafford is getting ready to kick the ball.

"Now listen hear, Bud, you really messed that one up!"

The teams clash head on!

"EVERYBODY is watching me flip in the air!"

This is another great Trojan play.

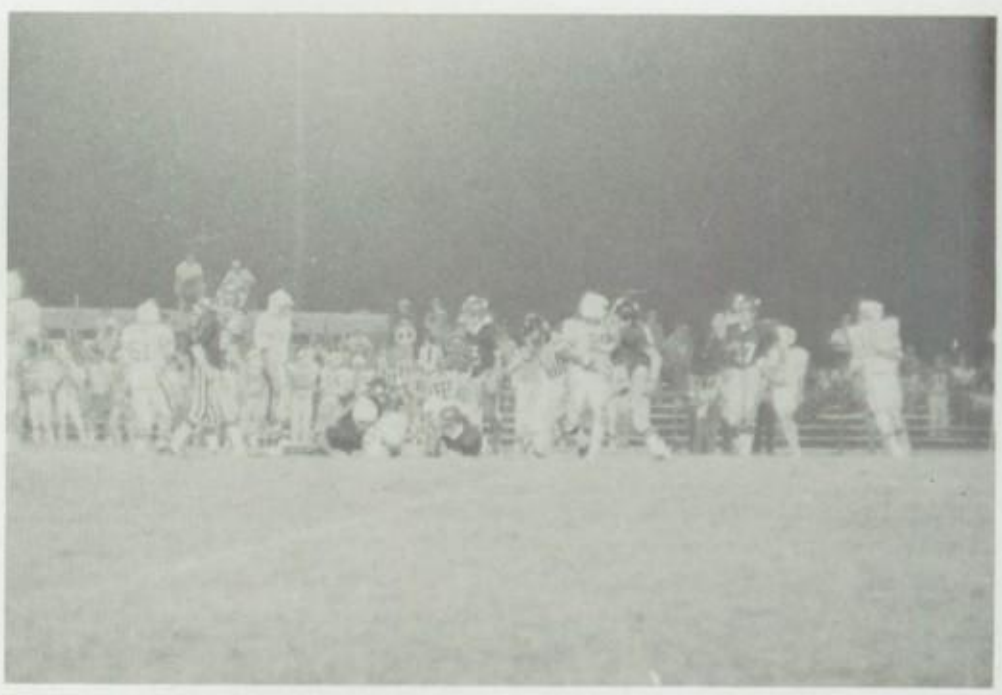
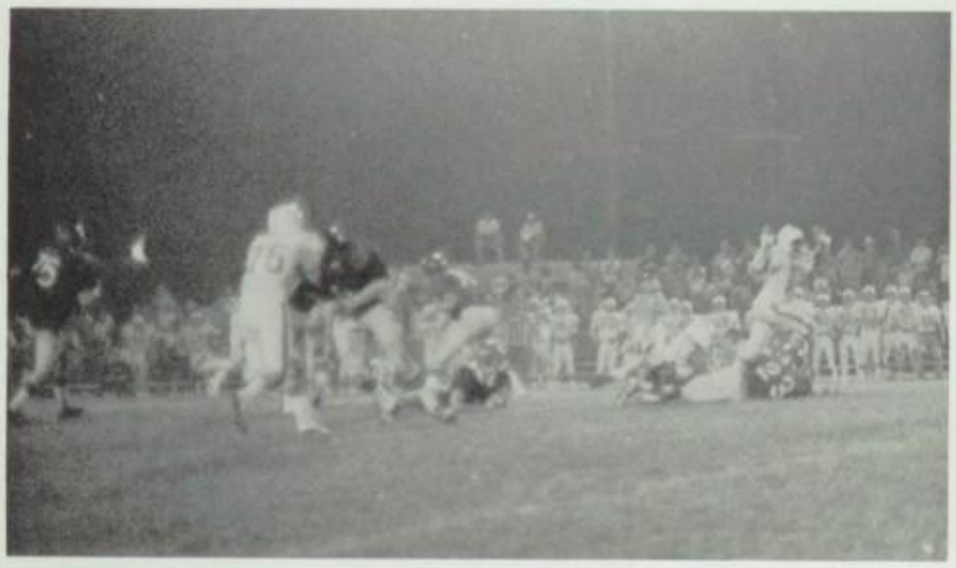
The Trojans have an invincible line.

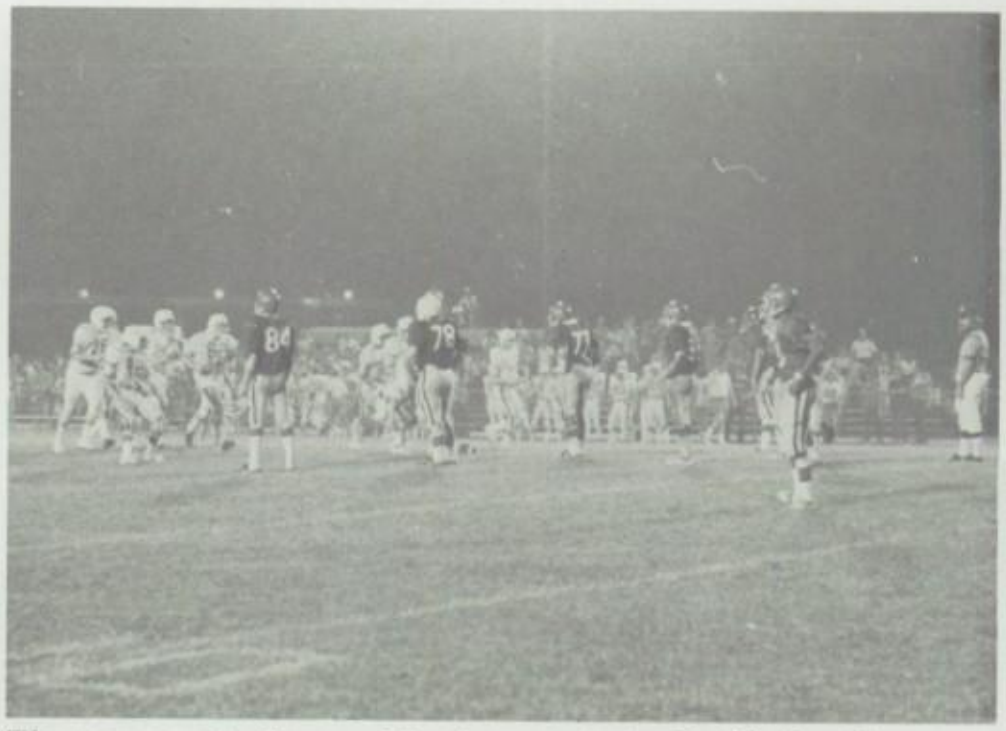


There are mixed emotions on the field.

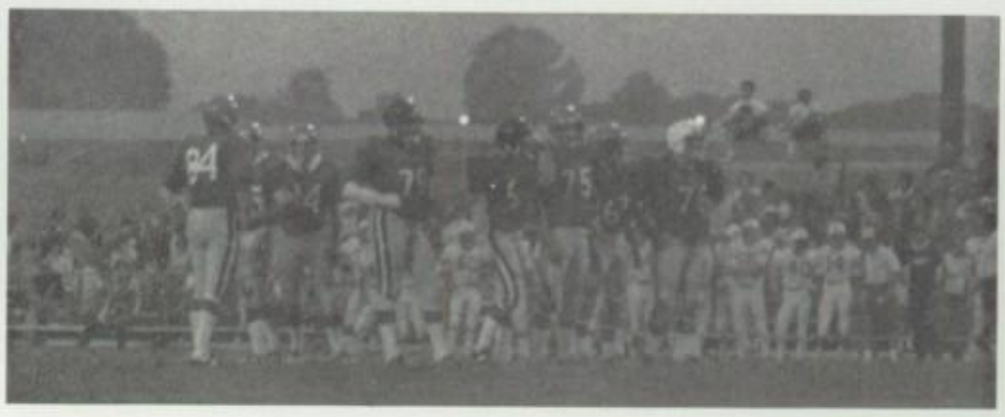
Donnie Puckett is getting ready to pass.



"I give up, man; I'm beat! I'm tired of trying to run against those fellows.



The opponents dare not try to penetrate the Trojan line.



There are mixed emotions on the field.

Lesa, Nanette, Betty, Marsha, Sharon, and Cheryl were proud to represent the Trojans during their senior year at NH.

Coach Underwood's insturctions paid off as the Trojans ended their season as district and regional champions.

Coach McKinney was an asset to the coaching staff.

Betty Tinker set a new regional record with a jump of 5'2".

These Girls Were "Riders of the Wind."

The NH girls have shown their athletic abilities in many areas of competition. They walked away with the district and regional championship titles. These girls definitely are "Riders of the Wind."

Robin, Cheryl, Barbara, and Marsha—880-relay team, 1.52.3

Marsha, Teresa, Barbara, and Mary—440-relay team, 53.3

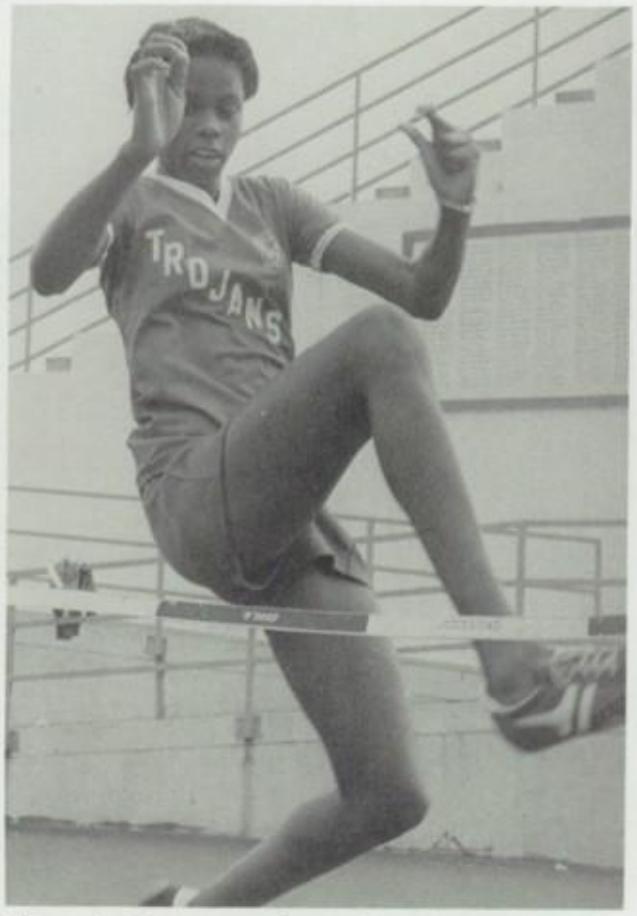
Loretta McCamish and Connie Drake attained looks of determination as they prepare to take off.

Joyce Taylor put all her might behind the shot put.

Rita Pogue and Cheryl Murray ran the 220 yard dash for the 1976-77 track team.

"Run, Baby, Run."

Fern Reynolds was happy to be a member of the North Hardin girls' track team.



Cheryl Murray cleared the high jump bar with ease during practice.

As long jumpers, Vicki King and Anna Tinker made many accomplishments.

Sharon Sickler and Rosie Kruger were the 880-yard runners for the girls.

Robin Stewart and Andera Miles ran the mile on last years' girls' track team.

The mile relay team was composed of Connie Drake, Robin Stewart, Vera Gates, and Loretta McCamish.

Autographs

"I'm ready for the next event."

Nobody stays close to James.

Dinky clears the bar easily.

David enjoys pole vaulting.

Rita enjoys the running events.

Victor is in a class by himself.

Don't mess with Mike.

James wins the "mile" at state.

Ernie soars over the bar . . .

. . . and then takes a rest.

Mike throws the discus.

Vicky makes her last jump.

Wayne clears the low hurdles.

James leads the pack.

Jo is "off and running."

Let's get to work, fellows.

Robin leaves a little distance.

Marsha runs the 100 at state.

John leads the runners.

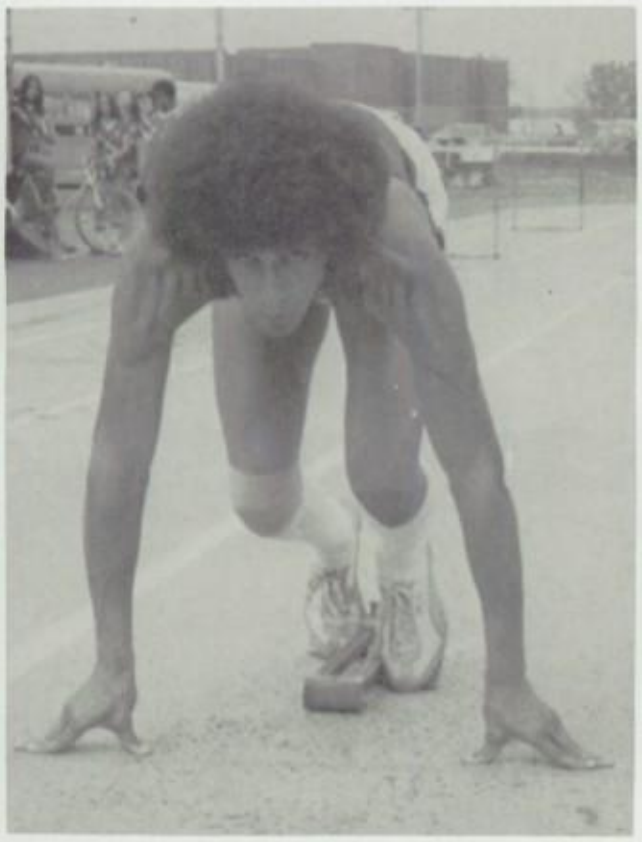
Jimmy just hangs around.

In 1977, Ernie Patterson tied the school record that Rudy McKinney set in 1971 with a jump of 6'3".

John Sandknop and Chris Johnson are not only stars in cross country, but in track as well.

"See How They Run."

For the third year in a row, the boys' track team of 1976-77 won the Regional title under the coaching of Mr. Bo O'Brien. Some of the team's many accomplishments were the breaking of 8 out 16 school records, placing third in the state for the second consecutive year, and coming within .5 seconds from being the Kentucky State Champions in 1977. We encourage everyone to attend next season's meets to "see how they run."



Senior Don Pogue was a great asset on the relay squads.

Joe Boulware proved to be tops for the 1976-77 Trojan team in the hurdles.

Kino Gates, Obie Spradling, and Craig Cooper give all they have during track practice.

Is this Mr. Universe? No, it's just John flexing his muscles.

Wayne Mason shows a look of determination as he jumps the hurdle.

Joe Boulware holds the school record for the high hurdles and tied the record for the low hurdles.

David Dale did well in the pole vault competition last spring.

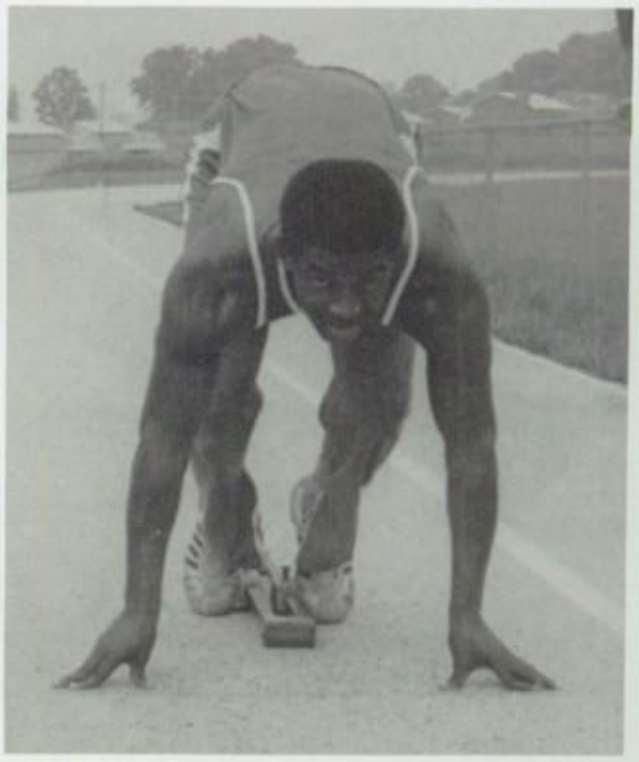
John Muth was a champ when it came to throwing the discus as he holds the school record with a mark of 124' 11½".

Dinky Holmes gives the cameraman a smile just before he lands in the long jump pit.

Lloyd Rowland and Scott White were in close competition, as they both broke the school record several times.

Tom Hall and Jim Sandknop worked hard to attain success in the 880-yard run.

Steve Godby, a new member of the team, shows evidence of being an experienced shot putter.



Leroy Neyland was a great asset to last years' track team.

Dinky Holmes makes another terrific jump; he now holds the triple jump record.

The track coaches have done a great job.

Jim, you'd better hurry up!

David, where are you going?

Row 1: Andrea Miles, Sharon Sickler, and Cathy Heath. Row 2: Robin Stewart, Coach Duggins, Robin Wiser, and Joyce Taylor (Manager).

The girls' cross country team, was very victorious in their second year. Under Coach Denny Duggins, the girls achieved many outstanding awards. They are the Hardin County Invitational Champs, Mid-West Kentucky Cross Country Champions, regional runner-up, and tenth in state. These girls are "Going, Going, Gone," to a bright future in cross country.

Things are starting to look up for the girls' and boys' cross country teams at North Hardin.

These Girls Are "Going, Going, Gone!"

Robin Stewart, Most Valuable; 15th in state; 2-year letterman; best 1½-mile run, 9:06.

Andrea Miles, 2-year letterman, best 1½-mile run, 11:03.

Sharon Sickler, 1-year letterman, best 1½-mile run 10:33; awarded Trojan Award.

The Team Has Been "Beyond the Blue Horizon."

Connie Drake, 2-year letterman, best 1½-mile run, 11:04.

Robin Wiser, 1-year letterman, best 1½-mile run, 10:28

Cathy Heath, 1-year letterman, best 1½-mile run, 11:02

Joyce Taylor, manager, has worked with the cross country team for 2 years.

TEAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Hardin Co. Invitational Champs
Region runner-up
10th in state
Mid-West Kentucky Cross Country Champs

Coach Denny Duggins has done a fine job as head coach of the girls' and boys' cross country teams. Even though this is his first year of coaching, he was very victorious.

Senior Doug Nelson did an outstanding job at second base.

Sam Arredondo is the catcher for the North Hardin baseball team.

Frank Burris holds two positions: first base and pitcher for the Trojans.

Pitcher Doug Mings is well known for his outstanding "fastball."

Mike Williams, a junior, is the third and first baseman for his team.

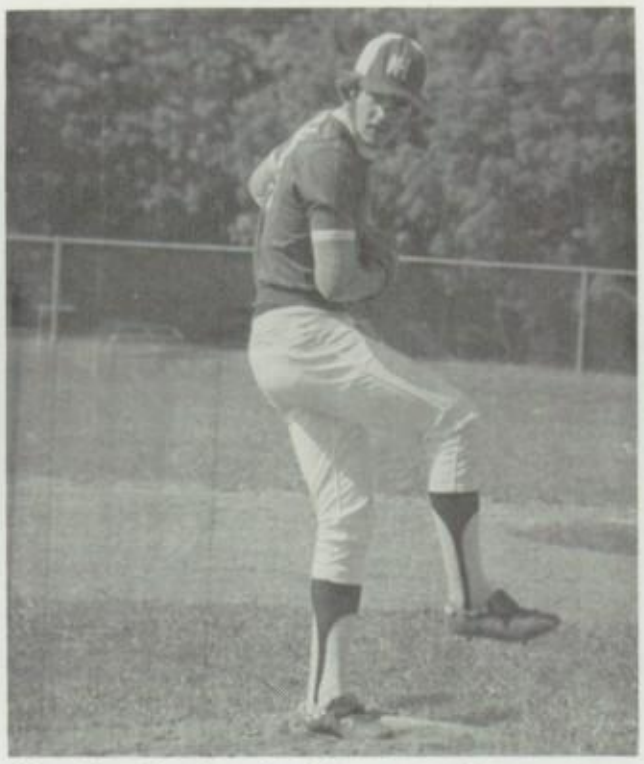
"Run for Your Life"

Baseball

Two-year starting catcher Kevin Taylor swings hard.



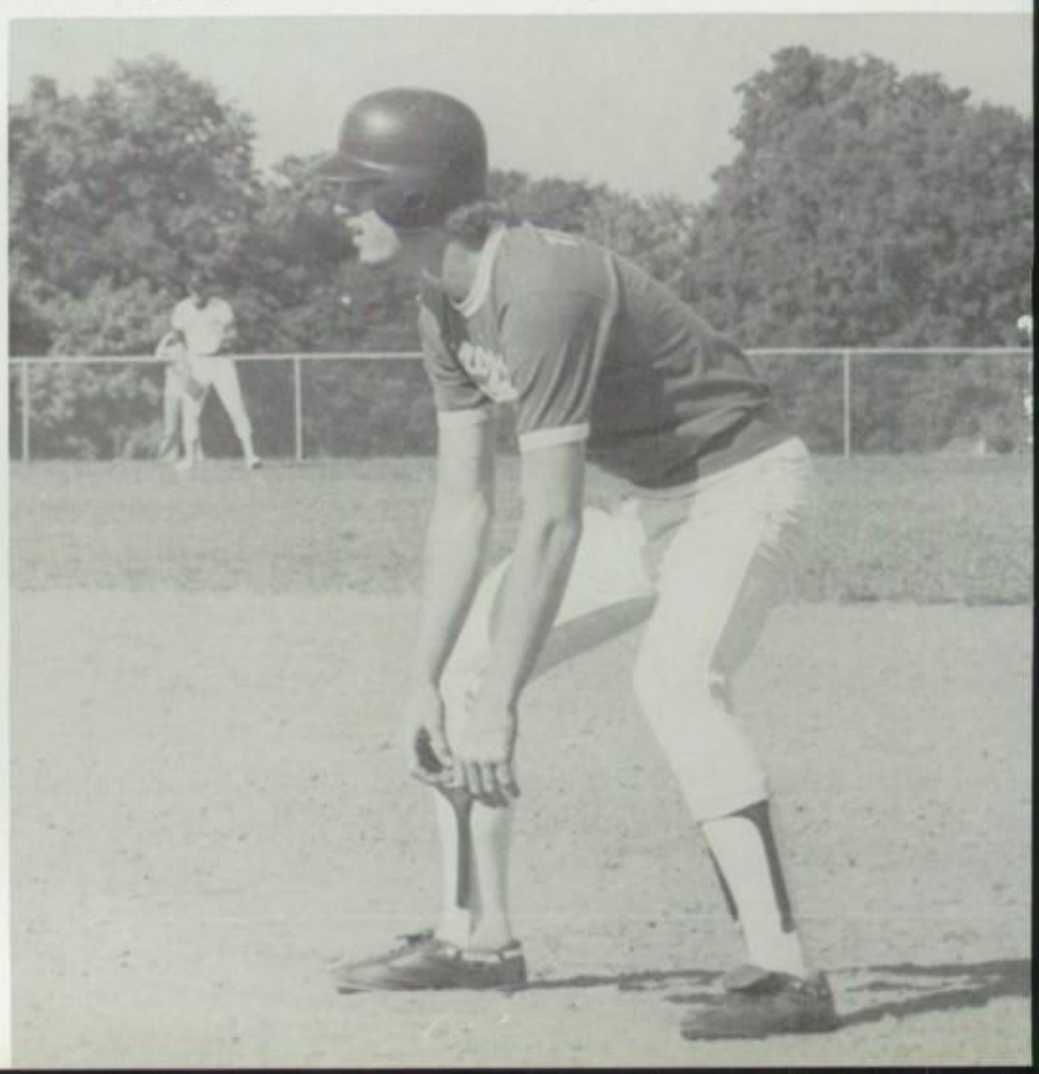
Charlie Drake, in his second year as a pitcher, did a fine job.

José Cubero holds the school stolen-base record with 41.

Doug Mings, a junior, led the district with a .512 batting average.

Mark Ray prepares to hit the ball.

Senior Marvin Barker held the R.B.I. record with 42, and he was a competent third baseman.



José Cubero is getting ready to steal second base.

Mark Ray just made another home run.

Kevin Taylor keeps his eye on the ball.

Doug Mings watches home closely.

Riv-et, riv-et.

Bryant Butler, performs his job at 3rd better than anyone else.

Vickie and Bobby watch the game, but Connie watches the cameraman.

Coach Ellis gives Eddie a few pointers.

Doug Nelson, who plays second base, is at the plate to drive in another run.

Doug Nelson attempts to get on base against his Elizabethtown opponent.

Bryant Butler, who plays third base, has the second highest batting average with .379.

Infielder Danny Simpson does a fine job in his first year as a member of the Trojan team.

Luis and Denny seem to be more anxious to have their pictures taken than the rest of the team.

Don't Let That Ball "Touch the Ground."

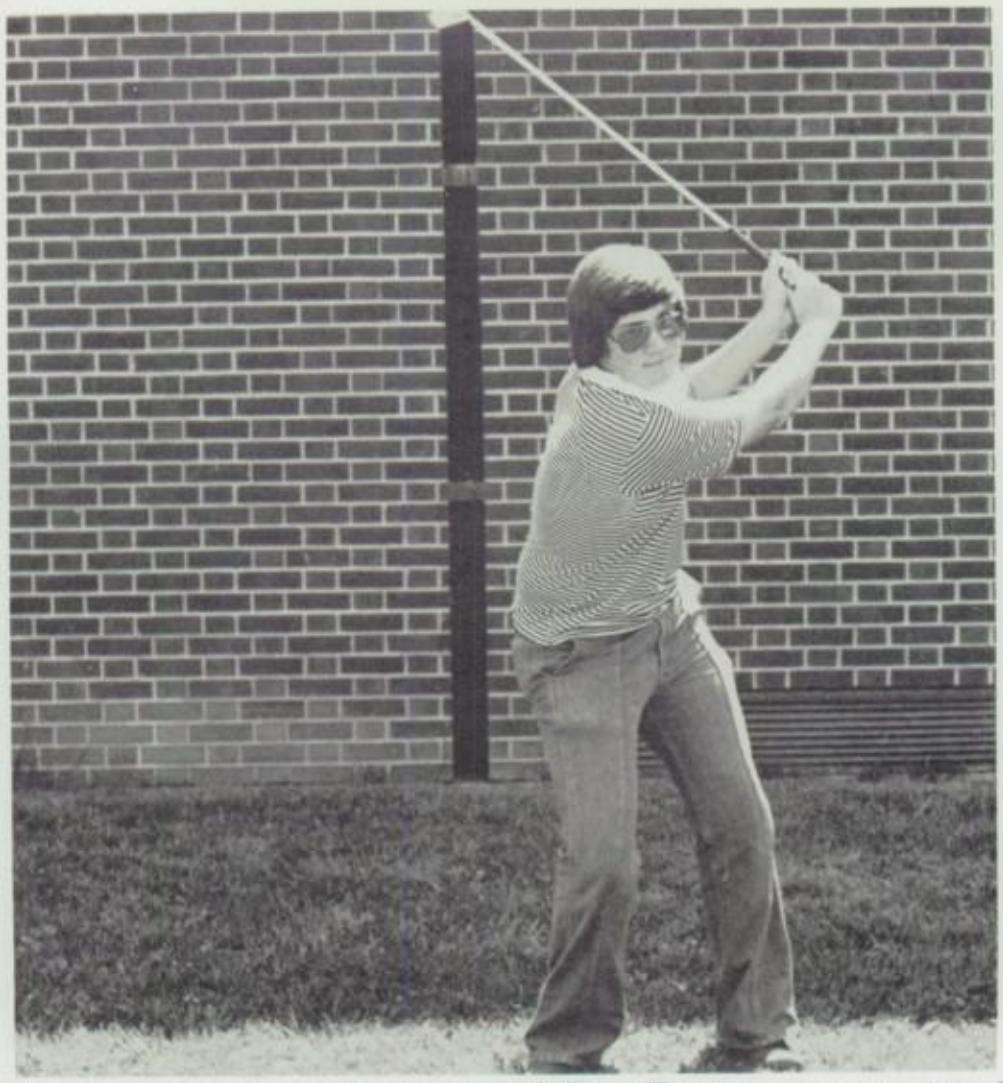
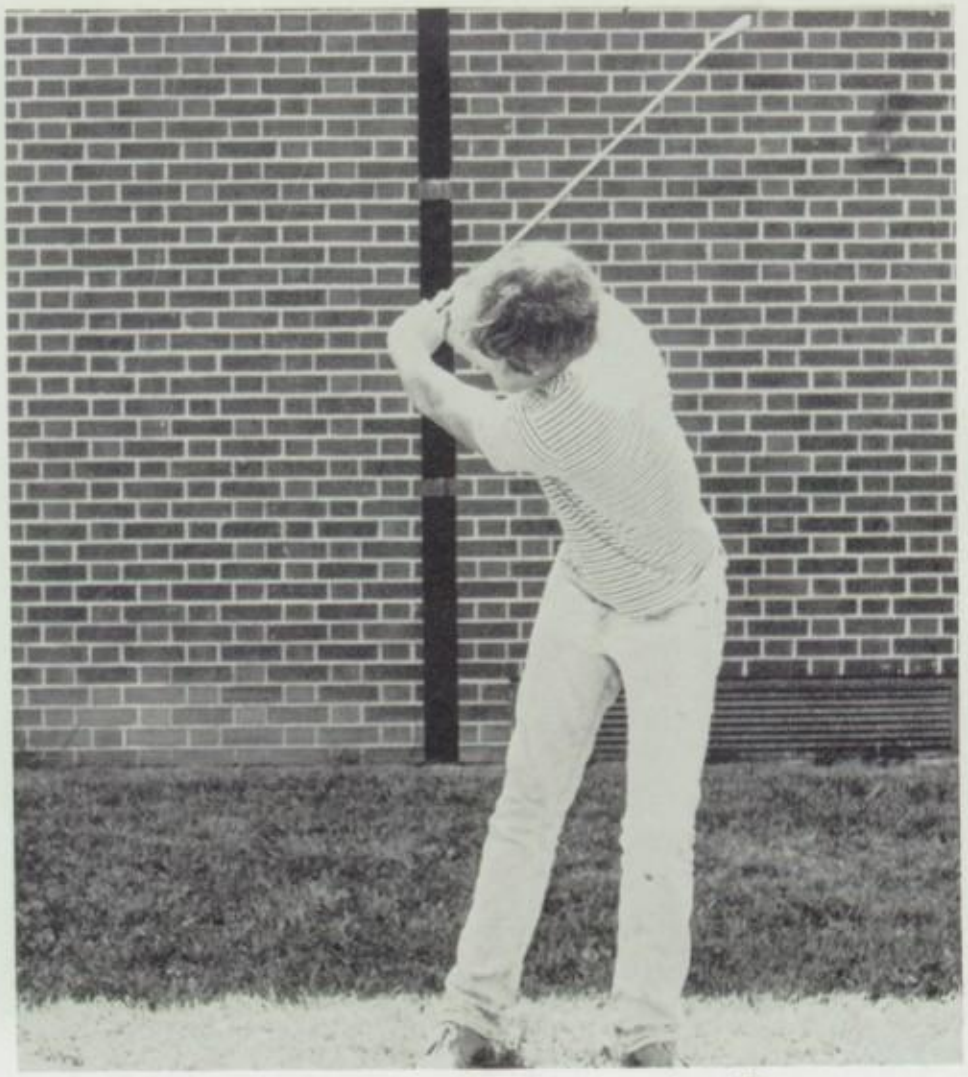
Coach Ellis watches with concern.

Marvin watches his opponent closely.

"I Am Your Brother."

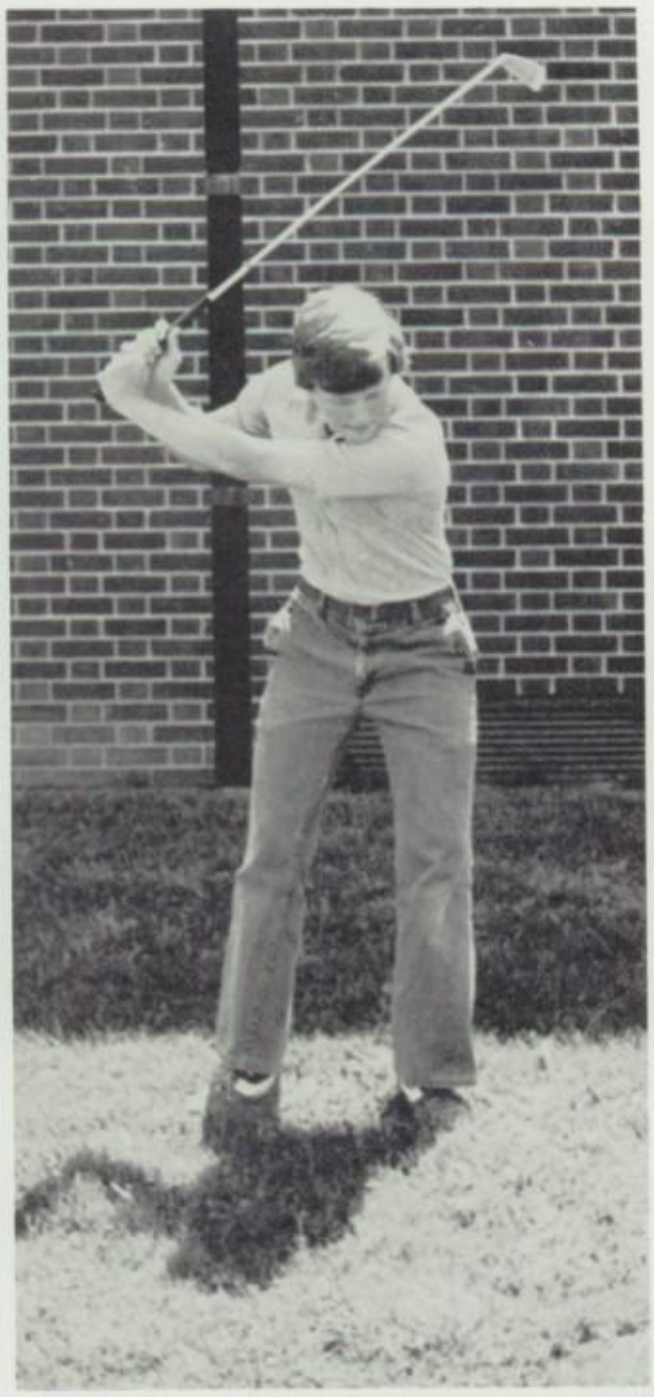


Don's golf swing reflects true ability. He was an exceptional Trojan golfer.



Greg assisted many of the Trojan victories. He was a very determined golfer.

Greg Vessels has a very powerful swing. He enjoyed being a Trojan golfer.



Kevin Easton helped the team toward another winning season.

"There Is a Season."

"There is a season" for every sport and this year the season for the boy's golf team was exceptional for they suffered only one setback. With Coach Charlie Lynch around to give constructive criticism, each player perfected his game. Consequently, individual scores and team scores were lowered. This season definitely will be remembered for a long time.

This was Mr. Lynch's first year coaching the Trojan golfers. He did a terrific job.

Members of girl's golf team are: Joanne Hambley, Allison Adkins, Beth Bennett, Brenda Payton, and Donna Deaton.

Donna did a terrific job this year; she qualified for state, for the fourth time.

Allison Adkins had a fine season this year, and she enjoyed being a golfer.

Brenda was awarded the Trojan award for her enthusiasm on the Trojan golf team.

Beth Bennett doesn't know it yet, but she is on Candid Camera!"

"Gosh! I never knew that a gold club could be so heavy."

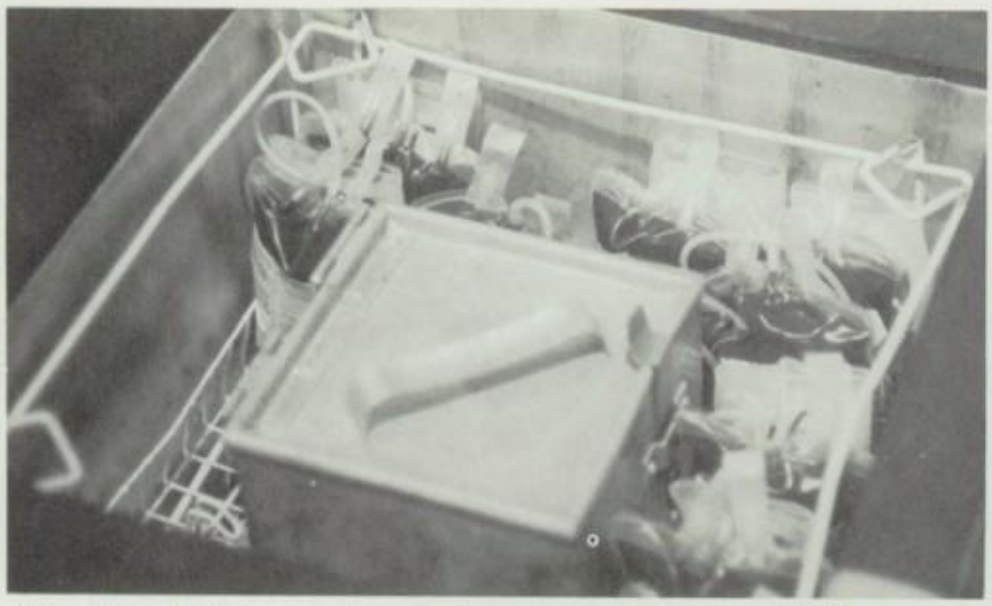
The girls' golf team, under rookie coach Charlie Lynch, had a fine season. They took "a walk in the sun" every time they stepped on the course to tee off. The outstanding player for Coach Lynch was Donna Deaton, a senior. Donna has been on the team for six years, and she has qualified for the state tourney four times. It looks as if Donna will have many more walks in the sun.

The girls line up for the next dance.

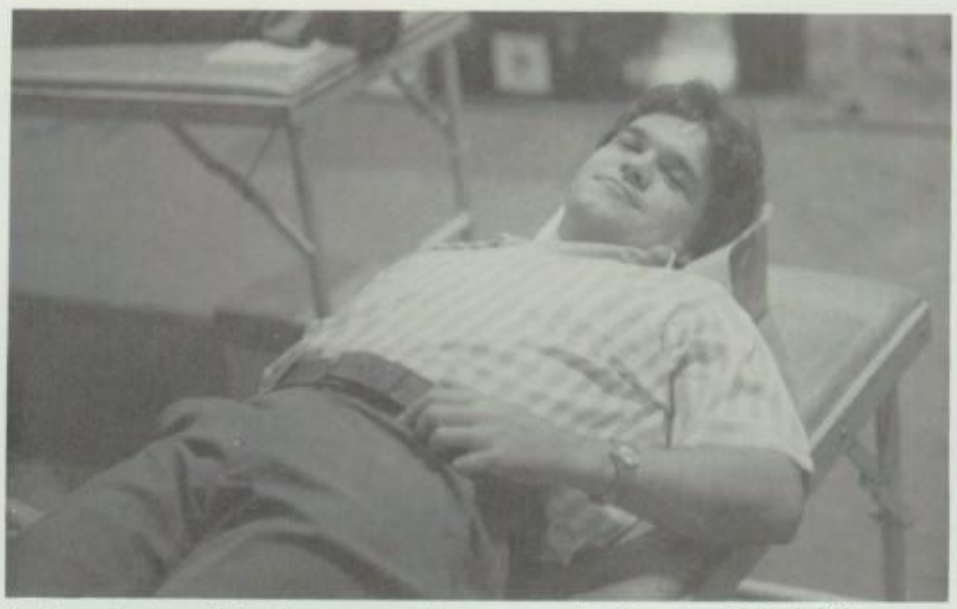
Golf Team Takes "A Walk in the Sun."

"Maybe if I concentrate real hard on the ball, I can hit a hole in one."

"Say that to me again, and I'll knock your head off. Oh, I'm just kidding."



The blood that was donated was greatly appreciated.



"I'm doing this for a good cause, don't you think?"

This Blood Gives Others "A Fighting Chance."

"I thought all that teachers had to do was to grade papers!"

Mr. Hayden don't worry, it won't hurt one bit.

"Hurry up and take the picture before I faint."

"Oh my goodness, I think I am going to be sick!"

I wonder how long it will take before this is over.

"Are you sure you didn't take more than a pint?"

Mr. Stein has been coach of the tennis team for the past 2 years.

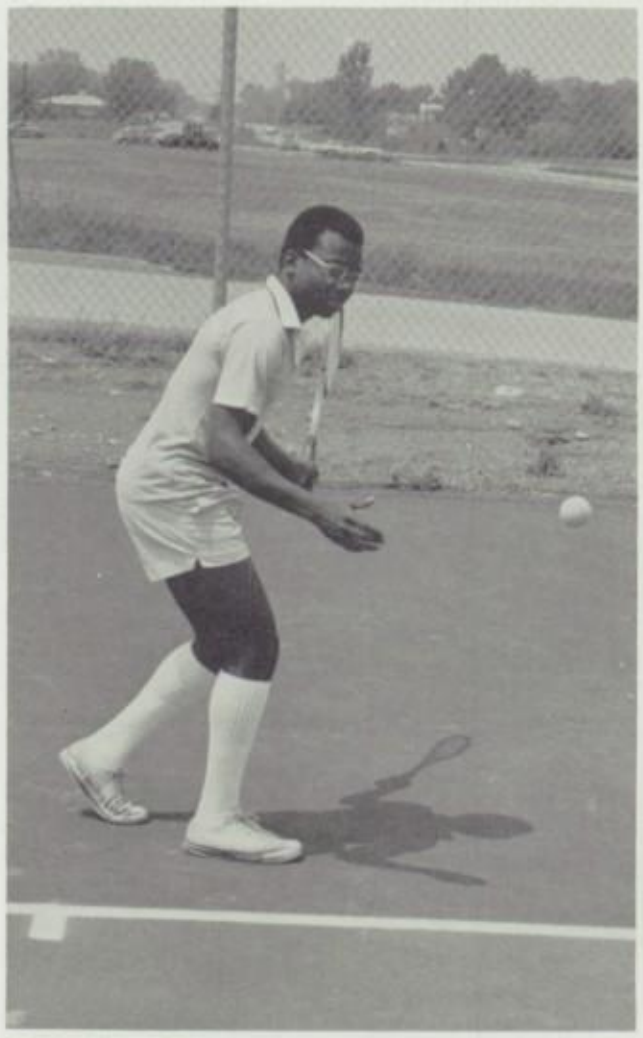
Mr. Stein shows Melville who is next on the schedule.

"Tennis, Anyone?"

Time Hiles, the No. 1 tennis player, shows his style.

The No. 2 position was held by Rusty Bessemer; he performed with consistency.

Tennis is a sport that is growing in popularity each year. It is played by both young and old. In 1976 the game of tennis came to North Hardin, and since the addition of our four courts, it has been much more convenient for our players. The team practices for hours at a time, and it has paid off and been a rewarding season. So "tennis, anyone"?



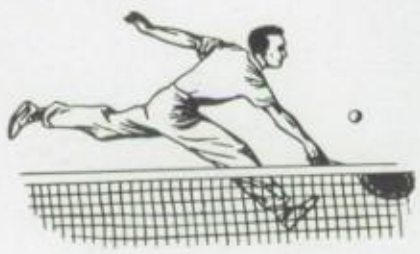
Melville Henneman played in the No. 3 position, and he did a superb job.

Vaughn Boggess held the No. 4 position, and he performed well in his matches.

Johnny Blackburn, No. 5, was an asset to the 1978 tennis team.

These three fellows are the backbone of the boys' team.

Boys' And Girls' Tennis Team



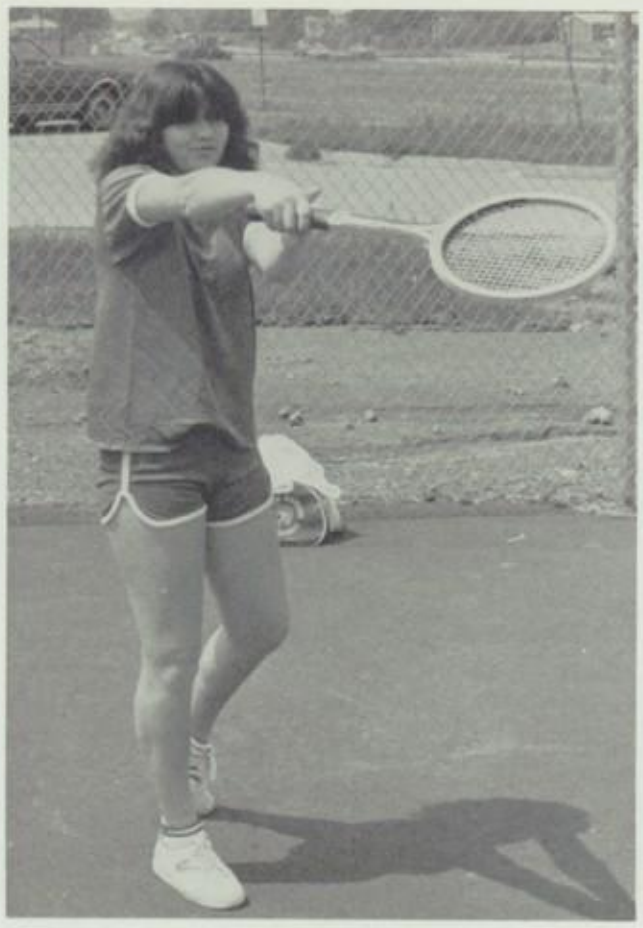
Diana gets ready to serve to her opponents.

Lynn wears her lucky hat as she plays.

Melville displays his technique.

Mr. Stein gives some advice.

Lynn Shipp has been on the team for 3 years, and she was the No. 1 player this season.



Sylvia Cruz played well this year as No. 2. She received the Most Valuable Player award.

The No. 3 spot was held by Julia Jahr, and she did a fine job.

I'll Meet You at "Another Place, Another Spring."

Diana Sutton played in the No. 4 spot, and she performed well.

Doris Wilson, No. 5, did a fine job playing for the Trojan tennis team.

Debbie Coffey makes NH the best-dressed team.

Janet supported the team well.

The Proud Seniors of 1978

The end.
It looks like it's over.
Now, we're finally done!
Where to now? College? Work? Just what?
Decisions—so many decisions.
Life was easy in high school
—decisions were already made.
Maybe that's why we hate to see it end.

There have been so many happy days and warm friendships
—so many fun times.
All of these will be behind us
—soon only fond memories.

But don't look back sad and regretful
Look back in joy, happiness, and thanksgiving
—for these were our years of youth
—our years of forming ourselves.

When we look back if we dare
we see only reflections of what might have been.
However to look forward—boldly —shows the image of what is to be.

We will guard and care for what we have made because if it leaves we will never have it again.
We will never pass this way the way we are—
The Proud Seniors of 1978.

—Tanya Joseph
